HEAD COACH AL MISTRI

Al Mistri is in his third decade as men's soccer coach at Cal State Fullerton yet he maintains the passion and commitment to improving the program that he had in his rookie season in 1981. As a part-time Titan coach while still teaching at Damien High School in LaVerne, he kept the program vibrant in the 1980s. His appointment to a full-time coaching position and the construction of Titan Stadium in the 1990s allowed him to establish the program as a perennial national title contender. And now in the new century his aim is to increase the presence of Titan soccer in the community.

"We put the men's soccer program on the map, so to speak, in the 1990s and now it's time we make it a more concrete factor in the university and the community," said Mistri, who has compiled an impressive 254-179-37 record in 23 seasons while playing the strongest competition he could schedule.

"We've brought in and developed quality players and always played an exciting brand of soccer. A wide-open style has been our trademark and now there's an outlet for our players to play professionally. We've had eight or nine players at a time making a living at soccer. We've also reached for a unique audience that includes a lot of first-generation college students."

Mistri launched the Titan women's soccer program in 1993, but relinquished control of that team prior to the 2001 season to concentrate on the men's squad.

"With more time and sufficient funding and staffing, we can finally see all the players we want to see in recruiting," he said. "I have two ex-Titan assistants on the staff -- Bob Ammann is from the 1980s and Adam Reeves is from the 1990s. We are well beyond just being survivors here."

Titan soccer has long been successful on the pitch with an all-time Div. I winning percentage of just under .600 (316-220-50, .582). But the support and respect for the program hasn't been as good. There were five head coaches during the six seasons prior to Mistri's arrival. Even then, the team seldom got new uniforms and the laundry was done in the Mistri residence.

But the 57-year-old native of Bologna, Italy, can see tangible progress. Local bus rides long ago gave way to flights for tournament appearances across the country. The Titans play a truly national schedule with a trip this year to South Bend, Indiana, continuing the tradition of recent East Coast junkets to Florida, New Jersey, Vermont, Virginia and South Carolina. They've also competed in tournaments in Texas, Kentucky, Colorado and Washington in the past 10 seasons. And, of course, there was a memorable summer trip to Italy prior to the 2003 season.

"To be the best, you must play the best," says Mistri of his scheduling philosophy. Fullerton annually opens the season with a Labor Day Weekend Tournament that typically features teams boasting recent NCAA playoff appearance (both UCLA and Oakland in 2004). The Titans always play UCLA at least one each season and this year they again face a total of nine matches against schools who were in the 2003 NCAA tournament.

Since Titan Stadium was erected for the 1992 season, the Titans are 82-22-8 (.768) at home and 143-87-17 (.613) overall. With better players has come the influence of professional soccer, bringing both plusses and minuses. Products of the Titans' men's program are now scattered on numerous professional rosters and Brian Dunseth and Joe DiGiamarino were members of the 2000 U.S. Olympic team, giving Mistri four Olympians including soccer Hall of Famer Rick Davis (at Damien HS) and former Titan Mike Fox.

"I'm OK with the professional situation," says Mistri, who has seen several stars leave for pay before their eligibility had expired. "It's an outlet and a boost for soccer. It's part of what we are about."

The Titans reached a new zenith four Springs ago when senior Duncan Oughton, who already had graduated in seven semesters, was selected in the first round of the MLS draft by the Columbus Crew. Oughton also was Cal State Fullerton's male scholar-athlete of the year for 2000-01.

Mistri, who is surpassed only by fencing Coach Heizaburo Okawa (25th season) in campus coaching seniority, is ranked 22nd in victories among active Div. I head coaches and 38th all-time. He boasts five trips to the NCAA playoffs in the past 10 years with a 7-6-1 record. His best season was in 1993 with a 16-7 mark as Fullerton won three successive road playoff matches and reached the Final Four at Davidson, North Carolina. Mistri's 1986 team won the Pacific Coast Athletic Association championship to earn him his first NCAA trip.

He has coached dozens of professional players at Fullerton including U.S. Olympian and National Team pool player Mike Fox, who also played for the Wichita Wings (MISL); Bob Ammann of the Edmonton Brickmen, Los Angeles Salsa (APSL) and a team in Neuchatel, Switzerland; and Lewis Garcia of the Los Angeles Kickers. More recent professional players include MLS veteran goalkeeper Mike Ammann, who began his professional career with a stint with Charlton, a First Division team in England; Paul McDonnell, Ken Hesse and Ricky Rodriguez with the 1997 Anaheim Splash of the Continental Indoor Soccer League and recent MLS players Duncan Oughton, Brad Wilson, DiGiamarino, Peter Lak, Joey Franchino and Dunseth. Antonio Martinez (Dallas) and Colby Jackson (New York/New Jersey) both were selected in the 2000 MLS draft. Oughton also is a member of New Zealand's national team which defeated rival Australia two years ago.

