HOME SWEET HOME • Home of the Titans' men's and women's soccer teams, Titan Stadium was completed in 1992 and seats 10,000 fans.

As Cal State Fullerton establishes itself as one of the nation's elite programs, the cornerstone can be seen in the form of Titan Stadium.

Completed in 1992, the 10,000-seat facility has been called by many "one of the finest soccer facilities in the nation." With deference to the much larger but fan-unfriendly Rose Bowl, site of the 1994 World Cup and the 1999 Women's World Cup, Titan Stadium was the finest soccer facility in Southern California until the completion last summer of the Home Depot Center in Carson, the new home of the Los Angeles Galaxy of Major League Soccer.

The stadium features 2,000 chair-back seats and 2,500 bleachers with backrests in the western grandstand and about 5,000 seats on concrete steps along the eastern sideline. The pitch has an underground drainage system that allows it to be almost perfectly flat and is of maximum width and length (75 x 120 yards). The main press box seats more than 50 and there are 10 booths for broadcasting, hospitality, etc.

The stadium shell was completed on Jan. 15, 1992. The first event was commencement on May 30, 1992, and the first soccer activity was a scrimmage between Fullerton and Biola University on Aug. 22, 1992.

The first collegiate soccer game was Cal State Fullerton vs. UC Santa Barbara on Sept. 5, 1992, followed that evening by Fullerton vs. Cal State Northridge in football.

During the summer of 1998, the field level locker room was completed and concessions stands and restrooms were built on the eastern terrace.

During the month leading to the 1994 World Cup, Titan Stadium played host to several international exhibitions featuring the United States team. The Colombian team trained at Fullerton and several other nations used the facility after Columbia was eliminated.

In 1993 and 1994, Titan Stadium served as the home of the Los Angeles Salsa of the American Professional Soccer League. Los Angeles lost to Colorado, 2-1, in the 1993 APSL Championship held in Titan Stadium.

In 1993, the Titan women's team appeared on the scene and played Southern California rival USC to a 1-1 tie in the first-ever women's match at Titan Stadium.

In 1994, the Cal State Fullerton men's team hosted its first NCAA Tournament games ever when the Titans played host, and defeated, San Diego and San Francisco in the first two rounds of the tournament.

The stadium is only part of the Titan Sports Complex, which was financed by a unique arrangement with the city of Fullerton and an on-campus Marriott Hotel. A baseball stadium seating 3,500 fans, a two-diamond softball complex seating more than 1,000, an all-weather running track, renovated tennis courts, and an auxiliary soccer field all were part of the original $10 million project that has seen more than $4 million in improvements.

With its proximity to Hollywood, Titan Stadium has become a favorite film location for movies, commercials, and video games. Numerous professional stars from many sports including soccer's Mia Hamm have been featured. The latest movie production to utilize Titan Stadium was "Rocky and Bullwinkle."

AIMING FOR THE TOP

An aberration. An anomaly. An abnormality.

There are many words to describe the 2003 Cal State Fullerton women's soccer season (and probably more that start with letters other than "a"). After a successful run through his first two seasons in which he led the Titans to back-to-back 10-win seasons for the first time in six years, fourth-year Head Coach Ali Khosroshahin had to suffer through a subpar 9-8-2 season against one of the most difficult schedules in school history.

This year, however, Khosroshahin is armed with a recruiting class he dubs "the most talented group of players we have ever brought to Cal State Fullerton" and a corps of 13 returners that again has the Titans aiming for the top of the Big West Conference and a return to the NCAA Tournament.

"The 2004 Titans should be a new and improved squad over last year's, just with the return of our injured players," Khosroshahin said. "We have increased the roster size to combat the problems that we faced last year with injuries and not having enough depth.

"Our incoming players will make it very difficult for our returners to retain their starting positions, which is exactly what you want as a coach: stiff competition for every position. We are young again, but we do have a lot of returners. This is the first time during my tenure that everyone associated with this program has come here while I have been the coach."

There were some bright spots: an upset of nationally-ranked Clemson and ties against top 25 foes Santa Clara and Cal Poly, now-departed goalkeeper Laura Janke's record-setting feats that put her atop three school career lists, and the solidification of forward Kandace Wilson as one of the top scoring threats in the Big West Conference.

However, anything that could have gone bad for the Titans did last season. Season-ending injuries were the main culprit, knocking out key players in the Fullerton lineup before the season was able to pick up steam (see Kellie Cox's lacerated and contused liver in game one, Karen Bardsley's broken leg in her first match back from England, Allyson Lem's preseason torn ACL, and a host of minor injuries).

