Agensys development out of compliance again

BY DAVID MARK SIMPSON
Daily Press Staff Writer

CITY HALL One company is out of compliance with its agreement with City Hall for the second year in a row.

Agensys, which works to develop new cancer therapies, has too many commuters driving to its 1800 Stewart St. campus, according to a recent report from City Hall.

Last year, Agensys was the only development whose agreement with City Hall was officially out of compliance and the same is true this year.

Two other developments, Providence Saint John's Health Center and Colorado Center, are failing to hit targets as well, but their agreements aren't as specific as Agensys'.

The Agensys project was finished two years ago with a requirement that there should be an average of 1.6 workers for every car coming to the development (Average Vehicle Ridership or AVR).

To improve vehicle ridership numbers, companies can provide incentives to employees who bike, carpool, or take public transit.

In 2013, they were averaging 1.26 riders per vehicle, or 126 workers for every 100 vehicles coming to Agensys during the morning rush hour. In July, when they were checked again, that number improved slightly, jumping up to 1.35. Trends in the afternoon were similar both years.

Girls soccer: Three-headed monster leading Samohi attack

BY JEFFREY I. GOODMAN
Daily Press Staff Writer

SAMOHI It took a collective effort, to be sure, but Samohi blanked the Culver City Centaurs 3-0 at home on Jan. 21 to remain perfect in conference play.

With senior Ariana Lomeli drawing the bulk of the attention from opposing defenders, the Vikings showed off the other talented players in their reliable scoring trio.

Lomeli, junior Chloe Kleinman and sophomore Maggie Lena each logged a goal for Samohi, a fitting finish considering they're responsible for all but four of the squad's 25 goals to date.

And their skills are certainly going to come in handy. The Vikings, who reached the CIF Southern Section Division 4 quarterfinals last season, are vying for a repeat conference title after going 9-0-1 in league play a year ago.

"We want to open it up," coach Jimmy Chapman said of his team's offensive balance. "You play a team once, and you might be able to do a couple things. But the second time around, they'll know what you're doing and who to key on.

"That's what good about Ari, Chloe and Maggie - they seem to be pretty even-keeled in high-pressure situations. They don't get up too high or too low. They just keep playing."

COLLAGE: Local artists have been commissioned for several Expo stops.

BY DAVID MARK SIMPSON
Daily Press Staff Writer

Editor's note: This is the first installment of a three-part series about the artists selected to fill the incoming Expo Light Rail's three Santa Monica stations. The second will run over the weekend and the last will run on Monday.

BERGAMOT STATION Frequenters of the incoming Expo Light Rail's Bergamot Station will have a lot to look at.

The stop will be lined with 24 locally inspired collages made up of photographs and found objects, all by the artist Constance Mallinson.

Residents may find parts of themselves in Mallinson's work, which is collectively titled "Local Color," and that's because she spent hours casing the neighborhood looking for photo opportunities, discarded objects, and themes.

The artistic gatekeepers over at Metro were primarily familiar with 18-foot by 6-foot collage-like landscape paintings that Mallinson had Samohi (6-6-2, 3-0 in the Ocean League), whose campaign continues Friday on the road against Beverly Hills, outscored its first three conference foes by a combined tally of 8-1.

But the Vikings learned during a tough preseason slate, which included a 4-0 loss to defending section champion South Torrance, that another run in the playoffs won't be easy.

"We have to keep the same mindset we were in last year," said Gabriella Dyrek, one of 12 seniors on the varsity roster. "We can't underestimate the other (conference) teams even if we're more talented or more skilled. That will help us get through league."

Culver City (6-6-2, 0-3) was certainly no pushover, holding Samohi scoreless for about 60 minutes and putting a scare into the home team with a breakaway shot that rolled wide left early in the second half.

The Vikings, though, seemed determined to exact revenge against a program that kept them from earning a perfect conference record last year.

In the 61st minute, after Lomeli was fouled in the box, Lena put Samohi ahead on a penalty kick to the bottom left corner of the net. Lena was filling in for Kleinman, who scored two penalty goals against Lawndale but who was not in the game at the time of the foul.

"Maggie stepped up," Chapman said of the midfielder, who has recorded seven goals and six assists so far this season. "It speaks volumes. She'll be an anchor of our team next year."

Kleinman provided the insurance, giving the Vikings a 2-0 edge in the 76th minute on a shot from the right wing following a miscue by Centaurs goalkeeper Dezyier Jones. She now has a team-high eight goals.

"The keeper came out and missed, but Chloe had the wherewithal and kept her cool," Chapman said.

Kleinman also assisted on the final goal of the game, a close-range strike by Lomeli in the 80th minute. It was a rewarding end to the afternoon for the senior, who was constantly under Culver City surveillance and visibly frustrated after a couple of her unsuccessful shots on goal.

