BOB BURTON

Fresno St., 1968

6th year at CSF
92 - 60, .605

With a five-year contract extension through 2012-13 in his pocket, Bob Burton is on track to complete a decade as the Cal State Fullerton men's basketball coach. Matching the accomplishments of his first five seasons will be a challenge.

At 92-60, Burton has the best winning percentage of any Titan coach at .605. Last year he won a share of the program's first regular-season conference championship since 1976 and led the Titans to victory in the Big West Conference post-season tournament, earning CSF its first NCAA Tournament berth since 1978. The 24-9 record was the best Div. I mark in school history and earned him NABC District 15 Coach of the Year honors.

The foundation was laid in 2004-05 when the Titans won two games in the post-season NIT at Oregon State and USF to highlight the program's first 20-win season (21-11) in 27 years. That plateau has now been reached in three of the past four seasons and not since 1981-82 thru 1984-85 had the Titans strung together four winning seasons. In fact, they had not posted a single winning season since 1992-93.

Topping those on-the-floor accomplishments was the performance of last year's team in the classroom. All seven departing players are graduating in 2008.

The newfound winning formula begins with an up-tempo offense set up by aggressive defense while utilizing mature transfer student-athletes from both 4-year and 2-year institutions. The 3-point field goal is a standard weapon. And success away from Titan Gym has been remarkable. Burton's teams are 46-42 on the road including 37-35 on hostile courts.

Burton set the bar high in his second season at Fullerton. A 3-game run in the 2005 post-season NIT capped a 13-4 finish to a 21-11 campaign that arguably was the second best to date in Titan basketball, trailing only the 1977-78 NCAA Regional finalists. The Titans have only six 20-win seasons in 48 years -- 24-7 in 1961-62 by Coach Alex Omalev at the NAIA level, one by Bobby Dye (23-9 in 1977-78), one by George McQuarn (21-8 in 1982-83) and now half of them by Burton in only four years -- 21-11 in 2004-05, 20-10 in 2006-07 and 24-9 last year.

Mark down Jan. 27, 2005, as the turning point in Burton's Cal State Fullerton coaching career. That's when the direction of a seemingly hexed program was altered 180 degrees. Beginning that day, his teams have won more than two of every three games (73-36, .670) after a 19-24 (.442) start.

Until that date, the basketball gods were treating Burton as harshly as they had tortured several predecessors. During an inaugural year (2003-04) littered with misfortune, eight players were lost to a variety of calamities and the count was climbing higher in his second campaign. Projected starting center Lloyd Walls had been ruled out for the year in pre-season drills due to multiple concussions. Inspirational reserve guard Drew Awad had suffered a recurrence of cancer which proved fatal. And senior forward Hardy Asprilla had gone down with a season-ending knee injury to mar a lopsided win over Long Beach State that had given the Titans a surprising 8-4 record.

Three consecutive defeats followed and more seemed inevitable as an already short roster tried to cope. Doubters wondered if the Titans would win another game.

Miraculously, the sea of adversity parted and winning became a habit.

On Jan. 27, a Cal Poly team suffering through an 8-game losing streak visited Titan Gym. With Yaphett King joining Ralph Holmes as a pair of 6-foot-3 starting forwards to go with undersized center Jamaal Brown (6-foot-7), the Titans suddenly clicked. An eased up 92-69 victory over the Mustangs triggered a 5-game winning streak and the surprising NIT run. Burton was rewarded with an extended and improved contract through 2009-10.

Changes? An entire generation had been conceived since the Titans' last upbeat post-season banquet. Expectations were elevated dramatically. Scheduling suddenly became tougher as potential opponents held the Titans in higher regard. Four-year transfers continued to come home by embracing Titan Gym.

Burton would have been excused for running back to the comfort of West Valley College soon after June 6, 2003, when he achieved his long-sought goal of being a Div. I head men's basketball coach. The veteran roster he thought he was inheriting at Cal State Fullerton began to disintegrate as soon as he signed a four-year contract. A combination of academic problems, discipline, knee surgery, a broken window and a resignation eliminated five potential starters before the season began. And during the course of the campaign, the death of a player's relative, more academic problems and a mental meltdown took away three more regulars.

Through it all, Burton and his young staff remained upbeat and the result was modest improvement -- one more victory (11-17) and one higher rung (tied for fifth place) in the Big West Conference standings compared to the 2002-03 squad. With a little luck, it could have been major improvement. The Titans lost 13 games by 10 points or less and of those 13, they held second-half leads in 8 of them. They went 0-4 in overtime contests.

The 2004-05 season was a different story. The Titans were 3-0 in overtime and 6-0 in games decided by one or two points. They started finding ways to win instead of pondering how they were going to lose.

Burton has counted on the support he received from the community college coaches during his hiring process to carry over to the recruiting process.

"If you guys want to see me succeed," he told the audience when he was inducted into the California Community College Men's Basketball Coaches Association Hall of Fame in March, 2004, "then you better send me some players and fast."

Actually, it has been transfers from four-year schools who have fueled the turnaround. Aided and abetted by 4-year point guard Bobby Brown's magnetism for well-traveled Los Angeles area players, the Titans have gotten great mileage out of Frank Robinson (East Carolina), Scott Cutley and Marcus Crenshaw (Kent State), Jermaine Harper (Virginia), Jamaal Brown (Western Kentucky), Ray Reed (Georgetown) and Andrew Green (Boise State via College of Sequoias).

Burton came to Fullerton after one year as an assistant coach at Fresno State. He also was an assistant to Lynn Archibald for one season (1986-87) at Utah. But where he made his many basketball connections was at West Valley Community College in Saratoga in Northern California, where he compiled a 488-158 record in 21 seasons, three times reaching the state championship game. He sent more than 80 players to Div. I programs and more than 100 to other four-year colleges.

"I can't tell you how thrilled I am to receive this opportunity," said Burton upon his hiring. "I've never been one of those guys who's moved around a lot. I've always been happy wherever I've been."

Burton won eight conference championships at West Valley and was selected conference coach of the year nine times. He was selected California Community College Coach of the Year four times.

Burton left West Valley to help former Coach Ray Lopes clean up the Fresno State program. Lopes had played for Burton and had been his assistant coach at West Valley. The 2002-03 Bulldogs went a surprising 20-8, won the Western Athletic Conference championship and saw their team grade-point average improve from 2.31 to 2.68.

In Burton's one season at Utah, the Utes went 19-10 to earn an NIT berth.

Burton graduated from Fresno State in 1968 with a degree in social sciences. He earned a masters degree a year later at Cal Poly SLO, where he began his coaching career as an assistant in 1968-69. He became a head coach in 1972 at Willow Glen High School in San Jose and compiled a 143-52 record.

Burton's wife, Toni, is a special education teacher at Brea-Olinda High School. They live in Fullerton.

Assoc. Head Coach Andy Newman

6th year,
Azusa Pacific, 1998

Andy Newman has advanced rapidly through the collegiate coaching ranks and begins his sixth season as a full-time assistant to Head Coach Bob Burton at Cal State Fullerton and his second with the added responsibilities of associate head coach.

Newman and Burton both worked under Coach Ray Lopes at Fresno State during the 2002-03 season, Burton as an assistant coach and Newman as basketball operations manager.

Newman handles individual skill development, on-the-floor coaching and offensive play calling, recruiting, game strategy and opponent preparation.

At Fresno State, Newman was involved in game management, film breakdown, housing coordination, fundraising, travel, financial aid, summer camps and was the team's academic advisor. He also organized team scheduling, assisted in recruiting and even taught a 3-unit theory class for the kinesiology department.

Newman previously assisted Burton for two years at West Valley College in Saratoga. There he was the recruiting coordinator, offensive coach and was in charge of perimeter skill development. He also worked one year at Vanguard University in Costa Mesa where he performed similar duties.

Newman graduated from Azusa Pacific in 1998 with a degree in business administration after playing one very successful season for the Cougars, who went 34-5 and advanced to the NAIA Final Four. Newman played previously at Southern Utah and West Valley.

At Southern Utah he led the team in minutes played at 36.1 per game. At West Valley his teams went 65-6 with a pair of conference championships and state championship game appearances. He was selected to the all-tournament team at the 1996 state championships.

Assistant Coach Julius Hicks

1st year,
Oregon, 2001

Julius Hicks, who starred at West Valley College and later returned as an assistant coach, has been reunited with Coach Bob Burton as he joins the basketball staff at Cal State Fullerton.

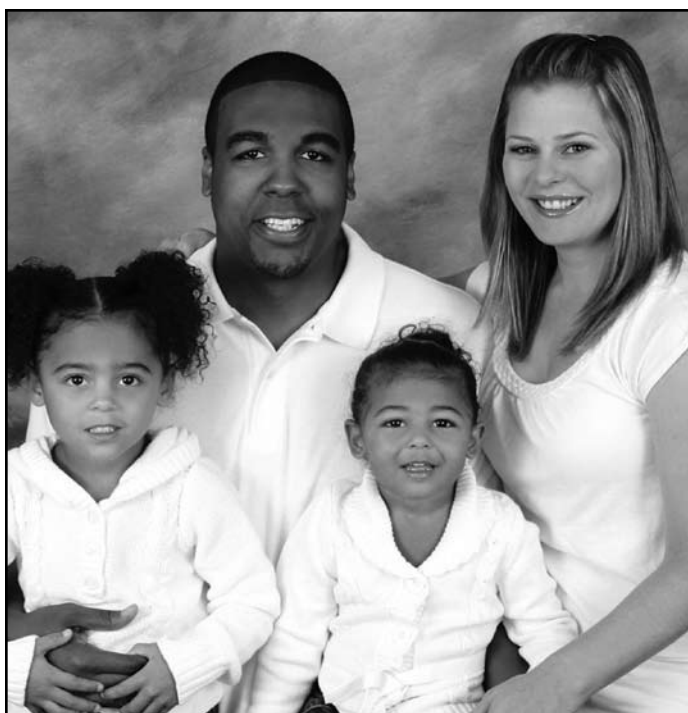

Working with the interior players and recruiting will be the main areas of responsibility for Hicks, an imposing figure at a solid 6-foot-8.

Hicks was an assistant last season at Pepperdine, where Vance Walberg resigned midway through the season. Hicks previously was director of basketball operations under Coach Trent Johnson at Stanford (2006-07) after two California JC Final Eight seasons (2004-05 and 2005-06) at West Valley under Coach Danny Yoshikawa.

Hicks replaced Jason Levy, who resigned after eight seasons to join Bill Bayno's new staff at Loyola Marymount.

Hicks played for Coach Burton at West Valley in the 1997-98 and 1998-99 seasons. He earned all-state and All-American honors as West Valley went 54-12 in his two seasons and he averaged 14 points and 7 rebounds. He went on to play at Oregon for two-plagued seasons (1999-2000 and 2000-01), serving as team captain as a senior. He played two seasons professionally in Switzerland (2001-02) and South Korea and Austria (2002-03).

Hicks is a graduate of St. Ignatius High School in San Francisco. He received his bachelors degree in sociology from Oregon in 2001. He and his wife, Katherine, have two children -- Jamie and Corri -- and they reside in Anaheim.

Assistant Coach Scott Waterman

1st year,
Occidental College, 2002

Scott Waterman returns to the men's basketball coaching ranks this season as an assistant to Bob Burton at Cal State Fullerton.

Waterman served as the Titans' director of basketball operations for the 2007-08 season. He assumed his new duties on July 1.

"I'm excited about the opportunity to get back into a coaching role and help keep Cal State Fullerton at the top of the Big West Conference," said Waterman. He replaced Marlon Morton, who resigned at the end of the season.

Waterman came to Cal State Fullerton in 2007-08 after a five-year tenure at Long Beach State capped by a Big West Tournament title and NCAA berth. He was a full-time assistant for the 49ers in 2006-07 after serving three years as the administrative assistant and one as strength and conditioning coach.

A 2002 graduate of Occidental College, Waterman was a summer league coach for six summers at El Toro High School and he has worked at several high-profile collegiate summer basketball camps.

Waterman played three seasons at Occidental and was team captain for two years. In his senior season the Tigers went 18-7 and placed third in the SCIAC. The product of El Toro High School earned his masters degree in kinesiology at Long Beach State in 2004.

1 Josh Akognon (ah-KOY-uhn) G

5-11 185 Sr. 1V Petaluma, CA Washington State

Josh Akognon is poised to become one of the most outstanding players in Cal State Fullerton basketball history... consensus pre-season first-team All-Big West Conference selection and tabbed player of the year by some... phenomenal outside shooter with NBA range who should be only minimally affected by the outward movement of the 3-point line... made himself available for the 2008 professional draft but opted out after not employing an agent... will see time at point guard this season and is a nominee for the Bob Cousy Award presented by The Hartford to the nation's top collegiate point guard... worked extremely hard in the off-season on strength and conditioning... could be one of the leading scorers in the nation given his ability and the inexperienced lineup around him... transferred away from a deliberate Washington State offensive scheme to join the up-tempo Titans... WSU averaged 58 points in an 11-17 2005-06 season while the Titans averaged 79.0, 82.1 and 81.8 points the past three seasons while going 60-32... on the Titans' Labor Day Weekend tour to British Columbia he averaged 26 points.

CAL STATE FULLERTON: Selected the Outstanding Player of the Big West Conference Tournament in 2008 after leading the champion Titans in scoring in all three games with totals of 20, 24 and 23 points... followed that up with a 31-point effort in the NCAA Tournament vs. defensive-minded

Wisconsin... part of his motivation was receiving only second-team All-Big West recognition despite being picked to the second team of NABC District 15 with UCSB's Alex Harris, Arizona's Chase Budinger, New Mexico State's Justin Hawkins and UNLV's Wink Adams (the first team was Kevin Love and Darren Collison of UCLA, O. J. Mayo of USC, Jerryd Bayless of Arizona and James Harden of Arizona State)... shared team MVP Award with Scott Cutley and Frank Robinson... Akognon's second 3-pointer of the Feb. 27 CSUN game was No. 90 of the season to break Cal State Fullerton's single-season record of 89 by Don Leary in 1992-93 and he finished with 116, fourth most in Big West history... in that same Feb. 27 game he made two first-half free throws to run his streak to 37 consecutive makes to tie Kevin Henderson's CSF record set in 1985-86... but he missed his only try of the second half to avoid setting a new standard... at .899 (fourth-best in Big West history) he broke Joe Small's CSF free-throw percentage record of .876 in 1991-92 and finished seventh in the nation... Akognon made four or more treys in a game 18 times with a best of seven on three occasions... he was the Big West leader in 3-point baskets (3.63 per game) as well as free-throw percentage and he was the No. 3 scorer at 20.2 ppg... he scored 30 or more points five times and only Davidson's Stephen Curry (33) scored more points against Wisconsin last season... missed the UC Riverside game on Jan. 23 due to a finger injury.

WASHINGTON STATE: Shooting guard who averaged 10.3 points to lead the Cougars in scoring in 2005-06, playing in all 28 games and starting 13 times... shot 37 percent (55 of 148) from the 3-point line and 80 percent (35 of 44) from the free-throw line... ranked eighth in the Pac-10 in 3-point field goals made (55 in 28 games, 1.96 per game)... he scored 27 points including a 3-pointer with 16 seconds to play to beat No. 10-ranked Washington on Jan. 7 and had 25 points – all in the second half – in a 63-61 loss to No. 11-ranked UCLA on Jan. 12... scored 16 points in a 3-minute span of the second half in a 60-47 victory over Southern California on Feb. 11 to earn the first 2006 "Pontiac Pac-10 Game Changing Performance"... scored 25 points on Nov. 19 vs. Big West Conference member UC Riverside... also averaged 2.5 rebounds and 1.5 assists playing about 24 minutes per game... tabbed "most underrated player in the Pac-10" by Sports Illustrated... as a freshman in 2004-05 he appeared in 27 games off the bench and averaged 3.9 points for a team that went 12-16 (7-11)... had a high of 15 points vs. UCLA on Jan. 26... scored 12 points against No. 25-ranked Gonzaga.

Penn Valley CC

Adam Thomas is a very late comer to basketball who has "plenty of upside," to coin a phrase... he has a chance to follow in the footsteps of some storied Southern California late-blooming big men -- Swen Nater and Mark Eaton... Adam played briefly in seventh grade but didn't try again until a year after high school when persuaded by a friend... he has dedicated himself to becoming a player and spent much of the past two summers working out with players at the University of Kansas... on the Titans' Labor Day Weekend tour in British Columbia he started twice and averaged 2.3 points and 3.3 rebounds.

