

Name Jesse Carl Clamp (Duke University) Field: Economics
5225 Duke Station
Durham, North Carolina SCHOLARSHIP AID

Plan of Work

To enter the Graduate School of Duke University for advanced work, entailing an economics major and an anthropology minor. Specific study will be the social and cultural implications of the industrialization of the South.

Seeks M. A. Degree. Tuition $200. Has been admitted. Has small income which will supplement grant.

Personal Data Born Helena, Arkansas, September, 1920 Age: 21

Undergraduate Work Duke University, 1939-42

Graduate Work

Experience Stock handling for Armour and Company, Helena, Arkansas, summer of 1941

Accomplishments

A-22
B-13
C-2

References

Dr. Herbert von Beckerath, Professor of Economics and Political Science

Dr. Alan K. Manchester, Assistant Professor of History and Dean of Freshmen

Dr. John P. Gillin, Associate Professor of Anthropology

Budget Summary

Total Amount Needed
From Applicant
From Fund

Sent to Committee

AMOUNT GRANTED

