

Medical Bacteriology - Tuberculosis Therapy

This problem of the tubercle bacilli has no special reference to the South. It is being worked on by a group of bacteriologists of which Worley is simply one. Worley has excellent record - but in a sense he is still in his professional training as he will probably (and should) complete his medical course after his present research.

B