MAC MEDICAL

MAC Medical, Inc. is an industry leader in manufacturing high-quality stainless steel and laminate healthcare equipment. Utilizing state-of-the-art equipment including a 3D CAD solid modeling system, fully automated fabrication line, and a team of highly skilled craftsmen and women, MAC Medical produces American made equipment that is built to last and unparalleled in the marketplace.

Our humble story began in 1998, when Dennis and Stacey Cooper decided to start building warming cabinets, one at a time, in their garage. Their vision and perseverance paved the way to success as demand steadily grew for the quality healthcare solutions they provided.

Today MAC Medical has over 140 full-time employees operating in a 122,500 square foot manufacturing plant in Millstadt, Illinois. In 2019, MAC Medical expanded its manufacturing plant and celebrated 20 years in business. In 2021, a new corporate office was established in Columbia, Illinois to house the growing engineering, customer service, accounting, sales, and marketing departments. With both facilities in Southern Illinois, MAC Medical is ideally located for centralized distribution to the entire United States. Not limited to the U.S.A., the company has product in over 20 countries worldwide.
