Dear Vandi: Thanks ever so much for the parcel of juveniles for the kids. I have started the GHOSTLY LOVER by Elizabeth Hardwick and will return it with my comments presently. Looks pretty good at first blush.

I discover that I am scheduled to speak at a joint assembly of Scarritt, Vanderbilt School of Religion and Nashville School of Social Work students on March 22nd in the Scarritt chapel. It means I will not get to Chicago in time to go over the fellowship blanks before the meeting. Will you, therefore, ask Ruth to shoot me the works so that I can read them down here? I hope that will not be too much bother. Even so, I should be able to have lunch at the Fund on the 23rd.

It was fun being back in Chicago for a couple of days.

Ever,

Arna
