

THE

GADFLY

VOL. 11, ISSUE 14 THE ST. JOHN'S COLLEGE INDEPENDENT STUDENT WEEKLY JAN. 19, 1981

We Got In Free

Hey! Read this! At 10:30 Saturday night, almost without warning, an amazing event occurred. Did you know that every two minutes somewhere in the world an amazing event takes place? Wonder what it was. Anyway, we weren't there, but we were somewhere. In fact, we were in F.S.K. Having a rock concert. With other people.

The name of the band was The Smash. There were four of them: a bassist, a guitarist, a drummer, and a keyboardist. Unfortunately our list of names was stolen in our blind drunkenness. Ah! the injustice of the world and the people in it! They had an impressive array of electronic equipment in tow, courtesy of the friendly folks at "a very good sound company." Unfortunately, the actual name of the company was lost with my shirt. Most lamentable substance! The entire affair was videotaped. This reporter was impressed by the show's level of professionalism.

The whole thing was as tight as a bunny! According to Beethoven, the group's key-depressor, its objective is to be pop. For better or for worse, they succeed. Some of their original tunes are effective, although their devotion to the Phil Spector Wall of Sound obscures many of them. Of their borrowed material, "Browned Eyed Girl" was better than the original and "Sweet Little Sixteen" not as good. "Roadrunner" sounded like something out of outer space. The drummer was good; hats off to him.

If one were to judge the value of a band by the number of pelvic revolutions per set, this group would be right up there. A little less cool

cont. p. 2

Princeton, Anyone?

PRINCETON APPLICANT MAKES A SUPREME EFFORT, BUT IT'S ALMIGHTY HARD TO GET IN

PRINCETON, NJ (CPS) -- God has applied to Princeton.

Hoping to be accepted to the Class of 1985, God wrote a "personal statement" sent in December to the Princeton Admissions Office that He would like "experience first-hand what college life is presently like." He added that it did not seem right that He listen in on courses when He has not been admitted.

The application was brought to the attention of James Wickenden, director of admissions, who reported to the Princeton Weekly Bulletin that the candidate entered his name only as "God." In describing Himself, God checked both male and female for gender and checked all possible ethnic origins, in addition to writing "You name it!" next to the ethnic origin response marked "other."

Wickenden said he was not surprised at the applicant's test scores, which included perfect 800's on both the math and verbal portions of the SAT. However, He hadn't fared quite as well on the College Entrance Examination Board's achievement tests. An error on the relativity question on the physics achievement test dropped the score to only 760. On the application, though, God resolutely maintained "Einstein is wrong," perhaps proving that to err is divine.

In biology, He scored 770 because His answers on the evolution question were also marked as incorrect.

In the essay portion of the application, God wrote His academic and intellectual interests included "discreetly helping and a bit more fool might have been in order. Let's face it, rock and roll is a joke. The guys who started it were just looking for a good time and, if you can't laugh about it, it's bound to annoy you.

cont. p. 2

Matthew Whedon '84 &
Coldwell Daniel '84

PRINCETON

people and listening to prayers.

"I take advantage of dreams and apparent accidents or mistakes (the realization of the structure of benzene and the discovery of penicillin are good examples of each) and get to be of service to mankind," he elaborated.

Also included in his "non-academic activities" were "arranging the weather," which takes up 168 hours each week, as does "listening to prayers." Additionally, God reported spending 14 hours per week "turning day into night" and another 14 "turning night into day."

Although a federal privacy statute dictates that Wickenden cannot release any information contained in admissions applications, he told the Weekly Bulletin he thought it appropriate in this case to "be responsive to a higher law." He acknowledged that this application was "the first of its kind" that he had seen.

"A couple of fictitious applications have been submitted over the years," he said, "but those were of a different nature because they involved human applicants."

The admissions office has no idea where the application came from, but said that the question received much speculation from students. The director has not received any applications involving fictitious persons since that time, and does not expect that this incident will trigger any other practical jokes.

"Everyone regarded it for what it was: a clever ruse," he said. "I hope it made people laugh."

In releasing the information about the candidate, Wickenden noted that a separate application had been included in the envelope. Even God, it seems, cannot escape certain human conditions. He applied for financial aid.

-- CPS --

PRIMAL SCREAMS

CPS--If nothing else, December exams helped push a somewhat new campus fad halfway across the country to St. Louis, where thousands of Washington University students joined a mass primal scream during exam time.