Mistri attended the University of Bologna in Italy before coming to Southern California, where he graduated from Cal Poly Pomona in 1970. He received his U.S. Soccer Federation "B" coaching license in 1973 and his "A" license in 1976. Mistri was at the helm of one of the top high school programs in Damien of LaVerne. In a 10-year stint, Mistri posted a 190-40-14 record while participating in the CIF playoffs nine times. Two of his top players were Mike Hunter and Rick Davis. Hunter played for the Los Angeles Lazers in the MISL and Davis debuted at 19 years of age for the New York Cosmos of the NASL and was the captain of the U.S. National Team along with being a U.S. Olympian in 1984 and 1988. Al and his wife, Nikki, live in Fullerton. They have two adult children -- Michelle, a graduate of UC Santa Barbara, and Jeffrey, a graduate of Cal State Fullerton.

Assistant Coach Bob Ammann

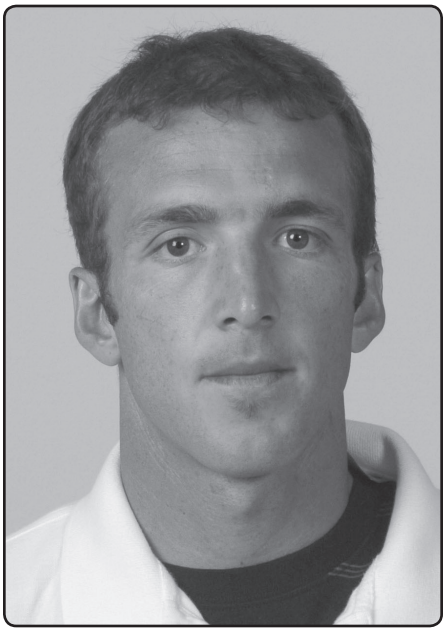

Bob Ammann is in his 14th season as an assistant coach at Cal State Fullerton, his tenth on a full-time basis. His tremendous experience as a coach, professional player and former Titan has been a tremendous benefit to the coaching staff. His experience as a first-class goalkeeper has been of particular value to the Titan squads.

Ammann, 39, graduated from Cal State Fullerton in 1986 after a storied playing career (1983-86) as a Titan under Head Coach Al Mistri. He posted 12 career shutouts including six in the 1986 season when he helped the Titans capture the Pacific Coast Athletic Association championship. His best goals-against average was 1.250 in 1985, his junior campaign.

Ammann played at the professional level for Neuchatel Xamax of the Swiss First Division in 1989 and 1990. He also played for Brighton and Hove Albion F.C. in England, the Edmonton Brickmen of the Canadian Soccer League and the Los Angeles Salsa of the American Professional Soccer League.

Born on May 27, 1965, the Mater Dei High School (Santa Ana) graduate was followed to Cal State Fullerton by younger brother Mike, who also was a goalkeeper for the Titans (1990-93). Mike is a veteran of Major League Soccer, playing in 2002 for D. C. United.

Bob and his wife, Liz, live in Corona.

Graduate Assistant Coach Adam Reeves

Adam Reeves returns to the Cal State Fullerton men's soccer program as a graduate assistant coach after a four-year hiatus.

A two-year letterman for the Titans in 1998 and 1999, he transferred to the University of Washington to complete his soccer eligibility. He played one season at left back for a Huskies' team that advanced to the second round of the NCAA Playoffs. He then returned to Fullerton and earned his bachelor's degree in kinesiology in 2003.

Reeves, 25 on Sept. 9, played in 12 matches for the Titans as a freshman and started in all 18 of his appearances as a sophomore in 1999, helping the Titans to a 14-5 record. He had 8 assists to tie for the team lead.

Reeves has coached for three years with the Fullerton Rangers Soccer Club, where he began his coaching career handling the boys under 11 and under 15 squads. He recently began work at CSF on his masters degree in kinesiology and hopes to pursue a full-time collegiate coaching position.

Currently a Placentia resident, Reeves played four years at Rio Mesa High School in Oxnard and was team co-most valuable player in his junior and senior seasons.

