Dear Mr. Embree:

Here is my first list of top possibilities. Some of them have a question mark behind them, and the list itself is fairly broad and generous. I have completed all but about thirty of the records.

You will note that I am indicating Junior fellowship possibilities as distinguished from the regular ones. This seems to me the only way of giving a very bright young prospect a chance against a more mature person with a better record, but not likely to go so far ultimately.

It occurred to me that there perhaps should be a special category of "hunches." We all probably have a comfortably hopeful feeling about a few of the persons who do not quite make an adequate case for themselves.

I am looking forward to the meeting on Saturday.

Sincerely yours,

Charles S. Johnson
