Dear Mr. Embree:

I had meant to write you long before this but when I got back to New York I found that things had rather piled up in my absence.

I do want to repeat what I told you the day that I left Chicago. Serving on the fellowship jury has been one of the most pleasant and instructive tasks which I have ever undertaken. I know that it is something that I shall look back upon with great pleasure all of my life and I only hope that I have managed to contribute as much from my end.

I hope that you will pass along my regards to all the members of the Fund and thank them again for making my stay so pleasant.

Cordially,

Bucklin Moon