"More weapons. Much improved."

That's Coach Al Mistri's tight-lipped appraisal of his 2004 Cal State Fullerton men's soccer squad. He knows Titan Soccer has failed to live up to typically high expectations in recent years. Action, not words, are what counts.

The Titans are coming off three consecutive seasons of being one victory under the .500 mark. In 23 seasons, Mistri has had only three other losing records.

Equal parts aggressive scheduling, major injuries and a lingering inability to put the ball in the back of the net have left the Titans with a combined record of 25-29-6 over the past three campaigns. Each year Fullerton came up one victory shy of at least an even slate and, in Mistri's belief, an NCAA Tournament bid because of the strength of schedule.

"We worked hard to improve ourselves and we might have succeeded," said the nation's No. 22 winner among active Div. I coaches with a 254-179-37 mark. "The only way we will be measured, however, is the bottom line -- win and loss record. We think we have more quality depth to handle the injuries and we are happy with the people we have."

The Titans' roster has a significantly unfamiliar look with 14 newcomers joining eight returning lettermen (6 starters) and three returning squad members. Obviously, new faces will find themselves in the limelight.

"Jose Barragan (transfer from Compton College) may be the best player on the team," said Mistri, who recruited the junior as a goalkeeper but will have him playing defender when he isn't in the net in relief of veteran Sam Reynolds. "He gives us a physical presence -- with muscle, vision and strength. We also have some added size and skill in German Moreno (Cabrillo High School in Long Beach), whose abilities belie his freshman status.

"And Jani Valtonen is more mature than most players. He played with some of the top amateur clubs in Finland.

"We also have a good left back in Alejandro Diaz (Animo Leadership HS in Inglewood). These are all positions where we have had troubles in the past few seasons."

Fullerton has averaged less than 30 goals over the past three seasons with a Mistra Era low of 23 in 2003. The previous three Titan teams averaged 53 goals a season. Returnees Ignacio Cid (6 goals, 3 assists, 15 points) and Marco Rodriguez (2 assists) will be key in reversing the trend.

"Ignacio is vastly improved," said Mistri of last year's No. 2 scorer and honorable mention All-Big West Conference selection. "He lost some weight and is much more active. And with our new strength on the back line, we are able to move Marco up to an attacking midfield spot where he belongs."

Fullerton is most experienced in the net. Senior Reynolds is back for his fourth season, his third as the starter, a role he filled in all 20 matches last season. His career goals-against average is 1.47 to go with 210 saves while allowing 66 goals.

"Sam is the man," said Mistri.

Other veterans are starting midfielder Sean Gallinger, backup goalkeeper Matt Cowan, part-time forward Andrew Sam and starting defender Amir Shafii. Junior forward Eugene Brooks, who played in all 20 matches last season, is probably lost for this season due to recent foot surgery. Redshirt defender Anthony Dedeaux and junior forward Brent Barnes, who played in only five matches last year, complete the list of returnees.

Mistri hasn't backed off on his scheduling. Nine of last year's matches were against teams which eventually gained the 48-team NCAA Tournament field and there's nine more from that field on the 2004 schedule. Highlights include the annual match with UCLA and hosting Stanford and California in the Titan Classic in mid-September the weekend after competing against defending national champion Indiana and host Notre Dame in a tournament in South Bend.

And then there's the increasingly rugged round-robin Big West schedule. Defending champion Cal State Northridge edged UC Santa Barbara by one point last season and both advanced beyond the first round of the NCAA Tournament bracket. They share first place in the pre-season poll conducted by the coaches, who spread the first-place votes among four different schools and gave two to the Titans, who were picked for third place.

"Anyone can win it. It's by far the most balanced it's ever been," said Mistri, the dean of the group.

BIG WEST CONFERENCE

The Big West Conference enters the 2004-05 academic calendar for its 36th year of operation but only its fourth since 1991 to feature men's soccer. After a mandatory two-year wait after the reformation of the soccer alignments the Big West will again have an automatic berth into the NCAA Tournament, where both Cal State Northridge and UC Santa Barbara advanced in last year's bracket.

Over the past three and a half decades, the conference has strived for athletic and academic success and this year will be no different. A total of 10 teams will compete in 17 sports with six -- Fullerton, UC Irvine, Cal State Northridge, UC Riverside, Cal Poly and UC Santa Barbara -- again vying for the men's soccer crown with a 10-game home-and-away round-robin schedule.

