Overview of Today's Webinar

1. WHAT ARE OPEN EDUCATIONAL RESOURCES?
2. GLOBAL STATE OF ACCESS TO EDUCATION
3. OER AS A TOOL TO EQUALIZE GLOBAL EDUCATIONAL ACCESS
4. HIGH-QUALITY OER
5. NEXT STEPS

WHAT ARE OPEN EDUCATIONAL RESOURCES?

Development of the OER Movement

- 1973 Joseph Beuys founds the Free International University
- 2002 MIT OpenCourseWare project
- 2002 UNESCO adopts “OER” term
- 2013 Tidewater Community College Z Degree

Working Definition

- Any type, digital or otherwise
- Any resource that can potentially be used for learning
- Copyright is either in the public domain or under an open license, such as Creative Commons
- Resource must be free

Definition

Teaching, learning, and research resources that reside in the public domain or have been released under an intellectual property license that permits their free use and re-purposing by others.

Open educational resources include full courses, course materials, modules, textbooks, streaming videos, tests, software, and any other tools, materials, or techniques used to support access to knowledge.

OER as a Tool to Equalize Global Educational Access

Textbook Costs

U.S.

- 65% didn't buy a textbook because of cost
- 48% didn't take a specific class because of textbook cost

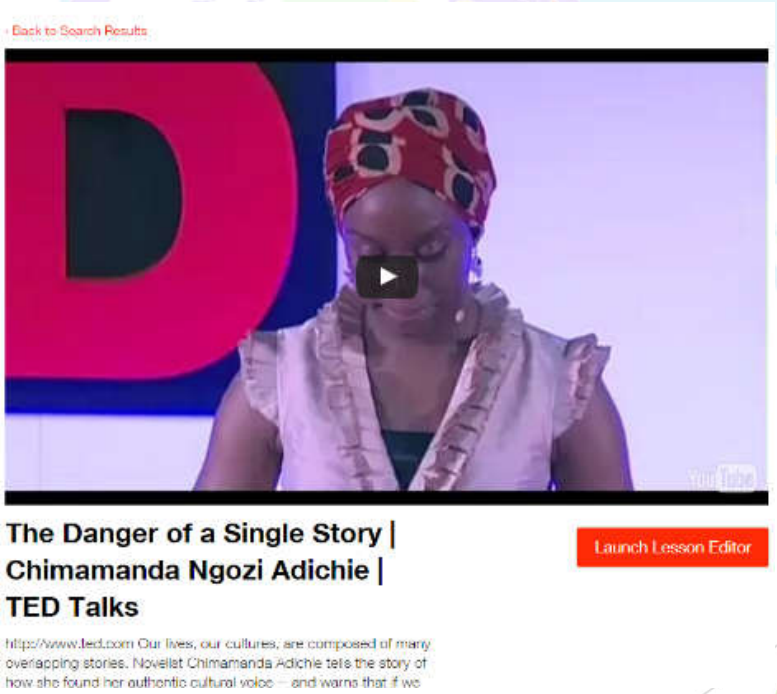

Latin America

- In Brazil
  - Books = 67% of the minimum wage
- In Argentina
  - Books = 46% of total family income

Part 2: Web 2.0 Tools: Using Free and Open Educational Resources to Impact Learning Locally and Globally

Traditional Model

- Insufficient and expensive materials
- Linguistically and contextually limited
- Difficult to distribute

OER Model

- Many freely available materials
- Educators can publish, reuse, alter, translate
- Multiple distribution channels

