

FELLOWSHIP AWARDS

In view of the fact that the fellowships for the coming year will not be awarded until after this meeting of the trustees, we cannot give a list of these awards. Instead, the fellowship director will report orally on the state of this year's selections.

There is given on following pages the same exhibit that was included in the docket of the trustees' meeting of November 11, 1940. This is a complete list of the Fellows appointed during the four years of the present fellowship program, 1937 to 1940, a total of 105 Negroes and 80 white Southerners.

Exhibit A

NEGRO FELLOWS, 1937 THROUGH 1940ANTHROPOLOGY

Allison Davis: for studies in anthropology, at the University of Chicago.

1939 - $2,400 Born 1903, Washington, D. C. Williams College, A. B.,
1924; Harvard University, M. A., 1925, 1931-32; University of London, School of Economics and the Biometrical Institute, 1932-33. Professor of anthropology and head of the Division of Social Studies, Dillard University.

Mr. Davis continues his exceptional work. He is co-author with John Dollard of Children of Bondage, published this fall by the American Council on Education.

J. G. St. Clair Drake: for studies in social anthropology, at the University of Chicago.

1937 - $1,000 Born 1911, Suffolk, Virginia. Hampton Institute, B. S., 1931; Pendle Hill School for Social and Religious Study, Wallingford, Pennsylvania, 1931-32. Research assistant and instructor in social anthropology, Dillard University.

Mr. Drake is at present associate director of the Illinois State Commission on the Condition of the Urban Colored Population. During the past year he worked on a memorandum on Negro organizations for the Carnegie study of The Negro in America. "Churches and Associations in the Chicago Negro Community", a W. P. A. report which Mr. Drake helped prepare, will be published in November, 1940 by the Institute for Juvenile Research. Mr. Drake is also working with Mr. Lloyd Warner and Mr. Horace Cayton on a book dealing with the Negro in Chicago.

Hugh H. Smythe: for studies in anthropology, at Northwestern University.

1939 - $1,605 Born 1913, Pittsburgh, Pennsylvania. Virginia State
1940 - 1,800 College for Negroes, A. B., 1936; Atlanta University, M. A., 1937. Research assistant, Department of Social Science, Fisk University.

Mr. Smythe made an enviable record during the first year of work under our fellowship. He is a man of proved ability and great promise.

Mark Hanna Watkins: for studies in linguistics, in Liberia.

1940 - $2,600 Born 1903, Huntsville, Texas. Prairie View State College,

B. S., 1926; University of Chicago, A. M., 1930, Ph. D., 1933. Assistant professor of sociology and anthropology, Fisk University.

BIOLOGY

Fred W. Alsup: for zoological studies, at the University of Pennsylvania and the Marine Biological Laboratory.

1938 - $1,000

1939 - 1,000

1940 - 1,000

Born 1914, Nashville, Tennessee. Fisk University, A. B., 1934, M. A., 1936. Head of the science department, Morristown Normal and Industrial College, Morristown, Tennessee.

Mr. Alsup is one of the ablest students in the Department of Zoology at the University of Pennsylvania in recent years. It seemed wise to continue our grant for another year and thus enable him to obtain his Ph. D. degree in 1941.

Percy H. Baker: for the study of biology and the preparation of school texts in science, at the University of Michigan.

1937 - $1,450

+485

Born 1906, Williamsburg, Virginia. University of Pittsburgh, B. S., 1929, M. S., 1930. Instructor in biology and elementary school science, Virginia State College for Negroes.

Since resuming his work at Virginia State College Mr. Baker has had two promotions in rank; he is now associate professor of biology.

Viola Goin Palmer: for studies in bacteriology, at the University of Michigan.

1938 - $1,000

Born 1912, New Haven, Connecticut. Oberlin College, 1929-31; University of Paris, 1931-32; Yale Medical Center, 1932-34; University of Michigan, B. S., 1936, M. S., 1937.

Miss Goin married Edward N. Palmer, one of our 1939 Fellows. She is this year a part-time graduate student at the University of Michigan, where Mr. Palmer is pursuing his graduate work under our fellowship.

Ruth Smith Lloyd: for studies in anatomy and endocrinology, at Western Reserve University.