The longest-running conference member is Long Beach State, which was one of the original members of the league when it was formed back in 1969. UCSB, another original member, is tied for the second-longest tenure, with 32 years vested in the conference (the Gauchos left the conference for two seasons in the mid-70s). Pacific has also been a member for 32 years, joining in 1971. Three other members joined in the mid-to-late1970s including Cal State Fullerton (1974), UC Irvine (1977) and Utah State (1978). The next pair of current members joined in the mid-90s as Cal Poly and Idaho came into the league for the 1996-97 season. The current alignment was formed just four years ago when Cal State Northridge and UC Riverside were admitted as full-time members. The roster will change next year when Idaho and Utah State depart and again in 2007 when UC Davis is admitted.

The Big West was formed as the Pacific Coast Athletic Association on July 1, 1969. However, the unofficial history of the conference pre-dates that point of time, extending back to 1967.

Cal State Los Angeles, Fresno State, Long Beach State and San Diego State were members of the California Collegiate Athletic Association, long recognized as the nation's premier college circuit.

That conference was classified college division, and therein lay a major source of dissatisfaction. Between 1963 and 1969, the four institutions captured 16 national titles. The number swelled to 21 if the mythical football championships were included.

With no more territory to conquer at the college division, a step up to university ranks had to be considered. Therefore, officials of the seven colleges and universities assembled as a body in May of 1969, tied up loose ends and less than two months later the PCAA was born. The name was changed to the Big West for the fall of 1988.

HISTORY OF TITAN SOCCER

While the Cal State Fullerton men's soccer program reached unprecedented heights in the 1990s, success was not lacking in the formative years. Coaches and players in the 1970s and 1980s laid the groundwork for the national success the Titans now enjoy. Unfortunately, most of the pre-Div. I records are lost and there are only snippets of the program's accomplishments in the early seasons.

The Titans' trip to the Final Four at Davidson in 1993 for a third-place national finish was not the closest they have come to a national championship. In 1973, CSF went 15-3 and advanced to the Div. II title game in Springfield, Massachusetts, losing to Missouri-St. Louis, 3-0. Coach Dennis Checkett had served as assistant to Coach Paul Fardy from 1970 through 1972 and he led the program into Div. I status in the 1975 and 1976 seasons.

The Titans made annual trips to the NCAA playoffs in the early 1970s, but probably the single most memorable game in early Titan soccer history occurred at the Santa Ana Bowl on Oct. 30, 1974. A near full-house crowd of more than 6,000 showed up to see the playoff-bound Titans play the UCLA Bruins to a 1-1 tie. Another memorable moment occurred in 1974 when the Titans took advantage of a whistle blown in the stands. Host San Diego State's players relaxed and the Titans scored an easy and decisive goal for a 3-2 win at the old Aztec Bowl.

Unofficial pre-Div. I season records:

Morrison Gave Titans Presence in Old NASL

Dave Morrison was featured on the cover of the Nov./Dec., 1976, issue of titanSports, a magazine produced by the CSF communications department. "He could become the best goalkeeper ever to come out of California, he's that good," said his coach, Dennis Checkett. Morrison was born in Seattle but grew up in Livermore and Fountain Valley, California.

Dave Morrison was one of the earliest Titans to advance to the professional ranks. A four-year standout as goalkeeper for the Titans from 1975 through 1978, he was a member of the Los Angeles Aztecs of the North American Soccer League from 1978 through 1980, when the league ceased operations.

"I didn't play much, but it was an honor just to be around the great players and our coach, Rinus Michels," said Morrison, who currently manages an L.A. Fitness Center in Fountain Valley. "My most memorable moment was a playoff game at Edmonton (Drillers) when he sent me in for a shootout. That's when you had one player line up 35 yards out and try to score. I stopped him and we won."

Eddie Soto, right, who returned as a coach for three seasons, was the Titans' all-time leading scorer with 96 points and all-time leading goal scorer with 38 goals until Duncan Oughton surpassed him in 2000. Many of Soto's goals came courtesy of assists from Titan career leader Matt Bradbury (1992-95), below, who played three years (1992-94) with Soto and amassed a total of 29 assists.

Titans' Olympic Representation Grows

Mike Fox - 1984

Joe DiGiamarino - 2000

Brian Dunseth - 2000

Mike Fox (1979-82) was the first Titan to make a big name for himself in soccer upon graduation. He was on the U.S. Olympic team in 1984 and the U.S. national team from 1985-87. He played with numerous professional teams including the New York Cosmos of the North American Soccer League.