Developed over a decade ago by Dr. Arthur Janov as an individual therapy, primal scream therapy has become a popular exam-time means of venting frustrations among groups of students. Until recently, most primal scream groups have been at eastern schools.

A college scream consists of anywhere from two to thousands of people gathering together, usually at night, simply to scream away their bottled-up anxieties.

Over 2000 students and faculty members gathered in Washington University's common square in St. Louis during last December's finals period, and sustained their screams for half an hour. Dr. Max Okenfuss, a Russian history professor at Washington, told the Associated Press that he hadn't witnessed such cohesive action in a campus situation for over a decade, but back then the issues were not as self-directed.

"Involvement in their own examinations is to these students what the war was to the generation of the late '60's," he commented. "This is the kind of self-generated therapy that's been missing from campuses since then."

Not all onlookers take such a cheery view of the activity. Nightly screams involving an average of 500 participants at Cornell University prompted charges of harrassment from dorm officials and threats of further legal action from townspeople.

Cornell's Scream began with only seven freshman leaning out of their dorm windows and yelling to relieve their anxieties. Within a few days, a primal scream club had been formed with a few dozen members. After that, recalls David Bremner, one of the original seven, "things got out of hand."

Soon 500 people were raising their voices in scream for two minutes beginning at 11 p.m. Bremner described the event as "an occasion for crazies to yell out anything they wanted," including racial slurs and obscurities. Screammers were charged with harrassment, and Ithaca residents threatened action if university officials did not put an end to the practice.

Other organized screams have remained a bit more tame. Colgate University students have established a practice of screaming for about one minute on each night of the three-day reading period that precedes finals. Informally organized by use of mimeographed announcements, Colgate's scream usually involves from five to a few dozen enthusiasts. No formal complaints have been made to the university, however, and no action has been taken. In fact, Colgate students encouraged their neighboring school, Hamilton College, to take up the practice.

Involvement at Hamilton has been minimal, as at Colgate and a few other smaller eastern schools, but to dedicated screamers, nothing does the trick quite like a primal scream.

"The scream is terrific," said an Indian student now at Washington University. "I wish everyone could get their frustrations and their misunderstandings expelled this way."

(At St. John's, when asked what he thought of primal scream therapy, one upperclassmen replied, "Just wait 'til the week when essays are due.")

QUOTABLE QUOTES

The care and skill which people are required to exhibit in their conduct has two degrees: that which is due from persons generally, and that which is due from persons occupying positions which mark them out as being exceptionally reliable with reference to the matter in question. A person of the latter class... is liable for even a slight deviation from the high standard to which he holds himself out as attaining, i.e. for "ordinary negligence." Although, as a matter of fact, he may have done his work as well as he could, yet he is liable for his failure to do it better...His assumption of duties for which he is unqualified is in itself negligence.

-- Jurisprudence, T.E. Holland, 11th Ed., pp.112-113

A government becomes unjust by the fact that the ruler, paying no heed to the common good, seeks his own private good. Wherefore the further he departs from the common good the more unjust will his government be.

-- De Regno, Ad Regen Cypii, St. Thomas Aquinas, edited by I.Th.Eschmann, p.14

It's the best fellowship I ever had. But I'm not sure how good it is for the students...

-- Attributed to a former tutor, discussing St. John's with a student of his at Yale

Justice is the set and constant purpose which gives to every man his due.

-- The Institutes of Justinian trans. Moyle, p.3

The teacher takes care that man may learn the truth, and the tutor sees that he lives according the reason.

-- De Regno, St. Thomas, p.59

Where old men have no shame, there young men will most certainly be devoid of reverence. The best way of training the young is to train yourself at the same time; not to admonish them, but to be always carrying out your own admonitions in practice.

-- Laws(V729), Plato, trans. B. Jowett

He that is to be over others ought in heart and countenance to show that he has strength sufficient to embrace, as it were, the breadth of the whole people in the arms of his good works, and to protect them, as being more learned, more noble, more prudent, and more excellent in every virtue.

-- Policraticus(V.6), John of Salisbury, trans. J. Dickinson, publisher Knopf

Since a judge is considered to have knowledge of a case, an ignorant man does not possess the authority of deciding matters of which he is ignorant, and for this reason should he affirm or deny, his decision ought not to stand, nay, it could be the more vigorously opposed.

