Subject: Art Jury

Last year Dan Catton Rich, Director of the Art Institute, Hale Woodruff, and Rainey Bennett served on the jury.

When I called Mr. Rich asking him to serve again he told me that it is a matter of policy that he never serve twice for the same foundation. He feels that it is not fair to rejected candidates to be judged by the same jury year after year.

I then called Mrs. Kuh and she agreed to serve; however, she too feels that the two other members of the jury should be new. I have an appointment with her on Friday to discuss possible jury members and a place where the meeting can be held since Newcomb-Macklin can't take us this year, and the Art Institute is already over-crowded.

Do you agree to have Mrs. Kuh and two other new people ?

No. I think they're crazy.