In August of 2000, the Titans' Olympic ranks swelled to three with the selection of 1995 & 1996 teammates Joe DiGiamarino and Brian Dunseth to the U.S. squad. Dunseth was named team captain by Coach Clive Charles. Fullerton joined UCLA and Virginia (two each) as the only college programs with more than one product on the squad, which became the first American team to advance to the second round.

Through the years with Gerard Kennelly -- as a Titan soccer player, assistant coach and, currently, a detective for the Los Angeles Police Department.

TITANS IN THE PRO RANKS

JOE GIBLIN/Columbus Crew/MLS

The Cal State Fullerton men's soccer program has been well represented at the professional level in a variety of venues and the advent of Major League Soccer (MLS) has provided another opportunity beyond college soccer for players. According to Soccer America, about 70 percent of MLS players have collegiate experience and only five schools (UCLA, Virginia, Fresno State, Indiana and Southern Connecticut) had more products than Cal State Fullerton play in an MLS game in 1998.

Head Coach Al Mistri and his coaching staff are aware of the new opportunities after college for players and they work to create an environment at Fullerton that will benefit everyone.

"The quality of our schedule is a clear indicator of the professional opportunities that players have here at Cal State Fullerton," said Mistri. "We take a serious approach for our training and our overall level of the program guarantees exposure for our players."

The Titans have regularly competed against "A" League teams such as the Orange County Waves (formerly Zodiac) in pre-season exhibitions and the Los Angeles Galaxy of MLS in spring action. The Galaxy, which played many of its matches in Titan Stadium before the opening of the Home Depot Center, also has used Titans as "enemy" players in scrimmages in Titan Stadium.

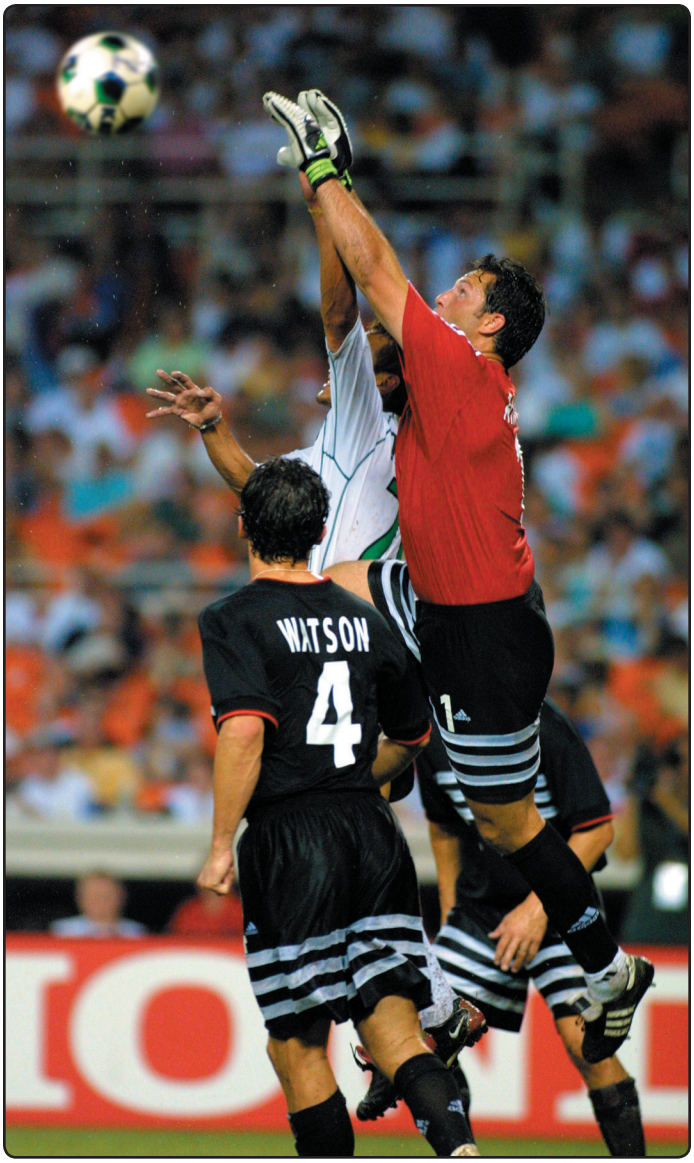

The Titans had four players on MLS rosters in August, 2003, in Joey DiGiamarino of the MetroStars, Brian Dunseth of Dallas, Antonio Martinez of the Galaxy and Duncan Oughton of Columbus. The list grows to six if you add New England's Joey Franchino and San Jose's Josh Saunders, who finished up at Washington and Cal, respectively.