1938 - $1,400

1939 - 1,000

Born 1917, Washington, D. C. Mount Holyoke College, A. B., 1937; Howard University, M. S., 1938.

Mrs. Lloyd became a candidate for the Ph. D. degree in June of 1940. In September, 1940, she began work as research assistant in the Department of Physiology, Howard University Medical School.

CHEMISTRY

Ulysses S. Brooks: for chemical research in the ionization of salts, at the University of Chicago.

1937 - $1,250

Born 1894, Jamesville, North Carolina. Howard University, B. S., 1924; University of Chicago, M. S., 1931. Teacher of chemistry and physics, Johnson C. Smith University, Charlotte, North Carolina.

Mr. Brooks continues his teaching at Johnson C. Smith University, where he now has the rank of associate professor.

Leila S. Green: for studies in organic chemistry, at Radcliffe College and Harvard University.

1938 - $1,000

1939 - 1,000

1940 - 1,000

Born 1915, Canton, Ohio. Howard University, B. S., 1936, M. S., 1938.

One of the most brilliant graduates of Howard University, Miss Green has continued her excellent work at Harvard and Radcliffe. It seemed wise to assist her during the final year of her work toward the doctorate.

Carl M. Hill: for research in organic chemistry, at Cornell University.

1937 - $1,500

Born 1907, Norfolk, Virginia. Hampton Institute, B. S., 1931; Cornell University, M. S., 1935. Science teacher, Hampton Institute.

Since he finished his work under fellowship, Mr. Hill has been made assistant professor of chemistry at Hampton. During the 1940-41 school year he is again at Cornell University working toward his Ph. D. degree.

Henry A. Hill: for studies in organic chemistry, at the Massachusetts Institute of Technology.

1940 - $1,500

Born 1915, St. Joseph, Missouri. Johnson C. Smith University, B. S., 1936; University of Chicago, 1938-39; Massachusetts Institute of Technology, 1937-38, 1939-40.

Birtill A. Lloyd: for studies in physical chemistry, at the University of Illinois.

1938 - $1,500

1939 - 1,300

Born 1905, Jamaica, B. W. I. University of Illinois, B. S., 1930, 1930-31; University of Toronto, M. A., 1934. Professor of mathematics and physics, Philander Smith College, Arkansas.

Mr. Lloyd is on leave from Philander Smith College during 1940-41 serving as research assistant at the University of Illinois in connection with the defense program.

James E. LuValle: for studies in physical chemistry, at the California Institute of Technology.

1938 - $1,500

1939 - 1,500

+ 450

Born 1912, San Antonio, Texas. University of California at Los Angeles, B. A., 1936, M. A., 1937. Graduate assistant, California Institute of Technology.

Mr. Lu Valle received his Ph. D. degree from the California Institute of Technology in June, 1940. He is now an instructor in chemistry at Fisk University.

Myron B. Towns: for studies in physical chemistry, at the University of Michigan.

1938 - $1,400

1939 - 1,650

1940 - 600

Born 1910, Atlanta, Georgia. Atlanta University, A. B., 1930; University of Michigan, A. M., 1933, 1935-36. Professor of chemistry and chairman of the department, Negro Agricultural and Technical College, Greensboro, North Carolina.

Mr. Towns will receive his Ph. D. degree in June of 1941. He returned in September, 1940, to his post at the A and T College in Greensboro.

Charles E. Weir: for research in nuclear chemistry and quantum mechanics, at the California Institute of Technology.

1937 - $1,500

1938 - 1,600

Born 1911, Washington, D. C. University of Chicago, B. S., 1932; Howard University, M. S., 1934. Assistant in chemistry, Howard University.

Mr. Weir is another of the students who have made distinguished records at California Institute of Technology, though his studies were interrupted by illness a year ago. He is at present attending the Institute and working part time in Pasadena.

Henry S. Wilson: for research in the plasticities of lime, at Indiana University.

1937 - $1,500

Born 1902, Louisville, Kentucky. Indiana University, A. B., 1923, A. M., 1927. Instructor in chemistry and chairman of the Division of Natural Sciences, Louisville Municipal College.

Mr. Wilson received his Ph. D. degree with honors in chemistry at Indiana University. He has had two changes in rank since he returned to Louisville Municipal College where he is now associate professor of chemistry.