"She needs to be a target but then facilitate and distribute and have the other girls step in," Chapman said of Lomeli, who has six goals and six assists. "If we're not aware and not getting other girls involved, then that's no good."

Sophomore goalkeeper Madeline Kresin took care of business at the net, racking up 15 saves in the Vikings' third shutout victory of the year.

Samohi hopes it will look even better at full strength. Senior defender Janet Coleman-Belin is back in the mix after an anterior cruciate ligament injury, and senior midfielder Mikala Alatorre is recovering from foot and hamstring injuries.

Chapman said there's room for improvement on the field as well, and he's excited to seehow the rest of the regular season plays out.

"We're not quite there yet," he said. "It's going to be a challenge, but we're very capable if we put everything together."

Budget is overloaded

Editor:

Just read Ms. Winograd's Letter to the Editor, of January 21st.

This must be the same person who was complaining about ponies not being cared for on Main St. However, after a thorough investigation, her allegations proved false.

Now, she's attacking an SMDP columnist about restroom employees in Santa Monica. The ponies weren't being cared for, and now it's restroom employees, who are not being cared for, because they're not city employees with huge salaries and pensions. Rather, they're working for a contractor, or are contractors, themselves. In this case, why doesn't she write a letter to the contractor, and ask him about their salaries and pensions, instead of writing a columnist via the SMDP?

Our City Budget is overloaded with high salaried and pensioned personnel, and the cost keeps going skyward, yearly. Nobody has a handle on it. As long as this persists, Santa Monica will be an increasingly difficult place to live, for anybody, financially.

Blaming Reality TV On O.J.

TWENTY YEARS AGO TOMORROW THE opening arguments in the murder trial of O.J. Simpson were given to the jury. Twenty years? Apparently time flies even when you're not having fun. (Writing these columns is fun only after I've written them.)

Actually, the trial should have been in Santa Monica as was the civil case two years later. Many pundits blame the move to downtown L.A. on D.A. Gil Garcetti. Reportedly he wanted hands on control so that at lunch he could go over strategy with the prosecuting attorneys. (All the good it did them.)

Most experts speculated that if the trial had been held here, because of a much different jury pool, that O.J. would have likely been convicted. Then again, if O.J. had accepted a rumored plea deal, he'd have long ago been out of jail. This instead of currently languishing in a Nevada prison.

According to some sources, early on in the case, Robert Shapiro brought O.J. a deal from the prosecution. If he plead guilty to 2nd degree murder he would have received a 12 year sentence, meaning he'd be out in six. (Though he'd have a little explaining to do to his kids.)

O.J. not only rejected the deal but he demoted Shapiro and promoted Johnny Cochran in the hierarchy of the "Dream Team." Alan Dershowitz recently described the team of battling egos as, "More of a nightmare." (John Travolta will join the cast of Cuba Gooding and David Schwimmer when he plays Robert Shapiro in the upcoming 10-part FX channel TV mini-series, "The People v. O.J. Simpson.")

While incarcerated during the trial, O.J. earned a reported $3 million by signing posters and footballs. This was revealed in the book "How I Helped O.J. Simpson Get Away with Murder," written by O.J.'s marketing agent and confidant Mike Gilbert.

Gilbert claims to be guilt-ridden to this day. Apparently he advised O.J. to stop taking his arthritis medication so his fingers would swell up prior to the ill-fated trying on of the gloves. (Google "Mike Gilbert on Dr. Phil.")

As for O.J. and the evolution of reality TV here's my theory. The ratings of the O.J. trial were so spectacular that TV producers soon realized that it didn't take scripts and actors to hit Nielsen Ratings home runs. Enter O.J.'s best friend and lawyer, Robert Kardashian.

Apparently knowing his friend was guilty as sin, who can forget the shock on Kardashian's face when the "not guilty" verdict was read in court. But who could imagine his ex-wife and their self-obsessed progeny would be part of a reality TV revolution that I contend has seriously diminished the collective I.Q. of the U.S.

Much as I try, I can't watch TV today without seeing one or more Kardashians. They are shallow, talentless (unless having a huge butt is a talent) and yet are obscenely rich. In 2013, the family earned close to $100 million. (No wonder the country is consumed with narcissism, given it pays so well.

It's probably of little comfort in prison but O.J. still holds a significant record in the NFL, that of a per-game rushing average one year of 141.6 yards. He must also hold the record for having gone from the most revered sports icon in America to the most reviled.

As for his guilt, I'm more convinced that O.J. killed Nicole and Ron than I am the sun rises in the East. And I've discussed the case with one of the greatest legal minds, Vincent Bugliosi. (We became friends following my review of his book "The Prosecution of George W. Bush for Murder.")

