Dear Dr. Bousfield,

A great deal has happened to me since I've last been in touch with you. I was fortunate enough to get a fellowship through the New York City Health Department to complete my public health training at Harvard. I expect to receive my degree in June of this year. I remember your general feeling about formal training in public health work but I do feel that I have benefitted immensely by my work both at Columbia and Harvard and that I shall be able to undertake practical work with a better understanding. After all this academic work I am anxious to get into the field and apply the methods and training I have received. Have you anything interesting going on into which I might fit, or do you know of anything?

The other big event in my life was my marriage to Dr. Joseph, the marriage now being a year old.

We both join in sending you our warmest personal regards.

Very truly yours,

Jerome S. Peterson