But Khosroshahin and his team are above making excuses.

All we can do is concentrate on our development. You really can't worry about last year and, quite honestly, I have tried everything in the off season to cleanse my memory of the things that happened to us last year," Khosroshahin said. "The thing that I am really looking forward to this season is knowing that we have returners that understand our philosophies and can help pass them onto the younger players."

Last season in net, it was Laura Janke or bust. This season, it's anyone's guess. With Karen Bardsley on the mend after missing the first three matches of the season with the English U-19's and missing the rest of the year with a broken leg, the Titans do not have an established returning goalkeeper for the 2004 season.

Bardsley is expected to be the starter in net when the season opener rolls around, but will be backed up by senior walk-on Nicole Williams and freshmen twins Jenna and Shayla Sabin in case she is not ready to go.

Williams appeared in two matches last year, playing in just over six minutes off the bench. Shayla Sabin is an All-CIF performer out of San Clemente HS and is joined on the squad by twin sister, Jenna, who will give the Titans unprecedented depth in net.

The situation could actually turn out to be a boon for the Titans as the last time Khosroshahin started a freshman in net, Bardsley earned Big West Freshman of the Year and Soccer Buzz Freshman All-America honors in 2002 en route to a 12-3-1 record.

"Karen is still recovering from her injury, but I expect she will be back in form this season," Khosroshahin said. "Nicole brings a great deal of maturity and experience to our young goalkeepers and she will have the opportunity to start some matches.

"Shayla is a very talented goalkeeper and has an opportunity to jump in and start as a freshman while Jenna had surgery on her jaw at the beginning of the season and we are hopeful she will be ready by league play."

The Titans' defense could turn out to be one of the strongest aspects of the 2004 squad, anchored by three-year starter Vanessa Valentine and junior Marlene Sandoval, a 2004 Olympian for Mexico in this year's Summer Games in Athens, Greece.

With Valentine on the back line, the Titans have set the school record for fewest goals allowed (21 in 2002) and have set three of the top five marks for fewest goals allowed in school history.

"Vanessa is a consistent, hard-nosed player who is very serious about soccer," Khosroshahin said. "She has developed into a very good leader on the field for us."

Sandoval missed time last season training and playing with the Mexican U-19's, but came back to start 15 of the remaining 16 matches for the Titans. One of Fullerton's best defensive stoppers, she got into the offensive swing of things last season, scoring two goals and assisting on three others to rank fourth on the team in scoring.

Juniors Erin Shelton, one of the Titans' quickest players and the team's co-leader in assists last season, and Emmy Dokulil should also see plenty of time in the starting lineup in 2004, while junior Marie Pedersen and sophomore Erica Janke will battle for starting time.

"Erin could play a lot of different positions this year," Khosroshahin said. "I am expecting very good things from her in 2004."

Redshirt freshman Allyson Lem, who sat out all of last season after having preseason surgery to repair a torn ACL, will also see time if cleared to play.

Fullerton returns its entire starting midfield contingent including two of its top three scorers from last season.

Junior Erica Pryor, who had just one goal on 19 shots as a rookie, bunked the myth of the "sophomore slump" by scoring four goals and assisting on two more to rank second on the team in scoring.

"Erica is one of the most skillful, intelligent, and hard-working soccer players that we have," Khosroshahin said.

Sophomore Lauryn Welch also had a stellar freshman debut, ranking third on the team in scoring with a pair of goals and four assists (co-leader on the team with Shelton and among the top 10 in the Big West Conference). She had two goals and an assist in the final weekend of the year against Long Beach State and UC Irvine.

Junior Ashley O'Brien also returns after appearing in all 19 matches last season as does junior Desiree Flint and sophomore Kate Brunet, who each saw action in 17 matches off the bench.

That blur you saw sprinting through the offensive third last season wasn't some U.F.O... unless the acronym stands for "Ultimate Football Offense." Junior Kandace Wilson continued to establish herself as one of the most dangerous scorers in the Big West and in Cal State Fullerton history after leading the team in scoring for the second consecutive season with 10 goals and three assists.

Wilson's 23 points ranked tied for eighth in a single season and her 40 career points places her in sixth all time. Only three other players in school history have scored more goals in a career than Wilson – and Kandace has two seasons left.

Just how "offensive" was Wilson (and we mean that in the nicest way)? The Titans were 7-0-1 when she found the back of the net in 2003, and are 13-1-1 overall in her two seasons.

"Kandace is getting very serious about school and soccer," Khosroshahin said. "She is becoming an excellent finisher."

Fullerton will also return junior Kellie Cox to the lineup after she suffered a season-ending laceration and contusion of the liver during the season-opener. Cox collided with the Fairleigh Dickinson goalkeeper in the second half, taking a knee to the midsection and sidelining her for the entire year.

Cox, like Wilson, is also on track to become one of the most prolific scorers in school history. Her 23 points in her freshman year rank tied for eighth, and her 34 career points stand in eighth place all-time.

"It's great to have Kellie back at full-strength," Khosroshahin said. "She is one of the best athletes and leaders to ever wear the Titan uniform."

Junior Sereena Warino, who appeared in just eight matches last season in her first campaign with the Titans, will add depth to the position.

At one point in the 2003 season, the injury situation got so bad that players who were sidelined actually dressed out to make the bench not seem so thin. Depth shouldn't be a problem for the Titans this season as Khosroshahin has signed a class of 13 newcomers, including a trio of transfers.

"I think the newcomers will all have an opportunity to make a contribution this season," Khosroshahin said. "We will have options if people go down with injuries. With a small roster last year when we lost three players before the third weekend, that really left us with no one to push the remainder of the players. This is my fourth year and this is the largest squad we have had."

Juniors Patrick and Lisa Kosena should be immediate contributors for the Titans in 2004 after successful seasons at Lassen Community College and the University of Arizona, respectively.

Kosena will add much-needed toughness to the midfield and will also add some scoring punch to the offense. She scored five career goals for the Wildcats and ranks tied for seventh on Arizona's career assist list with six after only two seasons.

California state JC scoring champion Patrick will take some pressure off leading-goal scorer Kandace Wilson, but add to the pressure on opposing defenses. She tallied 33 goals and 17 assists (83 points) for state championship runner-up Lassen CC and brings post-season experience to the Titans after spending her freshman year as a significant contributor off the bench with the 2002 NCAA National Champion Portland Pilots.

"Lisa is a very intelligent and skillful player with the hardest shot on the team," Khosroshahin said. "Rebekah is a true target player and finisher who will have a huge impact on our offense this season."

The newcomers are flush with talent, both domestic and international. Freshmen Emma Humphries (New Zealand) and Leslie Munoz (Mexico) are members of their respective countries' U-19 National Teams. Four All-CIF selections, numerous all-league accolades, and the first twin-sister tandem (Jenna and Shayla Sabin) ever to play on the pitch at Cal State Fullerton highlight the new faces on campus.

"Leslie is a solid tackler and a very consistent player," Khosroshahin said. "When she adjusts to the U.S. game, Emma will also be an excellent player for us in the future."

The 2004 schedule won't be very forgiving either. The road to the NCAA Tournament will be filled with nationally-ranked programs such as Pepperdine, San Diego, Stanford, Santa Clara, and Cal Poly – three of which will visit Cal State Fullerton's Titan Stadium in 2004, a venue where the Titans posted an almost unbeatable 7-1-1 mark a season ago, and four of those matches coming in the season's first four weeks.

"We have been building our schedule as our team becomes more experienced to face tougher opponents," Khosroshahin said. "If you want to be the best you must play the best to know how you stack up against the competition."

Junior forward Kandace Wilson leads the offense into the 2004 season after scoring 10 goals and three assists as a sophomore last year.

17-9-1 Big West

Cal State Fullerton head coach Ali Khosroshahin enters his fourth season in charge of the Titans' women's soccer program, turning around a fledgling program and establishing Cal State Fullerton as an up-and-coming competitor in the national spotlight.

After spending four years as an assistant under Al Mistri, Khosroshahin has guided Cal State Fullerton to heights never before seen on the Orange County campus. Appointed as the interim head coach in March of 2001 after Mistri stepped aside to concentrate on coaching the Titan men's squad, Khosroshahin was named the permanent head coach immediately following a national search at the conclusion of the season in November of 2001.

He immediately led the Titans into the national spotlight, guiding Cal State Fullerton to the school's second-ever Big West Conference regular season championship in 2001 and a berth in the NCAA Tournament in his first full season. For his efforts, Khosroshahin was named the Big West Coach of the Year and finished second in the voting for West Region Coach of the Year behind then-Saint Mary's coach Paul Ratcliffe as selected by Soccer Buzz.