Following the O.J. trial Bugliosi wrote "Outrage," 400 pages of missteps in the prosecution's case. It's actually required reading in some law schools. "Nicole's blood on O.J.'s sock was enough by itself to convict," Bugliosi confided this past Sunday. He also told me that Marcia Clark received a $4.5 million advance for her book while Chris Darden got $1 million for his. (Nice pay for screwing up royally.)

We agreed the defense's suggestion that O.J. was framed was laughable. At the time , tampering with evidence was punishable equally with the crime being investigated. Thus if Mark Fuhrman placed the glove at Rockingham he could have been faced the death penalty. Add to that, when the glove and blood were collected O.J. was in Chicago, and for all the police knew, he could have had an air-tight alibi.

It's been 20 years since I believe O.J. killed two people and got away with it. But in so doing he also brought us Robert Kardashian who, like a cheap horror movie, paved the way for the entire Kardashian clan. Some things I just can't forgive.

made years ago. She was happy to recreate that style but recognized that making 24 of them could take a decade. She had 24 weeks.

Mallinson turned to digital media, opting to create the new collages through photographs she'd take and things she'd find in Santa Monica. The collages were then transferred to porcelain enamel steel.

One is a montage of hundreds of cyclists who were captured by her camera over the course of a Sunday. Another features a beach party made of objects - beach balls, towels - she'd found after a day walking along the shoreline.

About half the works feature some found objects and the other half are only montages of photographs, Mallinson said.

A tribute to Santa Monica's recycling plant near the station is a slew of colorful bottle caps she found.

Drought-tolerant succulents are featured in another. One focuses on Santa Monica's neon lights and another on the Third Street Promenade.

A collage features photographs of houses of all different sizes, shapes, and colors, all taken from within about a one-mile radius of the station.

"Metro has a rule that none of their artwork can contain car or truck or any kind of motor vehicle," Mallinson said. "A couple times I had kind of forgotten that and a car showed up somewhere and had to be removed because they're really emphasizing, obviously, public transit. I even had a toy car that I had found and we had to 86 it because they didn't want any sort of suggestion that you might prefer a car. It was kind of fun."

Another parameter that Mallinson enjoyed was the process of making something interesting while also keeping it appropriate for all ages and walks of life.

"If it's something edgy or disconcerting, all the better in my personal work" she said, "but in a public artwork you've got a whole different set of considerations. I found that really interesting and challenging. How do you maintain some sort of critical edge with your work and still make it not controversial but interesting to keep looking at? It's a tremendous issue in contemporary art these days because a lot of it does rely on some gimmick to catch people's attention. And then what?"

Still, some edge found its way in.

"If you really wanted to delve into the housing one - the pictures of the little tiny bungalows next to the mansions - your mind could go places with that," Mallinson said. "You could either say, 'Oh, this is an extremely diverse community.' Or you could take it other places. The series is not without some sort of thought provoking but it just takes a little more finesse to pull that off in a public art context."

Other panels may have unintended political undertones.

"One of the things that really struck me was the amount of change that's going on," she said of Santa Monica. "One of my panels was construction. One of the favorites, actually, is a montage of all the construction down there on Ocean.

"In fact, I even got hassled by construction workers," she continued, laughing. "I thought I was too old for that but you're never too old: 'Hey baby, take my picture.'"

COMPLIANCE: Agensys and others are generating more traffic than their agreements allow.

ommend additional transportation demand measures for implementation that will result in attainment of the 1.6 AVR by Summer 2015," city officials said in a report to council.

A year ago they said: "Consistent with Agreement terms, City staff is working with Agensys representatives to modify its current (traffic demand management) plan to include additional trip reduction measures to help achieve the AVR requirements set forth in the agreement."

When the development was approved in 2010, Agensys dropped $90,000 on bike and transit improvements to the area but they were not required to build a bike path through the property as bike advocates initially pushed for.

Agensys did not respond to requests for comment.

The Colorado Center is failing to meet its target of 1.5 AVR, bringing 1.43 employees to the site per vehicle in the morning and 1.43 during the afternoon rush. This is an improvement over last year.

Providence Saint John's Health Center has a similar target but is missing its mark as it has for the past several years.

For the Colorado Center and Providence, improved ridership is a goal, not a requirement. Those contracts demand developers implement measures to reduce traffic but they don't demand results.

Providence (then Saint John's) promised in a 1998 contract (which gave the hospital permission to rebuild after the 1994 Northridge earthquake) that it would build a parking garage with roughly 430 spaces. That never happened.

Last year, Santa Monica Planning Director David Martin signed off on a Saint John's-financed parking study, which showed the medical facility has 1,375 parking spaces spread out over eight owned lots and four leased ones. Martin's approval allowed the hospital to avoid constructing the garage.

Neighbors have long complained that the cost of parking at Saint John's facilities is too high and forces patrons and employees to park in the surrounding neighborhood. Parking costs $13 after 90 minutes, according to Saint John's website. A day pass costs $35.