PENN VALLEY COMMUNITY COLLEGE: Played two seasons for Coach Marcus Harvey at Penn Valley CC, located in Kansas City, Missouri... averaged 7 points and 6 rebounds as a sophomore and 2 points and 2 rebounds as a freshman... shot 60 percent from the floor, second best in school history... made the academic honor roll... described as "fat, dumpy and awkward" when he arrived, he promptly lost 70 pounds during conditioning drills.

LEE'S SUMMIT NORTH HIGH SCHOOL: Moved into the district for his junior season but didn't play basketball.

PERSONAL: Born on March 2, 1985, in Kansas City, Mo.... parents are William and Teresa Thomas... has three older sisters (Shelly, Sarah and Sandy)... criminal justice major who hopes to go into law enforcement, corrections or probation... most memorable sports thrill was playing against another 7-footer for Missouri State West Plains and scoring 18 points and grabbing 13 rebounds... was working in a grocery store before deciding to give basketball a try.

Swen Nater -- 6-11, 240... attended Wilson High School in Long Beach but didn't play basketball until encouraged by Tom Lubin, a volunteer assistant coach at Cypress College. He played little as a freshman but led the Chargers into the state playoffs in 1970. He was Bill Walton's practice "sparring partner" for two years at UCLA and went on to play 12 professional seasons, becoming the only man to lead both the NBA and the ABA in rebounding.

Mark Eaton -- 7-4, 290... attended Westminster High School but didn't play basketball until three years later when he also was "discovered" by Lubin while repairing a Volkswagen. He led the Chargers to a state championship in 1980 and played 12 seasons with the Utah Jazz after a limited two-year career at UCLA.

RODNEY ANDERSON

Rodney Anderson's freshman basketball season (1999-2000) at Cal State Fullerton was cut short by a random street shooting that left him paralyzed from the chest down. He was shot three times in the back and neck in the early evening on Mar. 2, 2000, near his Los Angeles home where he had gone for dinner and to counsel a troubled friend. A known gang member was charged with the crime in early October, 2000, convicted and incarcerated.

Rodney was hospitalized for a few months and continues physical therapy to this day. He returned to classes at Cal State Fullerton for the Spring, 2001, semester and has been a regular spectator at Titan games. He graduated in June, 2005, with a bachelors degree in human services, obtained a masters degree in 2008 and is now an athletic academic advisor for the Titans.

Rodney and his family were the deserving subjects of an Extreme Makeover: Home Edition by the popular ABC Television show. They were whisked off to the Bahamas for a week's vacation while two new homes were constructed to replace their 90-year-old home. Upon their return, a day later than normal due to weather and major technological improvements to the home, Rodney and his fiancée, Monique, were married in the front yard. In conjunction with the show, Rodney's jersey No. 4 was retired at a Dec. 8, 2004, ceremony in Titan Gym and is now displayed with the other notable jerseys (see page 72 for Greg Bunch and Leon Wood) and championship banners. As a result of the original January, 2005, telecast, Rodney has received numerous offers to tell his inspirational story of perseverance against long odds.

While at Fullerton, Rodney played in 24 games and started one (at Saint Mary's on Nov. 30, 1999). He averaged 3.4 points and 1.4 rebounds. He scored a high of 9 points vs. Patten on Dec. 21 and had a high of 3 rebounds on three occasions.

WASHINGTON HIGH SCHOOL: Two-year varsity letterman at George Washington Prep in Los Angeles for Coach Andy Davis... Played point guard, off guard and small forward during his prep career... Averaged 13 points, 5 rebounds and 4 assists as a senior... Also played two seasons of varsity baseball as a centerfielder.

PERSONAL: Born on Sept. 9, 1981, in Los Angeles, California... Parents are Joseph and Martha Anderson... Has one older brother (Joseph) and three older sisters (Glenda, Thressa and Demetrius)... Most memorable sports thrill was making game-winning shot for a youth league championship.

Coach Bob Burton's 21 years of experience as a head coach at the two-year college level will come in handy in 2008-09 at Cal State Fullerton as he tries to rebuild a roster that lost nine players after a memorable 24-9 campaign that culminated in the Titans' first trip to the NCAA Tournament in 30 years.

"A lot of the media covering the NCAA Tournament were shocked that we could compete with a team comprised entirely of transfers," said Burton, preparing for his sixth season and contracted through the 2012-13 season. "I told them I was used to that from the community college level. It seems like you're rebuilding every season."

"Truthfully, I don't think I've ever had so few returning players -- only one starter, one reserve and two redshirts. Most of the guys don't even know each other. That's my main concern going into the season -- chemistry. It's the main reason we are playing an exhibition tour in Canada on Labor Day weekend. We get to play three games and have 10 practices to prepare for them. We're going to need all that time to get to know each other."

"We think we have a chance to be pretty good again. We're really strong on the perimeter and we'll try to piecemeal the inside positions again."

The lone returning starter could be the best player in the Big West Conference.

"Josh Akognon certainly is one of the best guards in the West and this season he will have the opportunity to show everyone that he's one of the best in the country," said Burton. "We're obviously thrilled that he pulled out of the NBA draft to come back for his senior season and I honestly think it is the best thing for him."

Akognon was the No. 3 scorer in the Big West last year at 20.2 points per game. He was even better in the post-season, averaging 22.3 points while winning the MVP Trophy in the Big West Tournament and dropping 31 points on defensive-minded Wisconsin in the NCAA Tourney. He led the Big West in 3-point baskets with a school record 116 (in 295 attempts, .393) and was seventh in the nation with an .899 free-throw percentage, another school record.

While he was honored with a second-team selection on the NABC All-District 15 team with the likes of Arizona's Chase Budinger, he could make only the second team in the Big West. That slight may come back to haunt the other eight schools in 2008-09, when he also will see playing time at the point guard position.

"He's going to see a lot of time at the point," said Burton. "But you kind of like to see one of the best scorers in the country catching passes rather than making them. We need to come up with an inside scoring threat and the wing guys will have to step up and be good, especially if we start seeing box-and-ones and the like."

Guard Marcio Lassiter is the other veteran, averaging about 10 minutes per game. He came off the bench 32 times to average 3.3 points but showed he could score in bunches. He had a season-high 17 points in a season-high 25 minutes vs. UC Riverside in the only game Akognon missed. He made all 18 of his free throw attempts for the season.

"Marcio has toughness and also gave us a defensive lift," said Burton.

Two familiar faces from the practice floor may figure prominently. Gerard Anderson sat out 2007-08 after transferring from Saddleback College and he figures to be the starting power forward. And 7-foot-2 center Adam Thomas had a redshirt year to further mature and develop and he could be a factor in the post this season.

Everyone else is new to the program including a trio of freshmen, a species absent from Titan box scores of the past two years. Jacques Streeter from Findlay Prep in Henderson, Nevada, could be a factor at point guard from the outset and late-signing Oregon product Ameer Shamsud-din is equally heralded. Kwasi Mensah from Rancho Cucamonga High School walked on in August.

Five community college transfers will have to make a quick adjustment to Div. I play and all appear capable. Wing player Chris Rhymes (6-4, 190, Oklahoma City, OK) from Cowley County College in Kansas led his team to the finals of the Region 6 Tournament and a 31-3 record, averaging 16.4 points and 5.1 rebounds on the season. He tore a knee ligament in the semifinal win but should be healthy by November.

Wing player Aaron Thompson (6-4, 190, Los Angeles, CA) put up big numbers at Cerritos College, averaging 16.2 points and 9.0 rebounds. Postman Ray Miller (6-8, 225, Des Moines, Iowa) didn't miss a game (67 appearances) in two solid years at Iowa Western, averaging 9.9 points and 6.1 rebounds in 2007-08 for a 28-5 team. Papa Guisse (6-8, 210, Louga, Senegal), another interior player, competed for the national championship with the Salt Lake Bruins, who were runnersup at 32-4 with Guisse averaging 7.2 points and 6.6 rebounds. Regan Andersen (6-7, 215, Milwaukee, WI) arrived late from Oxnard JC.

"All of these guys come from winning programs," pointed out Burton. "We will play the same style -- fast... pressure defense and go. I think we have the depth to play that way. We just can't get any injuries at the point or '5' spots."

The Titans lost four senior starters in all-Big West first team and co-player of the year Scott Cutley at center; second-teamer Frank Robinson on a wing; underrated Marcus Morgan at power forward; and late-blooming point guard Ray Reed. Back-up inside players Andrew Green and Kenneth Alexander also were seniors. Junior guard Marcus Crenshaw graduated along with the six seniors and elected not to return. Junior point guard Junior Russell has left the program after being suspended for the final third of the schedule and lightly used junior center Eddie Lima (57 total minutes) also departed.

The Titans play 10 of their 14 non-conference games on the road, where they have gone 43-32 the past four seasons combined. There's an imposing field at the 76 Classic in Anaheim, an inaugural meeting with LSU, a 2-game trip to Hawai'i and a return date with NCAA Tourney team Portland State as well as a road assignment in the ESPN Bracket Buster.

Cal State Fullerton's Titan Gymnasium has served as the home court advantage for the Titans' men's basketball team since the 1964-65 season. Historically one of the most difficult places to play because of the proximity of the bleachers to the playing floor, Titan Gym has been upgraded over the past few years to make it more fan friendly while still intimate.

Chairback seats have replaced most of the bleachers, portable basket supports have replaced the fold-down backboards, new paint and banners have been applied to the walls and the entire floor was replaced during the summer of 2008.

For 2003-04, the court gained a new look as a "drop-down" scoreboard was installed along with new auxiliary scoreboards behind each basket. Completed for the 2005-06 season was an elaborate addition to the building which provided balcony seating on the south side. Capacity was increased back to around 4,000 and there now is a much needed practice floor behind the upstairs bleachers.

The gymnasium is part of an expanded physical education/ki-nesiology complex, featuring numerous classrooms and physical testing laboratories. The facility also houses practice rooms for the Titan wrestling, gymnastics and fencing programs.

The record crowd for Titan Gym is 5,015 on Feb. 24, 1983, when the Titans beat unbeaten and No. 1-ranked UNLV. Several hundred chairs were placed behind the baskets and standing room was utilized everywhere there was a line of sight to the playing floor.

The gym was featured in the recent feature film "Evolution" and was the site of team handball competition in the 1984 Olympic Games.

DIV. I TITANS' HOME-COURT RECORD

The longest home-court winning streak in Titan Gym is 26 games, stretching from Jan. 23, 1982, through Jan. 21, 1984. A streak of 12 in a row was snapped Feb. 10, 1993, by Houston.

The most recent streak of length was an 8-gamer -- the last three contests of the 1996-97 schedule and the first five of the 1997-98 slate. It was ended by Idaho on Jan. 15.

The Titans entered the 1999-2000 season with a streak of 14 consecutive non-conference home victories, lost to USD, but then won the next four to make it 18 out of 19.

The Big West Conference is in its 40th season of sponsoring men's basketball and it's second with a nine-member, all-California lineup. Founded in 1969-70 as the Pacific Coast Athletic Association when it consisted of six California schools, the league returned in 2005-06 to its coastal roots after allegiances with numerous Rocky Mountain states and Texas.

During the past 39 years, six of the current members -- Long Beach State, Cal State Fullerton, Pacific, UC Santa Barbara, Cal State Northridge and UC Irvine -- have claimed or shared a regular season title. Four current members -- Long Beach State, Cal State Fullerton, Pacific and UC Santa Barbara -- have won the post-season tournament title and gained an automatic berth into the NCAA Tournament.

The post-season tournament will be staged for the ninth consecutive year and 14th overall at the Anaheim Convention Center from Mar. 11-14. It is held in conjunction with the women's tournament and, for the fifth year, will feature a weighted bracket favoring the higher seeds. The fifth through eighth seeds meet in the opening round for the opportunity to face the Nos. 3 and 4 seeds in the quarterfinals. The survivors tackle the top two seeds in the semifinals with the winners meeting in the championship game which will be carried on ESPN2.

The Big West has been home to one NCAA Champion (UNLV in 1990) and one NIT titlist (Fresno State in 1983). The conference also has had a team representing it in the NCAA Tourney for each of its 39 years of existence. Nine times the conference has had multiple representatives including 2004-05 in Pacific and Utah State.

Several Big West alumni have gone on to enjoy successful NBA careers. In 1998, the No. 1 pick in the NBA Draft came out of the Big West in Pacific center Michael Olowokandi, who was picked by the L.A. Clippers. Other NBA stars who launched their careers in the Big West include Larry Johnson, Bryon Russell, Brian Shaw, Lucious Harris, Cedric Ceballos and Bruce Bowen. The newest Big West alum to break into an NBA box score was Cal State Fullerton product Bobby Brown, who scored 7 points with 1 rebound and 1 assist for the Sacramento Kings on Oct. 31 at Miami.

Big West Basketball

The 2008-09 season marks the 34th year the Big West Conference has held a post season basketball tournament for the men and the 26th year for the women.

The Big West Basketball Tournament is the longest running collegiate basketball tournament in the West. The annual conference tournament will be held at The Arena at the Anaheim Convention Center for the ninth consecutive year. Be a part of all the excitement as the 14-game event features four days of thrilling basketball action with two Big West Conference titles on the line, as well as automatic berths to the NCAA tournaments. The 2009 edition begins Wednesday, March 11 and runs through Saturday, March 14, highlighted with exciting Big West festivities throughout the week. All-Session tickets and First Game Vouchers are on sale now. Single-Session tickets will go on sale Tuesday, February 24, 2009.

For Big West Tournament Ticket Information, visit the conference website at www.bigwest.org or contact your favorite Big West school's Ticket Office.

Catch The Big West ShootOut/Tour

The 2008-09 Big West Basketball ShootOut & Tour hits each campus twice from January to March this basketball season. The tour brings the excitement of the tournament to each campus through a photo collage and an audio/visual presentation. Fans will be able to purchase tournament tickets, merchandise, and win free prizes from Big West sponsors. The first 100 fans at each Big West Tour stop who register at the tour tent will also receive a special 40th anniversary memento.

The Basketball ShootOut is in its second season. The ShootOut is a basketball shooting competition available to all Big West students. Over 380 teams competed last year in the competition's inaugural year. There are three divisions: Men, Women, Co-Ed. The co-ed finals take place at halftime of a men's basketball game on the second date of the tour stop. Each co-ed campus champion then wins a trip to Anaheim to compete in the Basketball ShootOut finals with the winning team earning a $5,000 grand prize. Don't miss out on this great opportunity to be a part of the action this season.

9 BIG WEST CONFERENCE SCHOOLS WILL PARTICIPATE IN THE 7TH ANNUAL

ESPNU BRACKETBUSTERS

FEBRUARY 20-21, 2009

BIG WEST CONFERENCE

A total of 102 teams – representing 17 collegiate athletic conferences – will compete in the two-day event (February 20-21), with the entire ESPNU BracketBusters slate of matchups to be announced in early February. Cal Poly, Long Beach State, UC Davis and UC Santa Barbara will serve as host schools, while Cal State Fullerton, Cal State Northridge, UC Irvine, UC Riverside and Pacific will play on the road.

Of the 51 games, a minimum of 13 will be televised, with six contests on ESPN2. An additional five games will be aired on ESPNU – ESPN's collegiate sports network which launched on March 4, 2005 – and two will be televised on ESPN360 – ESPN's broadband service. ESPN360.com will also simulcast ESPN2's six telecasts. Please consult your local listings for start times.

Since the event's inception in 2003, the Big West Conference has posted a six-year record of 14-15, including a 5-3 mark in 2006, a 3-5 record in 2007 and a 4-5 slate in 2008. In 2005, Pacific defeated UTEP on ESPN – the only game televised on the flagship network. In 2008, the Big West had two teams involved in ESPNU BracketBusters-branded games (contests aired on the TV package) for the first time as Cal State Northridge hosted Rider and UC Santa Barbara traveled to Utah State.