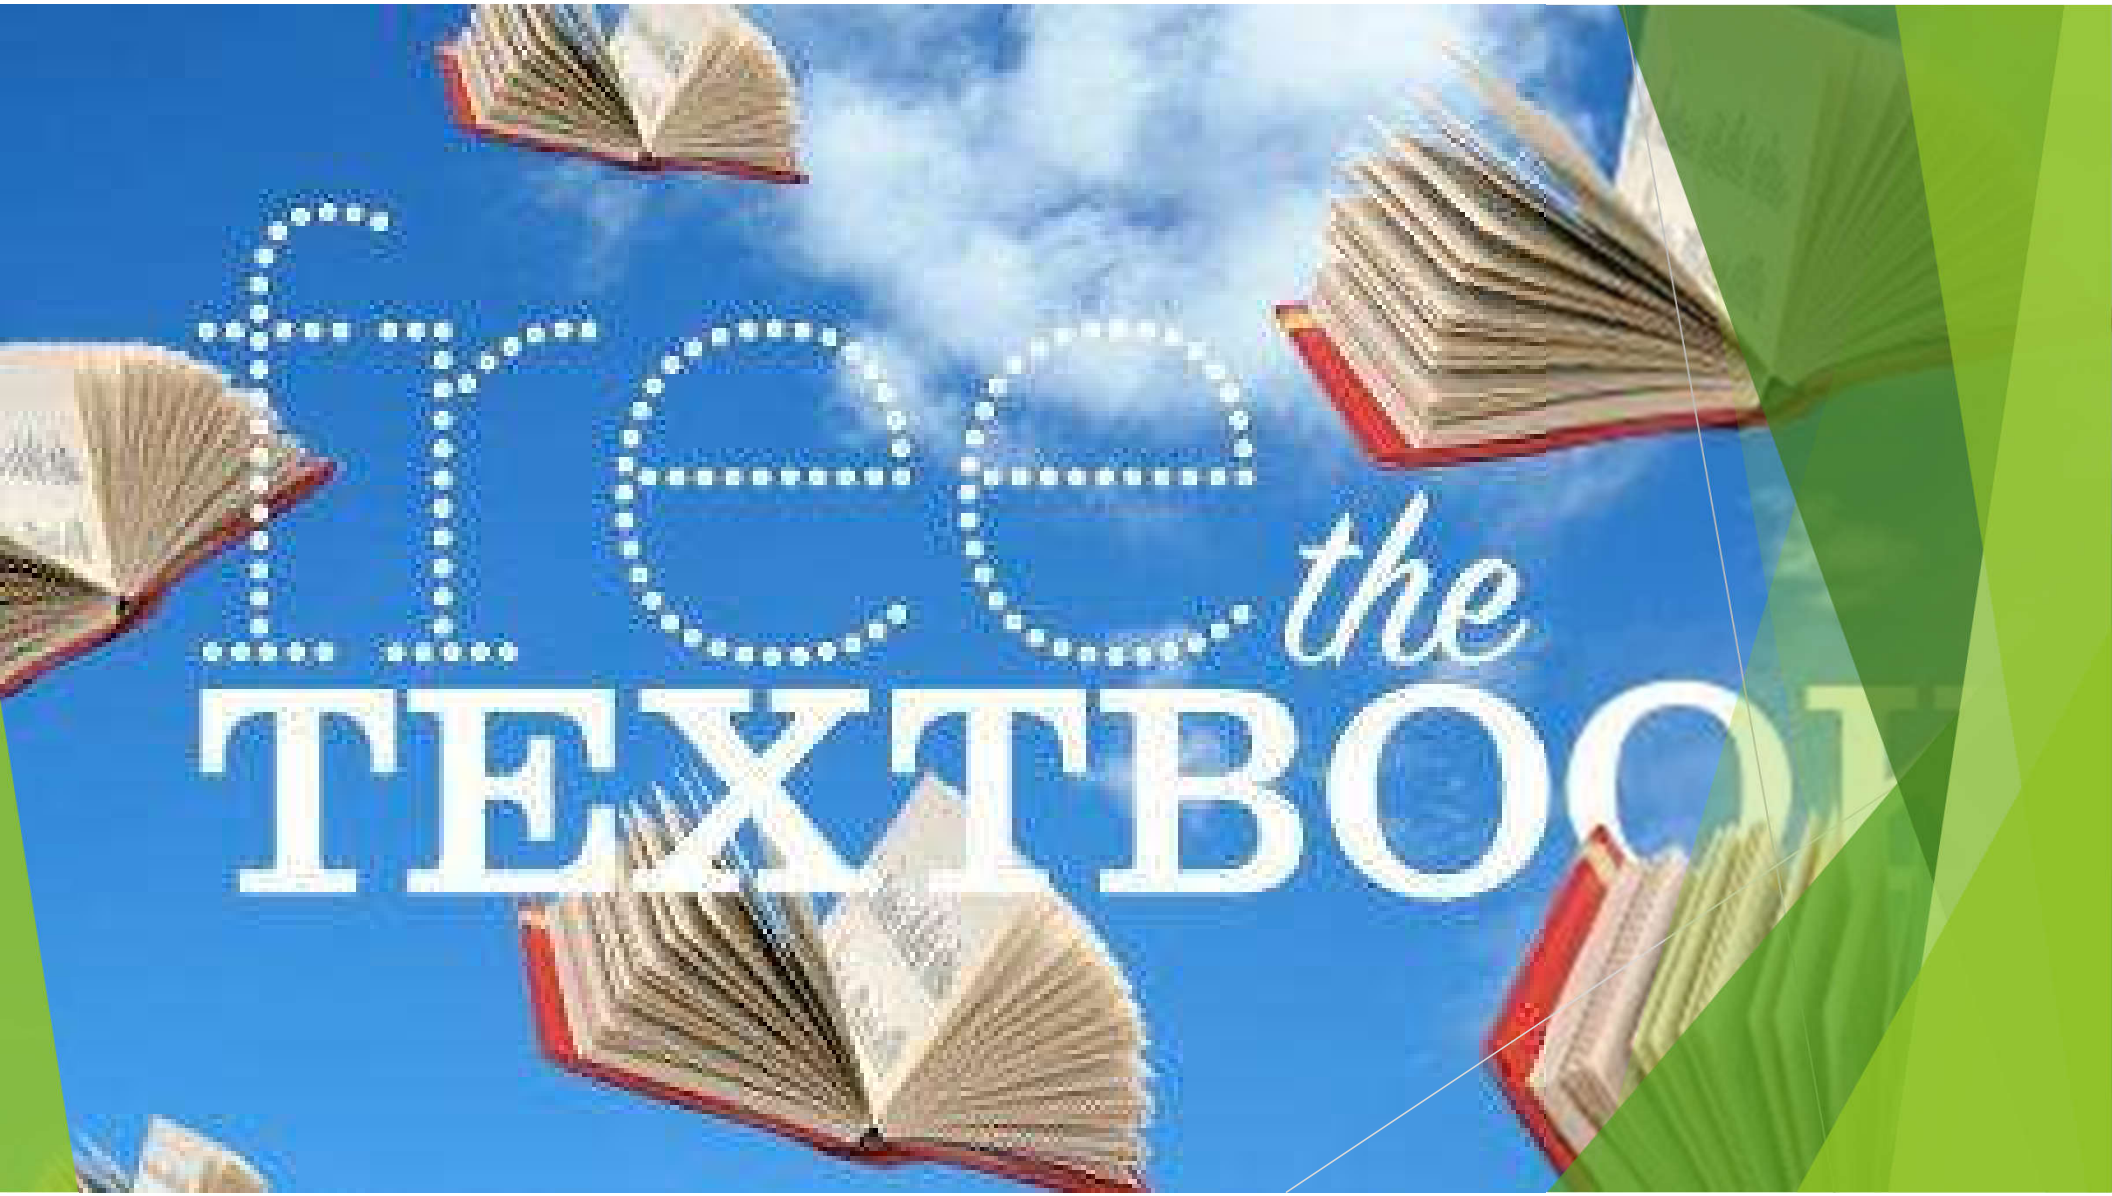

HIGH-QUALITY OER

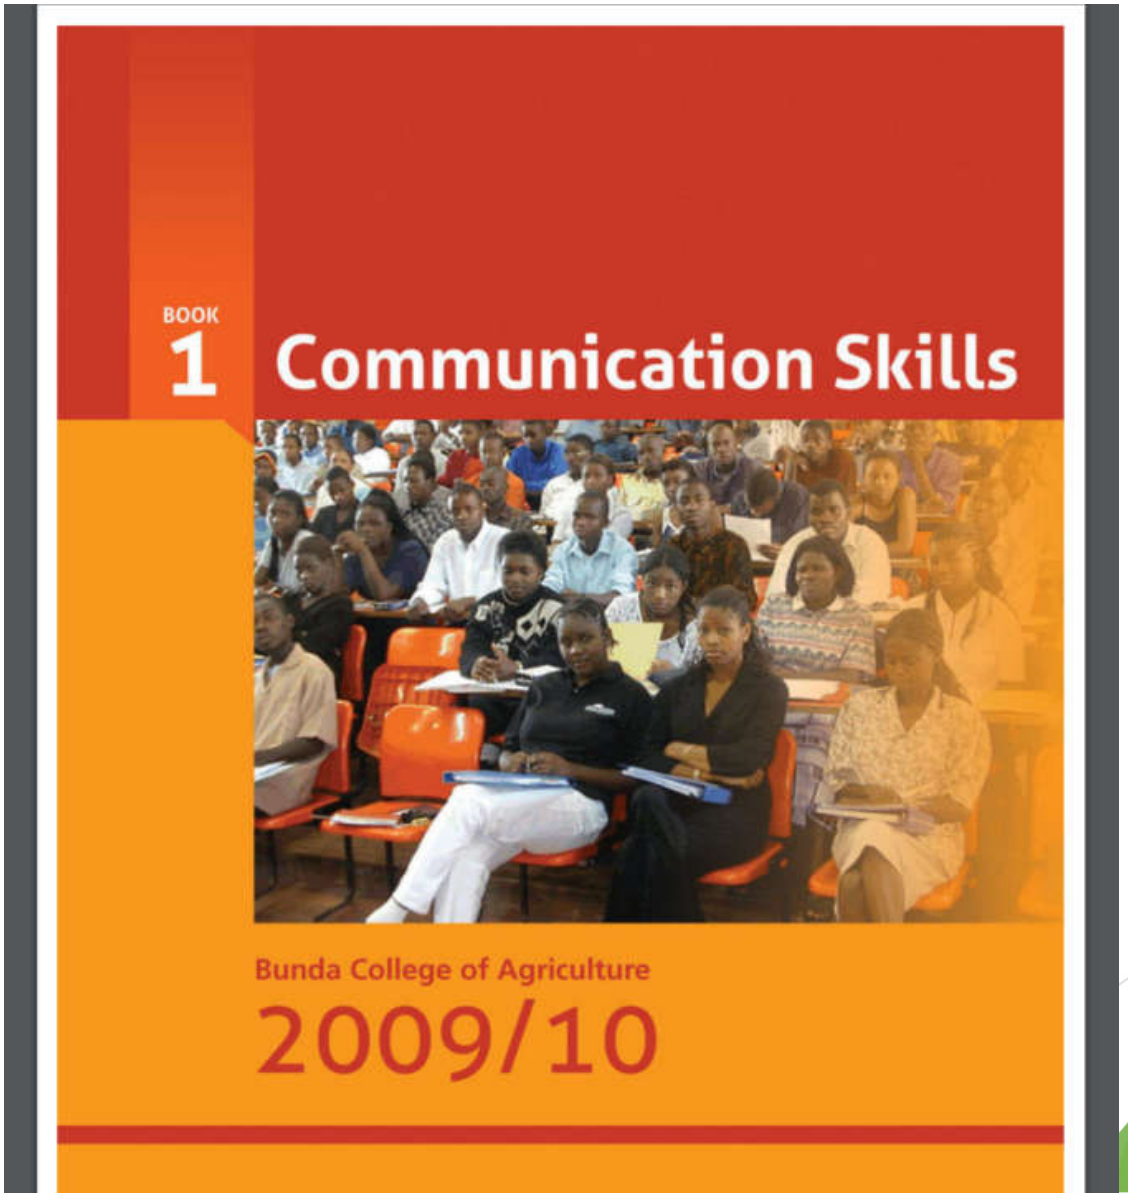

Free, all free!

Online Resources Should

- Encourage reflection
- Enable dialogue
- Foster collaboration
- Apply theory to practice
- Create a community of peers
- Enable creativity
- Motivate the learner

Business English for Cross-cultural Communication
The Hong Kong University of Science and Technology
Part of a 5-course series, the Business English for Non-Native Speakers Specialization
About this Course
This course aims to prepare you for working in an cross-cultural Business setting. We'll learn about common cross-cultural theories and how they are relevant to everyday business practices in a globalised world. By combining all of your vocabulary, reading, speaking, and writing skills that you acquired in the previous three courses, you will learn how language plays an important role in cross-cultural communication. You will also enhance your cross-cultural understanding and will be able to use vocabulary, tone and style, and spoken and written communication skills within a cross-cultural Business context. Skills learned in this course help prepare you to deliver the professional business presentation in the Capstone project.
After completing this course, you will be able to:
