February 15

Dear Mr. Kay: Applicants for Rosenwald fellowships in the field of musical composition are given a preliminary judging for us by a jury of nationally known composers, and I am writing now to ask you to send me, before April first, some examples of your work. These can be either published or in manuscript form, and should be comprehensive enough to enable the judges to make a fair and informed estimate of your creative abilities.

These materials will be carefully handled and returned to you when the Committee has made its final decisions early in May.

Sincerely yours,
WILLIAM C. HAYGOOD
