

WHITE FELLOWS, 1937, 1938, AND 1939

Chess Abernathy, Jr., editor-in-chief of the Cobb County Times, Marietta, Georgia, appointed to study the possibilities of developing mutually profitable trade relations between the South and certain Latin American countries. Born 1912, Gastonia, North Carolina. Emory University, A. B., 1934.
1939 - $2500

Charles Roberts Anderson, assistant professor of English at Duke University, appointed to do creative writing in the cultural history of the South. Born 1902, Macon, Georgia. University of Georgia, A. B., 1924; Mercer University, 1924-26; University of Georgia, A. M., 1928; Columbia University, Ph. D., 1939.
1938 - $2000
+150

Mr. Anderson spent nine months in Charleston, South Carolina, and three at the Library of Congress. By 1941 he hopes to have completed a volume on the "Cultural History of Charleston, 1820-1865." While none of the poets, novelists, scientists, and philosophers achieved major rank, the group as a whole shows the unusual cultural ferment which existed in the Old South. Since hardly any have been dealt with previously, this book will be a valuable addition to southern history. During the year Mr. Anderson published Melville in the South Seas, Columbia University Press, March, 1939; "Melville's English Debut," American Literature, March, 1939. "Charles Gayarre and Paul Hayne: the Last Literary Cavaliers," is one in a volume of essays which will be issued by Duke University Press in December.

Marcus Bartlett, musical director and sports commentator, Station WSB, Atlanta, Georgia, appointed to make a study of radio in education. Born 1910, Richland, Georgia. Emory University, A. B., 1939.
1939 - $1100

Lewis W. Beck, Fellow in philosophy, Duke University, appointed to study "race" as an ethical factor, with special reference to the ethical aspects of racial discrimination in the South and in Germany. Born 1913, Griffin, Georgia. Emory University, A. B., 1934; Duke University, A. M., 1935, Ph. D., 1937.
1937 - $1500

After a year in Germany Mr. Beck returned to Emory University as a temporary instructor in philosophy. This post has now become permanent. "German Racial Ethics" has been accepted for publication in the Journal of Social Philosophy. "The Synoptic Method" appeared in the Journal of Philosophy, June, 1939, "Rationale Biologie und Ihre Kritik" in the Philosophical Review, July, 1939. At present Mr. Beck is working on a series of articles on certain philosophical aspects of the propaganda problem, especially the influence of propaganda on "philosophy of life."

Gould M. Beech, associate editor, the Montgomery Advertiser, appointed to study sociology and economics at the University of North Carolina. Born 1913, Graceville, Florida. University of Alabama, A. B., 1934.

1939
This fall Mr. Beech left his post as assistant editor of the Birmingham News to become publications editor for the Alabama Extension Service, Alabama Polytechnic Institute. His present work includes editing Rural Alabama, a weekly newspaper supplement for Alabama farmers, with a circulation of 107,000; the Alabama 4-H Club News; and bulletins of the Alabama Extension Service. He also plans to continue writing magazine articles on rural problems. His latest article, "Schools for a Minority," appeared in the October, 1939, Survey Graphic.

John D. Black, instructor in zoology, University of Arkansas, appointed for studies in zoology, specifically directed toward the conservation of southern fish, at the University of Michigan. Born 1908, Winslow, Arkansas. University of Kansas, B. A., 1935; Indiana University, M. A., 1937.

Mr. Black continues his excellent standing at the University of Michigan, having a straight A record in the spring term. Toward the end of the past summer much was accomplished in collaboration with Professor Dellinger on a popular "Fishes of Arkansas," a pamphlet which will soon be issued by the Arkansas Game and Fish Commission. Mr. Black expects to meet all requirements for his Ph. D. in June of 1940.

Benjamin A. Botkin, assistant professor of English, University of Oklahoma, appointed to make a critical study of folk and regional movements in the South. Born 1901, Boston, Massachusetts. Harvard University, A. B., 1920; Columbia University, A. M., 1921; University of Nebraska, Ph. D., 1931.