CLASSICS

Frank M. Snowden, Jr.: for studies in the classical languages, literature, and archaeology, at Harvard University.

1938 - $2,000

Born 1911, York County, Virginia. Harvard University, A. B., 1932, A. M., 1933. Instructor in classics, Spelman College.

Mr. Snowden studied at the American Academy in Rome during the summer of 1938, and spent the remainder of his fellowship year at Harvard, where he made an excellent record. He has shown great ability to stimulate interest in the classics. After four successful years in the Atlanta University system he has moved to Howard University, where he is instructor in classics.

CREATIVE WRITING

William A. Attaway: for the writing of a novel dealing with the Pittsburgh industrial area and the Negro's place in the steel mills.

1940 - $1,200

Born 1911, Greenville, Mississippi. University of Illinois, B. A., 1936.

Arna W. Bontemps: to gather material for an historical novel and for books in the children's field.

1938 - $1,900

Born 1902, Alexandria, Louisiana. Pacific Union College, B. A., 1923; University of Chicago, 1936-38. Principal of Shiloh Academy, Chicago.

During his fellowship Mr. Bontemps completed Drums at Dusk, a novel dealing with the slave uprising in Haiti. This was published by Macmillan in April, 1939. An autobiography of W. C. Handy, edited and prepared for publication by Mr. Bontemps, will be published by Macmillan in the spring of 1941. During the past summer he did research in Negro history for the Negro Exposition in Chicago. He is now serving as editor in the Illinois Writers' Project, Works Progress Administration.

Frank Marshall Davis: for creative writing, especially poetry.

1937 - $1,500

Born 1905, Arkansas City, Kansas. Kansas State College, 1924-27, 1929-30. Feature writer, Associated Negro Press, Chicago.

Since Mr. Davis completed work under his fellowship his verse has appeared in various magazines and in a brochure, Through Sepia Eyes. Five of his poems were chosen for the anthology, Negro Voices, which appeared in November of 1938. During his fellowship Mr. Davis brought toward completion a first novel and compiled verse for his third volume of poetry, but neither book has been published. He resumed his post as feature writer for the Associated Negro Press, and with this as a basis of livelihood is continuing his free lance writing.

ECONOMICS

Brailsford R. Brazeal: for a study of the origin and development of the Brotherhood of Sleeping Car Porters, at Columbia University.
1938 - $1,500

Born 1903, Dublin, Georgia. Morehouse College, A. B., 1927; Columbia University, A. M., 1928, 1932-33. Teacher of economics and dean of men, Morehouse College.

Mr. Brazeal completed his residence work toward his Ph. D. degree and is working on his thesis. He was made professor of economics on his return to Morehouse College.

William H. Dean, Jr.: for a study of economic factors in regional migration and the growth of cities, at Harvard University.

1937 - $1,700
1938 - 2,200

Born 1910, Lynchburg, Virginia. Bowdoin College, A. B., 1930; Harvard University, M. A., 1932. Instructor in economics, Atlanta University.

Mr. Dean received his Ph. D. from Harvard University in June, 1938. His fellowship was renewed for 1939 for study in France and Sweden, but he was unable to go abroad that year and the war prevented his leaving at a later date. He therefore has relinquished the grant.

During the summer of 1939 Mr. Dean served as lecturer in economics at the College of the City of New York.

After his second year of study under fellowship Mr. Dean returned to Atlanta University as assistant professor of economics. He has just been appointed a consultant with the National Resources Planning Board, and will work on two studies, "The Location of Defense Industry" and "Transportation Policy".

Abram L. Harris: for the completion of a study of the ideas of Karl Marx and Thorstein Veblen.

1939 - $2,000

Born 1899, Richmond, Virginia. Virginia Union University, B. S., 1922; University of Pittsburgh, M. A., 1924; Columbia University, Ph. D., 1931. Professor of economics and head of the department, Howard University.

Mr. Harris is still at work on the Marx-Veblen study. He continues to carry on a very active writing and research program. His latest study, "Collective Bargaining and the Federal Law", is an examination of the legal principles and the machinery of federal collective bargaining statutes since 1888.

