Dear Mr. Reynolds:

In Texas last Autumn I had a talk with Dr. Autrey Nell Wiley and it seemed to my lay mind that she had thought to fine purpose about some of the fundamentals of radio broadcasting. This had been the result of something in the nature of a fellowship granted her by one of the broadcasting companies upon which she worked in a broadcasting studio in New York City last Summer. Whether or not she intends to continue this vein I don't know.

Dr. Wiley is a Professor of English in The Texas State College of Women, Denton, Texas. She is a native of Texas; A.B. Texas State College for Women; PhD University of Texas; ACLS Fellowship, 1932-33; 38 years old. She is good -- and, tell Mr. Embree, very good looking!!

I don't think that this is a matter about which you will get anywhere by writing letters to her. Rather I suggest you make arrangements to see her. You may mention my name, of course.

Sincerely yours,

Henry Allen Moe