The study found that monthly parking rates for employees varied depending on where they parked, but overall they were considerably lower than others found in the local market. At one structure, a full-time employee paid $82.33 a month. The cheapest was offered a little more than a block away at the Colorado Center - $21.67 a month.

As a result, city officials said, Providence's parking situation is now in compliance.

City Council will review the develop compliance report on Tuesday.

RESOLUTION NUMBER 10856 (CCS)

(City Council Series)

A RESOLUTION OF THE CITY COUNCIL OF THE CITY OF SANTA MONICA ADOPTING A WATER SHORTAGE RESPONSE PLAN AND REAFFIRMING AND RE-DECLARING A STAGE 2 WATER SUPPLY SHORTAGE

WHEREAS, the State of California requires all urban water suppliers providing municipal water either directly or indirectly to more than 3,000 customers, or supplying more than 3,000 acre feet of water annually, to develop an Urban Water Shortage Contingency Plan ("WSRP"); and

WHEREAS, the City of Santa Monica is an urban water supplier providing water directly to more than 17,000 customers; and

WHEREAS, conservation of water is critically important if the City of Santa Monica is to sustain itself; and

WHEREAS, effective and equitable management of limited water supplies during a water supply shortage minimizes the impact on the people and economy of the City, in addition to the region and State; and

WHEREAS, the City of Santa Monica is granted the authority by State Water Code sections 350 et seq. and by Santa Monica Municipal Code Chapter 7.16 to declare a water supply shortage and to adopt by resolution regulations and restrictions on the delivery and consumption of water; and

WHEREAS, on June 9, 2009 Council adopted the WSRP and declared a Water Shortage Advisory calling for a voluntary 10 percent reduction in water use in response to the drought; and

WHEREAS, on January 17, 2014, the Governor declared a Drought Emergency and asked all Californians to voluntarily reduce water use by 20% in support of the Governor's efforts; and

WHEREAS, on January 29, 2014, the City increased its voluntary conservation target from 10% to 20%.; and

WHEREAS, on March 1, 2014, the Governor signed Senate Bill 104, a state drought relief legislation which implements numerous drought relief measures; and

WHEREAS, on July 15, 2014, the SWRCB adopted an emergency regulation which requires urban retail water agencies, such as the City of Santa Monica, to implement all requirements and actions of their water shortage contingency plans to preserve and conserve potable water; and

WHEREAS, due to the current record drought, it is estimated that Metropolitan Water District of Southern California's non-emergency water supplies may be exhausted in the very near future; and

WHEREAS, on August 12, 2014 Council adopted a resolution declaring a Stage 2 Water Supply Shortage which changed the drought response from a voluntary 20% reduction in water use to a mandatory 20% reduction and directed staff to return with a detailed Stage 2 Water Supply Shortage implementation plan; and

WHEREAS, prompt implementation of a Stage 2 Water Supply Shortage remains essential to combat the ongoing water shortage; and

WHEREAS, City staff has actively solicited public participation and input in the formulation of these proposed regulations as required by Water Code Section 10642; and

WHEREAS, public notice of the public hearing regarding these proposed regulations and the Stage 2 Water Supply Shortage Declaration has been duly provided as required by Water Code Section 10642; and

WHEREAS, the City Council finds that it is necessary to adopt these additional regulations to preserve and conserve the City's potable water resources.

NOW, THEREFORE, THE CITY COUNCIL OF THE CITY OF SANTA MONICA DOES RESOLVE AS FOLLOW:

SECTION 1: Adoption of Water Shortage Response Plan. Pursuant to Water Code section 375 et seq. and Santa Monica Municipal Code Chapter 7.16, the City Council adopts a Water Shortage Response Plan, attached as Attachment A to this Resolution.

SECTION 2: Declaration of Water Supply Shortage. As a result of severe and persistent drought conditions occurring throughout the State of California, effective immediately and in accordance with Water Code section 375 et seq., Santa Monica Municipal Code Chapter 7.16, and the City of Santa Monica Water Shortage Response Plan, the City Council reaffirms and re-declares a Stage 2 Water Supply Shortage as set forth in the City of Santa Monica Water Shortage Response Plan. All applicable provisions of the WSRP shall apply while the Water Supply Shortage shall be in effect. This declaration shall remain in effect until it is amended or rescinded by the City Council through resolution.

SECTION 3. If any section, subsection, sentence, clause, or phrase of this Resolution or of the WSRP is for any reason held to be invalid, such determination shall not affect the validity of the remaining portions of this Resolution or of the WSRP. The City Council hereby declares that it would have passed this Resolution and the WSRP and each and every section, subsection, sentence, clause, or phrase not declared invalid without regard to whether any portion of the resolution would be subsequently declared invalid or unconstitutional.