Mike Ammann (Kansas City) and midfielder Brad Wilson (Los Angeles) both played in the MLS' inaugural season. Ammann returned home after spending a number of seasons with Charlton, a member of England's First Division. He played in 2000 for New York/New Jersey and was the leading vote getter for the All-Star Game. Wilson also spent some time in Germany with F.C. Saarbrucken.

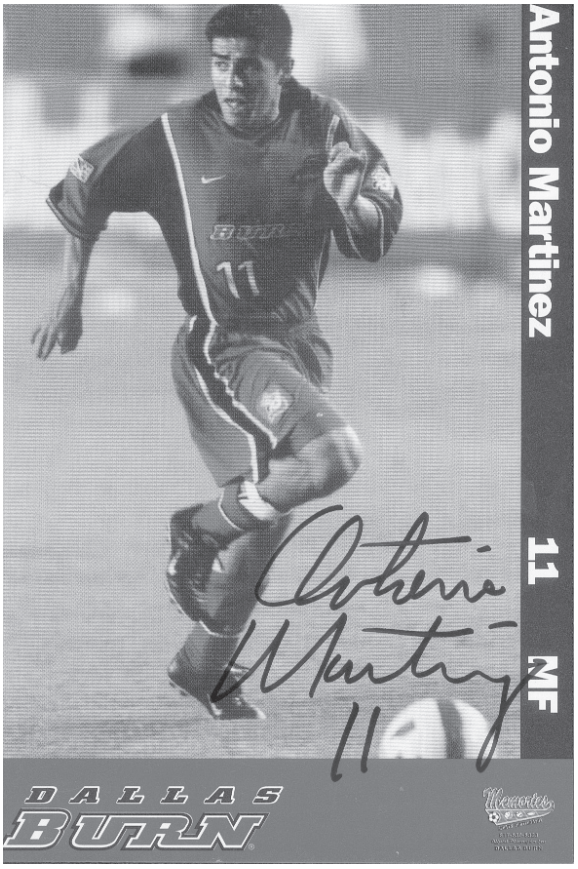

The Waves, the "farm team" for the Galaxy, played their home games at Santa Ana Stadium and featured as many as five Titans in the lineup at one time including former assistant coach Eddie Soto and Peter Lak, who also has been on the Galaxy. Others have included Colby Jackson, Paul McDonnell, Ricky Rodriguez, Art Temblador, Sheldon Thomas and Ken Hesse.

Indoor soccer also has some Titan connections. McDonnell, Hesse and Rodriguez played in 1996 for the Anaheim Splash of the Continental Indoor Soccer League at the Arrowhead Pond of Anaheim.

Perhaps the best-known Titan was Mike Fox, whose career at CSF ran from 1979 through 1982. He debuted professionally for the New York Cosmos, joining former Titan goalkeeper Dave Morrison in the Lower right, Mike Ammann was a 7-year veteran of the MLS, tending goal for D.C. United until stopped by an arm injury.

This page, clockwise, from left: Antonio Martinez developed into a star with the Dallas Burn but was traded to the Los Angeles Galaxy. He now plays for Necaxa in the Mexico 1st Division.

Ralph Perez was the Titans' head coach in 1977, but he recently was an assistant coach for the Los Angeles Galaxy.

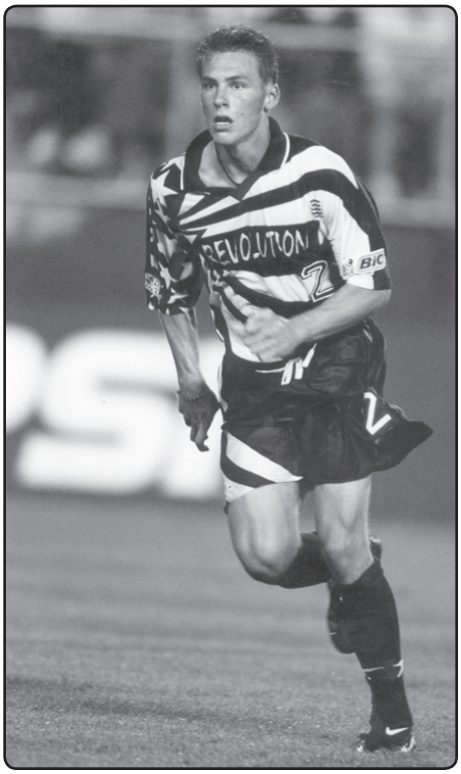

Brad Wilson, lower right was a member of the Galaxy during the MLS' inaugural season.

