It is with regret that I must inform you that your application for a fellowship was not among those granted this year.

After several months of comparison and study of the unusually large number of applications received - plus the evidence submitted by the various juries who review candidates in such fields as art, music, literature, photography, etc. - the Committee on Fellowships has selected the persons listed on the enclosed sheet.

The members of the Committee wish to thank you, through me, for submitting an application and wish to extend you an invitation to reapply next year if you so desire.

The papers you submitted in support of your application will be returned to you within the next few weeks.

Sincerely yours,

Director for Fellowships