SECTION 4. The City Clerk shall attest to the passage of this Resolution and thenceforth and thereafter the same shall be in full force and effect. In accordance with Water code section 376 the City Clerk shall cause the same to be published once in the official newspaper within 10 days after its adoption. This Resolution shall become effective upon adoption.

Attachment A

Section 1: Introduction

The City of Santa Monica City Council adopts this Water Shortage Response Plan (WSRP) pursuant to Santa Monica Municipal Code ("SMMC") section 7.16.030. The WSRP is intended both as an action plan and as the implementing regulations for water conservation as authorized by Section 7.16.030. It is designed to reduce water demand during water shortages. The WSRP is based in part on the State of California Department of Water Resources 2007 Urban Drought Guidebook. The Urban Water Management Planning Act (Section 10632 of the California Water Code) requires water shortage contingency planning as a component of the Urban Water Management Plan, which is updated every five years.

The WSRP establishes five stages of water shortage severity based on predicted or actual water supply reductions. Each stage establishes water use reductions through voluntary or mandatory measures. Triggers for implementing the WSRP may include such events as a state or local emergency; natural disaster; a localized event that critically impacts the water supply; drought or the City's wholesale water agency imposing water allocation restrictions.

Section 2: Objectives and Priorities of Water Use

A. The objectives of the WSRP are to:
(1) Prioritize essential uses of available water;
(2) Avoid irretrievable loss of natural resources;
(3) Manage current water supplies to meet ongoing and future needs;
(4) Maximize local municipal water supplies;
(5) Eliminate water waste city-wide;
(6) Create equitable demand reduction targets; and
(7) Minimize adverse financial effects.

B. The following priorities for use of available water are listed in order from highest to lowest priority:
(1) Health and Safety including: consumption and sanitation for all water users; fire suppression; hospitals, emergency care, nursing and other convalescent homes and other similar health care facilities; shelters and water treatment;
(2) Institutions, including government facilities and schools such as public safety facilities, essential government operations, public pools and recreation areas;
(3) All non-essential commercial, institutional, and residential water uses;
(4) New water demand.

Section 3: Triggers for Implementation

The City Council may declare by resolution that an Advisory or Stage 1, 2, 3 or 4 Water Supply Shortage exists and that the actions outlined in this WSRP are necessary. Upon Council adoption by resolution, any Advisory or Stage may be rescinded. The type of event which may prompt the City Council to declare an Advisory or Stage1, 2, 3, 4 Water Supply Shortage may include, among other factors:

- Drought;
- State or local emergency;
- A natural disaster that critically impacts the water treatment or water distribution system;
- A localized event that critically impacts the water supply, water quality, water treatment or water distribution system;
- The City's wholesale water agency requests extraordinary water conservation efforts in order to avoid mandatory water allocations;
- The City's wholesale water agency implements a water allocation.

Section 4: Stages of Water Shortage Supply

The WSRP establishes five stages of severity based on predicted or actual water supply reductions. Each stage establishes water use reductions either through voluntary or mandatory measures. Mandatory water restrictions include water use allowance for each water customer category. Table 1 below outlines the stages and water use reduction goals.

Table 1: Water Shortage Reduction Targets

Water Shortage Stage	Water Use Restrictions	City-wide Use Reduction Goal
Advisory	Voluntary	10%
Stage 1	Mandatory	15%
Stage 2	Mandatory	20%
Stage 3	Mandatory	30%
Stage 4	Mandatory	50%

Section 5: Water Use Restrictions for All Stages

The water conservation requirements in SMMC Section 7.16d are permanently enforced.

Section 6: City of Santa Monica Staff Responsibilities

(A) City staff will be informed of the water supply shortage. Each staff member will be expected to use water efficiently.
(B) The City's landscaped areas will be efficiently irrigated based on the Irrigation Association's Best Management Practices.
(C) Each staff member will be expected to notify the appropriate City department immediately of any leaks seen on City property or private property.

Section 7: Water Allowances for Stages 1, 2, 3, 4

A Water Use Allowance (WUA) is established for each water customer.
The WUA shall not apply to:
(A) Any water customer of the City of Santa Monica during an Advisory water supply shortage stage;
(B) Any water customer account designated for municipal non-potable water.

Summary of Allowances

A WUA is the maximum allowable amount of water that could be used by a water customer and it is calculated as a percent reduction in the amount of water available for each water customer in the City of Santa Monica for the duration of a declared water shortage.

The WUA is calculated as a percentage of the baseline year's water usage. The baseline is calendar year 2013. Each water customer will receive a WUA for each billing period. A billing period is approximately 60-days.

Public agency individual landscape only accounts will be combined and receive one WUA. Water Use Allowances for new water accounts, new water customers, properties vacant in 2013, and water accounts with zero usage in 2013 will be based on the average usage of water customers in the same water customer class (single-family, multi-family, mixed-use, commercial, industrial, landscape, etc.) with the same meter size.

