

Political Science

Good scholastic record

She is really at a pretty early stage of graduate work for a person 30 years old - still seeking an A at Barnard (although it is true she has an M.A. from Emory) Rather a hackneyed subject. No evidence that she is bringing anything fresh to it.

She is now at a very small institution - this is evidence that her "influence" is not very wide