HOME TEAMS: Cal Poly, Long Beach State, UC Davis, UC Santa Barbara, Vermont, Boston University, Portland State, Winthrop, Drexel, James Madison, UNC-Wilmington, Old Dominion, Towson, William & Mary, Loyola-Chicago, UIC, Valparaiso, Wright State, Youngstown State, Wisconsin-Milwaukee, Fairfield, Marist, Niagara, Rider, Siena, Ball State, Central Michigan, Eastern Michigan, Western Michigan, Bowling Green, Kent State, Creighton, Drake, Evansville, Indiana State, Wichita State, Murray State, Eastern Kentucky, Southeast Missouri, Tennessee State, Tennessee-Martin, Bucknell, Davidson, Georgia Southern, San Diego, Saint Mary's, Hawai'i, Idaho, Nevada, New Mexico State, San Jose State

2007-08 SEASON REVIEW

It has often been said that there is a fine line between winning and losing. For the Cal State Fullerton men's basketball team of 2007-08, the definitive line was one they were happy not to see on an X-ray film.

On the second day of Fall practice, returning first-team All-Big West Conference forward Scott Cutley suffered a fractured ankle. His playing future would rest with a second set of X-rays weeks later. Had a fracture line remained, a screw would have been inserted and his season would have been over before it started. But the quick healing Cutley had a clean film, he missed only four starts and he went on to lead the Titans back to the NCAA Tournament for the first time in 30 years.

The Titans stayed remarkably healthy the rest of the season and posted enough bullet-point highlights to fill an ammunition bunker:

- they tied for Fullerton's first conference regular-season championship since 1976
- they won the conference post-season tournament for the first time since 1978
- their 24-9 record was the school's best Div. I mark
- they tied the school record for most conference wins at 12-4
- they tied the school record for most wins on hostile courts at 9-5 (they were 13-6 including neutral floors)
- they posted the first back-to-back 20-win seasons in the school's Div. I history (dating to 1974-75)
- their fourth consecutive winning season was the first such occurrence since 1981-82 thru 1984-85
- they were No. 7 in the nation in scoring at 81.8 points per game
- they set school records for points, 3-point baskets and steals
- and for 22 minutes they gave towering Wisconsin all they could handle, leading by one point early in the second half of their eventual 71-56 loss in their NCAA Tournament game in Omaha, Nebraska
- and most importantly, seven players earned their bachelor degrees in 2008

The individual honors followed the team's success. Coach Bob Burton was selected NABC District 15 coach of the year. Cutley became only the third Titan Associated Press All-American (honorable mention) and he became the Titans' first conference co-player of the year (with UCSB's Alex Harris) since Greg Bunch shared the honor with San Diego State's Steve Copp in 1976. Frank Robinson and Josh Akognon made the Big West second team to give the Titans three men on the two units for the first time. Akognon also made the NABC District 15 second team along with MVP honors at the Big West Tourney and Robinson was voted the Big West defensive player of the year.

The Titans got consistently good results from inconsistent methods. They lost consecutive games only once and had winning streaks of three games or more five times. They opened the season in a 3-point field goal frenzy, averaging double-digit treys through the first 14 games before turning to an opportunistic defense to fuel their second-half surge.

Senior Ray Reed may have salvaged the season at the two-thirds pole when the Titans lost their point-guard tandem of Junior Russell and Marcus Crenshaw to suspension and injury, respectively, in the same week in early February. The deposed starter from a year earlier moved over from the "2-guard" spot and by season's end had the coaches wondering why they hadn't made the switch sooner.

Fullerton opened the season without Cutley but cruised to a pair of relatively easy home wins over Cal State Bakersfield and Cal State Los Angeles with Washington State transfer Akognon leading the way with 53 points. The Titans overcame early foul trouble for their first road win at Southern Utah but then had a first-half meltdown at Arizona. The Wildcats blocked numerous early shots and jumped out to a 20-4 lead that grew as large as 37 points. The showing embarrassed Coach Burton but the team regrouped two nights later for an explosive win at Montana, 100-91, as Cutley made his first start. Robinson had a career high with 30 points and the Titans became the first visiting team in more than 18 years to reach the century mark in Dahlberg Arena.

A turnover and foul-marred loss at Central Michigan was forgotten after home wins over Southern Utah -- by 36 points -- and Montana, in overtime after Marcus Morgan blocked a layup at the regulation buzzer.

The competition picked up as NCAA Tournament veteran Wright State returned a Bracket Buster game. The Titans got beat at home at the foul line in what became a 4-point loss after losing Cutley to five fouls with more than 4 minutes to play. They finished the pre-Big West schedule with a 103-72 rout of winless Furman in Moraga and then played a solid game in defeat to host and NCAA-tourney bound Saint Mary's, which ran its record in its own holiday tournament to 10-0 with a fifth consecutive title.

Fullerton hadn't won a Big West Conference season opener in Titan Gym since 1984, going 0-10 at home compared to a 5-8 road record during the same time frame. But thanks to their best field-goal percentage (.615) in more than four years, they beat UC Irvine to snap the streak. Then came two payback victories -- at UC Riverside and at home vs. Cal Poly -- to avenge devastating losses late the previous season.

But then came the only back-to-back losses of the year -- at home to UC Santa Barbara, the pre-season favorite coming off two losses of its own, and at Pacific. The Gauchos shot the lights out in Titan Gym (9 of 15 treys) while the Titans looked like strangers in the house, making only 5 of 22 tries. The formula prevailed in Stockton. Pacific made its first nine 3-point tries of the second half to open a 19-point lead that survived an eruption from Akognon, who made 5 of 9 treys after intermission on his way to 30 points.

The Titans salvaged the trip with a methodical 88-66 win at UC Davis, which was coming off a 17-point win over UCI. Akognon injured a finger and sat out a home game vs. UC Riverside but Marcio Lassiter parlayed a season-high 25 minutes into 17 points and Junior Russell scored 13 of Fullerton's final 20 points.

Fullerton overcame a slow start to win handily at Long Beach State for the first time in four years to set up a first-place showdown at unbeaten Cal State Northridge. Before a raucous SRO crowd, the Titans built a 9-point halftime lead, fell behind by 8 at the midway point of the second half and scored the final 9 points for an 80-72 win, their eighth in a row over the Matadors.

A four-game win streak came to an end at UCSB, where the Gauchos jumped out to a 22-9 lead. Fullerton never led in the game but rallied to tie with four minutes left. Marcus Crenshaw, who fueled the comeback with 21 second-half points in the absence of Russell, missed a game-tying trey in the final seconds.

Fullerton again avoided an 0-2 road trip with an unlikely win at Cal Poly. Crenshaw was sidelined early by a broken nose and Reed and Akognon were forced into the point guard role on the run. Good foul shooting down the stretch made it work.

Four of Fullerton's five remaining conference games were at home. The Titans struggled to beat UC Davis but then knocked Pacific out of the championship race with a 92-78 win on FSN Prime Ticket television. A surprisingly easy win over NCAA Tournament bound Portland State set the stage for a showdown between the 10-3 Titans and 10-2 Northridge. The law of averages caught up with CSF as it made only 3 of 22 treys while the visitors made 10 of 19 in a 12-point win to snap their losing streak.

The home finale and Senior Night went extremely well. Fullerton routed Long Beach by 34 points -- its biggest win of the 95-game series -- capped off by K. K. Alexander's only career trey.

A close win at Bakersfield set the stage for the regular season finale. The Titans were locked into the No. 3 tourney seed but needed to win at UC Irvine for a three-way tie for first place. The Anteaters hadn't lost on campus all year but the Titans responded with a wire-to-wire win, 74-66.

After a first-round bye, the Titans opened play at the Anaheim

Convention Center where they would jump to early leads for three nights in a row. They began with a nervous 81-69 win over UC Riverside as Larry Cunningham exploded from a scoreless first half just as he had a year earlier. This time he got "only" 23 points in the second half.

The rubber match vs. Northridge produced a 31-11 Titan lead out of the blocks before CSUN made an inevitable rally. The Matadors got as close as 10 points before Cutley restored order.

UC Irvine was a surprise winner over UCSB and the Titans got a team it had swept in the regular season playing its fourth game in four nights instead of a team it hadn't beaten playing only its second game. Again the Titans came out hot and opened a 15-point halftime lead. UCI got the deficit down to a single digit but Akognon hit a big trey to spark an 8-1 run and the Titans were soon cutting down the nets and making plans for the NCAA Selection Show.

The Titans drew Big Ten regular season and tourney champion Wisconsin in Omaha. The burly Badgers controlled tempo and the backboards and got a break they probably didn't need when Robinson got into foul trouble and picked up No. 5 with 9:53 to play. Akognon put on a one-man offensive show, dropping an opponent season high of 31 points on the Badgers, who pulled away from a 1-point deficit early in the second half by outrebounding the much smaller Titans, 29-10, after intermission.

Cal State Fullerton opened the season with a victory for the third year in a row, beating Cal State Bakersfield, which was launching its first Div. I season and would go on to beat Fresno State in its home opener.

New rims had been installed in Titan Gym on the eve of the opener, something that was far from pleasing to Coach Bob Burton. But his fears were allayed quickly as the Titans scored on their first three trips down the floor and led 9-0 after Josh Akognon hit two 3-point field goals and Frank Robinson hit one all in a span of 78 seconds.

Bakersfield finally got on the board with a trey of its own from Ryan Brown and got within 5 points only to see the Titans finish the half with a 7-1 run. It was capped by a 3-pointer by Marcus Crenshaw to beat the halftime buzzer for a 46-35 advantage.

The Titans opened the second half with a 10-3 spurt for an 18-point lead and the advantage remained in double digits the rest of the way.

With more than two dozen former Titan players in attendance after an inaugural preliminary alumni game, the 2007-08 Titans put on a show with a 34-6 run over the final five minutes of the first half and first five minutes of the second half to overcome the visiting Div. II Golden Eagles.

Josh Akognon was the individual star, making 6 of 8 3-point field goals in the second half and 7-of-13 for the game and a career-high 31 points. Only four other Titans have made more than 7 treys in a single game.

Frank Robinson kept the Titans in the game in the first half with 10 points and 8 rebounds as Fullerton turned a 30-25 CSULA lead into a 40-32 Fullerton advantage at intermission. The Titans opened the second half with a 19-4 surge for a 23-point lead at 59-36 with 14:45 to play.

No one knew at the time, but the game against Cal State L.A. would prove a good omen. The last time the teams met was in the 1977-78 season, which ended in Fullerton's only previous trip to the NCAA Tournament.

For the third season in a row, the Titans followed up a pair of season-opening home wins with an impressive road victory. Battling mile-high altitude and very tight officiating, the Titans jumped on Southern Utah from the outset and spoiled the home coaching debut of new Thunderbirds' Coach Roger Reid.

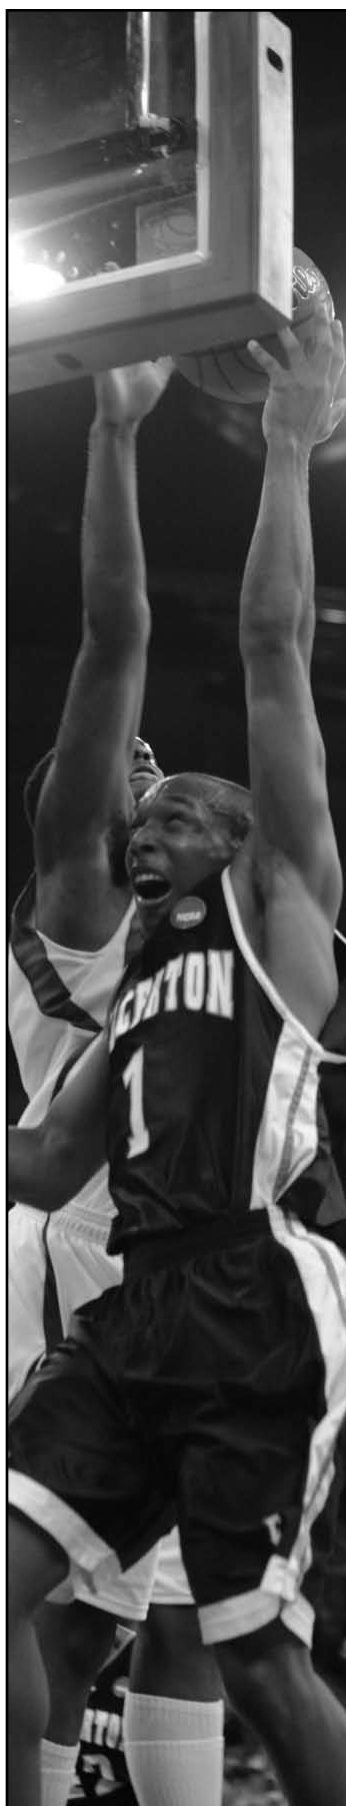

After a SUU free throw, Frank Robinson hit a 3-pointer and then converted 3-of-3 free throws for a 6-1 lead and the Titans would never trail although they had to sweat out foul trouble. Both Marcus Morgan and Andrew Green had two fouls in the first 4:12 and both Green and Josh Akognon had three before halftime.

Fullerton took control in the latter stages of the first half, finishing with a 19-8 surge over the final 7:38.

After intermission, the Titans pulled out to a 25-point lead at 54-29 with 13:40 to play. Southern Utah had a 5-point possession and cut the margin to 13 points at 62-49 but Akognon fed Robinson for a spectacular lob dunk and then hit a pair of treys to boost the lead to 70-51 with 7:28 remaining. SUU got only as close as 13 points in the final minute.

Kenneth Alexander had a career-high 17 points and provided an inside scoring threat to complement the perimeter firepower. CSF was outrebounded badly but forced the T'birds into 25 turnovers.

The schools had met only two times in the previous 47 seasons but they had a rematch on the schedule in 30 days.

The Titans have had little success in the victory column against Pac-10 teams but they opted to try their luck at Arizona, one of three teams they had beaten in the past. Leon Wood, who had transferred from Arizona, scored 31 points to lead Fullerton to a 67-66 win on Dec. 1, 1983. That was Coach Lute Olson's first season but he wasn't around to welcome Fullerton in his 25th year in Tucson, having taken a leave of absence earlier in the month for personal reasons.

The Wildcats came into the game 3-2 under Interim Coach Kevin O'Neill, losing close games to Virginia and Kansas. Fullerton hoped to catch them in a "focus valley," between an overtime loss at No. 4-ranked Kansas and an upcoming contest against No. 9-ranked Texas A&M.

No such luck. After an exchange of field goals, the Wildcats went on an 18-2 run as Fullerton made only 2 of its first 10 shots with five of them being rejected by the taller hosts. The Titans never made a serious threat, getting no closer than 14 points. The only suspense was whether Arizona would break the century mark and whether Coach Bob Burton would suffer his worst loss at Fullerton.

The Wildcats shot "only" 57 percent in the second half after a 67 percent first half. They led by 37 points at 86-49 but the final margin of defeat was well shy of the 33-point loss (77-44) Burton experienced at UC Santa Barbara on Jan. 31, 2004.

Two nights after a disappointing performance at Arizona, the Titans came up with an impressive effort against a solid team in a difficult venue for visitors.

The Titans got off to a good start and eventually outshot a Grizzlies team which had lost only to nationally ranked Gonzaga and Washington State. The Titans tied their school record with 14 3-point field goals and Frank Robinson posted a career high as the Titans became the first visitors in more than 18 years to score 100 points in Dahlberg Arena.

By making their first 8 3-point field goal attempts in the second half, the Titans pulled away from a 3-point halftime lead to build an advantage that grew to 18 points. Montana got the deficit down to 6 points in the final 90 seconds but Fullerton was clutch at the foul line, making 11 of 12 down the stretch.

All 11 Titans played in a first half that saw 14 lead changes and 8 ties. Marcio Lassiter's 3-pointer with 45 seconds left put Fullerton ahead to stay. A 5-0 burst opened the second half and when the Griz pulled within a point at 55-54, Fullerton responded with an 11-2 surge.

Montana was even hotter from the 3-point line but struggled at the foul line and got outrebounded by the smaller Titans by one. In the first half, Fullerton committed only 3 turnovers while the Griz were coughing up the ball 10 times.

The win was the second in a row for Fullerton over the Griz, the last coming 11 years earlier in Missoula. Montana had won the first six meetings.

Twice Fullerton has played a men's basketball game in the state of Michigan and twice the Titans have come home with a 3-point loss. On Dec. 9, 1978, they lost to Earvin Johnson and eventual national champion Michigan State, 92-89. This time it was 79-76 at Central Michigan, which tried its damndest to keep the Titans in a foul and turnover marred slugfest.