Mr. Botkin carried on his study of folk and regional movements in cooperation with the Federal Writers Project. In May of 1938 he was appointed part-time folklore consultant of the project, and in August of that year full-time folklore editor. He held that position until August of 1939. He has now returned to the University of Oklahoma with a change in rank from assistant professor to associate professor of English.

Harrington C. Brearley, professor of sociology and psychology, Clemson College, South Carolina, appointed to make a study of the nature and sources of race conflict, at the University of London. Born 1893, St. Charles, South Carolina. University of South Carolina, A. B., 1916, A. M., 1917; University of North Carolina, Ph. D., 1928.

In September Mr. Brearley left his post as head of the department of social science at Clemson College to become professor of sociology in the newly created department at Peabody College. In 1937 he published with Mabel Montgomery "Facing Facts in South Carolina," a booklet distributed by the State Department of Education; "Race as a Sociological Concept," Sociology and Social Research, July-August, 1930, Vol. 23.

Herschel Brickell, of Jackson, Mississippi, appointed to write a human history of Natchez, Mississippi. Born 1889, Senatobia, Mississippi. University of Mississippi, 1906-1910; special study in Spain and France.
1939 - $2000

Ina Corinne Brown, Gatesville, Texas, appointed for a study of the history of race attitudes of English-speaking peoples, at the University of Chicago. Born 1896, Gatesville, Texas. Southern Methodist University, 1919-21; University of Chicago, A. B., 1936.
1937 - $1500
+675

On completion of her study at the University of Chicago Miss Brown did extensive research at the British Museum. All residence requirements for the Ph. D. are completed, and she hopes to complete her dissertation during the coming year. Miss Brown is at present associate specialist in social studies, U. S. Office of Education, and is engaged in a survey of the higher education of Negroes.

L. Paris Brown, Carthage, Mississippi, a member of the State Legislature, appointed for a study of delinquency and crime among Negroes, at the University of Chicago. Born 1907, Edinburg, Mississippi. Mississippi State Teachers College, A. B., 1937.
1937 - $1400

Mr. Brown continues his high school teaching and his service with the Mississippi State Legislature.

Harmon White Caldwell, president of the University of Georgia, appointed for the study of the history of English universities, at the University of Oxford. Born 1899, Meriwether County, Georgia. University of Georgia, A. B., 1919; Harvard University Law School, LL. B., 1924.
1937 - $1000

Mr. Caldwell has been unable to take up his fellowship because of the pressure of duties at the University of Georgia.

John Tyler Caldwell, junior economist for the Resettlement Administration, State College, Mississippi, appointed to study local government and taxation, at Princeton University. Born 1911, Yazoo City, Mississippi. Mississippi State College, B. S., 1932; Duke University, M. A., 1936.
1937 - $1500
1938 - 1500

Mr. Caldwell obtained his Ph. D. degree from Princeton in June of 1939. Declining tempting offers at universities outside the South, he has accepted a post as instructor in the department of history and political science at Vanderbilt University. He is conducting advanced courses in public administration and local government and will collaborate in the interdepartmental work in the social sciences concerned with southern problems.

Albert E. Carter, Sunday editor and foreign affairs writer, the Chattanooga Times, appointed to study certain Latin-American countries, with special reference to foreign influence on their economy and government. Born 1909, Big Stone Gap, Virginia. Various courses at the University of Chattanooga from 1929 to 1933.

1939 - $1000

Wirt A. Cate, author, of Nashville, Tennessee, appointed for research in American history, with special reference to Sherman's Atlanta campaign. Born 1900, Hopkinsville, Kentucky. Emory University, B. A., 1923, M. A., 1925; Harvard University 1926-27, 1928-29.

1937 - $1400

Mr. Cate is at present assistant to the superintendent of the Watkins Institute of Adult Education in Nashville. He continues his writing, and since the completion of his fellowship has prepared the following for publication: "The Origin of the Griselda Story (A Study in Comparative Folklore);" "Papers and Letters of W. T. Sherman" (previously unpublished); "John C. Calhoun: a Biography."

Lewis C. Copeland, research assistant, University of Chicago, appointed to study the influence of race on the social structure of Durham, North Carolina, in collaboration with a Negro Fellow, Harry W. Walker. Born 1909, Houston, Texas. Texas Christian University, A. B., 1931; University of Chicago, 1931-37.