-- Opus Majus, Roger Bacon,
trans. R.B. Burke, p.26

The faculty is, then, responsible for the discipline of study and the order of learning...To be a tutor is daily to confess ignorance.

-- What are the Beliefs and Teachings of St. John's College?, Eva Brann, pub. The Collegian Press(May 1975), pp.5&9

Can you be righteous unless you be just in rendering to things their due esteem? All things were made to be yours and you were made to prize them according to their value.

-- Centuries of Meditation, Traherne, I.12

"Roaming unrest of the spirit"... manifests itself in verbosity, in unbridled desire "to burst forth from the citadel of the spirit into diversity"; in inner restlessness, in instability of place as well as instability of resolution, and especially in the insatiability of curiositas...

It reaches the extremes of its destructive and eradicating power when it builds itself a world according to its own image and likeness...

-- The Four Cardinal Virtues, Josef Pieper, Notre Dame Press, p.201

How many students feel there is simply too much for them to do, too much even to begin to do it well...but one blames oneself since it could not be the fault of "The Program"? This can leave students feeling guilty, frustrated, and angry; they can too easily become cynical, distrustful of their own thought and the thought of others.

-- Article by Joan Silver, response to Ms. Brann, p.19

(see Brann quote, above)

The main effort of both the deceived group and the deceivers themselves is likely to be directed toward keeping the propaganda image intact, and this image is threatened less by the enemy and by real hostile interests than by those inside the group itself who have managed to escape its spell and insist on talking about facts or events that do not fit the image. Contemporary history is full of instances in which tellers of factual truth were felt to be more dangerous, and even more hostile, than the real opponents.

Between Past and Future,
Hannah Arendt, p.235

Submitted by Michael David Bloom '78

YOU CAN'T GET A CHEERFUL ASSAY FROM A SAD ASS

My bed is full of eraser crumbs,
the pillow tastes of salt;
The papers sifting across the floor
smell vaguely of hops and malt,

And cigarettes. Oh, ghastly weeks!
With no foreseeable pay-off!
I wonder should I fast and pray
or take another day off?

B. Bowser
Chairman, Rub-It-In Committee

COUPON

SUBMARINE HAVEN

Featuring
the Finest

SUBS

and

PIZZAS

In the Area

Fast Counter or Carry-Out Service

SPECIAL OFFER!

Bring in this Coupon and get:

 75¢ OFF ***
On a LARGE PIZZA

Offer good through February 1st

TRY OUR DELICIOUS SUBS TOO!

The SUBMARINE HAVEN is on WEST
STREET right off Church Circle

UNDER NEW MANAGEMENT

Lecture Review

EMERSON STRING QUARTET

Haydn Quartet in C Major, Op. 20 No. 2
 Bartok Quartet No. 6 (1939)
 Beethoven Quartet in F Major, Op. 59 No. 1

The program began with a charming quartet by Franz Joseph Haydn. Unfortunately, the seemingly polished performance neither supported the emotional content nor observed the finer technical aspects of the piece. The elegant simplicity of Haydn requires meticulous attention to detail. The ensemble failed to balance the four voices adequately. This was particularly noticeable in the exposed passages. In the third movement, the unisons were frequently not in tune. Furthermore, at times the ensemble seemed like four separate voices only incidentally sounding together, rather than four harmonious voices. The quality of the ensemble seemed at its best during the fourth movement, when the music was most vigorous.

The performance of Bartok's Quartet No. 6, however, was considerably better. It seemed the ensemble gave more serious consideration to this piece than the previous one. The Emerson String Quartet realized the depth and complexity of the piece in their moving performance. In this quartet, Bartok makes full use of various string techniques (i.e. glissando, pizzicato, and harmonics) without a hint of gimmickry. The third movement, which is particularly striking, employs a number of contrasting devices, including a curious interplay between tonality and modality. The frequent juxtaposition of pizzicato and glissando produces an eerie, twisted effect. Although playful at times, a dark serious quality looms in the background. The fourth movement can only be described as profoundly sad. It is a question of deep conviction, unsettled and unresolved.

The program concluded with Beethoven's F major quartet. The ensemble exhibited good melodic and dynamic phrasing as well as sensitivity and flexibility concerning the pathos of the piece. However, the performers did not take full advantage of variations of instrumental tone, imperative for passages where transparency of sound is required. Moreover, a tension between the four voices is necessary for a fine performance of Beethoven. This dynamic quality was missing from the ensemble's performance because each voice lacked individual character.