John Hope II: for a study of consumption habits and credit practices among low-income families in the South, at the University of Chicago.
1940 - $2,000

Born 1909, Atlanta, Georgia. Morehouse College, A. B., 1930; Brown University, A. M., 1932; University of Chicago, 1938. Teacher of economics, Spelman College and Atlanta University.

Giles A. Hubert: for a study of agriculture and farm organization, in Denmark.
1937 - $2,700

Born 1907, Atlanta, Georgia. Jackson College, B. A., 1928; State University of Iowa, M. A., 1930; University of Minnesota, 1930-31. Assistant professor of economics and rural sociology, Fisk University.

Mr. Hubert returned to his post at Fisk University at the end of his fellowship. He immediately found himself in great demand in government and other planning for agriculture, and he has been dividing his time between Fisk University and the Farm Security Administration. He is at present assistant to the director, Rural Rehabilitation Division, Farm Security Administration.

Mr. Hubert played a leading part in bringing about cooperation among Fisk University, Tuskegee Institute, and the FSA in the training of rural leaders. He has also been instrumental in initiating a program for the rehabilitation of Negro farming communities, already under way in ten states of the Southeast.

George F. McCray: for study of interracial conflicts in the labor movement, under the auspices of the University of Chicago.
1939 - $1,500

Born 1908, Biloxi, Mississippi. Mr. McCray has no degree, but he has studied labor problems at the University of Chicago and the University of Wisconsin. Assistant superintendent, labor research project, Illinois State Employment Service.

At the end of his fellowship tenure Mr. McCray returned to his post with the Illinois State Employment Service.

Booker T. McGraw: for studies in economics, specifically the monetary experience of France from 1926-1937, at Harvard University.

1937 - $1,500
1938 - 1,500

Born 1898, Brooks County, Georgia. Atlanta University, A. B., 1923; University of Michigan, M. A., 1924, M. B. A., 1926; Harvard University, M. A., 1933. Teacher of economics and registrar, Lincoln University, Missouri.

Mr. McGraw is now professor and head of the Departments of Economics and Business Administration at Lincoln University, as well as registrar. He received his Ph. D. degree in June of 1939 and is at present revising his thesis for publication in book form.

Jacob L. Reddix: for a study of the possibilities of cooperative societies among Negroes, at the University of Chicago.

1939 - $2,000
+ 500

Born 1897, Vancleave, Mississippi. Lewis Institute, Chicago, B. S., 1927; University of Chicago, 1931. Teacher of mathematics, Roosevelt High School, Gary, Indiana.

Mr. Reddix has just been made president of Jackson College, Mississippi.

Thomas N. Roberts: for studies in land utilization, at the University of Wisconsin.

1940 - $2,000

Born 1900, Savannah, Georgia. Hampton Institute, B. S. A., 1927; University of Wisconsin, B. S. A., 1928, M. S., 1932. Project manager, Soil Conservation Service, U. S. Department of Agriculture, stationed at Tuskegee Institute.

William J. Trent, Jr.: for an analysis of occupational trends and opportunities among Negroes in northern cities, at the University of Pennsylvania.

1940 - $1,350

Born 1910, Asheville, North Carolina. Livingstone College, North Carolina, B. A., 1930; University of Pennsylvania, M. B. A., 1932, 1936-37, Adviser on Negro Affairs, Public Works Administration, Washington, D. C.

Soon after his fellowship was awarded, Mr. Trent was offered the position of Adviser on Negro Affairs in the Office of the Administrator of the Federal Works Agency, Washington. His fellowship has, therefore, been postponed for a year.

EDUCATION

David W. Cannon, Jr.: for studies in education, at Teachers College, Columbia University.

1937 - $1,500

Born 1910, Cranford, New Jersey. Hillsdale College,

Michigan, B. S., 1931; University of Michigan, M. A., 1932.

Mr. Cannon completed all examinations for his Ph. D. degree and wrote the larger part of his dissertation. His death in December of 1938 cut short what promised to be a brilliant and useful career in education.

Robert Coleman, Jr.: for studies in mathematics and education, at Columbia University.

1940 - $1,000

Born 1914, Dallas, Texas. Western Reserve University, A. B., 1935; Columbia University, M. A., 1937. Instructor of physics, Wilberforce University.

Mr. Trenholm returned to his post as president and director of instruction at State Teachers College, Montgomery, Alabama.

