The Star-Spangled Banner

Francis Scott Key, Alumnus, Class of 1796

O, say can you see, by the dawn's early light,
What so proudly we hailed at the twilight's last gleaming –
Whose broad stripes and bright stars, thro' the perilous fight
O'er the ramparts we watched were so gallantly streaming!
And the rocket's red glare, the bombs bursting in air,
Gave proof thro' the night that our flag was still there;
O! say, does that star-spangled banner yet wave
O'er the land of the free, and the home of the brave.

Panayiotis (Peter) Kanelos comes to St. John's with a distinguished record in higher education. After earning degrees from Northwestern University (BA), Boston University (MA), and the University of Chicago (PhD), he taught at Stanford University, the University of San Diego, and Loyola University Chicago. He served most recently as dean of Christ College, the Honors College of Valparaiso University. He founded the Cropper Center for Creative Writing at the University of San Diego and is a noted Shakespeare scholar, having served as the resident Shakespearean in the Old Globe MFA Program and the founding director of the Interdisciplinary Shakespeare Studies Program at Loyola University Chicago. An outspoken advocate for liberal education, President Kanelos is as passionate about teaching as he is about writing and scholarship.