Nonetheless, one should not look a gift horse too closely in the mouth. Friday night's concert was, on the whole, quite good.

Saturday night's performance by The Smash, if nothing else, demonstrated that mediocrity can be an art form. Sig Sorenson described the multi-media event: "It's the only band I've ever seen with a rhythm guitar, rhythm piano, rhythm bass, rhythm drums and singer -- these guys really have it down." Other highlights of the evening included a discussion with Mr. Coss, who was promoting the purchase of a "polity pig" to be the college's mascot and to be used in a Reality greased pig chase. "Hell, pigs are really smart. We'll teach it tricks and take it to all the games. There's plenty of room down on back campus for it to run around in."

Jonathan Edelman '83

The
RAMS
 HEAD

Lemon

33 West St.

268-4545

Beer Night: Monday, 7-12 All Beer: $1.25
 Wine Specials Self-Service Sandwiches

TEN-FOR-ONE TICKETS WILL BE KEPT AT THE RAM'S HEAD

MEN'S CLOTHING - ACCESSORIES - SHOES

LADIES' BLAZERS - SKIRTS - SLACKS

Alterations and Tailoring Service for Men and Women

Johnson's
 "On The Avenue"

Corner Maryland Avenue
 and State Circle
 Annapolis, Maryland 21401
 Phone: (301) 263-6390

Letters

TO THE EDITOR:

One of the sure signs of our decaying civilization is the increasing tendency of people to turn inward, to wallow in solipsism of the present moment. I leave it to the psychologists to explain why, though I suspect it is a mixture of fear and a youth-oriented culture that has made a fetish of feelings. I have grown used to the signs in my own students, who are, for the most part, marginally prepared rural Minnesotans, but it is disillusioning to see the same signs in the authors of pieces in THE GADFLY. They are there in poems that can't crawl out from under the weight of an ego that forces them into very small compass as well as in the comments from students, past and present, who harangue the tutors to make them more solicitous of students' feelings.

I would have thought that involvement with The Program, the books, and the life of the dialogue would have forced attention outward to the world, to ideas and problems that may not have any immediate or direct bearing on the self. But such seems not to be the case--judging from the sample of writers found in the last few issues of your paper.

Please do not disillusion me further. Send no more copies and let me hang on to the hope that St. John's still is exceptional and its students out of the ordinary.

Thank you.

Sincerely yours,
Hugh Mercer Curtler
Class of 1959

"Everything For The Smoker"

56 Maryland Avenue
Annapolis, Maryland 21401

Francis Keller
Phone: 283-2066
Ball: 269-0642

TO THE STUDENT POLITY:

A pressing social engagement caused us to be late to last Tuesday's D.C. meeting, which, as it happened, never occurred at all. As there was no particularly urgent business to attend to, we are not at all displeased. However, we had hoped to make two announcements to the polity, which we will instead make here.

First of all, we would like to announce that the President will be at home on Wednesdays at 4:00 to all visitors. Following Mr. Weigle's example, we wish to receive members of the polity who wish to speak to the President, or hear a report on the State of the Polity. We live in 210 West Pinkney, and hope to entertain as lavishly as our modest accommodations will allow.

We would also like to announce the President's Read-A-Student-To-Sleep Service. We hope through such a service to help give the oral tradition more prominence at St. John's. This week we shall read your choice of Wind In The Willows or Anna Karenina. (By appointment only.)

Next week's meeting will be on Tuesday at 9:30, as usual. We promise to attend punctually and invite all delegates to do so also. The meeting with the administration will be on Thursday at 2:15.

Your friend,
John Q. Moron
Student Polity President &
King of the Bromiliads

SALE!

30% - 50% OFF

FINE JEWELRY, IMPORTED DRESSES,
BLOUSES, SKIRTS, SLACKS, BATIKS,
BRASS, AND MANY IMPORTED GIFT ITEMS.

FASHNIQUE... import boutique
181 Main Street

Late Movie

Friday 11:15 Free

Rules of the Game- Jean Renoir (French w/ English subtitles)

Jean Renoir's classic commentary on modern society, (circa 1939). A French country weekend provides an excellent backdrop for the social gymnastics skillfully executed by the guests. The superb filming and moving action remain fresh and alive. A classic not to be missed.