For example a single-family water customer whose home was vacant due to a remodel in 2013 and as a result of the remodel their meter size increased from ? inch to two inch because the house size increased significantly, shall get a WUA that is the average of other single-family homes with a two inch meter.

Water Use Allowances

Table 2: Water Use Allowance for all Water Customers

	Stage 1	Stage 2	Stage 3	Stage 4
% Water Available per Customer	85%	80%	70% or	50%

Residential Water Conservation Thresholds – see Exhibit 1 for calculations
Water Shortage Supply Stage 1 & 2
Penalties will not be imposed for single family customers using less than 22 HCF per bi-monthly billing period and each multi-family unit per building using less than 11 HCF per bi-monthly billing period.

Water Shortage Supply Stage 3 & 4
Penalties will not be imposed for single family customers using less than 16 HCF per bi-monthly billing period and each multi-family unit per building using less than 8 HCF per bi-monthly billing period.

Section 8: Penalties
When a Responsible Party exceeds the applicable WUA during a billing period, a Penalty may be imposed. The notice of the penalty may be issued to the responsible party in the same mailing as the utility bill and will be calculated as set forth below.

$10 per HCF used in excess of the Water Use Allowance up to the total bi-monthly water charges or $1,000, whichever is less.

Any Responsible party that exceed the WUA three times may be required to have a water audit performed by a licensed engineering firm having water audit experience and all related expenses paid by the Responsible Party. The audit must be performed and a full report submitted to the City of Santa Monica within 30-days of notice. The audit report must include how the audit was administered, list all interior and exterior uses of domestic and non-domestic water uses, results of the audit, recommendations, and return on investment calculations. The City may require the implementation of the audit recommendations as a precondition to granting any request for a WUA Adjustment.

Any Responsible Party that exceed the WUA seven or more times may have a flow restrictor installed in the meter which restricts the flow of water going into the building, be charged with a Civil Penalty, and/or be charged with a criminal penalty.

Section 9: Water Use Allowance Adjustment

Application for Water Use Allowance Adjustment
• Comply with requirements listed under Required Finding for an Adjustment.
• Fill out a Water Use Allowance Adjustment Application available at www.smgov.net/water and 1717 4th St., Suite 150, Santa Monica, CA 90401.
• Submit completed application and required supporting documentation (such as photographs, itemized receipts, maps, drawings, engineering reports, water audit reports, utility bill showing participation in any low income assistance program, or other pertinent information) by mail or in-person at 1717 4th St., Suite 150, Santa Monica, CA 90401.

Approval Authority
The Adjustment Administrator will exercise approval authority and act upon any completed Water Use Allowance Adjustment Application after submittal and may approve, conditionally approve, or deny the adjustment request. The applicant requesting the adjustment will be notified in writing of any action taken.
The decision of the Adjustment Administrator shall be issued within sixty days after the conclusion of the hearing or the submission of all written materials if no hearing is conducted. The applicant may appeal any such decision pursuant to Chapter 6.16 of this Code. Unless specified otherwise at the time the adjustment is approved, the adjustment applies to the subject property during the term of the applicable stage of the WSRP.

Factors to be considered by the Approval Authority in Reviewing a Water Use Allowance Adjustment Application:
• Whether denial of the application would create an undue hardship which could create an emergency condition relating to health or safety; or
• Whether an undue financial hardship to a water customer would result; or
• A new water account is requested by a new user; or
• The property was vacant (or otherwise devoid of water use) during 2013 but is now being inhabited; or
• There has been an increase in household size or change in tenancy

Required Findings for an Adjustment
An application for an adjustment will be denied unless the approving authority finds, based on the information provided in the application, supporting documentation, and/or such additional information as may be requested, and on water use information for the property as shown by the records of the City of Santa Monica, all the following:

1. The subject property has implemented all practical water saving measures at minimum, unless unique circumstances that makes meeting these requirements impossible:

a. High-efficiency toilets
(uses1.28 gallons per flush or less)
b. High-efficiency urinals
(uses 0.5 gallons or less per flush or is waterless)
c. High-efficiency showerheads (uses 2.0 gallons per minute or less)
d. High-efficiency faucets
(uses 1.5 gallons per minute or less for residential or guest rooms; uses 0.5 gallons per minute or less for commercial)
e. No leaks anywhere on the property
f. No irrigation runoff and overspray

2. That the adjustment does not constitute a grant of special privilege inconsistent with the limitations placed upon other City of Santa Monica water customers.

3. That because of special circumstances applicable to the property or its use, the requirements of the Water Shortage Response Plan would have a disproportionate impact on the property or use that exceeds the impacts to customers generally.