CMU missed its final seven free throws, each of which would have given it a 4-point lead in the final 33 seconds. But the Titans came up with three missed shots and a turnover in four possessions and went home with their second loss.

The defeat was particularly disappointing for Marcus Crenshaw, a Detroit native who had a large rooting section. Junior Russell picked up the slack with a season-high 16 points but that along with double-doubles by both Scott Cutley and Frank Robinson wasn't enough.

A total of 54 fouls were called – 31 on the visitors – and the teams combined for 44 turnovers – 24 by Fullerton.

Fullerton fell behind 21-12, came back to lead, 41-33, and then gave up the final 8 points of the half for a 41-41 tie.

The Titans led by as many as 4 points in the second half, the last time at 49-45 with 15:33 to play after two Josh Akognon free throws. But the Chippewas scored the next 7 points and they took the lead for good at 64-63 when Giordan Watson made two charities, the second breaking the tenth tie of the game.

Coach Bob Burton had several concerns going into this rematch with Southern Utah. Frank Robinson was sidelined with an ankle injury, Marcus Crenshaw had a sore back and the Thunderbirds had a deceiving 2-8 record (3 losses by 3 points or less) to go with a high-scoring forward in Geoff Payne. But his biggest worry was how the Titans would play after a 9-day layoff that included final exams.

It took about 13 minutes of game time for the Titans in general and Josh Akognon in particular to warm to the task but then Burton's worries were over. Akognon hit four 3-pointers and scored 14 points in a 23-6 run that turned a 3-point deficit into a 14-point halftime lead.

The Thunderbirds never got closer than 14 points in the second half and the Titans gradually pulled away to a lopsided victory.

Scott Cutley flirted with CSF's second triple double, coming up 2 assists shy. Crenshaw hit 5 of 9 treys and joined Cutley in matching a career-high with 8 assists.

All nine Titans who suited up played at least 10 minutes and scored at least 6 points as Fullerton enjoyed its best shooting night of the young season. Being back in Titan Gym for the first time in 36 days probably helped.

Payne led Southern Utah in scoring and rebounding despite picking up two quick fouls.

The rematch of Fullerton's 100-91 win at Montana on Nov. 30 began as another shootout. The Titans hit 6 of their first 9 3-pointers and Montana was shooting better than 50 percent from the floor as Fullerton opened a 31-21 lead in the first 12 minutes.

But the Montana defense and the effects of stomach flu eventually slowed the Titans, who were outscored 12-6 over the last 8 minutes of the first half and 21-6 in the first 9 minutes of the second half to fall behind by 11 points at 54-43. The Titans went about 25 minutes without a trey, missing 9 in a row.

The Grizzlies led by 7 with less than 2 minutes to play but they missed a pair of bonus free throws in the final 37 seconds to open the door. Scott Cutley hit a free throw and Marcus Morgan dunked an offensive rebound to make it a 4-point game. Ceylon Elgin-Taylor missed two one-and-ones with Frank Robinson and Cutley responding with buckets to forge a 62-62 tie with 15 seconds remaining. Morgan forced overtime when he blocked Andrew Strait's layup from behind just before the regulation buzzer.

Fullerton never trailed in overtime. Josh Akognon, who didn't make a field goal, hit two free throws which were cancelled by a Strait layup. Cutley then scored twice inside to put the Titans ahead to stay and Marcus Crenshaw's 3-pointer was the big shot down the stretch, producing a 74-70 lead with 1:18 to play.

The ESPNU Bracket Buster of 2007 came back to haunt the Titans, who last February had to venture back to Dayton, in bad weather, to absorb a 15-point loss at Wright State in a game that was seen only on ESPN360 (video streamed).

Per the package deal, Wright State had to return the game to Fullerton and the Raiders rolled into Titan Gym on a sunny Saturday afternoon and came from behind to hand the Titans their first home loss of the season.

The pivotal play came with 4:07 to play and the score tied at 69 after two Junior Russell free throws. Guard John-David Gardner drove inside and collided with Scott Cutley, who was cited for his fifth personal foul. Gardner made one of two free throws and the Raiders led the rest of the way, although never by more than 5 points.

Fullerton's last gasp came with about 15 seconds left and the Titans trailing 81-78. Marcus Crenshaw rebounded a missed free throw by Marcus Morgan but his hurried 2-point baseline attempt missed and the Raiders rebounded and the Titans had to foul.

The Titans took a big early lead when they hit 8 of their first 9 shots on their way to a 23-8 lead less than 6 minutes into the game. But Josh Akognon, who scored 10 of those points, had already picked up two fouls and Cutley got his second a few minutes later.

Wright State responded with a 13-0 run to turn a 27-16 deficit into a 29-27 lead and neither team led by more than 5 points the rest of the way.

The Christmas holiday week took the Titans to Moraga for the Shamrock Office Solutions Classic hosted by Saint Mary's, which had an unblemished record in its event at 8-0 for four consecutive championships.

The Titans drew a winless Furman team in the opening round and it was the Paladins' misfortune to catch the Titans when their perimeter game was on fire.

With Josh Akognon matching his season's high with seven treys and Marcio Lassiter coming off the bench to hit all three of his tries, the Titans set a school record with 15 treys in 30 attempts on their way to a 31-point victory.

Fullerton jumped out to a 4-0 lead and never trailed, hitting a double-digit lead at 29-19 on back-to-back treys by Lassiter. The lead got as large as 19 points at 41-22 and Fullerton settled for a 52-36 lead at intermission with Marcus Crenshaw beating the buzzer with a patented high-arching 3-pointer.

Furman scored the first 4 points of the second half to close within 12 points but a 7-0 burst that launched a 17-5 run had the Titans ahead by 24 points at 69-45 with 13:22 to play.

The Titans hit the century mark with 1:26 to go on Lassiter's third trey. It was the second time this season and eighth time in the Burton Era that the Titans scored in triple digits and they set a tournament scoring record in the process.

After two lopsided wins, Saint Mary's (a 49-point winner over Howard) and the Titans met in the anticipated championship game of the Shamrock Office Solutions Classic and it was played with title intensity. Both teams were strong defensively and they battled on dead even terms for 25 minutes before Fullerton hit an inexplicable offensive slump that led to a 10-point defeat to the Gaels, who improved to 12-1 and jumped into the national rankings after the victory.

The game could not have been any tighter in the first half. There were nine lead changes and seven ties including one at each of the four media timeouts -- 6-6, 16-16, 21-21 and 29-29. Fullerton's biggest lead was 5 points and the Gaels' biggest advantage was 4 points. Thanks to a 3-pointer by Josh Akognon to beat the halftime buzzer, the Titans took a 37-35 lead into the locker room.

The final Fullerton lead was 46-44 after two Frank Robinson free throws with 14:53 to play. Saint Mary's went on a 14-3 run over the next 7 minutes for a 58-49 lead. Each team scored only 2 points over the next four minutes so the Titans got within 7 points at 3:34 on a Marcus Crenshaw jumper. But Fullerton wouldn't score again until the final minute and the Gaels had themselves a fifth consecutive tournament championship.

Fullerton finished with its season low scoring total, lowest scoring second half and worst field goal percentage for a game. The Titans had 44 points with 17:08 to play and were at only 53 points with less than a minute to go.

The Titans opened the Big West Conference schedule at home, something that hadn't worked to their advantage since the 1983-84 season. In the interim, they had gone 0-10 when opening at home compared to 5-8 when opening on the road.

But thanks to their best field-goal percentage since Nov. 27, 2004, (.652 vs. Hope International), the Titans rolled to a 10-point win. The Titans shot 61.5 percent from the floor overall and a tick better at 61.9 from behind the arc, offsetting a 10-for-19 performance (.526) from long-range by the Anteaters.

It became a battle between the Titans' perimeter attack and the UCI front line. Fullerton got 69 points from its guards and 24 points inside. UCI got 54 from Patrick Sanders, Kevin Bland and Darren Fells but only 29 outside.

Fullerton led for most of the game. The Titans let a 10-point first-half lead get away but led by 7 at intermission despite the fact that Scott Cutley was scoreless in 17 minutes of play.

UCI caught up twice in the second half, the last time at 52-52 with 15:49 to play. Frank Robinson's 3-pointer triggered a 10-0 run to 62-52 and the Anteaters never got closer than 5 points again. Josh Akognon's bucket with 3:21 left gave Fullerton a 15-point lead.

Marcus Crenshaw's 16-point effort in 20 minutes off the bench was critical. In only his 42nd game as a Titan, he moved into the No. 10 spot on the CSF career 3-point field goal list at 115.

The Titans returned to the scene of the crime and took no prisoners.

Last year's 6-point loss at UC Riverside -- the Highlanders' only Big West Conference win -- that cost the Titans a No. 2 tournament seed and came after a 40-point Titans' victory at home over UCR apparently served as motivation for this year's team. Fullerton came out playing aggressive defense and combined with poor shooting and ball-handling by UCR and the hot hand of Josh Akognon, the Titans enjoyed their most lopsided road victory in 11 seasons (89-57 at UCI on Jan. 25, 1997).

Akognon scored 13 of Fullerton's first 20 points as it jumped out to a 20-13 lead. He made five consecutive 3-point attempts and by halftime had 22 points and the Titans had a 41-25 lead, holding UCR to 32 percent shooting while the hosts committed 15 turnovers.

In the second half, UCR handled the ball better but shot worse, making only 8 of 34 overall and 0 of 11 3-point attempts. The Titans pulled away despite struggling at the foul line. UCR's field goal percentage of .271 was the lowest by a Div. I foe since records are available (1980-81). The 47 Highlander points were a defensive best since a 47-41 loss to UCR on Jan. 18, 2003.

The win gave Fullerton a 2-0 Big West record for the first time since 1994-95 and only the second time since 1983-84.

Rocket-like starts to both halves carried the Titans to their first 3-0 Big West Conference record since 1984. The explosion at the opening tip was more spectacular but the second-half surge was much more effective.

The Titan Gym crowd and a KVMD television audience were treated to an offensive clinic at the outset. The Titans hit their first nine shots of the game -- seven of them from behind the 3-point line -- yet they had only a 25-16 lead because they weren't having much luck defensively as the Mustangs hit 7 of their first 11 shots, albeit mostly inside over the shorter Titans.

With Scott Cutley picking up two first-half fouls, the Titans couldn't shake Cal Poly and they led by only 4 points at the half despite shooting 59 percent overall and 57 percent from the arc.

But Fullerton came out blazing again after intermission and this time the Mustangs were cold. An 18-2 Fullerton run produced a 55-35 lead 6 minutes into the period.

Cal Poly fought back as Josh Akognon and Frank Robinson combined to make only 2 of 10 treys in the second half. The Mustangs closed to within 5 points at 69-64 with 2:45 to play on a Shawn Lewis 3-pointer.

But Junior Russell, who would have a perfect night from the floor after scoring 8 points in the first 4 minutes, buried his fourth trey of the night at 2:16 and the Titans made 6 of 6 free throws in the final 43 seconds to secure the win.

The multitude of sub plots to this matchup couldn't distract from the main storyline: Fullerton off to its first 3-0 conference record in 24 years vs. the pre-season favorite staggered by consecutive losses.

The twist that proved decisive was Fullerton's Big West-best 3-point field goal percentage against UCSB's BWC-best defense against the trey. With Josh Akognon hitting only 1 of 11 the Titans made a season-low 22.7 percent while the Gauchos had the best day of any Titan opponent to date, making 9 of 15 as part of a season's-best 64.8 percent from the floor.

Fullerton jumped out to an 8-4 lead but UCSB responded with an 11-2 run and it led for the final 36 minutes.

The Gauchos stretched a 9-point halftime lead to 49-35 four minutes into the second half. Fullerton got back into the game with an 11-0 burst -- 7 points by Akognon -- capped by Akognon's only trey of the game. But Justin Joyner drilled a long 3-pointer for the Gauchos and it started a 15-6 UCSB burst that boosted the lead back up to 15 points with 8:45 to go and the Titans had nothing left at the end of their fourth game in nine days.

Neither of the Big West's top two scorers had a big game. Alex Harris was held to a season-low 13 points and Akognon had his worst shooting night of the year. He got most of his team-high 17 points at the foul line, where the Titans made a season's best 25 charities.

The Titans tried to bounce back from their first Big West loss but they had to do it in Spanos Center, a court where they had won only twice in the past 18 trips, albeit both in the past five years. Despite a gallant late rally, the Titans suffered consecutive losses for the first time all season and once again it was the dreaded 3-point basket that did them in.

The Tigers made their first nine of the second half to stretch a 10-point lead to as many as 19 points despite a strong second half by the Titans, led by Josh Akognon's 5-for-9 effort from the arc. Down 71-52 with 11 minutes to play, Fullerton went on an 18-5 run to draw within 6 points with 4:18 to play.

Fullerton failed to get any closer until Junior Russell made a steal and layup to make it 80-75 with 1:44 remaining. But he missed completing a 3-point play and the Tigers hit 7 of 8 free throws in the final 77 seconds.

A 6-0 start put CSF ahead for the first 4 minutes. UoP used an 11-2 run to take the lead and the teams basically traded hard-fought baskets to produce a 19-19 tie with 8:31 to go. From that point, UoP found its shooting touch and pulled out to a 37-27 halftime lead after the Titans made only 9 first-half baskets while shooting 31 percent including 1-for-11 from the arc.

Twelve first-half turnovers (17 for the game) further plagued Fullerton.

Saddled with consecutive losses for the first time all season, the Titans needed a win to reverse the momentum and avoid their first 0-2 road trip in three years. Standing in the way was a UC Davis team coming off a 17-point win over UC Irvine that improved its home record to 7-1.

Fullerton responded with its most complete game to date. The Titans jumped out to a 5-0 lead and methodically pulled away, leading at the media timeouts -- 7-2, 15-6, 20-9 and 35-21 -- on the way to a 20-point halftime lead. The Titans didn't shoot particularly well but committed only 2 turnovers to 9 for the Aggies and outrebounded the taller hosts, 21-17. The Aggies' 21-point half was the lowest first-half effort by a Titan foe all season.

Josh Akognon, who picked up three first-half fouls, hit his first three 3-point tries of the second half to spark Fullerton to a 19-9 run capped by his layup for a 60-30 lead with 13:45 to play. The Aggies fought back but barely got the margin under 20, coming only as close as 17 at 81-64 with 1:48 to play.

Marcus Morgan and Marcus Crenshaw, who combined for 0 points, 1 rebound and 2 assists at Pacific on Thursday night, bounced back well to provide 19 points, 6 rebounds and 1 assist.

Fullerton finished with a season-low 7 turnovers.

A quick rematch with UC Riverside would be the week's only game so the Titans could focus on avoiding a letdown similar to last season when they lost at UCR after beating the Highlanders by 40 points at home. This year they had a 30-point road win to try to ignore.

A finger injury sustained at UC Davis kept Josh Akognon out of uniform and while it probably helped the Titans avoid overconfidence, it certainly took a major weapon out of their offense. Akognon had scored 30 points in the Jan. 7 contest.

Pressure defense proved to be the difference as the Titans struggled to score but gradually pulled out to a 20-9 lead 11 minutes into the game. But even strong defense couldn't overcome a 6-minute scoreless stretch and the lead shrank to 20-18. A brace of 3-pointers in the final 1:17 -- two by Marcio Lassiter on his way to a career-high 17 points -- sent the Titans into the locker room with a 32-22 lead despite 11 turnovers. Holding UCR to 29 percent shooting was the key.

UCR missed its first five shots of the second half and the Titans maintained a double-digit lead despite below-par scoring from Frank Robinson and Scott Cutley, who did combine for 16 rebounds.

Junior Russell personally held off UCR in the final 5 minutes, scoring 13 of Fullerton's final 20 points. Russell had only 3 points -- the first of the game -- until his late spree of three buckets and 7-for-7 at the foul line gave him 16 to match his career high.

Cal State Fullerton had lost six games in a row to Long Beach State but the 49ers of 2007-08 bore little resemblance to the 2006-07 Big West Conference champions, which featured 8 seniors and a soon-to-be fired coach.

The Titans had little sympathy for the plight of the 49ers, who came into the game with a 4-14 overall record, a 1-5 Big West mark and two fewer players than they had the previous week due to a pair of dismissals by new Head Coach Dan Monson for poor attitudes. After showing signs of rust after an 8-day lay-off and struggling against a box-and-one defense, the Titans methodically turned a 31-24 deficit at 6:33 of the first half into an 80-61 advantage with 9:45 to play -- a 56-30 run over 17 minutes.

