On March 21, I reported to you that there was $95,506.19 available to the Committee on Fellowships for awards in 1946. Since then, $6,400 has been reserved for additional labor scholarships, and an extension of $375 was made to Elsie Lewis, reducing the free funds to $88,731.19.

In addition to the above, we have ear-marked for labor scholarships, but not allocated, $5,050; and ear-marked for the reinstatement of scholarship-aid grants to returning veterans, (but not allocated) $1,315. So, if the Committee wanted to cancel out these special reserves, the free funds total could be increased to $95,096.19.