4. That the adjustment will not materially affect the ability of the City of Santa Monica to effectuate the purpose of the Water Shortage Response Plan and will not be detrimental to the public interest.

Section 10: Definitions
Billing Period. The billing period is approximately 60 days between water meter readings;

Commercial Water Customer. Any water customer whose property is not designated as single family, multi-family or landscape only. This may include mixed-use properties, schools, businesses;

Landscape. Modification of the ground surface with live planting materials such as trees, shrubs, turf, groundcover or other horticultural materials; as well as non-living materials such as mulch, synthetic turf, hardscape, or stone;

Landscape Only Account. Any water meter installed to measure the flow of water for irrigation and landscape purposes only;

Master Meter Account. A meter that serves multiple tenants in a building and may include but is not limited to water used for common areas such as toilets, urinals, laundry, irrigation equipment and pools;

Multi-Family. A residential property with two or more units on the premises. This may include master metered or individually metered units;

Multi-Family Individual Meter Account. A meter that serves only one unit and does not include outdoor or landscape water use;

Potable Water. Water suitable or intended for human consumption;

Single-Family. A residential property with one unit;

Shortage. The actual or projected demand for water placed upon the water supply system by water customers which exceeds the actual supply, where the actual supply of water is the amount of water available for delivery from the municipal water supply system for subsequent delivery to water customers;

Water: All potable water supplied from the municipal water supply system to any water customer. Non-potable water that is metered separately is excluded;

Water Customer. The person designated on the water account records maintained by the City as the person responsible for payment of charges incurred for the use of the water supply system.

Water Demand. The amount of water used by water customers;

Water Use Allowance. The amount of water assigned to water customers based on a percentage of the baseline water usage.

Exhibit 1 – Residential Water Conservation Threshold Calculations

The water use allowance is a percentage of 2013 water usage. Each water customer will receive a WUA for each billing period. Residential water customers that are at or below the residential water conservation threshold outlined in Section 7 will not need to reduce water use.

The residential water conservation thresholds are calculated based on the following:

Assumptions for Calculating the Water Conservation Thresholds:
1. Number of Single Family Residents per Home = 4 (based on 2010 Census data)
2. Number of Multi-Family Residents per Unit = 2 (based on 2010 Census data)

Heal the Bay is a nonprofit environmental organization making Southern California's coastal waters and watersheds, including Santa Monica Bay, safe, healthy and clean. We use science, education, community action and advocacy to pursue our mission.

Heal the Bay

Heal the Bay's Beach Report Card™ is based on weekly water quality monitoring data provided by the City of Los Angeles' Environmental Monitoring Division and the Los Angeles County Department of Health Services. Data is analyzed as soon as it is made available to us by the public agencies. Beaches are graded on an A–F scale based on the risk of ocean users becoming ill. Samples are analyzed for bacteria—enterococcus, total and fecal coliforms—that indicate biological pollution. A fact sheet detailing the exact methodology used in determining grades for each location is available from the office or on our web site. The report is not designed to measure the amount of trash or toxins found at local beaches.

The Beach Report Card is an indication of past water quality and is not a warranty of the current safety of those areas surveyed. Our lawyers are happy.

Measles outbreak casts spotlight on anti-vaccine movement

ALICIA CHANG
AP Science Writer

LOS ANGELES A major measles outbreak traced to Disneyland has brought criticism down on the small but vocal movement among parents to opt out of vaccinations for their children.

In a rash of cases that public health officials are rushing to contain, at least 70 people in six states and Mexico have fallen ill since mid-December, most of them from California. The vast majority of those who got sick had not gotten the measles-mumps-rubella, or MMR, vaccine.

While still a scourge in many corners of the world, measles has been all but eradicated in the U.S. since 2000 because of vaccinations. But the virus has made a comeback in recent years, in part because of people obtaining personal belief exemptions from rules that say children must get their shots to enroll in school.

Others have delayed getting their children vaccinated because they still believe now-discredited research linking the measles vaccine to autism.

"Some people are just incredibly selfish" by skipping shots, said Dr. James Cherry, a pediatric disease expert at the University of California, Los Angeles.

As cases mount, several newspapers have criticized the anti-vaccine movement.

Measles "is a disease that has been beaten by modern medicine. That makes it all the more frustrating that anti-science stubbornness has proven, in the case of the Disneyland-related measles, that when it comes to contagious diseases, it's a small world after all," the Los Angeles Times said in an editorial last week.

Barbara Loe Fisher, director of the National Vaccine Information Center, a Virginia-based nonprofit that favors letting parents decide whether to vaccinate, said, "I don't think it's wise or responsible to blame" unvaccinated people for the Disney outbreak. She noted that a small number of those stricken had been fully vaccinated.

Health authorities believe the outbreak was triggered by a measles-stricken visitor to one of the Disney parks who brought the virus from abroad last month.