Movie of the Week

Sat. & Sun FSK 8:15 $1.

LOVE & DEATH starring Woody Allen and Diane Keaton. (Color, no subtitles)

This film is dedicated to anyone, the Seniors in particular, who ever picked up War and Peace and couldn't put it down fast enough. A great parody!

Hitchcock

Wed, 8:15 FSK Free

The Lady Vanishes- starring Margret Lockwood and Michael Redgrave.

The mysterious disappearance of an elderly woman and the search thru Europe that ensues weaves an excellent tale of intrigue and suspense. One of Hitchcock's best.

Delegate Council

D.C. MEETING, TUESDAY, JAN 13, 1981

Present: Auerbach, Miller, Berry, Dempster, Casasco, Melli, Ficco, Connors.

1. We talked about the possibility of attaining skating rights at the Academy and decided to bring it up with the Deans. Ms Casasco played the voice of doom and warned against broken legs, fights, drunks, etc.
2. St John's has been invited to march in the Preakness Parade on May 10, 1981. Thus, get your kazoos, hats, and day-glo paint together and bring your ideas to the Delegate Council. There are no tryouts, so the weirdest idea will probably get the most attention.
3. The fire drills have been terrible. Pres Auerbach therefore is making arrangements to take all of the fire chiefs to a fire department to heighten awareness. He then appointed himself chairman of the Visit the Firehouse Committee, and then
4. read his junk mail, which was.
5. Mr Dempster announced that there are two openings for membership in the Astronomy Club. Contact him if you are interested.
6. Hey, if you don't want things to get ripped off from your room, lock the door.
7. In keeping with Mr Weigle's tradition, Pres A will be at home for visitors from 4-5:30 Wed pm's. Come by and talk over Vodka and Milk.
8. Also, in keeping with the oral tradition of St John's, Pres A announced that he will read anybody to sleep (no, not with these notes, you'll have to do that on your own) by appointment. This week's readings are the immortal Wing in the Willows, and the immoral Anna Karenina.

R.E. Miller, '83
Polity Sec'y

LAURANCE LTD. & LAURANCE LTD. WOMAN

-- WINTER SALE --

Save 25% - 50% and More on
WARM WINTER WEAR

THE SALE GOES ON!

Just in Time for the
REAL WINTER

LAURANCE LTD. & LAURANCE LTD. WOMAN

43 & 46 Maryland Avenue

D.C. MEETING WITH THE DEANS 1/15/81

Present: Leonard, Milner, Sparrow, Talley,
Miller, Brower, Auerbach.

Visiting: Daly

1. Hm, so where's Johnny? Beats me. Well, would you like to take charge in his absence? Sure. I guess the only thing he wanted to tell you was that he wants to take a field trip to the firehouse. Why? To encourage fire awareness, improve morale, woof, woof. Laughter from the Hierarchy. Well, I'll sponsor a trip to the city dump, said the Dean. Why? Encourage people to clean up their rooms. Mirth, leading to
2. The opening of the door and the arrival of the real D.C. President.
3. Ms Leonard would like it known that the Jan Freshmen (FEBBIES) will arrive next Wed. To maintain the Heraclitin flow, she is leaving next week to go to lands far off. She wished us well, and we wished her well, and with everybody well.
4. Mr Milner said that he has no news yet on the skating question, but is dubious. Suggested sweeping off College Creek, which has been done in the past, and well, whatever.
5. Dean Sparrow said that he wished that the heads of student organizations would check with Ms Miller in Carrol-Barrister before planning any functions, as she has the MASTER calendar. If this is done, then the problems, such as the Political Forum lecture taking place during the Deans' X-mas party will be avoided. Thank you.
6. Mr Daly, offering copious apologies for not being sure he was talking to the right people or not, wanted the deans to know that he felt the core groups are too big this year and are, as a result, counterproductive in part. The Dean said that he thought this was for the sake of facilitating a smoother Don Rag Week, but that he would talk to other bigwigs about it and see watz wut.

