Fellows - McGraw

My dear Mr. Haygood:

I have just read your confidential report on the reviewing of activities of Julius Rosenwald Fund fellows. I have found the document most interesting and extremely well prepared. Permit me to congratulate you on the work which you have done in this connection.

There is one bit of information which I should like to transmit to you, since I believe it would be of interest to the trustees and the members of the Fellowship Committee. Booker T. McGraw, two years a Rosenwald fellow, has recently received a very significant appointment. Mr. McGraw is working under Leon Henderson on a research job which is of great importance to national defense. At the present time, he is engaged in reviewing French monetary developments since the post-war period. Mr. McGraw is remaining at Lincoln University and is carrying on his research largely with the facilities available to him in Chicago.

I might suggest that you communicate directly with McGraw and secure the details of his current work.

Sincerely yours,

Robert C. Weaver
