

Candidate Sarah Martin Eason ✓
 Instructor in French and Spanish
 Shaw University, Raleigh, North Carolina

Special Field
 Romance Languages

Plan of Work

I plan to study further in the field of Romance Languages with special emphasis on the languages and literatures of the South American peoples whose heroic rise to economic, political and personal independence bears some resemblance to the struggles of our rising race still faced with the problem of discovering and then weighing carefully patterns and technics of racial adjustment to the demands of modern civilization.

Wishes to work for Ph. D. at Cornell or Ohio State University for 10 or 12 months beginning in September, 1938. Has been admitted at Ohio State, and would work there under Dr. Hendrix. Will return to present position.