R. Miller, '83
Polity Sec'y

Announcements

FROM THE PLACEMENT OFFICE

Seniors--We have received the current registration for the PACE. This is the Professional and Administrative Career Examination. Jobs filled through this test are trainee positions with the potential for advancement to higher-level professional, administrative and technical jobs. Your score on this test places you on a list of candidates who are eligible for federal employment. A high score places you high on the list. Outstanding scholarship also gives you additional credit in the rating process. There are commercial publications designed to help you prepare for this examination such as the one by ARCO. Naturally, competition is very intense for these positions, but this year the government expects about 800 appointments to be made from PACE. Competition is keenest for Washington, D.C. Opportunities are the most plentiful in Chicago, New York, Philadelphia and San Francisco.

The schedule is: Application period-January 19, 1981 to February 13, 1981

Testing period-March 7, 1981 to May 2, 1981

Students who are interested in law school--On January 20th from 12-4, the Director of Admissions of the University of Maryland Law School, James Forsyth, will visit us. You can learn about admission to law school, applications, the law school test, job placement, and the study of law, as well as about this particular school. This would be a good time for juniors to get information.

Legislative Internship--A last minute intern position has opened up at the Maryland General Assembly. This can only be filled through the placement office, and only by a student whose academic standing is very solid, as it requires at least 15 to 20 hours per week. These positions, however, offer good experience, and there is a stipend of $400. If you are interested, see me immediately.

Marianne Braun
Director of Placement

GOING TO SANTA FE?

Members of the Freshman, Sophomore, and Junior Classes:

Please read this if you are thinking of transferring to Santa Fe next academic year.

Because it can happen that the same amount of financial aid is not available for a given student on the Santa Fe campus as on the Annapolis campus and vice versa, Mr. Bart, the Dean in Santa Fe and Mr. Sparrow have agreed to give students wishing to transfer to either campus as much information about the financial aid situation on the other campus as possible before they make their final decision to transfer.

It is, accordingly, in order to allow time for mailing and processing, necessary to begin the transfer procedures relatively early. Please note these deadlines. They are common to both campuses.

1. By January 14, you should have filed the FAF with the Princeton Office of the College Scholarship Service.
2. By February 27, you should have filled out and given to my secretary, Mrs. Caryle Mills, a transfer application form.
3. By March 31, you will have heard from Mr. Bart whether your transfer application has been approved and from Ms. Drennon how much financial aid she can offer you in Santa Fe.
4. By April 2, you should have decided whether you want to go to Santa Fe and you should have notified both me and Mr. Bart of your decision and sent your $100 deposit to the Treasurer of the appropriate campus.

Please come to see me if you have any questions.

Sincerely,
Nancy R. Winter,
Registrar

AUDITIONS FOR THE BALD SOPRANO

THE BALD SOPRANO, by Eugene Ionesco. Directed by William Hill. Auditions for Ionesco's view of the banality of suburban English life will be held Wednesday night, January 21 at 7:00 and Thursday afternoon, January 22, at 3:30. Performance will be February 21 and March 1.

DIRECTORY CHANGE

Susan Maguire 19A Randall St. 267-6388

COVER CONTEST WINNER

Miss Laura Trent, '82, submitted the winning entry for the 1981 Parents' Weekend Brochure. Her entry will be featured on the College Relation Bulletin board.

ISRAEL

I have material on Israel for students interested in spending a summer, semester, or year in Israel (kibbutz programs, ulpan programs, work/study, etc.)

Fell free to contact me.

Jonathan Gold #45
206 W. Pinkney

WALTZ PARTY

To welcome the January Freshmen (FEBBIES) to St John's, the next Waltz Party will be held in the Great Hall on Saturday, Jan 24 at 10:00 pm. There will be a practice session at 4 pm Sat to teach the basics to beginners. Experienced waltzers are invited to help with the instruction. Please note that the WINTER BALL will be Feb 21, after Essay-Writing period.

Mike Henry

FRESHMEN AND SOPHOMORES

All sophomores are requested to pass a test in the operations of elementary algebra and trigonometry. The reason for this requirement is that in the spring of the sophomore year, and later, the math tutorial presupposes familiarity with these operations. The description of the content of the examination, along with some worked-out examples, is available in the bookstore.

All students interested in transferring must have passed the algebra and trigonometry exam to be eligible to transfer.

The last two algebra and trigonometry tests this year will be given on Sat, Feb 21, and Sat, Apr 18.