Khosroshahin's second season saw a dramatic upgrade in strength of schedule, facing three top-20 squads during the year, and resulted in another 10-win season, posting a 12-5-1 record and a third place finish in a Big West Conference race which came down to the final weekend.

The 2003 season may have looked below average on paper, but Khosroshahin's aggressive scheduling (featuring six matches against Top 25 opponents) established the Titans as an up-and-comer on the national scene, finishing with a 9-8-2 record, a win over No. 13 Clemson and a pair of ties against No. 13 Santa Clara and No. 19 Cal Poly.

Khosroshahin is also an accomplished recruiter, bringing in two recruiting classes ranked in the top 50 nationally and in the top 10 in the West Region according to Soccer Buzz. All three of his recruiting classes have been ranked the best among Big West Conference schools.

No stranger to the coaching ranks, Khosroshahin has a wide range of experience from club to international matches in his young career.

He began in 1992 as the head coach of the boys varsity team at Canyon High School in Anaheim Hills, where he earned Century League Coach of the Year honors in 1993. He moved on to San Marino High School in 1994, spending two seasons as the girls varsity head coach until 1995.

Khosroshahin broke into the collegiate coaching ranks in 1994, serving as a graduate assistant for the men's soccer team at his alma mater, Cal State Los Angeles. That season, Khosroshahin helped lead the Golden Eagles to the NCAA Division II men's soccer playoffs and, in 1995, was hired as a permanent assistant coach, a position he held until 1997.

He returned to the Titan soccer program in 1997 and helped lead the Cal State Fullerton men's team to the 1998 and the 2000 NCAA Division I men's soccer playoffs.

Internationally, Khosroshahin has been active, serving as an assistant coach for the Mexican women's national team during the 1999 Women's World Cup and as a head coach and scout for the U.S. Olympic Development Program.

Most recently, Khosroshahin was named to the coaching staff of the Mexican Women's National Program in the summer of 2004, helping prepare the U-19 squad for the qualifying rounds of the 2004 Youth World Cup to be held in November in Thailand. He also assisted Head Coach Leonardo Cuellar with the Mexican National Team and its preparations for the 2004 Summer Olympics in Athens, Greece.

In 1999, Khosroshahin had the opportunity to assist Cuellar with the U.S. women's national team during the U.S. Women's Indoor Soccer Victory Tour following their 1999 Women's World Cup title. Khosroshahin also had the opportunity to coach the U.S. National Team during a match in Tacoma, Wash.

Khosroshahin has coached numerous club teams at various age levels while also participating in numerous soccer camps. One of his club teams, the Upland Celtics (girls U-13), won the Far West Regional title in the summer of 1998.

Khosroshahin, was a two-year letterwinner under Mistri from 1989-91 for the Cal State Fullerton men's team before transferring to Cal State Los Angeles to finish the final two years of his collegiate career. Aside from his college playing experience, Khosroshahin spent two years (1994-96) with the semi-pro Standard Falcons in the USISL and played for the Valley Eagles in 1997.

He earned his "C" coaching license from the US Soccer Federation in 1998 and received his "B" coaching license in 2001. During the summer of 2002, Khosroshahin earned his "A" coaching license from the US Soccer Federation.

In the summer of 2003, he was a guest lecturer at the Pan American Organization's Continental Course in Women's Soccer hosted by the Honduran Olympic Committee in Tegucigalpa, Honduras.

Khosroshahin graduated from Cal State Los Angeles in 1994 with a bachelor's degree in business administration with an emphasis in marketing management. He is currently pursuing his master's degree in sports psychology at Cal State Fullerton. Fluent in Farsi, Khosroshahin currently resides in Diamond Bar, Calif.

Cal State Fullerton '97

The newest addition to the Cal State Fullerton bench, former Titan men's standout Demian Brown returns to his alma mater for his first season on the sidelines as an assistant coach for the women's squad in 2004.

"I am very excited to be bringing back one of the best defenders in Titan history to work with us," Khosroshahin said. "We have not been as solid defensively as I would like and I believe Demian brings a great deal of experience as a player and as a coach that can benefit our team defensively.

"He has also been extremely active in all levels of soccer in Southern California and he has been a teacher for the past five years. He is a great addition to our program as well as our university."

Brown comes to Fullerton after serving the past five seasons as an assistant coach for the men's squad at cross-county rival UC Irvine, helping lead the Anteaters to the Mountain Pacific Sports Federation Tournament in 2000, and coaching the 2001 Big West Co-Defensive Player of the Year (Saul Wolf).

