Conservancy Co-founder Doris Sosin dies at 90

DORIS SOSIN: The Santa Monican had some extraordinary life experiences.

CLARA HARTER
SMDP Staff Writer

Doris Sosin was many things — an activist, a preservationist, a tree lover, a witness of the Pearl Harbor attacks, a folk art collector, a neighborhood advocate and a force of nature.

Those who look closely will be able to see her legacy across every corner of Santa Monica.

It is in the enduring presence of historic landmarks, thanks to her lobbying to prevent a weakening of the Landmark Ordinance. It is in the preservation of North of Montana neighborhood family homes thanks to a zoning ordinance she rallied support around. It is in the lasting arts education programming in local schools and Santa Monica College, thanks to the dollars she generously gave. And, it is in the passing of community knowledge on Santa Monica's historic places, thanks to the Conservancy she wisely founded.

"She was like a maverick: filled with big ideas and expert at recruiting people to get them carried out," said Santa Monica Conservancy Board Member and friend Nina Fresco. "She was warm and engaging and forthright. When she gave you your marching orders you did it and you knew you could do it and it was inspirational in a way that kept us going for a long time."

HOSPITAL: The project moved forward last week.

CLARA HARTER
SMDP Staff Writer

In a Jan. 26 meeting, Planning Commissioners supported Providence Saint John's massive redevelopment plan and its associated community benefits agreement, even though Commissioners raised concerns that the proposal does not include plans for inpatient psychiatric beds.

Providence Saint John's (PSJ) is a 226-bed hospital and healthcare center located in the Mid-City neighborhood. It is seeking to begin its Phase Two Expansion Plan, which will transform most of its south campus and a few buildings on its north campus by creating ten new structures containing an array of medical, research, healthcare and childcare services.

In order to gain approval for the huge project, PSJ must enter an extensive community benefits

City to gather demographic data on boards and commissions

EMILY SAWICKI
SMDP Staff Writer

If you've ever wondered whether the City's boards and commissions look like the residents they're representing, your questions will soon be answered, thanks to new direction given by City Council during the Jan. 11 Santa Monica City Council meeting.

Council Member Oscar de la Torre requested that the City begin assessing the demographic makeup of its many boards and commissions.

"I know we had this discussion in the past, and I want to find a way to codify, sort of, a resolution," de la Torre began. "And really, it's about how we document the demographic profile of our boards and commissions, so we understand where our gaps are."

De la Torre suggested the City Clerk gather the demographic

City of Santa Monica

NOTICE

Pursuant to California Health and Safety Code section 9069, the City of Santa Monica has filed petitions with the Los Angeles County Superior Court to recover apparently abandoned graves at the City of Santa Monica's Woodlawn Cemetery, Mausoleum, and Mortuary. The City is seeking to recover possession of the grave sites that were sold more than 50 years ago, but have not been used for interment purposes. Hearings on these petitions will be heard at 9:00 a.m. beginning February 4, 2022 and continuing through May 13, 2022 according to the schedule below in Department G of the Los Angeles Superior Court, West District (the Santa Monica Courthouse), located at 1725 Main Street. Any person may review the petitions in person at the office of the cemetery at 1847 14th Street, Santa Monica, or at the City Clerk's Office, 1685 Main Street, Room 102, Santa Monica, or online at https://www.smgov.net/departments/cao/

SMC's Drescher Planetarium Presents Free, Live Virtual Shows

Santa Monica College's John Drescher Planetarium continues its Friday evening events in February 2022 with free, live virtual shows presented online at smc.edu/planetarium. This month's friendly presentations will cover the search for exoplanets and the latest developments in human space flight.

The Friday evening shows are at 8 p.m. and are preceded by a streamlined virtual digest of the popular Night Sky Show at 7 p.m., offering the latest news in astronomy and space exploration. The shows include the chance to chat with the planetarium lecturers and ask questions.

Planetarium lecturers are currently using the Zoom platform to present shows while the actual on-campus planetarium remains closed due to the COVID-19 pandemic. To attend the shows, the Zoom software must be installed on the viewer's computer. A free download is available at zoom.com.

The February 2022 shows are:

• Friday, February 4, at 8 p.m. (following The Night Sky Show at 7 p.m.): "Exoplanets and How We Find Them" – Associate Lecturer Sarah Vincent. There are more than 4,400 currently known planets around other stars, and the list keeps growing...but how? Show will discuss the missions and methods used to discover planets beyond the solar system. Free. Zoom at smc.edu/planetarium.

• Friday, February 18 and 25, at 8 p.m. (following The Night Sky Show at 7 p.m.): "2022 Human Space Flight Preview" – Senior Lecturer Jim Mahon. The flight of SLS/Orion on the Artemis 1 shakedown, the expansion of China's space station, the first commercial SpaceX Dragon mission to the International Space Station, and Boeing's delayed second attempt at a Starliner test flight to the ISS are just some of this year's kaleidoscope of human space flight developments. Show will review all these projects, and perhaps a few in the early conceptual stages. Free. Zoom at smc.edu/planetarium.

More information is available online at smc.edu/planetarium or by calling (310) 434-3005. All shows subject to change or cancellation without notice.

LA County Board of Supervisors and Youth Commission Invite Community to Virtual Event "Centering Voices in Mental Health"

Symptoms of depression and anxiety have doubled during the pandemic for youth across the country, according to the United States Surgeon General.