Probably the key basket was a long, desperation 3-point halftime buzzer beater by Junior Russell that negated a trey by Donovan Morrison a few ticks earlier and gave the Titans the momentum going into the locker room.

Akognon led the way in the first half with 13 points despite being shadowed all over the floor by Morris. The Titans exploited the holes in the 4-man zone in the second half with Frank Robinson slashing his way to 9 points and Scott Cutley adding 8 of his 14.

Fullerton was threatening to score 100 points for only the second time in the 94th meeting between the schools. But the Titans opted to run the clock down and didn't score in the final 4:57, leaving the 1962-63 century mark alone.

In a championship atmosphere in the Matadome, the Titans thrust themselves into the title picture by handing Cal State Northridge its first conference loss and its first home loss in front of an SRO crowd that included two loud and raucous busloads of Titan fans.

Fullerton beat CSUN for the eighth time in a row and fifth time in a row in Northridge despite a season-worst 4-of-24 effort from the 3-point line, a second-to-worst 22 turnovers and combined 8-for-39 shooting by Josh Akognon, Frank Robinson, Junior Russell and Marcus Crenshaw.

They did it with 80 percent shooting at the foul line, defense and rebounding but mostly on heart. They blew a 9-point lead by scoring only 6 points in the first 10:26 of the second half to fall behind, 60-52. However, they bounced back to get even at 68-68 with 4:14 to go and then got a huge 3-pointer from Robinson for a 4-point lead with 47 seconds to play.

Scott Cutley, who almost had a double-double in the first half with 14 points and 9 rebounds, left the gym a couple of times in the second half due to stomach flu and later had leg cramps. But he managed 4 points and a key offensive rebound in the final 2:45.

Kenneth Alexander and Ray Reed led a strong effort from the bench, which provided 23 points and 14 rebounds.

The Titans scored the final 8 points of the first half and the final 9 points of the game.

The Titans were seeking to avenge their only home loss to date in Big West Conference play but they were missing point guard Junior Russell, suspended for a violation of team rules.

Marcus Crenshaw was thrust into the starting role and he exploded in the second half for 21 points to get the Titans back into a game they ultimately lost in the opening minutes.

UCSB, which hadn't played in 8 days, hardly looked rusty, making its first 4 shots and 7 of the first 8 on its way to leads of 6-0 and 22-9. The Titans never fell further behind and they crept to within 7 points at the half although UCSB shot .586 from the floor for the half and 5-for-7 from the 3-point line.

Eight times in the second half the Titans got within one possession of the lead and they finally caught up at 69-69 with 4 minutes remaining.

Out of a timeout, Ivan Elliott hit a 3-pointer from the corner and two Alex Harris free throws following a Josh Akognon miss for three had the Titans down 5 and playing catch up again. They fell behind by 7 before a Ray Reed steal and basket got them back within one possession in the final minute.

Marcus Morgan (4:29) and Frank Robinson (3:15) fouled out, hurting Fullerton's chances. Still, they had a chance to tie but Crenshaw's 3-pointer with a few seconds left bounced off the rim and Fullerton saw its 4-game winning streak come to an end.

Also gone was Fullerton's chance to be 8-2 in conference play for the first time since 1982-83.

Needing a win to avoid their first 0-2 road trip since January of 2005, the Titans hoped to get off to a good start, something that didn't happen at UCSB.

They couldn't expect to duplicate what occurred against the Mustangs in Titan Gym on Jan. 10, when they hit their first nine shots for a quick 25 points. And they didn't come close.

Less than five minutes into the game it was 14-6 Cal Poly as Fullerton got only two Frank Robinson treys in its first 7 shots and the Mustangs were pounding their offensive backboard.

It was still an 8-point difference at 20-12 at the midway point of the half when the Titans extended their defense and began causing turnovers. They finished the half with a 24-8 advantage capped by a 10-0 run for an 8-point lead.

Misfortune struck early in the second period, however, when Marcus Crenshaw got hit in the nose and suffered a concussion. Ray Reed and Josh Akognon were forced to split point guard duties the rest of the way and Fullerton held off a Cal Poly rally.

The Mustangs got as close as 5 points at 42-37 but Akognon hit his only trey of the trip. Cal Poly never got closer than 6 points again, the next-to-last time at 65-59 after an 8-0 run that Robinson answered with a 3-pointer with 4:10 to play. Cal Poly made it 69-63 with 2:59 to go but Reed hit a pair of free throws and Robinson made a layup. The lead was 10 and the Titans secured it with good foul shooting.

Primed for a stretch run and with four out of five remaining Big West games at home, the Titans welcomed to Titan Gym a struggling UC Davis team. The Aggies had lost six in a row overall and 10 of 11 on the road. They had lost at home to the Titans, 88-66, on Jan. 19. It all added up to a formula for overconfidence on CSF's part and the Titans' play in the first 10 minutes showed it.

The Aggies jumped out to leads of 8-0 and 19-7. They hit 8 of their first 11 shots and the Titans didn't score until a Scott Cutley tip-in at 16:20. Unforced turnovers and a willingness to settle for the jumper combined to force Coach Bob Burton to call two early timeouts.

Gradually, the Titans got back into their game. Steals and layups mixed in with a series of 3-pointers led to a tie at 24 and Fullerton would take the lead for good at 30-29 on a Frank Robinson trey with 3:34 to go in the half.

The Titans didn't shake the Aggies until a 10-0 run early in the second half produced a 59-47 lead with 12:30 remaining. Ray Reed had an assist and two buckets in the spurt and the lead stayed double digits until the end. Fullerton's 32 attempted 3-pointers were one shy of the school record.

When news of Pacific's loss at UC Irvine arrived, the Titans were in a virtual tie for first place with Cal State Northridge.

Robinson scored 16 of his points in the first half, when he became the 18th Titan to break the 1,000-point barrier.

With a FSN Prime Ticket television audience, homecoming participants and the 1977-78 Elite Eight Titan squad looking on, Cal State Fullerton played an inspired game and knocked Pacific a game and a half out of the battle for first place in the Big West standings.

A 12-0 run over just two minutes of the second half put the Titans ahead to stay at 31-19 and they fought off a couple of Pacific rallies for their seventh win in eight contests to keep pace with Cal State Northridge, which would win later in the evening over UC Riverside.

The heroes were plenty. Scott Cutley would clinch Big West player of the week honors with another tremendous shooting performance. He also helped hold Anthony Brown down and force him into 5 turnovers. Josh Akognon regained his shooting touch and Marcus Morgan matched his career high with 13 points to go with 4 offensive rebounds. Frank Robinson had another solid game and Marcus Crenshaw provided his typical offensive lift off the bench despite a bothersome protective mask.

But the continued emergence of Ray Reed was the biggest development. He matched his Titan career high with 9 assists and scored 8 points. He had a bucket and 3 assists in the crucial 12-0 run and his “flight” over the scorer’s table in pursuit of a loose ball left an indelible impression of his desire.

The number of healthy Titan bodies continued to dwindle but the victory column continued to grow after the Titans hosted Portland State in the O'Reilly ESPNU Bracket Buster game.

Marcus Crenshaw didn't suit up after undergoing surgery on his nose earlier in the week and Scott Cutley hobbled around due to a sore back. Still, the Titans had enough firepower and their increasingly aggressive pressure defense created plenty of easy scoring chances.

The Vikings, who were riding a 9-game winning streak and already had clinched at least a tie for the Big Sky Conference title, jumped out to an early 13-7 lead five and half minutes into the game. But Fullerton then exploded for a 21-5 run with Josh Akognon and Ray Reed each scoring 7 points on the way to a 28-18 lead with 8:35 remaining.

The Titans pulled away to a 17-point halftime lead and the Vikings never got the margin back to single digits. Their last gasp came on an 11-2 run that made it 75-64 with 4:53 to play. But the Titans got two layups from Reed around a Marcus Morgan dunk shot and the lead shot back up to 17 points again.

Fullerton played only seven players in its only game of the week. Portland State had won at Northern Colorado on Wednesday night to clinch part of only the second conference championship for that school. The Vikings made 12 of 19 3-pointers in that win but made only 7 of 23 against Fullerton.

The largest home crowd of the season and a KVMD television audience gathered to witness a showdown for first place in the Big West between the 10-2 Matadors and the 10-3 Titans. It was the latest in a season the Titans had played for first place since 1976 -- a week later than last season's showdown loss to Long Beach State.

The result was similar. The Titans got outshot on their home court and fell two games in the loss column behind the front-running Matadors to virtually end their championship hopes.

The glaring statistics were in the shooting columns. Fullerton made only 3 of 22 3-point tries for its worst showing of the year and compounded it by making only 25 of a season-high 37 free throw attempts. Add in the fact that the Titans were outrebounded by 12 and CSUN made 10 of 19 treys and it's hard to figure out how it was so close.

Neither team led by more than 8 points all night. Fullerton's best lead was 24-18 midway through the first half. But CSUN rallied to take a 6-point halftime lead and led for all but a few minutes of the second half, last trailing at 58-57 with 9:15 to play.

Josh Akognon entered the CSF record book twice despite a sub-par shooting night. His second trey broke Don Leary's single-season record of 89 and his two first-half free throws tied Kevin Henderson's mark of 37 consecutive makes. But Akognon missed his only try in the second half to avoid setting a new standard.

Bouncing back from the disappointing loss to Cal State Northridge was easier since the next game was against traditional rival Long Beach State and was the home finale for six Titan seniors. The 49ers had taken UC Irvine to the final minute the night before so it seemed unlikely the Titans would be overconfident despite their earlier 16-point win at Long Beach.

The result was CSF's largest margin of victory over Long Beach in the 95-game history of the series. The Titans scored as many points in the second half as the 49ers did in the entire game. Kenneth Alexander knocked down a 25-foot 3-pointer for the final Titan points of the night and Eddie Lima scored for the first time since November.

Such frivolity didn't seem likely after the first six minutes. With Donovan Morris scoring 8 quick points and Cornel Williams netting five, the 49ers opened a 15-8 lead. But the Titans turned up their defensive intensity and the result was a 15-0 run over the next 8 minutes that put CSF ahead to stay.

Long Beach got as close as a point before falling back by six at the half. When Fullerton scored the first 15 points of the second half, the lead was 21 points at 49-28 and the 49ers never got closer than 17 points.

Scott Cutley posted season highs in points and rebounds and Ray Reed continued his great play by matching his season's best with 9 assists as the Titans finished up 11-3 at home.

On paper, it looked like an easy task for the Titans to win 20 games in the regular season for only the second time (1982-83) in the program's Div. I history. They were on the road -- not a death blow since they were 7-5 on hostile courts going in -- but playing a Cal State Bakersfield team they had beaten by 17 points in the season opener without injured Scott Cutley. The Roadrunners were playing their final home game for three seniors but had lost four in a row to fall to 8-20.

For much of the night, the premise held up. Fullerton trailed only once at 8-7 and held a lead as large as 11 points in the first half and 9 at intermission despite a 16-point half by CSUB's Demarcus Hall. When the Titans opened a 20-point gap at 73-53 with 10:26 to play, it looked like Coach Bob Burton was going to be able to rest his regulars for the Saturday finale at UC Irvine.

Bakersfield's Donald Lee spoiled that plan and almost sparked a stunning upset. The 6-foot-6 transfer from Pierce College, who was averaging 2.8 points and 2.5 rebounds and didn't even play in the first half, erupted for career highs of 20 points and 15 rebounds as the Roadrunners made the Titans sweat.

They outscored CSF 25-9 over the next 8 minutes to make it 82-78 with 2:28 to play. Frank Robinson made two free throws at 1:53 but Lee made it 84-80 with 46 seconds to go. Robinson missed a one-and-one with 36 seconds to go but the Roadrunners would miss their final five shots to waste four offensive rebounds.

Because of afternoon results, the Titans knew at tip-off time that the best seed they could get in the Big West post-season tournament was No. 3 but they still had a chance at a share of the regular season championship, a feat not accomplished in Fullerton since 1976.

Standing in the way was a UC Irvine team that had not lost on its campus courts all season. Not that any of the current Titans were aware (or born), but it was UCI which put an end to Fullerton's school-record 26-game home-court winning streak in 1984.

Thanks to an outstanding defensive effort and a balanced attack, the Titans earned a share of the title and put an end to the Anteaters' home winning streak with a wire-to-wire victory that left their conference record at 12-4 to tie with UCSB and CSUN.

Win No. 21 matched the school record for regular-season wins and the ninth "road" win tied the mark for hostile-court victories.

Fullerton jumped out to early leads of 6-1 and 14-4 as the Anteaters were making only one of their first 12 shots. But Marcus Morgan (3), Scott Cutley (2) and Josh Akognon (2) got into foul trouble and UCI closed to within 5 points at the half.

The Anteaters scored the first four points after intermission to draw within one but Ray Reed scored the game's next 6 points. UCI got as close as 50-47 with 11:44 to play but the Titans outscored the 'Eaters 6-3 before embarking on an 8-0 run that made it 64-50 with 4:37 remaining.

The No. 3-seeded Titans drew UC Riverside for their opening game of the Big West Tournament after the No. 7-seeded Highlanders had beaten No. 6 Cal Poly in a low-scoring affair.

Coach Bob Burton's fear of an advantage for the team with a game's experience on the portable court proved unwarranted when it was the Titans who broke smartly out of the gate as UCR committed three quick turnovers and missed its first two shots. Josh Akognon, after missing his first attempt, made a 3-point play and a 3-point basket and Frank Robinson dunked ahead of a 3-point play by Ray Reed that made it 11-0 three minutes in. The night before, Cal Poly didn't reach double digits against UCR until the 16th minute.

The rest of the game proved a standoff. The teams mostly exchanged baskets before Fullerton opened up a 16-point lead and settled for a 14-point halftime edge. Riverside got the margin down to a single digit at 50-41 with 14:27 to play as Larry Cunningham warmed up after a scoreless first half.

Fullerton got the lead back to double digits and maintained it until the 2:41 mark when Cunningham made a layup to get within 75-66. A Cunningham trey with 50 seconds left was UCR's last gasp at 77-69 before Akognon and Marcio Lassiter added late free throws for the final margin.

The win advanced Fullerton to the semifinals and a third meeting of the season with No. 2-seeded Cal State Northridge.

For the second night in a row, the Titans came roaring out of the gate and the rubber match of their 3-game series with Cal State Northridge proved another wire-to-wire victory.

The No. 2-seeded Matadors missed their first five shots and committed a turnover as Fullerton jumped out to a 7-0 lead that soon became 14-4. With Josh Akognon flashing a hot hand, the Titans upped the advantage to 25-9 midway through the half and it was 31-11 with 7:43 to go before the Matadors made a rally. A late 6-0 spurt cut Fullerton's lead to 38-26 with 1:56 to play and forced Coach Bob Burton to use a third timeout. But it paid off as Frank Robinson's dunk and treys by Marcus Crenshaw and Akognon fueled an 8-2 run that got the lead up to 18 points at intermission.

Northridge seized the second-half momentum immediately and got to within 10 points at 55-45 with 13:20 to play. But the Titans restored order and got the lead up to 76-53 on a Cutley jumper with 4:43 remaining. Cutley's dunk off an Akognon steal sealed the decision at 80-60 with 2:53 to play.

Win No. 23 of the season matched the school record 23 victories in 1977-78 and sent the Titans to their first championship game since 1985 to meet rival UC Irvine, which earlier Friday night won its third game of the tourney by upsetting top-seeded UC Santa Barbara.

Playing in the championship game of the Big West Tournament for the first time since 1985, the Titans found themselves in a rematch of their game the previous Saturday at UC Irvine.

But this time the No. 5-seeded Anteaters had plenty to play for, seeking their inaugural NCAA Tournament berth. The Titans, who had to win at UCI to earn a regular season co-championship, were now 40 minutes away from only their second trip to the Big Dance, the first since 1978.

For the first time in the tourney, the Titans did not lead wire-to-wire. UCI led 2-0 for 48 seconds and 6-5 for 56 more. But a Scott Cutley jumper at 15:55 put Fullerton ahead, 7-6, and triggered a 9-0 run that put the Titans in control. UCI closed to 14-11 but the Titans gradually pulled away as Josh Akognon scored 15 first-half points on the way to a 37-27 halftime edge.