ENGLISH

A. Russell Brooks: for studies in English literature, with particular reference to the drama, at Columbia University.

1939 - $1,250

Born 1906, Montgomery, Alabama. Morehouse College, A. B., 1930; University of Wisconsin, M. A., 1934; University of Edinburgh, 1938-39. Professor of English and head of the department, Negro Agricultural and Technical College, Greensboro, North Carolina.

Mr. Brooks was originally appointed for work at the University of Edinburgh, where he was studying at the time of making application. Research opportunities became so restricted at the outbreak of the war that he requested permission to use his grant for work at Columbia University. At the close of his fellowship period he returned to his post at the North Carolina A and T College.

Richard A. Carroll; for studies in English literature, at the University of Michigan.

1937 - $1,100

Born 1913, Valliant, Oklahoma. Johnson C. Smith University, A. B., 1934; University of Michigan, M. A., 1936. Instructor in English, Arkansas State College.

Mr. Carroll completed residence requirements toward his Ph. D. degree in English at the University of Michigan. He is now instructor in English at Johnson C. Smith University, Charlotte, North Carolina.

Charles T. Davis: for studies in the history of American culture, specifically a study of the literature of the Negro renaissance, at the University of Chicago.

1940 - $1,200

Born 1918, Hampton, Virginia. Dartmouth College, A. B., 1939; University of Chicago, 1939-40.

H. Alfred Farrell: for a study of the Negro novelist and his theme, at Ohio State University.

1940 - $900

Born 1895, Elizabeth City, North Carolina. Howard University, A. B., 1914; Harvard University, M. A., 1917; University of Chicago, Ph. D., 1926; University of London, 1936-37. Professor of English and head of the department, Fisk University.

Mr. Turner has had to delay work under his grant until this year. He is now in Brazil.

FINE ARTS

Art Education

Frances E. Thompson: for work in art and art education, in Czechoslovakia.

1937 - $1,800

Born 1902, Nashville, Tennessee. Massachusetts School of Art, B. S., 1936. Teacher of art education and crafts, Tennessee Agricultural and Industrial State Teachers College.

Miss Thompson returned to her work at the State College. During the past year she has been asked to write a bulletin on art education for the State of Tennessee.

Drama

Fannin S. Belcher, Jr.: for studies in drama, at Yale University.

1938 - $2,000 Born 1908, Savannah, Georgia. Lincoln University,
1939 - 1,500 Pennsylvania, A. B., 1928; University of Pennsylvania,
M. A., 1930. Assistant professor of English and director of dramatics, West Virginia State College.

At the end of his work under our fellowship, Mr. Belcher was granted an additional leave of absence by the West Virginia State College, and he is continuing his study toward the doctorate at Yale University.

Anna M. Cooke: for studies in drama, at Yale University.

1938 - $1,500 Born 1907, Washington, D. C. Oberlin College, A. B.,
1939 - 1,500 1928; American Academy of Dramatic Art, and Columbia University, 1930-31; Yale University, 1936-37. Director of dramatics, Spelman College.

By the end of her fellowship tenure Miss Cooke had completed all residence requirements for the Ph. D. degree and had done a good deal of work on her dissertation, "Theories of Acting".

Randolph Edmonds: for creative work in folk drama in Ireland and England, especially with the Irish Players.

1937 - $1,900

Born 1900, Lawrenceville, Virginia. Oberlin College, A. B., 1926; Columbia University, A. M., 1931; Yale University, 1934-35. Professor of drama, Dillard University.

Mr. Edmonds and his department at Dillard continue to be exceedingly active. In addition to its campus productions the Dillard Players Guild has staged plays at several other colleges, among them Tougaloo, St. Augustine's, and Bennett, travelling some 2,000 miles during the year. Mr. Edmonds has made the drama department a center of activity for the area. He serves as president or director of several civic organizations and regional associations, and through these groups the University's drama program has touched many thousands in a wide area, thus influencing the development of drama in southern schools, colleges, and communities. He continues to write extensively.

Shirley Graham: for studies in the theatre and music, at the Yale University School of Fine Arts.