1937 - $1500
1938 - 1500

Mr. Copeland received his Ph. D. from Duke University in June, 1939. He is now assistant professor at Fisk University in the department of social science. Since the award of his fellowship Mr. Copeland has published the following materials: "The Negro as a Contrast Conception," in Race Relations and the Race Problem (Duke University Press, 1939) edited by Edgar T. Thompson; "Metropolitan Regions," published as Part II of Population Statistics, Vol. III (Government Printing Office, October, 1937); "Trends and Characteristics of the Population in the Metropolitan Region of Chicago: 1890-1930," with Louis Wirth and Richard O. Lang, to be published in the autumn of 1939, by the University of Chicago Press. The report of the study made in collaboration with Mr. Harry Walker, Negro Fellow, will be prepared under the title, "Changing Race Relations in a Border City."

Robert C. Cotner, professor of history and political science, John B. Stetson University, appointed to complete research on the history of the Florida citrus industry, at Harvard University. Born 1906, Cleveland, Ohio. Southern Methodist University, 1923-24; Baylor University, A. B., 1928; Brown University, M. A., 1929; Harvard University, 1933-34, 1938-39. Summers at the University of Mexico and the University of Munich.

Harry W. Culbreth, engaged in research for the Ohio Farm Bureau, appointed to make a study in the United States and in Europe, (principally the Scandinavian countries) of the present methods of supplying life insurance and of the possibility of meeting the needs of low-income groups through cooperative insurance societies. Born 1904, Cumberland County, Virginia. Virginia Polytechnic Institute, B. S., 1925.

Mr. Culbreth has been in Europe since May of 1938 studying cooperatives in England, France, Switzerland, Belgium, Sweden, and Finland. His fellowship period expired in the spring, and he is completing his studies on his own responsibility.

Donald Day, Austin, Texas, appointed to study the literary inheritance of Texas before the Civil War at the University of Chicago. Born 1899, Millseat, Texas. Southwest Texas State Teachers College, B. A., 1923; University of Texas, M. A., 1924, 1937-38; University of Chicago, 1938-39.

James Dombrowski, secretary of the Highlander Folk School, Monteagle, Tennessee, appointed to make a study of the influences of industrialization on a typical county of the Appalachian Mountains. Born 1897, Tampa, Florida. Emory University, B. Ph., 1923; Union Theological Seminary, B. D., 1931; Columbia University, Ph. D., 1936.

Mr. Dombrowski worked on the study of industrialization in the rural South, during which he became involved in a study of the Coal Creek insurrection. He is continuing his work as secretary of the Highlander Folk School.

Edward P. Dreyer, assistant state director, Federal writers' project, New Orleans, appointed to prepare a biography of John McDonogh. Born 1910, New Orleans. Tulane University, B. S., 1930, M. A., 1931; Duke University, 1931-34.

James H. Easterby, professor of history and director of the library, College of Charleston, appointed to conduct studies in southern history, particularly those relating to the ante bellum rice plantations, at the University of Chicago. Born 1898, Charleston, South Carolina. College of Charleston, A. B., 1920; Harvard University, A. M., 1922.

Mr. Easterby has returned to his post at the College of Charleston. During his fellowship he completed all requirements for the doctorate in history except the dissertation, which should be finished in the next six months.

James E. Fleming, instructor, department of sociology, University of Georgia, appointed to make a study of the southern opposition to industry, as revealed in important newspapers, 1865-1900, at the University of North Carolina. Born 1909, Bowdon, Georgia. Mercer University, A. B., 1935; University of Georgia, M. A., 1938.

Paul Breck Foreman, associate professor and head of the sociology department, University of Mississippi, appointed to study population trends in Mississippi, 1880-1930, at the University of Chicago and at Vanderbilt University. Born 1911, Baker, Oregon. University of Oregon, B. S., 1933, M. A., 1935; Vanderbilt University, 1935-36.

Mr. Foreman received his Ph. D. from Vanderbilt in June, 1939. His thesis, "Mississippi Population Trends," will be published in November. He has returned to his post at "Ole Miss."