UCI got a quick burst from Darren Fells to open the second half but the Titans gradually pulled away again to lead 55-38 at 10:46 after a Marcus Crenshaw 3-pointer. UCI scored the next 8 points to arouse its crowd but Akognon made a trey to trigger an 8-1 Fullerton run and the lead was relatively safe again at 63-47.

UCI went into a fouling mode and made a series of 3-pointers but the Titans beat the press and added a couple of dunk shots for a 15-point victory.

Akognon was named the tourney MVP after leading the team in scoring in all 3 games. He was joined on the all-tourney team by Cutley and Frank Robinson.

Fullerton's return to the NCAA Tournament for the first time in 30 years lasted only one game but the Titans' efforts against a mammoth Wisconsin team in no way diminished the accomplishments of the 2007-08 team.

Giving up about 5 inches and 50 pounds per man across the front line, the Titans battled the Badgers futilely on the backboards. They were outrebounded and got into foul trouble but a sensational performance by Josh Akognon kept the Titans in the game for 36 minutes.

Akognon matched his career high with 31 points (most by a Badger foe until Davidson's Steph Curry got 33) and led the team with 8 rebounds. Three times in the second half he made a 3-pointer to draw the Titans within 8 points, the last at 62-54 with 3:37 remaining, but each time the Badgers responded with a bucket or a free throw.

The game swung in the early minutes of the second half. After Scott Cutley's free throw gave Fullerton a 31-30 lead at 17:38, Frank Robinson picked up his third and fourth fouls in less than a minute. He had to sit and when he returned, the Titans were trailing, 45-34. He made a 3-pointer to make it 47-40 but then fouled out going for a loose ball with 9:53 to play.

With Marcus Morgan already burdened with four fouls, the undermanned Titans had no chance on the boards and were outrebounded 29-10 in the second half. Wisconsin's strong defense and deliberate tempo held the Titans to a season low of 56 points.

FIRST DIVISION I CSF TEAM: The Titans pose on the steps of the U.S. Capitol early in the 1974-75 season on a trip to play Providence, Connecticut and Richmond. Fullerton has made only four return visits to the East Coast but three of them have come during the Bob Burton Era. The player in front is Tim Dwyer. The second row, from left, is Head Coach Bobby Dye, Assistant Coach Mel Sims and Greg Bunch. The players in the rear, from left, are Taras Young, Andrew Jones, Paul Boskovich, John Horger, Steve Wright, Al Fruhwirth, Donny Daniels and Jim Bogdanowicz.

TITANS IN THE NBA

Cal State Fullerton has been well represented at the professional level despite the relative youth of the intercollegiate basketball program. A dozen Titans have been drafted in the past three decades and several more players have signed as free agents with the National Basketball Association.

Bobby Brown is the eleventh and latest former Titan to pick up an NBA paycheck, having signed a two-year guaranteed contract for 2008-09 and 2009-10 with the Sacramento Kings. He went undrafted in 2007 but then spent a productive season in Germany before outplaying more heralded players in Summer camp in 2008 for New Orleans.

Cedric Ceballos starred for the L.A. Lakers

Former teammate Pape Sow preceded Brown into the NBA. Drafted in June of 2004 by Miami in the second round, he was traded the same day to Toronto and made the Raptors' opening roster for the 2004-05 season. He played in 27 games and earned a 2-year contract through the 2006-07 season. He averaged 3.5 points and 3.5 rebounds in 42 games in 2005-06 but missed most of 2006-07 after suffering a fractured vertebrae.

The most prominent former Titan is late bloomer Bruce Bowen, whose professional career has been a model for perseverance and determination. Signed originally as a free agent by Cleveland in 1995, he spent a couple of years in Europe (Evreux, France, where he averaged 29 points per game), played in the CBA and was waived and resigned numerous times by several teams while crossing paths with numerous legendary coaches. He first captured the attention of Pat Riley with the Miami Heat in 1996-97, where he played in only one game before moving on to Boston. There he appeared in 91 games during the 1997-98 and 1998-99 seasons for Rick Pitino, serving primarily as a defensive specialist and playing less than 10 minutes per game. He was well traveled during the 1999-2000 season -- signed by Philadelphia, traded to Chicago, waived two days later and signed by Miami again where he was reunited with Riley. He became a starter during the 2000-01 season and averaged 7.2 points in 82 games before signing a free-agent contract for 2001-02 with the San Antonio Spurs. That year he started every game (59) except for the seven weeks he missed with a broken finger on his right hand. Not coincidentally, the Spurs went only 11-12 in his absence.

The Spurs got knocked out of the playoffs by the Los Angeles Lakers but then returned the favor a year later with Bowen leading the Spurs' charge to the NBA title. He ended up leading the league in 3-point field goal percentage while usually guarding the opponent's top perimeter threat -- the Kobe Bryants of the world. In 2005 he earned another championship ring and in 2006 his sixth berth on the NBA All-Defensive team. In 2007 he got another ring and more All-Defensive team recognition. He didn't miss a game between February of 2002 and March of 2008, an NBA best streak of 500 consecutive games, which ended with a one-game suspension by the league for kicking an opponent.

Prior to Bowen's emergence, the most recognizable former Titan was Cedric Ceballos, who became one of the league's top scorers for the Los Angeles Lakers and made the NBA All-Star team in 1994-95, where he was unable to play due to an injury. He began his career in Phoenix, returned to the Suns and then also played for the Mavericks, the Pistons and the Heat before getting cut by Denver and retiring. Since then he has coached in the WNBA, played in the ABA and done broadcasting work in Phoenix.

During his first four years with the Suns, he was known primarily for two things: winning the NBA slam-dunk contest in 1992 with his blind-folded "hocus pocus" act and scoring a phenomenal number of points when Charles Barkley was injured. Ceballos' absence due to another injury may have swung the tide toward Chicago in the 1994 playoffs.

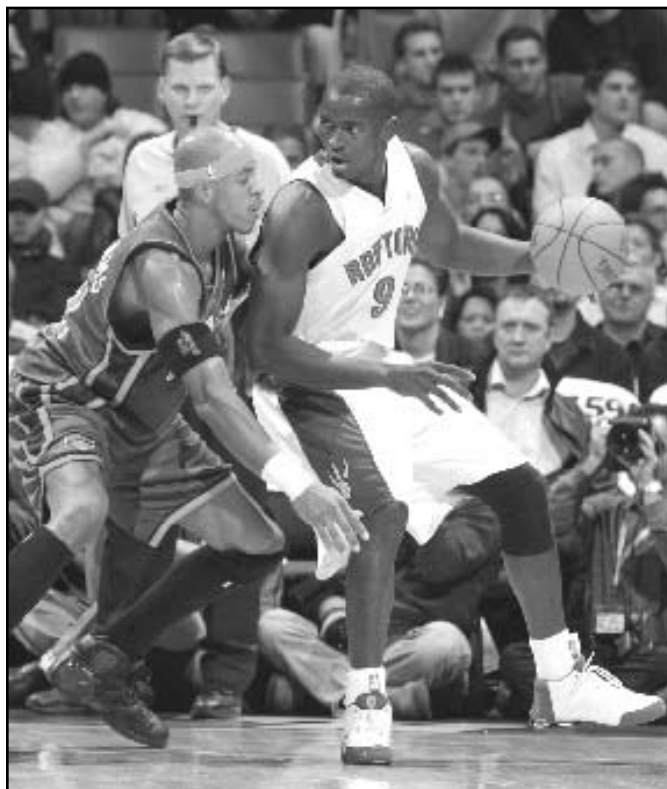

Bowen and Ceballos played together as Titans during the 1989-90 season, when Cedric was a senior and Bruce was a freshman.

Success has seemed to come in pairs for Fullerton players in the pros. The Titans hit it big in 1984 when two players made NBA rosters -- guard Leon Wood with Philadelphia and center Ozell Jones with San Antonio. Wood completed a 6-year NBA career with Sacramento on Pape Sow made his professional debut on Nov. 14, 2004, becoming the tenth former Titan to play in the National Basketball Association.

Christmas Eve, 1990. He played last in the CBA and in France and toured with Magic Johnson's All-Stars. He has spent the last 10 seasons as an NBA referee, only the second former NBA player to make that transition. Wood began his post-Titan career as the point guard on the United States' gold-medal 1984 Olympic team under Coach Bob Knight.

Other former Titans in and out of the NBA and CBA during recent years were 1988 graduates Richard Morton and Henry Turner. Morton started the 1988-89 season with Indiana. Turner, who was a teammate of Morton's in the CBA, spent much of the 1989-90 season with Sacramento. Morton was one of the top scorers in the CBA in recent seasons and has made the league's all-star team.

Other Titans to play in the NBA were guard Kevin Henderson, who played with Golden State and Cleveland; forward Mike Niles with Phoenix; and forward Greg Bunch with the New York Knicks.

Foreign leagues have featured numerous former CSF players. Recent Titans earning a living at their sport are Ralph Holmes and Scott Cutley in Argentina, Frank Robinson in Slovenia, Babacar Camara in Japan, Marcus Crenshaw in Poland and Jamaal Brown in Germany. Former center Herman (Demone) Webster, forward Kerry Boagni, forward J. D. Green, guard Aaron Sunderland, center Winston Peterson, forward David Frigout and sharpshooter Kevin Heenan are among many older ex-Titans who also played overseas.

Holmes turned down an earlier offer in Germany to help lead the Yakama Sun Kings to the 2007 CBA championship. He also was the 2007 All-Star game MVP.

Sean Williams gained fame first as an actor ("Blue Chips") and later as a member of the Harlem Globetrotters, for whom he entered the Guinness Book of World Records by dunking on a basket 11 feet, 8 inches tall.

Record Crowd

Probably the most memorable game in the history of Titan Gym came on Feb. 24, 1983, when Fullerton defeated unbeaten and No. 1-ranked UNLV, 86-78, before a record overflow crowd of 5,015 (capacity 4,200) that stormed the floor at the buzzer. Leon Wood, Ricky Mixon and Tony Neal led the way over Jerry Tarkanian's Runnin' Rebels featuring Sidney Green and Larry Anderson.

Cal State Fullerton's men's basketball team will make at least seven appearances on regional or national television in the 2008-09 season according to the Big West Conference television package announced today.

All three games (ESPN2 or ESPN) at the Thanksgiving 76 Classic in Anaheim, a road game on Jan. 8 at Cal Poly (ESPNU) and a home game on Jan. 17 vs. Pacific (ESPN2) will be carried nationally. Fullerton's game at UC Santa Barbara on Jan. 10 will be carried on FSN Prime Ticket and the home finale vs. UC Irvine on March 7 will be telecast on FSN West.

Several more national exposures are possible with the ESPNU Bracket Buster field on Feb. 21 as well as up to three games (ESPNU or ESPN2) at the Big West post-season tournament in Anaheim in mid-March.

Skewed by its turn to be the featured team in the Big West co-sponsored Thanksgiving event, Fullerton leads the conference in scheduled TV appearances. Fellow tri-champion Cal State Northridge (two national and three regional slots) and UC Santa Barbara (three national slots and one regional exposure) are runnersup. No other school appears more than three times.

All Big West Conference games home and road can be viewed via BigWest TV -- subscription video streaming. All Fullerton games are audio streamed at no charge via the CSF athletics website at www.fullertonitans.com.

Lyle Parks, Jr., Titan Hustle Award

The Titan Hustle Award was established during the 1989-1990 season by a group of Cal State Fullerton basketball boosters then known as the Playmakers. The trophy traditionally has been presented to the Titan, who, in the opinion of the boosters, has displayed the greatest amount of "hustle" on offense, defense and during practices.

In 2002, the Titan Hoop Club board of directors unanimously voted to rename the trophy the Lyle Parks, Jr., Titan Hustle Award, in honor of the long-time president of the Executive Playmakers, whose perseverance kept the basketball booster group going throughout the mid-to-late 1990's. The Executive Playmakers were responsible for successfully raising funds that were used for physical improvements to the basketball locker room and the coaches' offices.

In 1957, Cal State Fullerton became the 12th State College in California to be authorized by the Legislature. The following year a site was designated in northeast Fullerton. It was purchased in 1959, when Dr. William B. Langsdorf was appointed as founding president, the first staff was selected and plans for opening the new college were made. Orange County State College started classes for 452 full- and/or part-time students in September, 1959, using leased quarters for its administrative offices on the Fullerton Union High School campus and for its classrooms at Fullerton's Sunny Hills High School. In the fall of 1960, the college opened classes on its own campus, where it occupied 12 temporary buildings. The name changed to Orange State College in July 1962, to California State College at Fullerton in July 1964, to California State College, Fullerton in July 1968 and to California State University, Fullerton in June 1972. The first permanent building, the six-story Letters and Science Building (now known as McCarthy Hall), was occupied in 1963.

Today, there is much dramatic evidence of additional, rapid growth. Several new buildings have been completed, and enrollment has climbed to more than 37,000 - making it the most populous campus in the CSU system. Since 1963 the curriculum has expanded to include lower-division work and many graduate programs, as well as numerous credential and certificate programs. The Donahoe Higher Education Act of 1960 established the California State Colleges as a system under an independent Board of Trustees, redefined the functions of the State Colleges, and related them to both the community colleges and the University of California system.

In May 1971, Dr. L. Donald Shields, who had served as acting president for seven months, was appointed the second president of Cal State Fullerton. Dr. Miles D. McCarthy became acting president in January 1981; Dr. Jewel Plummer Cobb took office as the third president in October 1981; and Dr. Milton A. Gordon was appointed the fourth president in August 1990.

Much of the distinctive character and learning atmosphere of any campus comes from the nature and vitality of its students. Diversity, the synthesis of academic study with work and family interests, strong achievement records, and relative maturity are some of the predominant characteristics of the student body at Cal State Fullerton.

Once part of a vast orange grove, Cal State Fullerton's attractively landscaped main campus now consists of 236 acres bounded on the south by Nutwood Avenue, on the west by State College Boulevard, on the north by Yorba Linda Blvd. and on the east by the Orange Freeway (57).

The portion of Orange County immediately surrounding the campus is predominantly suburban; it includes housing tracts, apartment complexes, shopping centers and industrial parks.

Other educational institutions also are part of the immediate environment. The Southern California College of Optometry opened in the spring of 1973. It is just north of Cal State Fullerton. To the immediate south is Hope International University, a liberal arts school with a Bible emphasis, where students started classes in the fall of 1973. Western State University College of Law occupied its new campus to the immediate west in January 1975.

The Cal State Fullerton campus itself has an efficient urban layout of facilities developed to serve a predominantly commuting public. The university's modern buildings were planned so that no student needs more than 10 minutes to go from one class to another. The campus is surrounded with landscaped parking.

The first permanent building, the Letters and Science Building, was occupied in 1963. This imposing structure, master planned to serve ultimately as a facility for undergraduate and graduate science instruction and research, has been used to house other programs until they could warrant new facilities of their own. This building is now called Miles D. McCarthy Hall.

Since 1963, growth has been rapid. The Performing Arts Center was completed in 1964, the Physical Education Building in 1965, the Library Building in 1966, the Commons in 1967, the Humanities-Social Sciences Building and Visual Arts Center in 1969, William B. Langsdorf Hall (Administration- Business Administration) and the Engineering Building in 1971, the Student Health Center in 1974, the Education-Classroom Building and University Center in 1976, an addition to the Visual Arts Center in 1979, the Jewel Plummer Cobb Residence Halls and the Charles L. and Rachael E. Ruby Gerontology Center in 1988, and the Fullerton Marriott and the Computer Science Building in 1989. The Ruby Gerontology Center was the first building on campus financed solely by contributed funds; the Fullerton Marriott, a full-service hotel, resulted from a joint venture involving the Marriott Corp., the university and the city of Fullerton.

An expansion of the Titan Student Union and the Titan Sports Complex, featuring the multipurpose 10,000-seat Titan Stadium, baseball pavilion, track and tennis courts, were completed in 1992. The Titan Student Union houses a 1,200-seat pavilion, small theater, food court, pub, bowling alley and conference rooms. The five-story University Hall, with classrooms, faculty offices, and student and academic support services, was occupied in 1993, followed by the two-story Science Laboratory Center in 1994. A four-story addition to the University Library was completed in 1996, and the entire complex was dedicated as the Paulina June & George Pollak Library in 1998. The 10-story College Park building on Nutwood Avenue provides additional classrooms and office space for university staff and faculty members.