UCI finished with 12 wins and a second-place finish in the MPSF Pacific Division standings in 2000 and finished with 10 wins and a runner-up finish in the Big West in 2001.

His coaching experience also includes working with one of the top girls club programs in the nation, the Slammers FC out of Newport Beach, serving as a head coach in the club since 1999. Brown was also the boys head coach at Canyon High School in Anaheim Hills, Calif., leading that school into the CIF quarterfinals in 2000.

A 1997 graduate of Cal State Fullerton with a degree in communications, Brown was a four-year letterwinner for Head Coach Al Mistri at defender for the Titans (1992-94, 1996), helping lead the Titans to the 1993 College Cup Final Four. He was selected to the 1993 NCAA All-Tournament Team and was a two-time All-MPSF selection, finishing his career with four goals and three assists. He also participated in the 1994 U.S. Olympic Festival in St. Louis.

Brown currently resides in Huntington Beach with his wife, Gina.

A LITTLE HOME COOKIN' NEVER HURT

Cal State Fullerton was an almost perfect 7-1-1 at Titan Stadium in 2003, marking the best home record for the program (percentage-wise) in its 11-year history. The Titans beat out the 8-2 home mark in the NCAA Tournament season of 2001.

Cal State Fullerton outscored the opposition 20-7 in its nine matches in front of the hometown faithful with the only blemish a one-goal loss to rival Long Beach State.

THANK GOODNESS THAT'S OVER

The Cal State Fullerton women's soccer team must be counting its lucky stars that they will not have to see the inside of an airplane or bus – at least until 2004.

The Titans ended their season 0-6-1 in true road contests in 2003 (2-1 in neutral site matches), finishing winless away from home for only the second time in the 11-year history of women's soccer at the university. The 1993 squad went an identical 0-6-1 on the road in the program's first season.

A big part of the Titans' struggles on the road came from their inability to score. Cal State Fullerton scored just one goal on the road all year (at Cal Poly), outscored by the opposition 13-1 in seven road matches.

SIX TITANS NAMED ALL-CONFERENCE

Cal State Fullerton's Kandace Wilson was named to the first team and Marlene Sandoval earned second-team accolades to headline a group of six Titans to be named All-Big West Conference for the 2003 season.

It was Wilson's first-ever all-conference honor as she was one of three underclassmen to be named to the first team. Sandoval earned her first second-team honor after freshman year honorable mention laurels.

Four Titans were named to the honorable mention team as Erica Pryor, Laurn Welch, Vanessa Valentine, and Laura Janke were honored. It was Valentine's third career all-conference honor, after earning second-team and honorable mention honors in her freshman and sophomore seasons, respectively.

GET HER THE BALL

Memo to the opposition: If Kandace Wilson scores, winning is going to be tough. Last season, Cal State Fullerton was an almost perfect 7-0-1 when Wilson found the back of the net and the Titans are a combined 13-1-1 when she scores in her two seasons in a Titan uniform.

Wilson has scored a goal once in every 2.5 shots she has put on goal and once in every 4.7 shots overall.

IMMEDIATE IMPACT

Of the 13 players who scored a point in 2003, all but two are underclassmen and four of those 13 players were newcomers to the team.

"0" WOE IS ME

All of Cal State Fullerton's losses in 2003 came via the shutout, with the opposition outscoring the Titans 13-0 in those matches. It is the most shutout losses by a Titan team in the history of the program, breaking the previous mark of six set by the 1993 and 1997 teams.

LAURA JANKE: RECORD SETTER

Departed Cal State Fullerton keeper Laura Janke left the school as one of the best goalkeepers in school history, breaking four school records in the course of her final campaign and moving into the top 10 on a pair of Big West Conference lists.

With shutouts over Cal State Northridge and Pacific, Janke set the school's single-season record in the category with six, breaking her own previous record of five which she shared with Suzy Strazzulla (1996).

Janke also holds school career records for minutes (4,513), shutouts (13) and saves (234) – the only Titan keeper to top 200 saves in her career – and ranks third in career goals against average (1.50).

On the single season charts, Janke's 1.21 GAA in 2003 ranks second only to Karen Bardsley's 0.96 (2002), and Janke also ranks fourth on the list with her 1.41 GAA in 2001. She holds three spots on the single-season save charts and her 1,716 minutes played in 2003 rank second all-time.

Janke became only the ninth goalkeeper in the history of the Big West Conference to record over 200 saves in her career, ranking in sixth place all-time in Big West history. She also ranks tied for fifth in conference history with 13 shutouts.

