

BURTON HENRY

Graduate student, Southern California University
Burbank, California

Race Relations

A good man "magna cum laude" at Harvard

I doubt if U of So. Calif is the # place for him to study.

But he has a well worked out plan and an investment of $850 might be a bargain - to get another good man in Intercultural Education.

Name Burton Henry Field: Race Relations

Graduate student, University of Southern California 2533 North Lamer Street, Burbank, California

Plan of Work

To construct an information test regarding the subject-matter areas included in the field of intercultural education (e.g. anthropology, psychology, sociology), this test to be administered to student teachers in selected teacher-training institutions throughout the country. From the results implications will be drawn and recommendations made concerning the setting up of a course in intercultural education for student teachers. Attitude tests may also be administered and correlations made between factual knowledge and attitudes in the field of racial and ethnical relations.