Mitchell Franklin, professor of law, Tulane University, appointed to study French influences in American jurisprudence, with special reference to Louisiana. Born 1902, Montreal. Harvard University, A. B., 1922, LL. B., 1925, S. J. D., 1928.

Because of pressure of work it was necessary for Mr. Franklin to postpone his European study until this year. He spent the past summer in France, but his study has been interrupted by the war and he has just returned to this country.

Thomas P. Govan, teaching Fellow at Vanderbilt University, appointed to make a historical study of the banking and credit systems of the ante bellum South. Born 1907, Atlanta, Georgia. Georgia School of Technology, B. S., 1928; Emory University, M. A., 1934; Vanderbilt University, Ph. D., 1937.

Mr. Govan left his post as half-time instructor in the department of history at the University of Chattanooga to become assistant professor of political science and history at the University of the South, Sewanee, Tennessee. During the past summer he continued his research on the credit system and the cotton trade of the South, in England, on a grant-in-aid from the Social Science Research Council. Mr. Govan has published the following articles since he applied for a fellowship: "A Belgian Consul on Conditions in the South in 1860 and 1862," with Paul Evans, Journal of Southern History, November, 1937; "Banking and the Credit System in Georgia, 1810-1860," Journal of Southern History, May, 1938; "John M. Berrien and the Administration of Andrew Jackson," Journal of Southern History, October, 1939.

Margaret Jarman Hagood, Chapel Hill, North Carolina, appointed to carry on her sociological study of mothers of the South, at the University of North Carolina. Born 1907, Newton County, Georgia. Queens College, Charlotte, N. C., B. A., 1929; Emory University, M. A., 1930; University of North Carolina, Ph. D., 1937.

At the completion of her fellowship Mrs. Hagood became research associate and statistical technician of the Institute for Research in Social Science at the University of North Carolina. The study of "Tenant Farm Mothers," begun during the fellowship and continued the next year with the financial assistance of the Institute, has been completed. A book based upon the findings of the study will be published by the University of North Carolina Press in November under the title "Mothers of the South - the Case of White Tenant Farm Mothers."

Rufus C. Harris, president of Tulane University, appointed to study university developments in Europe. Born 1897, Monroe, Georgia. Mercer University, A. B., 1917; Yale University, LL. B., 1923, J. D., 1924; Mercer University, LL. D., 1932.

Mr. Harris has been unable to take up his fellowship because of pressure of duties at Tulane University.

Thomas A. Hart, assistant professor of biology, West Georgia College, appointed for studies in science with special emphasis on the teaching of biology in normal schools and teachers colleges. Born 1905, Buenos-Aires, Argentina. Richmond College, 1925-27; College of William and Mary, B. S., 1930. Emory University, M. A., 1933, M. S., 1937.

During the first year of his work at the University of Chicago, Mr. Hart met formal residence and course requirements toward his Ph. D. degree. With the aid of a small additional grant from the Fund and University scholarships, he is now doing an intensive study on the variation of mosquitoes. He is engaged to return to head the work in biology at West Georgia College.

Byron Hill, instructor in economics, Vanderbilt University, appointed to make an analysis of the southern problem of railroad freight rate differentials. Born 1909, Jackson, Tennessee. Vanderbilt University, B. A., 1928; Harvard University, LL. B., 1931; Vanderbilt University, 1934-37.

Robert M. Hodges, editor of the Daily Times-News, Burlington, North Carolina, appointed to make a study of southern industrial relations between capital and white and Negro labor, at the University of North Carolina. Born 1910, Wilmington, North Carolina. University of North Carolina, B. A., 1931.

George Duke Humphrey, president of the Mississippi State College, appointed to make a study of regional culture in Mississippi, at Ohio State University. Born 1897, Tippah County, Mississippi. Mississippi State Teachers College, Certificate, 1922; Blue Mountain College, B. A., 1929; University of Chicago, A. M., 1931; Ohio State University 1933-34.

Mr. Humphrey has returned to his post as president of Mississippi State College. His Ph. D. was awarded in June, 1939.