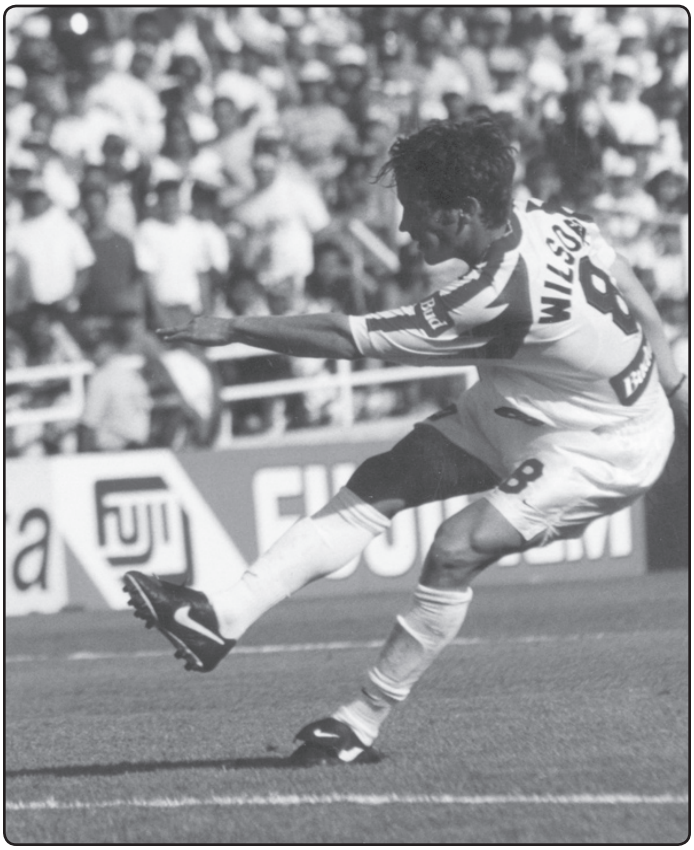

Brian Dunseth, shown below in a New England uniform, was a seven-year veteran of the MLS. He currently plays for Boden BK in the Sweden 2nd Division.

North American Soccer League. Fox played in the Major Indoor Soccer League with the Las Vegas Americans (1984-85), Wichita Wings (1985-90) and the St. Louis Storm (1991). He also spent time with the California Emperors (1990-91) and the Los Angeles Salsa (1992-94).

Ammann's brother and current assistant coach, Bob, was also a pro standout. After his Titan career (1983-86), Bob made his first pro start for the Los Angeles Heat of the American Professional Soccer League. He then went to Europe where he played for Brighton, a Second Division team in England. His career continued with the Edmonton Brickmen of the Canadian Soccer League and Neuchatal Xamax, a First Division team in Switzerland.

TITAN STADIUM

As Cal State Fullerton soccer establishes itself as one of the nation's elite programs, the cornerstone can be seen in the form of Titan Stadium. Completed in 1992, the 10,000-seat facility has been called by many "one of the finest soccer facilities in the nation." With deference to the much larger but fan-unfriendly Rose Bowl, site of the 1994 World Cup and 1999 Women's World Cup, Titan Stadium was the finest soccer facility in Southern California until the completion of the Home Depot Center in Carson, the new home of the Los Angeles Galaxy.

Titan Stadium features 2,000 chairback seats and 2,500 bleachers with backrests in the western grandstand and about 5,000 seats on concrete steps along the eastern sideline. The pitch has an underground drainage system that allows it to be almost perfectly flat and it is of maximum width and length -- 75 x 120 yards. The main press box seats more than 50 and there are 10 booths for broadcasting, hospitality, etc.

The stadium shell was completed on Jan. 15, 1992. The first event was commencement on May 30, 1992, and the first soccer activity was a scrimmage between Fullerton and Biola University on Aug. 22, 1992. The first collegiate soccer game was Fullerton vs. UC Santa Barbara on Sept. 5, 1992, followed that evening by Fullerton vs. Cal State Northridge in football. During the summer of 1998, the field level locker room was completed and concessions stands and restrooms were built on the eastern terrace.