Edward G. Sparrow
Dean

THE FEBBIE SEASON APPROACHES

Since, as liberal artists, we must needs be "conscious of (our) social and moral obligations," I am pleased to invite each of you to stop by the Admissions office on Wed., Jan. 21. This opportunity to extend your hospitality by conducting these freshest of freshmen to their respective hostelries will be made the more sweet with the partaking of coffee and nuts of dough.

Drop by the Admissions office anytime during the day, though 9am, an early time for some, marks the arrival of most of our new neighbors and, I hope, their neighborly guides.

Prospective guiding, always an interesting pastime is yet available to those gentle foax who will be unable to attend, or not satisfied merely with the welcoming, Wednesday, of our February class. A call to the Admissions office (x20), or Scott Buchanan (x40) would suffice. Thankyou.

-Scott Buchanan.

JUNIORS AND FEBBIES TO DINE ENSEMBLE

Juniors: We would like to introduce entering freshman to the civilized side of the dining hall on their first day on campus. Will you please dine with them on January 21 at 6:30? The meal will be for the January Freshman and Junior classes only. It is the mid-winter version of the meal you had on your first night on campus with that year's seniors. Please call the Admissions office soon to let us know if you will be there.

-John Christensen
Director of Admissions

P.S. The Sophomores will wait on you.

SOPHOMORES TO WAIT ON JUNIORS AND FEBBIES DINING ENSEMBLE:

Sophomores: The Admissions office needs volunteers to wait on the Juniors and Febbies. They cannot afford to pay. Last year several students volunteered anyway. Will you help out this year? It will be a separate sitting for Juniors and Febbies only, on Wed., Jan. 21 from 6:30 to 7:30. Waiters need to appear before 6:30. It's a great way to meet all the Febbies, and even some Juniors. Please call the Admissions office right away if you can help. Thankyou,

-J. Christensen.

WITHDRAWING OR TRANSFERRING?

Please notify the Office of College Relations of your forwarding address if you will be withdrawing or transferring second semester. If we do not receive your official notice, any mail for you will be sent to the address you gave on the Fall Registration form.

Thank you.

The Office of College Relations

inti

Imported Clothing and Jewelry
138 Main St, Annapolis
267-8060

Clip this Ad and receive 15% Off
Open 7 Days

Sports

MEN'S by Bryce Jacobsen

VOLLEYBALL

Jan. 12...Spartans d. Druids(5-15, 15-17, 15-12, 15-12, 15-10, 11-15, 15-1). This was a crucial win for the Spartans, inflicting the first loss on the Druids, and putting the two teams in a tie for first place. The Druid B's keep on winning, but their A's could not get things together, for the most part...and they just "died" in the last game.

Jan. 14...Spartans d. Guardians(15-17, 12-15, 15-8, 15-11, 15-4, 15-6). The revitalized Spartans beat a team that had humbled them earlier in the season, 4-0. The Guardians now have two losses. They play the Druids again, but must hope that somebody else will beat the Spartans.

Jan. 15...Druids d. Hustlers(15-2, 17-15, 8-15, 15-3, 8-15, 15-13). The weaker teams are becoming stronger...or vice versa. The Druids had no trouble with the Hustlers in November, winning easily 4-0. But now their B's had to struggle, and their A's split four games.

The rest of the volleyball season could be fraught with interest and surprises.

BASKETBALL...Jan. 17

Spartans-55, Greenwaves-41. The Waves made it interesting for a period, hanging close at 13-16. But then the Spartan B's gained another seven points...and the momentum was definitely with the Spartans. They outscored the Waves 16-12 in the last period. Messrs. Ficco and Heyssel ended up with double digit scoring. Mr. Schoener would have, if he had made one more foul shot.

Hustlers-76, Guardians-63. A rather interesting game. The Guardian A's won the first period 25-19, and the last period, 28-21. But the Hustler B's were sensational, winning by 36-12! Messrs. Cabral, Coss, Edwards, Klipper, Smith, Stachiewicz and Vincent wracked up more points than any B team has ever done!

With about a minute or two left in the game, the Guardians had pulled to within four points. But Time was wending its inexorable way...and the Guardians were reduced to fouling. The Hustlers capitalized on this, padding their lead at the very end.