Jeter Allen Isely, Morristown, Tennessee, appointed to study the Populist Movement in North Carolina, at Princeton University. Born 1913, Morristown, Tennessee. University of Tennessee, A. B., 1937; U. S. Naval Academy, 1935-37; Princeton University, 1937.

May Justus, teacher in mountain school, Tracy City, Tennessee, appointed to do research in southern mountain folklore and to incorporate the material in a supplementary reader for southern schools. Born 1898, Del Rio, Tennessee. Miss Justus has had some work at the University of Tennessee. She has written twelve books for children, two of which are Julia Ellsworth Ford prize books.

John W. Kendrick, assistant in the department of economics, University of North Carolina, appointed to study the problem of financing industry in the South at the University of Chicago. Born 1917, Forest Hills, New York. University of North Carolina, A. B., 1937, M. A., 1939. Universities of Berlin and Konigsberg, 1935-36.

Morton B. King, Jr., of Shelbyville, Tennessee, appointed to conduct a field study of the attitudes of persons in a rural Tennessee county toward welfare problems and public welfare organization. Born 1913, Shelbyville, Tennessee. Vanderbilt University, B. A., 1934, M. A., 1936; University of Wisconsin, 1936-37.

Mr. King expects to have his Ph. D. conferred in February of 1940. At present he is assistant professor of sociology at the University of Mississippi.

Fred B. Kniffen, associate professor of cultural geography and anthropology, Louisiana State University, appointed for consultation with geographers at the universities in England, France, and Germany. Born 1900, Britton, Michigan. University of Michigan, A. B., 1922; University of California, Ph. D., 1929; Southwest Laboratory of Anthropology, 1929.

Mr. Kniffen spent his fellowship abroad in extensive travel, including Germany, Italy, Switzerland, Norway, Lapland. On his return to the Louisiana State University he received the rank of professor.

Leroy E. Loemker, professor of philosophy at Emory University, appointed for research and writing on the philosophy of Leibniz. Born 1900, Platteville, Wisconsin. Dubuque College, A. B., 1921; Boston University School of Theology, S. T. B., 1927, Ph. D., 1931; University of Berlin, 1927-28.

Mr. Loemker spent six months in Germany working at the Staatsbibliothek on the philosophy of Leibniz, and gathering material for a detailed study of his psychology in its relation to his thought in general. A large number of unpublished manuscripts were used. He returned this autumn to his post at Emory University, where his studies and experiences in Germany give additional background to his effective interest in interracial relations.

John N. Lyle, security analyst and statistician, Trust Company of Georgia, Atlanta, appointed to make a study of English and Scottish savings banks and investment companies, at the London School of Economics. Born 1911, Atlanta, Georgia. Virginia Military Institute, S. B., 1932; Harvard University, M. B. A., 1934; Woodrow Wilson College of Law, LL. B., 1937.

The war has prevented Mr. Lyle from carrying out his plans. He is revising them to include a study of certain New England and Middle Western banking and trust companies, and hopes to begin intensive work soon after the new year.

James G. Maddox, agricultural economist, Resettlement Administration, appointed for studies in agricultural economics, especially land tenure, at the University of London and in Denmark. Born 1907, Rison, Arkansas. University of Arkansas, B. S. A., 1927; University of Wisconsin, M. S., 1930; George Washington University, 1934; U. S. D. A. Graduate School, 1935-37.

At the completion of his fellowship Mr. Maddox returned to the Farm Security Administration as economic adviser to the administrator. In February of this year he became director of the Rural Rehabilitation Division, and in this position he has general charge of the rehabilitation loan program for the country.

Ralph E. McGill, sports editor and feature and political writer, Atlanta Constitution, appointed to study the relationship of the press to land tenure and minority groups in Ireland and on the Continent. Born 1899, Chattanooga, Tennessee. Vanderbilt University, 1917, 1919-21.

On his return from Europe Mr. McGill was made executive editor of the Atlanta Constitution. During the past two years he has made a great many speeches on farm problems, cooperatives, etc., and has published, in collaboration with Thomas David, a booklet entitled "Two Georgians Explore Scandinavia." This was distributed by the State Department of Education.