1938 - $1,800
1939 - 2,000

Born 1904, Indianapolis, Indiana. Howard University School of Music, 1927-28; University of Paris, 1930; Oberlin College, A. B., 1934, A. M., 1935; Vassar Theatre Summer School, 1937. Supervisor of the Negro unit of the Chicago Federal Theatre.

At the end of her 1939-40 year of study at Yale, Miss Graham accepted a position as director of adult activities of the Phyllis Wheatley Y. W. C. A., Indianapolis. She was offered a Yale fellowship for 1940-41 under which she would have continued her work with Mr. Allardyce Nicoll, but she had already accepted the post with the Y. W. C. A. and did not feel free to break her contract.

Music

Otis Holley Berry: for the study of voice at the Fontainebleau School of Music, France.

1937 - $1,200

Born 1908, Talladega, Alabama. Coleridge-Taylor Music School, Chicago, 1926; Chadek Conservatory, Chattanooga, 1928-29; Hartley House Music School, New York, 1932; Seagle Music Colony, Schroon Lake, New York, 1930-33; Fontainebleau School of Music and study with A. Ira Aldridge in London, summer and fall of 1936.

Mrs. Berry continues her teaching and voice study in Washington.

William Grant Still: for creative work in musical composition.

1939 - $2,000

1940 - 2,000

Born 1895, Woodville, Mississippi. Wilberforce University, 1911-15, M. Mus., 1936. Oberlin Conservatory of Music. Private study with George Chadwick and Edgar Varese.

Mr. Still is one of the important composers in America today. Unfortunately his work, however valuable, is not of a sort to attract financial reward. In the absence in modern society of those personal patrons who in an earlier era supported such artists, it is necessary for such agencies as the Rosenwald and the Guggenheim foundations to recognize and help support such exceptional talent.

One of Mr. Still's latest compositions, "And They Lynched Him on a Tree", was given its initial performance at a Lewisohn Stadium concert in June, 1940, under the direction of Doctor Rodzinski.

Howard W. Swanson: for studies and creative work in musical composition, with Mlle. Boulanger in Paris.

1938 - $1,500

1939 - 1,500

Born 1912, Atlanta, Georgia. Cleveland Institute of Music, Mus. B., 1937.

Mr. Swanson remained in Paris after the beginning of the war. Our last word from him came from Seville, Spain.

Painting

Charles H. Alston: for creative work in painting.

1940 - $1,200 Born 1907, Charlotte, North Carolina. Columbia College, New York, B. A., 1929; Teachers College, Columbia University, M. A., 1931; special study in sculpture with Mr. Aaron Ben Schmucl and in graphic arts with Mr. Harry Sternberg, 1933-35. Mural painter with Federal Arts Project, New York.

Aaron Douglas: for creative art in portraits, character sketches, and scenes of Negro life.

1937 - $1,800
+ 800 Born 1899, Topeka, Kansas. University of Nebraska, B. F. A., 1922; Winold Reiss School of Fine Arts, New York, 1925-27; Barnes Foundation, Merion, Pennsylvania, 1927-28; L'Academie Scandinave, Paris, 1931-32.

Mr. Douglas is an instructor at Fisk University. Among his latest works are eight mural panels which were done for the Negro Exposition in Chicago, based on themes from James Weldon Johnson's God's Trombones. Five of these paintings are now in the Board Room of the Julius Rosenwald Fund.

Jacob A. Lawrence: for creative work in painting, especially for the production of a series of murals on Negro migrations.

Born 1912, Washington, D. C. Williams College, A. B., 1933; University of Wisconsin, A. M., 1934. Assistant professor of political science, Lincoln University, Pennsylvania.

Mr. Davis was originally appointed for a study of the Negro in politics in New York, but as his work at Columbia progressed it has seemed wise for him to delay that specific study and to use for his dissertation a topic which lies outside of the Negro field.

Mr. Arthur Macmahon of Columbia University says that Mr. Davis is one of the brightest graduate students Columbia has ever had. He has unusually wide interests and an excellent grasp of theoretical problems; his record has made renewals of his grant almost compulsory. He is a brother of Allison Davis and an equally brilliant member of this remarkable family. Mr. Davis expects to get his Ph. D. degree in June of 1941.

Edwin B. Jourdain, Jr.: for a study of the relationships between a minority group and its government, at Northwestern University.
1939 - $1,600
