THE FIVE BOROUGH & BIKEWAYO'O The Five Borough Bikeway will create a 425-mile citywide network of protected, continuous, high-capacity, priority bike lanes and serve as the central spine for all bike lanes in NYC. This map, developed in consultation with bike advocates from all five boroughs, should be considered a vision rather than a plan, which will require community input and detailed engineering studies beyond the scope of this study. Different treatments, designs, and allowances will have to be made to adapt the Bikeway to different streets. For example, routes depicted on one-way streets will often necessitate a parallel route in the opposite direction, not illustrated here. This map also does not include the local-level bike lanes that will be necessary to safely connect communities and feed into the city-wide Bikeway network. Bikeway Designated and proposed greenways