Robert D. Meade, associate professor of history, Randolph-Macon Woman's College, appointed to complete the biography of Judah P. Benjamin. Born 1903, Danville, Virginia. Virginia Military Institute, B. A., 1924; University of Virginia, M. A., 1926; University of Illinois, 1927-28; University of Chicago, Ph. D., 1935.

In September Mr. Meade became head of the history department of Randolph Macon Woman's College. During the past year he has completed another 250 pages of his life of Judah Benjamin, but definite publication is still not in sight.

Mildred R. Mell, professor of sociology and academic dean, Shorter College, Rome, Georgia, appointed for sociological study at the University of North Carolina. Born 1890, Athens, Georgia. University of Wisconsin, A. B., 1920; University of Georgia, M. A., 1925; has also studied at the University of North Carolina and at Harvard University.

Miss Mell received her Ph. D. in June of 1938. She left her former position at Shorter College to become head of the department of economics and sociology at Agnes Scott College, Decatur, Georgia. "Poor Whites of the South" by Miss Mell appeared in Social Forces, December, 1938.

Purvey Mims, sculptor of Nashville, Tennessee, appointed to create in sculptural form certain southern types, including the Negro and the mountaineer, and through that work to stimulate interest in sculpture and kindred arts in the South. Born 1906, Durham, North Carolina. Vanderbilt University, B. A., 1926, M. A., 1928; Art Students League, 1930-34.

Chase C. Mooney, teaching Fellow, Vanderbilt University, appointed for a study of agriculture in Tennessee involving a comparison and contrast of slavery and tenancy, under the auspices of Vanderbilt University. Born 1913, Davidson County, Tennessee. Vanderbilt University, B. A., 1935, M. A., 1936.

Mr. Mooney has accepted a position as head of the department and professor of history, political science and economics at Brenau College, Gainesville, Georgia. He received his Ph. D. at Vanderbilt in June of 1939.

Wiley Clifford Newman, pastor of the First Methodist Church, South, Indianola, Mississippi, appointed for studies in sociology at the University of North Carolina and at Duke University. Born 1901, Prentiss County, Mississippi. University of Mississippi, B. A., 1925.

James S. Pope, assistant managing editor, Atlanta Journal, appointed to study the relationship of the press to political parties in England and on the Continent. Born 1900, Zebulon, Georgia. 1937 - $1700
Riverside Academy, Gainesville, Georgia, 1917-18; Emory University, 1918-21.

Mr. Pope has had two salary increases since his return to his post on the Atlanta Journal. He finds his observation and experience in England increasingly valuable in the interpretation of war news as well as in the general conduct of this influential paper.

Doris M. Porter, associate state director in charge of home management and social service, Farm Security Administration, Jackson, Mississippi, appointed to study the methods of rehabilitating stranded farm populations in America and in Europe. 1938 - $2500
+300
Born 1908, Citronelle, Alabama. University of Alabama, A. B., 1928, M. S., 1932.

Miss Porter returned to this country in June. She is now assistant chief, Rural Rehabilitation Division, Farm Security Administration, in charge of home management work for all of the projects.

Walter E. Sewell, assistant professor of mathematics, Georgia School of Technology, Atlanta, appointed to adapt mathematics texts to high school and general college use in the South. Born 1904, Newnan, Georgia. University of Georgia, A. B., 1925, B. S. in C. E., 1926, M. A., 1927; Harvard University, M. A., 1932, Ph. D., 1936. 1939 - $2000

Charles E. Shannon, Montgomery, Alabama, appointed to do creative work in the painting of southern types and to continue his attempt to develop an art center in Montgomery. Born 1914, Montgomery, Alabama. Emory University, 1930-32; Cleveland School of Art, 1932-36. 1938 - $1500
1939 - 1200

Mr. Shannon has completed several canvases since his appointment - some landscapes and some of the Negro and his environment. He has made many watercolors and drawings of landscapes, poor Negroes, and poor whites. Recently he entered a design in the WPA competition for the Eutaw, Alabama, post office mural; a few weeks ago a canvas, "Boy with Book," was sent to the Carnegie International Exhibit in Pittsburgh; his painting, "The Lover," won third prize at the Golden Gate Exposition international show and is one of the 50 paintings selected to tour Canada. Early next year Mr. Shannon expects to have a one-man exhibition at the galleries of Mrs. Cornelius Sullivan in New York.