As one of the world's biggest tourist destinations, Disney was a perfect spot for the virus to spread, with large numbers of babies too young to be vaccinated and lots of visitors from countries that do not require measles shots. The disease has since spread beyond Disneyland.

The infected ranged from 7 months to 70 years old, including five Disneyland workers.

"It's tragic to see measles making a resurgence," said Deanne Thompson, a spokeswoman for the Orange County Health Care Agency. "When our immunity falls, it creates a problem for the whole community."

While all states require certain vaccinations for schoolchildren, parents in certain states such as California can opt out if they sign a personal belief waiver.

In the past five years, the percentage of kindergartners in California who are up to date on all vaccinations has held pretty steady from 90.7 percent in the 2010-11 school year to 90.4 percent in 2014-15. But there are some wealthy communities in Los Angeles and Orange counties and in Northern California with double-digit vaccination exemption rates.

To control this latest outbreak, those who are not vaccinated were warned this week to stay away from Disney theme parks. Disney employees who have no proof of immunization and may have come into contact with sick colleagues were placed on paid leave until they are given the medical all-clear.

At Huntington Beach High School in Orange County, two dozen unvaccinated students were ordered home until the three-week incubation period is up.

More than 30 babies in Northern California's Alameda County have been placed in home isolation after possible exposure.

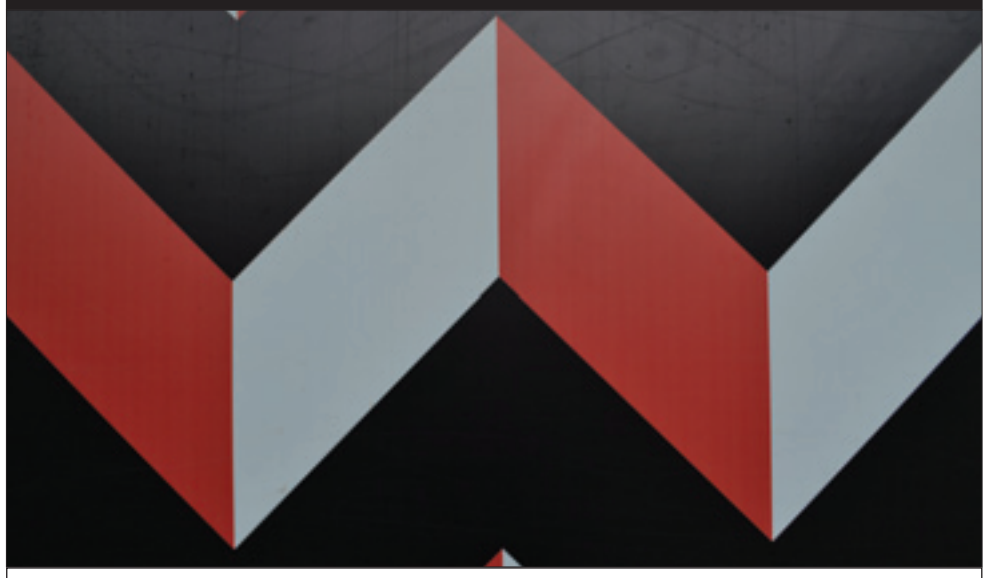

"I'm terribly upset that someone has made a choice that not only affects their child but other people's children," said Jennifer Simon, whose 6-month-old daughter, Livia, was isolated after it was learned she may have been exposed to measles during a visit to the doctor's office.

GETTING STARTED

There are many strategies to solving Sudoku. One way to begin is to examine each 3x3 grid and figure out which numbers are missing. Then, based on the other numbers in the row and column of each blank cell, find which of the missing numbers will work. Eliminating numbers will eventually lead you to the answer.

NEWS OF THE WEIRD BY CHUCK SHEPARD

■ Because Congress and presidents often change their minds, NASA recently continued to build on a $349 million rocket testing tower in Mississippi for a "moon" project that had been canceled back in 2010. The now-idle tower sits down the road from a second rocket testing tower being built for its "replacement" mission -- an "asteroid" project. Critics, according to a December Washington Post examination, blame senators who believe it smarter to keep contractors at work (even though useless) because, Congress and the president might change their minds yet again. Said a high-profile critic, "We have to decide ... whether we want a jobs program or a space program." NASA's inspector general in 2013 identified six similar "mothballed" projects that taxpayers continue to maintain.

■ When someone swiped the iPhone of Adam Wisneski, 31, on Jan. 2, he rode his bicycle to Chicago's Shakespeare District police station to file a stolen-property report. He parked the bike inside the door, filled out the form, prepared to leave -- and noticed the bike was missing. He told an amused officer he needed another form. (Officers on duty said perhaps a homeless man who was in the station took it and are "making an effort," said Wisneski, to find it.)