Cal State Fullerton's on-campus student-resident population more than doubled with the completion of a 440-bed student housing facility in August 2002. The new facility is adjacent to Cobb Residence Hall, an on-campus apartment complex for 396 students. A 71,000-square-foot expansion of the Kinesiology and Health Science Building was completed in 2003 and includes the Wellness Center for Successful Aging.

Construction of a new 102,000-square-foot Performing Arts Center was completed in 2006, featuring venues that include an 800-seat concert hall, 250-seat thrust theater and a 150-seat black box theater. The Nutwood Parking Structure, a five-level, 2,500-space facility opened in fall 2004; the State College Parking Structure, which contains 1,400 spaces, was completed in spring 2006.

Completed last spring was the Student Recreation Center, a 95,000-square-foot facility that features a 38-foot-by-28-foot rock wall, 22,000-square-foot multicourt gymnasium, 15,000-square-foot cardio/weight room, outdoor lap pool and indoor track. This fall, the university opened Steven G. Mihaylo Hall, the five-story, 195,000-square-foot home of the Mihaylo College of Business and Economics.

In the northeast corner of the campus is the Fullerton Arboretum, which was dedicated in the fall of 1979 in a joint venture with the city of Fullerton. The 26-acre botanical garden is a living museum of rare plants from around the world. The ecologically arranged botanical collection depicts habitats from the desert to the tropics. With its ponds, streams and wildlife, it offers a tranquil retreat from our fast-growing urban life. Its newest addition is the Orange County Agricultural and Nikkei Heritage Museum. The Fullerton Arboretum also is home to Heritage House, a restored 19th-century dwelling that serves as a cultural museum for north Orange County.

The ample freeway and surface street accommodations that approach the main entrance to the university's campus also provide comparatively easy access to the great and diverse learning resources available in Southern California: many other colleges and universities; museums, libraries and art galleries; zoos; and the wide variety of economic, governmental, social, and cultural activities and experiences that may be found in this dynamic and complex region of California and the United States.

CAL STATE FULLERTON PRESIDENT DR. MILTON A. GORDON

Dr. Milton A. Gordon was selected the fourth president of Cal State Fullerton by The California State University Board of Trustees and assumed his duties on Aug. 9, 1990.

His university leadership includes serving as vice president for academic affairs at Sonoma State University for four years, as dean of the College of the Arts and Sciences for Chicago State University for more than eight years and as director of the Afro-American Studies Program at Loyola University of Chicago for six years.

President Gordon also taught at the Illinois Institute of Technology and in the Chicago public schools and served as mathematician at the University of Chicago's Laboratories of Applied Sciences.

Nationally, President Gordon is on the board of directors of the American Association of State Colleges and Universities, a member of the executive committee and member-at-large of the Coalition of Urban and Metropolitan Universities, vice chair of the Hispanic Association of Colleges and Universities and a member of the NCAA Div. 1 Presidential Advisory Group.

He serves on the California Council of Science and Technology, as well as the Orange County Business Council board of directors, Orange County Work Force Investment Board, World Affairs Council Board of Trustees and Pacific Symphony Board of Directors. In addition, President Gordon is on the board of directors for San Diego-based BIOCUM.

The President has a Ph.D. in mathematics from the Illinois Institute of Technology, an M.A. in mathematics from the University of Detroit and a B.A. in mathematics and secondary education from Xavier University of Louisiana.

Dr. Gordon is a life-long educator whose involvement in higher education and the community is encouraged by his wife, Dr. Margaret Faulwell Gordon, Dean, College of International and Extended Education at California State University, Dominguez Hills, who has a first-hand understanding of higher education and the California State University system. The Gordons have three grown sons and three grandchildren.

Cal State Fullerton is a major regional university in a vital, flourishing area that includes Orange County, metropolitan Los Angeles and the expanding Inland Empire. The beautiful, 236-acre main campus is set in a quiet urban community in north Orange County, about 25 miles from downtown Los Angeles and about 21 miles from nearby beaches.

The university offers an affordable, high quality education with an exceptional learning environment. Students flourish in close mentoring relationships with outstanding professors and have numerous opportunities for undergraduate research, professional internships, and prestigious competitions. Students experience the dynamic environment of a metropolitan university, but can enjoy a comfortable atmosphere that feels like a small college campus. It's a place where they can easily find networks of friends, interact with faculty on a personal level, and find the support and encouragement they need to be successful.

With full accreditation for its overall program, many of Cal State Fullerton's academic programs have achieved national prominence because of a distinguished faculty and the achievements of alumni. Students can choose from 105 degree programs, including 50 at the graduate level, offered by eight colleges: the Arts, Business and Economics, Communications, Education, Engineering and Computer Science, Health and Human Development, Humanities and Social Sciences, and Natural Sciences and Mathematics. Credential and certificate programs also are offered.

NATIONAL RANKINGS & HIGHLIGHTS

- 36,018 students enrolled in spring 2008 (58% female); 37,130 students enrolled in fall 2007 (59% female); 34,927 students enrolled in spring 2007 (59% female); 35,921 students enrolled in fall 2006 (59% female); 33,783 students in spring 2006 (60% female).
- International students, representing 79 nations, number 1,191 in the fall 2007 census.
- Ethnic distribution of student body (fall 2007 census): American Indian 1%, Asian/Pacific Islander 22%, Black 4%, Hispanic 28%, White 32%, Unknown 10% and International Students 4%.
- U.S. News & World Report lists Cal State Fullerton among "Top Public Universities," ranking it No. 10 among the nation's Top Public Universities-Master's institutions in the West. The magazine ranks the university's master's degree program in nursing for nurse anesthetists, offered in conjunction with Kaiser Permanente's School of Anesthesia, No. 10 in the nation.
- Diverse Issues in Higher Education ranks Cal State Fullerton seventh in the nation in terms of baccalaureate degrees awarded to minority students (June 2007). The data supplied by the U.S. Department of Education reflects degrees awarded during the 2005-2006 academic year.
- Hispanic Outlook in Higher Education (May 2008) ranks Cal State Fullerton No. 1 in California and fifth in the nation in its listing of the top 100 colleges and universities awarding bachelor's degrees to Hispanics, based on 2007 data from the U.S. Department of Education.
- The College of Business and Economics is included in the 2008 edition of Princeton Review's Best 290 Business Schools.
- The Performing Arts Major's College Guide lists Cal State Fullerton among its "Most Highly Recommended Undergraduate Programs" for drama and musical theater, and among "Noteworthy Programs" for dance.

A vibrant university community, which includes more than 37,000 students and nearly 2,000 full- and part-time faculty members, reflects the rich multicultural diversity of Southern California. In fact, Cal State Fullerton is ranked sixth in the nation in terms of bachelor's degrees awarded to minority students, and more than half of the students are people of color.

The main campus consists of 22 permanent buildings, plus a picturesque 26-acre Arboretum and student residence halls. Completed last spring was the Student Recreation Center, a $40.6-million, two-story, 95,000-square-foot facility located west of Titan Gym. Among its amenities are a 22,000-square-foot multicourt gymnasium, a 15,000-square-foot cardio/weight room, an outdoor lap pool, a cycling room and indoor track. One of its most prominent features is a 38-foot-by-28-foot rock wall located at the center's entrance.

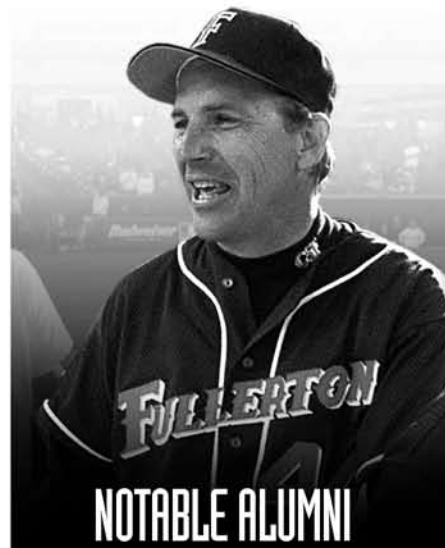

This fall, the university will celebrate the opening of Steven G. Mihaylo Hall, new home of the Mihaylo College of Business and Economics. The five-story, 195,000-square-foot structure and college are named for Cal State Fullerton alumnus, founder and former CEO of Phoenix-based Inter-Tel, a publicly traded provider of communications hardware, software and services. Mihaylo's pledges and contributions to the college not total nearly $35 million.

The university's Irvine Campus offers upper-division and graduate-level courses and provides a convenient location for students who live and work in south Orange County. Other campus satellites include the Grand Central Art Center in Santa Ana and CSUF Garden Grove Center.

An extended education program, which includes open enrollment, expands the university's resources to the surrounding communities. These include academic credit courses, certificate programs for professional development, English classes for non-native speakers of English, a learning-in-retirement program, classes for children and teens, summer camps, international programs and distance education classes.

One of 23 campuses in the California State University System, Cal State Fullerton has shaped a vital role in the growth and prosperity of Southern California. In less than 50 years, the university has awarded degrees to more than 187,000 graduates. Many are leaders in business, government, education and the arts. In addition, the university has an enormous economic impact on the Los Angeles region. As noted in the CSU 2004 study "Working for California: The Impact of the California State University," Cal State Fullerton generates $851 million in economic activity annually, which sustains more than 12,500 jobs in the region and generates more than $45 million per year in state tax revenue.

ATHLETIC TRADITION

From modest beginnings and never with abundant resources, the Cal State Fullerton Titans have achieved successes that are the envy of many older and larger institutions across the country. "Titan Pride" has been the rallying cry for 12 national team championships in seven different sports, hundreds of individual All-Americans, dozens of eventual professional athletes, numerous national coach of the year award winners, Olympic basketball players, a Miss America candidate and the subject matter of a Walt Disney film.

The tenor was set by the first intercollegiate team - men's basketball. In only his second season, Coach Alex Omalev advanced the Titans five rounds into the NAIA playoffs in 1961-62. Sixteen seasons later, the nation watched another "Cinderella" Titan Five advance to within one victory of the "Final Four" as Bobby Dye's 1977-78 team won the Pacific Coast Athletic Association postseason tournament and then beat nationally ranked New Mexico and USF to gain the finals of the NCAA Western Regional.

The basketball tradition began even stronger on the women's side. Recent Naismith and Women's Basketball Hall of Fame inductee Billie Moore coached the Titans to the national championship in 1970 and star forward Nancy Dunkle was one of her players on the women's 1976 silver-medal winning Olympic team. The most recent Titan All-American was center Genia Miller-Rycraw in 1991.

The Titans earned gold in 1984 when point guard Leon Wood directed the men's Olympic team to victory in Los Angeles. The first-round draft pick of the Philadelphia 76ers went on to a 6-year National Basketball Association career and is now a veteran NBA referee, only the second former NBA player to make that career switch.

Future NBA performers Richard Morton, Henry Turner, Cedric Ceballos and Bruce Bowen (a starting forward on the 2003, 2005 and 2007 NBA champion San Antonio Spurs) were some of the stars of the 1980s and 1990s, when the Titans made NIT appearances on both the men's and women's sides. Ceballos gained notoriety for winning the NBA Slam-Dunk contest one year while the women can point with pride to Autumn Hollyfield, the nation's top 3-point field goal shooter in 1993-94, and Koko Lahanas, the nation's scoring leader in 1994-95. Rycraw still holds NCAA records and came back from a career in Japan to earn a spot with the Los Angeles Sparks before returning to Fullerton as an assistant coach.

Gymnastics has brought Fullerton considerable fame. Former men's Coach Dick Wolfe won three college division NCAA titles (1971, 1972 and 1974) and had subsequent teams in the Top Ten at the Division I level while winning 10 PCAA titles in a row. His 1987 squad was ranked No. 1 in the nation. Coach Lynn Rogers began the women's program in 1976 and the Titans have finished sixth or better in the nation 12 times and won the national title in 1979. One-armed Carol Johnston was an All-American and star of the Disney film, "Lefty," while Tami Elliott (1984-86) won 10 All-American awards before becoming Miss Virginia and competing in the Miss America pageant.

Baseball exploded onto the national scene behind former Coach Augie Garrido by breaking the USC monopoly in the NCAA western regionals in Fullerton's first Div. I season in 1975. The Titans have gone on to win four national championships and establish a remarkable winning tradition over four decades. The Titans captured their first NCAA title in 1979 behind Tim Wallach, who would go on to play 17 major league seasons. They won again in 1984 behind College World Series MVP John Fishel, in 1995 behind national player of the year Mark Kotsay and again in 2004 behind All-American pitcher Jason Windsor, who won two games and saved a third in Omaha to cap a two-year, 8-0 post-season record. Coach George Horton twice won national coach of the year honors and current coach Dave Serrano won one once for UC Irvine.

Women also have sparkled on Fullerton diamonds. Hall of Fame Coach Judi Garman founded the softball program in 1980 and won more games (913) than any previous coach. The Titans have made eight trips to the College World Series and 26 regional appearances. They brought home an NCAA Championship in 1986 and boast three national players of the year in pitchers Kathy Van Wyk, Susan LeFebvre and Connie Clark.

The now-defunct football program made great strides in Division I-A after its humble Div. II beginnings in 1970. Coach Gene Murphy guided the Titans to two conference championships and four runner-up finishes between 1983 and 1989. Titan products included Super Bowl rookies Bobby Kemp (Cincinnati in 1982) and Mark Collins (New York Giants in 1987). Titans have had remarkable success in the Canadian Football League. Allen Pitts was the CFL's all-time leading receiver; Damon Allen, who was still active last season, is the all-time leading passer; and Mike Pringle is the all-time leading rusher.

With the loss of football, the men's soccer program filled the void in Titan Stadium. A women's squad was launched in 1993 and it coincided with a memorable men's season that saw the Titans climb as high as No. 3 in the national rankings. They were led by All-American forward Eddie Soto and competed at the NCAA Final Four, placing third. There have been four subsequent trips to the playoffs and a No. 2 national ranking in 1996. On the international level, former Titan Brian Dunseth captained the U.S. Olympic team in the 2000 Sydney Olympics. The women have won three Big West titles in the last five years and reached the "Sweet 16" of the 2005 NCAA Tournament.

There have been national titles in men's cross country (1971) and women's fencing (1974) and individual NCAA champions in golfer Paul Wise, diver Paul Gray, and runner Mark Covert. Wrestler Laszlo Molnar finished second in the nation in 1994 at 167 pounds. Heather Killeen became the Titans' first female Div. I cross country All-American in 1994, won three events at the 1995 Big West Conference track championships and was one of 10 finalists for 1995 NCAA Woman of the Year Award. Brandon Campbell was the Big West track and field male athlete of the year in 2001 after starring in the high jump, long jump and quarter mile. He also was a starter on the basketball team.

Several current and recent Titans have garnered international attention including appearances in the 2004 Olympics in Athens. Catcher Jenny Topping played for the gold medal-winning U.S. softball team while outfielder Lindsey Bashor was on the Greek team. Competing for Mexico were pole vaulter Giovanni Lanaro (2004 and 2008) and soccer player Marlene Sandoval (2004).

On the diamond, 17 Titan baseball players have donned the Red, White, and Blue with Team USA, including Christian Colon, Josh Fellhauer and Jared Clark on the 24-0 national team in the summer of 2008.

WHAT'S IN A NAME?

What exactly is a Titan? "Why do you have an elephant for your mascot?"

Those are two of the first questions that arise when a Cal State Fullerton athletic team makes its inaugural visit to an area. While the relatively young institution carved out of the Orange County citrus groves may be too new for many traditions, there are some recognized legends.

"It was the students' decision in a vote," explained Dr. Ernest Becker, founding Dean of Students, of the nickname "Titans." "More than a hundred names were suggested, and the Student Council took on the job of narrowing the list down to a few for the purposes of an election. The vote was close, with Titans narrowly prevailing over Aardvarks and Rebels."

It was a unique student body, all upper division students until 1963. There were 453 of them, mostly female, in 1959, the first year of classes at what was then known as Orange County State College.

"Even when it was decided that 'Titans' would be the nickname, there was confusion as to what it represented," said Becker. "I was thinking of a large mythological figure from Greek history, not unlike Tommy Trojan, but with perhaps straighter, more modern lines. In the same vein, the original dormitories were named Othrys Hall. There were others, however, who related the name to the Titan missile then in prominence."