Mr. Shannon lives and works in his cabin studio in the country outside Montgomery five days a week and gives the other two to New South, an art center which he has helped organize. New South includes in its plan a gallery for exhibition and sale of the products of artists and craftsmen; a theatre for lectures, plays, discussion forums, concerts, moving pictures; workshops for instruction and production in all arts and crafts; a library for reading and reference, for lending books, paintings, and phonograph records; a store for books, artists' supplies, products of artists and craftsmen.

Lillian E. Smith, editor of the North Georgia Review, Clayton, appointed to make a study of southern literature, sociology, and race relations. Born 1897, Jasper, Florida. Piedmont College, 1915-16, Teachers College, Columbia University, 1927-28; Peabody Conservatory, three years.

1939 - $1000

T. Lynn Smith, professor and head of the departments of sociology and rural sociology, Louisiana State University, appointed to make a study of the personnel and facilities for education in agriculture, in the countries of South and Central America. Born 1903, Sanford, Colorado. Brigham Young University, B. S., 1928; University of Minnesota, M. S., 1929, Ph. D., 1932; Harvard University, 1930-31.

1939 - $600

Mr. Smith has just returned from four months in Central and South America where he visited the leading universities. He studied the courses offered in sociology in order to plan for the students at Louisiana State University, and is taking an important part in the planning of university authorities and government officials for exchange of students and professors between Latin-American countries and the United States.

Paula Snelling, editor of the North Georgia Review, Clayton, appointed for a study of southern literature, sociology, and race relations. Born 1899, Macon, Georgia. Wesleyan College, A. B., 1919; Columbia University, A. M., 1925.

1939 - $1000

Shelby E. Southard, historical research worker, American Historical Society, appointed to study at Vanderbilt University the role which Southern Methodism played in the sectional struggle in American history from 1830-1861. Born 1914, Athens, Alabama. Birmingham-Southern College, A. B., 1937; Vanderbilt University, M. A., 1938.

1939 - $1000

Melvin E. Thompson, director of teacher training and certification, Georgia State Department of Education, appointed to formulate a plan for the coordination of governmental educational organizations in Georgia into one comprehensive educational program, at the University of Georgia. Born 1903, Millen, Georgia. Emory University, B. Ph., 1926, and 1929-30, 1931-32; University of Georgia, M. A., 1935.

1939 - $2000

Hope Tisdale, assistant professor of physical education, Woman's College, University of North Carolina, appointed to study the physical characteristics, abilities, and handicaps of southern youth as compared with those of other regions, at the University of North Carolina. Born 1904, Mobile, Alabama. Barnard College, B. A., 1925; New York University, M. A., 1935; Central School of Hygiene and Physical Education, diploma, 1927; Harvard University, certificate in physiotherapy, 1933.

Dan Rutledge Vining, instructor of statistics and economics, University of Arkansas, appointed to study the nature and sources of fluctuation of employment and income in a southern region, at the University of Chicago. Born 1908, Birmingham, Alabama. University of Texas, B. B. A., 1931, M. A., 1935; three summers at University of Chicago.

Goodrich Cook White, professor of psychology and dean of the College of Arts and Sciences and of the Graduate School, Emory University, appointed for a study of the development of higher education in the Netherlands. Born 1889, Griffin, Georgia. Emory College, A. B., 1908; Columbia University, A. M., 1911; University of Chicago, Ph. D., 1927.

Dr. White has returned to Emory University as Vice-president. He is increasingly in charge of the educational planning of the important university center in Atlanta, represented by Emory, Agnes Scott College for Women, and the Georgia School of Technology.

Richard E. Yates, assistant professor of political science, Hendrix College, appointed to develop an integrated course in the social sciences on the junior college level, at Columbia University. Born 1910, Whitefish, Montana. North Carolina State College, B. S., 1932; Vanderbilt University, M. A., 1933, Ph. D., 1936.