LEAGUE STANDINGS:

Basketball	W	L	TP	Volleyball	W	L	TP
Druids	3	0	9	Druids	4	1	13
Hustlers	3	0	9	Spartans	4	1	13
Guardians	1	2	5	Guardians	3	2	11
Spartans	1	2	5	Hustlers	1	4	7
Greenwaves	0	4	4	Greenwaves	0	4	4

THIS WEEK'S SCHEDULE:

Volleyball...Wed. 4:00 Hustlers-Spartans
Thurs. 4:00 Greenwaves-Druids

Basketball...Sat. 1:30 Hustlers-Druids
3:00 Guardians-Spartans

WOMEN'S by Lisa Cobb

Jan. 15 Maenads - 40 Nymphs - 21

The Nymphs had a miserable first quarter and didn't get much better. Although Goodwin and Krafft worked hard on the baskets the Maenads were rolling, with Brown and Swinford each totalling 16 points. This latest Nymph loss and the Furies' victory on Friday dumped the Nymphs into last place in the total team point category. For the first time in years the Furies might escape being THE LOSING TEAM. However, I've heard rumors of a Nymph volleyball superstar. We shall see.

Jan. 13 Furies - 48 Maenads - 36

The Maenads played their strongest game in the third quarter and kept their heads up through the fourth, but a weak first half undermined any chance they had of beating the Furies. Furies Farrell and Coffee were there; what more need I say? They shared the burden of the Furies' score with 18 points each. The Maenads, on the other hand, all contributed points, with Hahn, Swinford and Benedict in the lead. It is to their credit that the Furies were held so far below their average 50 points.

NEXT WEEK

Monday	4:00	Amazons vs. Furies (Make-up game)
Tuesday		NO GAME
Thursday	2:30	Amazons vs. Maenads
Friday	4:00	Furies vs. Nymphs

LECTURE

The lecturer Fri, Jan 23 is Charles Kent, Esq., of the Board of Professional Responsibility of the District of Columbia Court of Appeals. Mr Kent's title, Ethics in the Practice of Law, reflects his interest in a subject which has become of increasing concern in the last few years, and he brings to it wide experience in the legal service both of the government and of private clients

Edward G. Sparrow
Dean

CABARET

The next cabaret will be held on Feb 28. Auditions will be held Fri and Sat, Jan 30 and 31 from 4 to 6 pm in 145 Mellon. Come and audition. Also, waiters, waitresses, etc. needed.

JEWISH STUDY GROUP

The Talmud Study Group will meet Tues. at 7:30 pm in McDowell 21. See David Stein, Joel Weingarten, or Jonathan Gold for details.

DEADLINE FOR SUBMISSIONS IS
FRIDAY AT 6 PM

Your submission must be in the GADFLY mail box or in the Office in 213 Mellon by then.

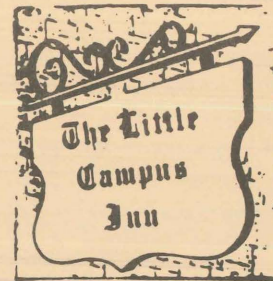

THE GADFLY

St. John's College
Annapolis, MD 21404

Non-Profit Org.
BULK RATE
U. S. POSTAGE
PAID
PERMIT No. 120
ANNAPOLIS, MD.

Some of the NICE THINGS at...

FINE Food

SINCE 1923

BUDGET DINNER SPECIALS SNACK MENU AVAILABLE
FEATURED IN OUR BAR

BAR SERVICE IN OUR DINING ROOM
AFTER SEMINARS

"TWO FORS" IN OUR COCKTAIL LOUNGE
MONDAY-FRIDAY, 4-6 PM

ANY DRINK ON THE BAR
TWO FOR THE PRICE OF ONE.
(SPECIAL PRICE ON DRAUGHT)

61-63 Maryland Avenue Annapolis

THE GADFLY is an independent student journal published every Monday while school is in session. It is free for students and faculty of the Annapolis campus. For others, the subscription rate for the second semester is $8. Advertising information furnished on request. Make checks payable to THE GADFLY. Write: THE GADFLY, Box 52, St. John's College, Annapolis, MD 21404

DEADLINE: 6 pm Friday

Letter Limit: 500 words-We do not edit letters.

THE GADFLY STAFF

Charlotte Barham	Ann Haskins
Rick Campbell - Editor	Duke Hughes
Jonathan Edelman	Peggy Kemp
Emi S. Geiger	Kurt Schuler
Peter Green	Donna Wilson
Hazen Hammel	Aoi Yamamura

THE GADFLY is printed in the St. John's College print shop by:

Chris Colby & Chris Mark