During the months leading to the 1994 World Cup, Titan Stadium played host to several international exhibitions featuring the United States team. The Colombian team trained at Fullerton and several other nations used the facility after the Colombian team was eliminated.

In 1993 and 1994, Titan Stadium served as the home of the Los Angeles Salsa of the American Professional Soccer League. Los Angeles lost to Colorado, 2-1, in the 1993 APSL Championship held in Titan Stadium.

In recent years, the soccer slate has included many international exhibitions and Los Angeles Galaxy and women's pro matches.

In 1994, Cal State Fullerton hosted its first NCAA tournament games ever when the Titans played, and defeated, the University of San Diego and the University of San Francisco in the first two rounds of the tournament.

The stadium is only part of the Titan Sports Complex, which was financed by a unique arrangement with the city of Fullerton and an on-campus Marriott Hotel. A baseball stadium seating 3,500, a two-diamond softball complex seating more than 1,000, an all-weather running track, renovated tennis courts and an auxiliary soccer field all were part of the original $10 million project that has seen more than $4 million in improvements.

With its proximity to Hollywood, Titan Stadium has become a favorite film location for movies, commercials and video games. Numerous professional stars from many sports including soccer's Mia Hamm have been featured. The latest major studio movie production to utilize Titan Stadium was "Rocky and Bullwinkle."

ATHLETICS FUND-RAISING

Investing in Our Student-Athletes

Because Cal State Fullerton is a state assisted and not a state funded institution, the need for resources has steadily increased. Given recent budget issues in the state of California, private support to maintain our Men's Soccer Program is crucial.

Primary goals of the Department of Athletics are to provide a quality academic and competitive experience for our student-athletes while being financially self sufficient.

The following are common questions regarding how Titan Athletics fundraising is structured.

Question:
What is the Titan Athletic Club?

Titan Athletic Club investors are the foundation of Cal State Fullerton's Department of Athletics' success—raising us to new levels of leadership and quality. By making a contribution to Titan Athletics, you can help us recruit, coach and educate the nation's finest student-athletes. Annual gifts to any athletic fund or sports specific need are crucial and make you part of our Titan Athletic Club.

Question: Can I make a contribution directly to the Men's Soccer Program at Cal State Fullerton?
Each year, Fullerton alumni, parents and friends support our Men's Soccer Program by contributing to the Men's Soccer Fund. Annual gifts help support scholarship initiatives, maintain outstanding athletic programming and improve the educational environment for our student-athletes.

Question: How are gifts to the Men's Soccer Program used?
These contributions help pay for our operating budget, which includes scholarships, salaries, team travel, equipment and recruiting. Gifts to the Men's Soccer Fund allow coaches to meet the team's top priorities at their discretion.

Your gift to the Men's Soccer Fund directly and immediately benefits our Men's Soccer Program.

Your contribution, no matter how large or small, helps attract some of the most gifted student-athletes in the world to our doors—and makes their education affordable.

Your participation guarantees that we will continue to ensure the preeminence of learning.

Your investment helps us reach our goals of competing at the highest level and to graduate all of our student-athletes.

Your generosity says that together we can be catalysts for change as the future unfolds for our student-athletes.

On behalf of the entire Titan Athletic family, we thank you for your continued support and for joining our team.

Question: What are the different ways that I can make a gift to the Men's Soccer Program during a fiscal year (July 1 – June 30)?

Cash Gifts:
Checks should be made payable to the University Advancement Foundation. Visa, Mastercard, Discover and American Express are also accepted.

Other Gifts:
We can accept your support through additional avenues including stocks, bequests, trusts, life insurance, personal gift annuities, charitable remainder trusts, real property, securities, and real estate.

Matching Gifts:
Many employers sponsor matching gift programs and will match any charitable contributions made by current or retired employees. This is an easy way to double or even triple your gift. To find out if your or your spouse's company has a matching gift policy, contact your personnel or human resources office.

Endowments:
Endowments are an excellent way to ensure the continued support of Titan Athletics. Each year the earned interest is used to pay scholarships while the principal is reinvested. An endowed scholarship can be in your name or the name of a loved one. You can also designate which specific program you want to support or contribute to existing endowments.

Gifts-In-Kind:
We can accept certain gifts and services that would reduce expenses. These are subject to University Advancement approval and IRS regulations.

Online Giving:
You can make your gift online at www.fullerton.edu/tac/.
