

Name Barbara Tunnell Anderson (Mrs.)

Field: Creative Writing

Valetta Lane
Louisville, Kentucky

Plan of Work

To write the story of Amanda Crane, musician, daughter of a Negro woman and a white man, who, through about thirty-five years, struggles against the handicaps of her mother's race and the barriers set by her father's race until her values are clarified and her purpose fixed.

Wishes to work from fourteen to eighteen months.

Personal Data Born Mansfield, Massachusetts, September, 1894.

Age: 48

Undergraduate Work Smith College, 1912-13.

Graduate Work

Experience Advertising copy writer for twelve years.

Accomplishments

Publications: The Days Grow Cold (a novel), Macmillan Company, 1941 (a Literary Guild book for December, 1941); English edition, Hurst & Blackett, London, 1942; also articles in various magazines and poetry in Century Magazine, Vanity Fair, and Scribner's.

References

Mr. Harold S. Latham, Macmillan Company, New York
Mr. James S. Pope, Louisville Courier-Journal
Dr. Raymond Kent, University of Louisville

Budget Summary

Total Amount Needed
From Applicant
From Fund

Plan of Work
Transcripts

Photograph
Exhibit Material

Sent to Committee

AMOUNT GRANTED

Author
Louisville, Kentucky

Over age - but an exceptional candidate. Has record of successful writing.

Proposed novel is certainly down our alley.

If Arma Bouteux rates her high due for her

Maybe she should be classed
"Senior Grant"

Her asking is modest