

JOHN HENRY HARMON

Student, Rochedale Institute doing part-time accounting

Economics

There is a very earnest feeling but I can't find any evidence of distinction. Of course the people in the cooperative field are enthusiastic for any work in that nature, but I do not get much about Harmon's abilities even from these enthusiasts Very mild letter from ^{Terrie} ^{Int. Worker} ^{and} ^{with whom} ^{Harmon was formerly employed} no letter in yet from Kallen. I should doubt if Kallen's very theoretical approach to such problems would be much real help to such a worker as Harmon.

We turned this man down in 1937 I don't see that he gives us any more favorable evidence now.