Nothing official was done but then along came the "First Intercollegiate Elephant Race in Human History."

What began as a practical joke attracted elephants from universities around the nation and even Oxford from England. A crowd estimated at more than 10,000 people turned out on "Dumbo Downs" as the hastily graded field became known that spring afternoon in 1962.

To publicize the event, a circus-like elephant called Tuffy the Titan was used and it began appearing on sweaters and notebook covers around the campus. With no other mascot, the elephant was unofficially adopted. Several revisions of the caricature have been made to create a more tenacious Tuffy, or Titus as he also was called in an attempt to make him Greek. The costume that brings the mascot to life also has changed. Tuffy even attracted a female Tiffany in 1992.

The origin of the school colors also bears discussion. The students voted for royal blue and white, but the athletic equipment manager at the time thought orange was appropriate on uniforms for a school known as Orange County State College. The unofficial color was "adopted" and finally was formally acknowledged by the Athletics Council in 1987. A change to a navy blue was initiated in 1992 with a de-emphasis of the orange.

FULLERTON

Cal State Fullerton is nestled in sun-drenched Orange County, with its mountains, amusement parks, professional sports, cultural showcases and seashores among the top attractions. Students can reach ski slopes in 45 minutes and the beach in less than a half hour. Los Angeles, with its never-ending cultural and entertainment opportunities, lies just 30 miles northwest of the campus and San Diego is 100 miles to the south. The city of Fullerton itself, which has a fascinating history dating back to the late 19th century, boasts a beautiful historic downtown area that features dozens of restaurants, museums and shops.

The extensive development of the 42 miles of beaches in Orange County and attractions such as Disneyland, Knott's Berry Farm, the Laguna Festival of Arts and Pageant of the Masters, the Honda Center, Angel Stadium and the Orange County Performing Arts Center continue to make tourism an increasingly important activity. So does the Mediterranean-type climate, with rainfall averaging 14 inches per year, and generally mild days (either freezing or 100-degree temperatures uncommon) with frequent morning fog during the summer.

BRIAN QUINN

CAL STATE FULLERTON ATHLETIC DIRECTOR

Brian Quinn is in his seventh year as the Director of Athletics at Cal State Fullerton after assuming the post on January 14, 2002.

In June of 2007, he was named the Astroturf Division I, West Region, Athletics Director of the Year by the National Association of Collegiate Directors of Athletics (NACDA). The award is based upon commitment and positive contributions to campuses and their surrounding communities.

Quinn has overseen the department's successful efforts to recover from a state fiscal crisis, improve the overall student-athlete academic performance and remodel Titan Gym.

Cal State Fullerton student-athletes currently mirror the student body in graduation rate and CSF was acknowledged for its "Outstanding Degree Completion Program" for 2005-06 by the National Consortium for Academics and Sports. The department also recently received a 10-year re-certification from the NCAA.

Over the course of the last five years, the Titans have outperformed the rest of the Big West Conference in the NACDA Cup Standings, topped by four appearances by the baseball team at the College World Series. The Titans won their fourth national title in 2004 and placed third in both 2003 and 2006.

The women's soccer team also made consecutive NCAA Tournament appearances, advancing to the "Sweet 16" in 2005 and the second round in 2006, while the softball team became the first Big West school to reach the Super Regional round in 2007.

Quinn was the athletic director at Loyola Marymount University from 1985 through 1998. He then dedicated his time towards completing the Burns Recreation Center and Aquatics Center at LMU. He also directed the athletic fundraising efforts as executive director of athletic development.

During his years as A.D. at LMU, the Lions won nine West Coast Conference titles and advanced to the NCAA men's basketball tournament three times and once to the NIT.

ATHLETIC ADMINISTRATION

The baseball team advanced to the College World Series where it defeated the No. 1 seed, LSU. Women's volleyball won numerous conference championships as well and the women's crew team won the national championship. A baseball scholarship was endowed in Quinn's name at the university by the late Richard Weber.

Quinn graduated from Loyola (1963) with a degree in business administration and received his masters degree from Long Beach State. He was a long-time coach and athletic administrator at the high school level in the Irvine Unified School District and taught volleyball classes for Irvine Valley College for six years.

He was the chair of the athletic directors for many years in the West Coast Conference and was the chair of the NCAA men's volleyball committee, as well as serving on the board of directors for USA volleyball. He is in the third year of a four-year term on the NCAA Division I baseball committee and chairs several Big West committees.

Quinn was inducted into the Athletic Hall of Fame both at his high school (Serra HS) and university (LMU). He was the captain of the basketball team and MVP and three-year starter on the baseball team. The basketball team was the WCC champion and defeated USC in the NCAA tournament. He also was a member of the Balboa Bay Club national champion volleyball team. He continues to be an avid beach volleyball player.

Quinn and his wife of 45 years, Collette, live in Manhattan Beach. They have four adult children: Andrew, a teacher in Atlanta; Janet, who lives in Rye, NY; Suzanne, a teacher in Inglewood; and Maureen, who recently married. The Quinn's have 10 grandchildren — Brendan, Ryan, Owen Kiernan, Dylan, Colin Brian, Mary Frances, Erin, Maggie, Gabriel and Barrett. Quinn is a member of the Ancient Order of Hibernians.

DR. ALLISON RICH

SR. ASSOCIATE A.D./ SWA

Dr. Allison Rich began her duties as Senior Associate Athletics Director and Senior Woman Administrator at Cal State Fullerton on Jan. 3, 2005.

Dr. Rich most recently was associate director of athletics at the University of the Pacific in Stockton, Calif., where she was in charge of virtually all of the athletic department's internal affairs.

The Fullerton position had been vacant since Dr. June Kearney retired from an interim assignment on July 23, 2004. Dr. Maryalce Jeremiah resigned the position on

Apr. 29, 2003, to return as head women's basketball coach.

Dr. Rich recently joined the Executive Committee of the NCAA Committee on Athletic Certification.

Dr. Rich had been at Pacific since April of 1998. She previously was a membership services representative at the NCAA for two years. She obtained her bachelors degree from Princeton in 1991. She earned a law degree from Chicago-Kent College of Law in 1995 and her doctorate in educational administration from Pacific in 2002.

ANDERSON FAMILY FIELD

Having undergone a full remodel prior to the 2001 season, and thanks to a generous gift from local families Jeff and Michelle and Dennis and Vicki Anderson, Anderson Family Field stands as one of the finest softball facilities in the nation. The dual-diamond complex can now serve as a host site for postseason competition (it hosted an NCAA Regional in 2003) in addition to the annual 16-team Judi Garman Classic – widely regarded as the top regular-season tournament in the nation.

TITAN COURTS

A complex of 12 tennis courts located on campus is the home of the Titans' women's tennis team.

FACILITIES

GOODWIN FIELD

Goodwin Field has played host to seven NCAA Regionals and seven Super Regionals in the past nine years. A $3 million expansion project, spearheaded by a $1 million gift from Jerry and Marilyn Goodwin, has transformed the field into one of the premier collegiate facilities on the West Coast. The field now features the Wilson Clubhouse – which includes lockerrooms, a reception area and offices for the coaches – and the Doubek VIP Room. In 2005, Goodwin Field also became home to the Orange County Flyers of the independent Golden Baseball League.

TITAN GYMNASIUM

Titan Gym continues to undergo major renovations. In the summer of 2008, the entire floor was replaced and repainted, and new endzone retractable seating was installed. In the past few years, chairback seats have replaced a majority of the bleachers, portable basket supports have replaced the fold down backboards and new paint and banners have been applied to the walls. Recently completed was an expansion that features numerous classrooms, physical testing laboratories, a new upstairs practice facility, as well as additional seating. A "drop down" scoreboard over center court was installed in the spring of 2003. The facility also features practice and match rooms for the wrestling and gymnastics programs.

TITAN STADIUM

Titan Stadium is considered among the finest soccer facilities in the nation and regularly hosts professional and international soccer matches in addition to the Titan men's and women's programs. The facility, completed in 1992, was home to the Titan football program for one year before the sport was dropped after the 1992 season. The stadium is also a hot-spot for the entertainment industry and is regularly featured in television commercials and programs. UCLA also utilized the facility in 2003 for its fall football camp. The playing surface was totally renovated in July of 2005.

TITAN TRACK

Home of the Cal Sate Fullerton's men's and women's track and field teams. The track itself received a long overdue facelift in 2008, complete with a new surface, freshly painted lines and a new drainage system.

ATHLETIC TRAINING

The athletic training program at Cal State Fullerton plays a major role in maintaining the health of Titan student-athletes. Team physicians, four full-time certified athletic trainers, five certified graduate assistants and more than 20 athletic training students comprise a program that is generally regarded as one of the very best in the country.

Titan athletic training personnel specialize in preventive medicine, recognition, assessment, treatment and rehabilitation of injuries. Athletic Training Students who are admitted into the highly selective ATEP (Athletic Training Educational Program), which is administered through the Department of Kinesiology, must meet demanding requirements. In addition to taking 100 units of kinesiology and athletic training courses, they must complete five semesters and 1,000 hours of clinical rotations.

Before becoming certified, candidates must pass the national Board of Certification examination. Since 1997, nearly 80 percent of Cal State Fullerton graduates have passed on their first attempt, compared to the national rate of about 30 percent. Since the inception of the program, dozens of alumni have moved into coveted positions across the country (see TITAN ATEP ALUMNI).

JULIE MAX, MED, ATC
Head Athletic Trainer

JULIE MAX, Cal State Fullerton's Head Athletic Trainer, has been the driving force behind the development of an athletic training program that has received national acclaim. Max is in her 30th year at her alma mater since replacing her mentor, the late Jerry Lloyd. Recently, Max completed a second two-year term as president of the 35,000-member National Athletic Trainers Association (NATA), and was inducted into the organization's Hall of Fame in 2007. Max, the first female president in the organization's history, previously served a six-year stint on the organization's board of directors and a one-year term as its vice president. In 1997, Max was honored with the NATA Service Award, which recognizes outstanding service to the athletic training profession at the state and district level.

GREG VANDERMADE
Strength & Conditioning Coach

Greg Vandermade joined the Titans on May 1, 2008, coming to Fullerton from the University of Tulsa where he was an assistant strength and conditioning coach for two seasons.

Vandermade was in charge of the strength and conditioning programs for 11 sports at Tulsa and was the top assistant for football.

Vandermade began his career as a volunteer strength and conditioning coach at his alma mater, Utah State, where he earned a degree in marketing in 2004. He played offensive guard for the Aggies, earning most valuable offensive lineman honors as a senior as well as the Aggie Iron Man Award. He previously played at College of the Canyons in Valencia, California, where he earned all-state honors as well as academic All-America status.

Cal State Fullerton student-athletes have year-round access to the services offered by the Strength and Conditioning Program, under the direction of Greg Vandermade and assistant Kurt Weber. Aimed at developing speed, power, strength and endurance in Cal State Fullerton's student-athletes, the program plays a key role in the success of Titan teams.

Individual workouts are designed, implemented and regularly adjusted by Vandermade to help each student-athlete develop the stamina needed to maintain the rigorous year-round workouts associated with Division I sports.

Located inside Titan Stadium is a 6,000 square-foot weight room facility featuring eight platforms, eight squat racks, plyometric devices and nearly 8,000 pounds in free weights. The facility will service more than 300 student-athletes over the course of the year. Newly acquired space in the kinesiology building now serves as an additional workout area for the strength and conditioning program as well.

Cal State Fullerton recognizes the priority of the student-athlete's academic success. Athletic Academic Services works closely with other student support departments, faculty, and coaches to ensure the academic progress and promote general well being of the student-athlete.

The services have been created to assist student-athletes with a number of issues ranging from the development of personal responsibility and educational goals to addressing personal and social problems that are unique for our students.

The staff takes a proactive role by coordinating academic plans, study skills workshops, tutoring sessions, study hall, mentoring, and advisement. Student-athletes are also monitored on their academic progress towards graduation, provided personalized, priority advisement and registration, and alerted when their academic progress may be considered at-risk.

In addition to the academic services, Cal State Fullerton participates in the NCAA's CHAMPS/Life Skills program which is aimed at enhancing the quality of the student-athletes experience within the university setting. University 100-Life Skills is a one unit mandatory class for all incoming first-time freshman student-athletes. Monthly workshops around the five primary areas – academics, athletics, personal development, career development and community service – are coordinated specifically for student-athletes. Additional activities by students wishing to serve in a leadership role advocating on behalf of student-athletes or coordinating community-service projects can be met by participating with the Student-Athlete Advisory Committee (SAAC).

STUDENT-ATHLETE ADVISORY COMMITTEE

The mission of the Student-Athlete Advisory Committee (SAAC) is to enhance the quality of the student-athlete experience at Cal State Fullerton. SAAC is dedicated to connecting student-athletes to the university and to one another, making voluntary involvement with Titan Athletics a lifelong experience. SAAC recognizes the unique concerns and responsibilities involved with being a student-athlete. Comprehensive programming includes academic, athletic, social, career and community service topics.

Functions of Campus SAAC's:

- Promote communication between athletics administration and student-athletes.
- Provide feedback and insight into athletics department issues.
- Generate a student-athlete voice within the athletics department's formulation of policies.
- Build a sense of community within the athletics program involving all athletics teams.
- Solicit student-athlete responses to proposed conference and NCAA legislation.
- Organize community service efforts.
- Create a vehicle for student-athlete representation on campus-wide committees (e.g., student government, department committees).
- Promote a positive image of CSUF student-athletes on campus and in the community.

The campus SAAC may also serve as a conduit of communication between student-athletes, coaches and athletics administrators to improve the student-athlete experience and promote growth and education through sports participation. Concerns can be voiced and solutions offered regarding any issue that may be relevant to NCAA student-athletes. Through the grass-roots efforts of SAAC, student-athletes have the opportunity to change the face of intercollegiate athletics.

Meetings

Student-athlete representatives from each sport meet twice monthly (1st and 3rd Wednesday of each month in LH 215) to plan community service activities, develop leadership skills, and act as the voice of the student-athlete to the Athletics Advisory Board and the Department of Intercollegiate Athletics.

Events

- Annual Holiday Party at Florence Crittendon Children's Home providing gifts and activities.
- Titan Youth Sports Day-coordinating sports activities in the community.
- Student-athlete nights encouraging support for all Cal State Fullerton Intercollegiate Athletic competitions by all student-athletes.
- Ongoing Community Service Projects coordinated throughout semester.

PRESS ROOM: Room 170 in the southeastern wing of the gymnasium serves as the press room for Titan basketball. Five telephone lines are available -- two at all times and three more after the conclusion of radio post-game shows.

PRESS TABLES: Primary beat reporters, scouts and broadcasters will be located on the north side of the playing floor opposite the scorer's table.

GAME SUMMARY PACKETS: Booklets consisting of computer generated halftime and final boxes and computer generated play-by-play summaries will be distributed in Room 170.

PRESS/PHOTO CREDENTIALS: Will be issued on a per game basis only. Requests should be made as far in advance as possible. "Visiting" media may make their requests through their respective "home" SIDs. Photo credentials must be worn in plain sight at all times. Photographers may shoot only from the designated areas behind both baselines.

PARKING: Parking is available by:

- Using Lot A at State College and Yorba Linda Blvd. and paying $5 (fee goes to $8 on Jan. 1, 2009) Monday thru Thursday 7 a.m. to 10:30 p.m. and Friday 7 a.m. to 5 p.m., year round upon entry for a daily permit (no charge after 5 p.m. or on weekends). or:
- Obtaining a complimentary pass in advance from the Athletics Media Relations office.

BROADCAST SPACE: One "table" is allocated to each team's designated commercial radio station. Each position handles three persons comfortably. One complimentary line is available in most cases. ISDN lines must be ordered.

TELEPHONES: There is one telephone at the press table -- (714) 278-5700 -- which must be kept free for messages, out-of-town scores, etc. Additional telephones CANNOT be installed at the press table due to the physical limitations of the building. Please call if you have special telephone needs.

LOCKER ROOMS: Are located off the hallway on the north side of the playing floor. Coach Bob Burton will conduct his post-game interviews in the equipment manager's office just outside the Fullerton players' locker room, which is CLOSED to the media. Players will be brought to the office area upon request after a reasonable cooling-off period.

WEBSITE: Cal State Fullerton maintains its own athletics web site with the goal of providing event coverage as soon as it happens. Please check it out at www.FullertonTitans.com.
