What we're up to—

What a season! Now that we are about a month out, I think we've all caught our breath and truly absorbed what this group has accomplished. Being the first team to make the NCAA tournament is an incredible honor, and we are deeply aware of the amazing teams and women who paved the way for us. We are so grateful for the overwhelming support we received—it truly made an impact on the team. We also appreciate those who traveled to New Haven to watch us play live. Although we came up just short, there is no doubt that each player gave their all on that court.

Post season workouts were high level as we built upon where we left off and began to form our new identity and are proud of the continued effort this group puts in. They've gotten a taste and are eager not only to return to the NCAA next season but to go even further!