WILSON JUMPS UP CAREER, SEASON CHARTS

Cal State Fullerton's Kandace Wilson capped off her stellar sophomore season with a career-best 23 points (10 goals-3 assists), ranking tied for eighth on the school's single-season scoring list.

That total gives her 40 points for her career, which puts her sixth on the all-time list, while her 17 career goals have her in a tie for fourth in that category.

Her 10 goals in 2003 rank in a tie for sixth on that single-season list.

Wilson's six game-winning goals also have her tied with Kelly Bogan for second place all-time, standing seven game-winners behind Dolores Browning for first place, and her four game-winners in 2003 are tied for second with Browning and Michele Bannister.

CALL THE RED CROSS... IT'S A DISASTER

The Titans almost had as many players on the disabled list last season as healthy players on the field.

Sophomore Allison Bowman dislocated her thumb in Fullerton's 2-2 tie with Santa Clara. Sophomore Vanessa Valentine missed the entire second half and both overtime periods against Cal Poly, and contests against Utah State and Idaho, with a mild concussion. Freshman Erica Janke broke her nose in the Titans' match with the Mustangs.

In other news, Nadia Hernandez, who had not played in the previous four matches for the Titans, returned on Sunday against Cal State Northridge after brusing her patella against Pepperdine on Oct. 3. Sophomore Marie Pedersen missed the last seven matches of the year with a knee injury.

Other Titans who have missed time: Karen Bardsley (broken tibia - out for the year), Kellie Cox (liver - out for the year), Allyson Lem (ACL surgery prior to the season - out for the year), Marlene Sandoval (concussion - missed second half of the match vs. Fairleigh Dickinson).

HISTORY OF THE BIG WEST...

Cal State Fullerton is one of 10 current members of the Big West Conference, which will field a full complement of women's soccer teams in 2004.

The Big West is in its 17th year of existence since changing its name from the Pacific Coast Athletic Association prior to the 1988 football season. The name is seen as a simpler, more accurate description of the league's member institutions: Cal Poly (San Luis Obispo), Cal State Fullerton, Idaho, Long Beach State, UC Irvine, UC Santa Barbara, Pacific, UC Riverside, Cal State Northridge, and Utah State.

Nevada, New Mexico State and North Texas left the conference in the summer of 2000 and Boise State departed in the summer of 2001. Two years ago, the conference welcomed UC Riverside and Cal State Northridge to the ranks.

This will be only the ninth year that women's soccer has been recognized as a Big West Conference sport and the fourth season that men's soccer will be recognized.

In 1996, Cal State Fullerton went undefeated in the regular season but Cal Poly won the postseason tournament at Fullerton and captured the official league championship.

In 1997, Cal Poly finished atop the regular season standings but host UC Irvine beat the Mustangs, 3-2, in double overtime to capture the tournament and league championship and avenge a loss in the 1996 title match.

The tournament format was discontinued for 1998 and Pacific captured the regular season title. The Tigers defeated Cal in the first round of the NCAA playoffs before losing to national power Santa Clara.

In 1999 Cal Poly won the conference and went two rounds into NCAA play and took back-to-back league titles in 2000 with a 6-2 record while advancing to its second consecutive tournament, falling to Santa Clara, 3-1, in the first round.

In 2001, Cal State Fullerton clinched its first-ever conference title, posting an 8-1 record and clinching the league's automatic NCAA berth. The Titans fell to UCLA, 3-0, in their first-ever NCAA appearance.

In 2002, Cal Poly and UC Santa Barbara battled it out until the final conference match of the season (coincidentally against one another) when the Mustangs triumphed, 2-0, over the Gauchos to earn the conference's automatic bid. Cal Poly then fell to top-seeded Stanford, 4-0 in the NCAA Tournament's first round.

The 2003 season saw the return of the Big West Conference Tournament as Cal Poly and UC Santa Barbara battled it out for the league's automatic berth. The Mustangs, who finished the league season undefeated, came away with their second Big West Tournament Championship with a 2-0 victory over the Gauchos.

Cal Poly's run into the NCAA's however was cut short as it fell to Arizona State in the first round by a 3-1 tally.

Big West Conference members are nationally competitive and have won 14 NCAA Division I men's championships and 12 NCAA Division I women's championships.

Women's volleyball is one of the strongest sports for the Big West Conference as Long Beach State, Pacific and Hawaii (former member) have all won national titles in the past 14 years. Baseball is nearly as strong as Cal State Fullerton brought home its fourth national championship by winning the 2004 College World Series.
