

MODDIE DANIEL TAYLOR

(30)

Assistant Professor of Chemistry
Lincoln University
Jefferson City, Missouri

Chemistry

A good steady man
no evidence of outstanding distinction
Schlesinger of UIC says 'cannot say he is one of most able grad students we have had, nor most competent colored man we have had but a thoroughly good man

Name Moddie Daniel Taylor Field: Chemistry

Assistant Professor of Chemistry,
Lincoln University, Jefferson City, Missouri
On leave for study at University of Chicago

Plan of Work

Some additions to the double bond in liquid ammonia solutions.

Wishes to work for Ph. D. under Dr. Warren C. Johnson at the University of Chicago for one year beginning September 1942. Will return to present position.

Applied 1937, 1938.

Personal Data Born Nymph, Alabama, March 1912. Age: 30
Married.

Undergraduate Work Lincoln University, Missouri, B. S. 1935.

Graduate Work University of Chicago, summers 1935-37, 1941-

Experience Has taught Chemistry at Lincoln University (Missouri) since 1935, $2000. Now on leave with half salary.

McL - puts burden of proof on Johnson's rec.

Accomplishments

References

Dr. Sherman D. Scruggs, Lincoln University
Professor U. S. Maxwell, Lincoln University
Dr. Warren C. Johnson, University of Chicago
Dr. Herman I. Schlesinger, University of Chicago
Dr. Anton Burg, University of Southern California

*W.C. McLean
Assoc. Prof.*

Budget Summary

Total Amount Needed	$1,675
From Applicant	---
From Fund	$1,675

Sent to Committee

Se. 19 2/25

FISK
UNIVERSITY

AMOUNT GRANTED