During the past two years, 25 percent of youth experienced depressive symptoms and 20 percent experienced increased anxiety. To help center youth voices in mental health reform and programming in Los Angeles County, The Youth Commission is hosting a "Centering Youth Voice in Mental Health" panel event, in partnership with the Board of Supervisors and the Los Angeles County Department of Mental Health. The panel will consist of Youth Commissioners, mental health experts from the DMH + UCLA Public Partnership for Wellbeing, and community mental health advocates.

"Young people in LA County are resilient and strong. By seeking their feedback for improving mental health and wellbeing services across the County, we can help youth-serving organizations meet their needs and prevent future mental health crises," said Commissioner and panelist La'Toya Cooper who represents the Second District.

Youth, community members, agency partners, community-based organizations, philanthropy, and media partners are invited to join and learn more about how to center lived experience and youth voices while responding to the mental health crisis impacting youth in LA County.

Co-Sponsored by Fourth District Supervisor Janice Hahn's office, this event is in response to a 2004 Board Motion and is designed to center the voices of young people with lived experience, who are all too often left out of the design of programs meant to support them.

"It is imperative that when we consider a path forward in helping LA County's youth recover from the pandemic, we include them in building solutions. By convening mental health leaders and advocates, the Youth Commission is helping return authority to LA County's youth in healing their communities." said Hahn.

"The Department of Mental Health is deeply committed to the wellbeing of youth in LA County" said DMH Director Dr. Jonathan Sherin, M.D., Ph.D. "We are thrilled to partner with the Youth Commission, which is positioned to help amplify the voices of young people who have never had a proper platform for providing input to County systems. It is our belief that the Youth Commission will inspire new and more effective models of mental health care for young people in LA County."

"The issues facing youth are more complex than ever before. School closures, our ongoing reckoning with racial injustice present in our systems, and the negative impacts of social media, all represent challenges to youth wellbeing. We must collaborate on solutions that work for the youth we serve," said Dr. Tyrone Howard, an education expert and panelist from the DMH + UCLA Public Partnership for Wellbeing.

The Youth Commission welcomes suggestions for panelist questions from community members. If you would like to submit a question to the panel, please submit it to the Youth Commission Instagram page @lacounty_youthcommission by Feb. 4.

Thursday, Feb. 10 from 6 p.m. to 7:30 p.m. Registration Link: https://www.surveymonkey.com/r/Y3LL3G3. Meeting Link: https://us02web.zoom.us/j/89214673705?pwd=WGlud3pZNThkY2lXalkyb1VibFF4UT09

CRIME WATCH BY DAILY PRESS STAFF

Crime Watch is culled from reports provided by the Santa Monica Police Department. These are arrests only. All parties are innocent until proven guilty in a court of law.

ON THURSDAY, JANUARY 20 AT 8:30 P.M.

Officers responded to the 2000 block of 14th St due to an intoxicated tenant causing a disturbance. Upon arrival, Officers made contact with the belligerent tenant and requested he return back inside. After refusing for some time, the subject eventually returned to his apartment. As Officers contacted the reporting party they could hear the subject begin screaming again and becoming further aggravated. Due to the continuous behavior, Janos Szucs was arrested for Disturbing the Peace.

Malibu

Temporary Closure of Malibu City Hall to the Public Extended Through February 11 Due to COVID-19 Surge in L.A. County

The temporary closure of Malibu City Hall to the public has been extended through February 11, 2022 in response to the continuing surge of COVID-19 cases and continued high rates of community transmission in Los Angeles County. City Hall was initially closed to visitors on January 5.

Aside from in-person services in City Hall, the City staff and departments will continue to work and offer all services normally.

"The COVID-19 rates surge and fall, and our public safety responses must move appropriately with it," said Mayor Paul Grisanti. "The temporary closure of City Hall to visitors is meant to help slow the spread of COVID-19, protect the community, especially seniors and other high-risk people, and to allow City staff to safely continue to provide essential City services."

The City Manager and Public Safety Manager will assess the situation on a daily basis and will re-open City Hall to visitors if conditions improve sufficiently. Any changes will be announced on the City's website, social media and e-notification system. To sign up to receive COVID-19 e-notifications via text and/or email, visit www.MalibuCity.org/News and scroll to "COVID-19/Coronavirus."

Of particular concern is the rapid spread in the County, the state and the nation of the highly transmissible Omicron variant. The LA County Department of Public Health (LADPH) reported 18,822 new cases on January 25, and a seven-day daily average positivity testing rate of 16.61% on January 18. Although those numbers have been trending downward since about January 2, when there were 23,553 new cases reported in one day and the positivity rate was 21.7%, they are still very high compared to pre-surge levels. For more and updated data, see the LA County COVID-19 Daily Dashboard at http://publichealth.lacounty.gov/media/coronavirus/data.

Although the building and all public counters will be closed to the public, staff is available to assist anyone with City business by phone, email or video call, including plan review, permit issuance and help with Woolsey Fire rebuild projects. Building Inspection operations will remain the same

To make virtual appointments with City staff and Departments, please call or email:

Building Safety Department (including Environmental Health, Coastal Engineering and Geotechnical Engineering): Call 310-456-2489, ext. 390. Email mbuilding@malibucity.org.

Planning Department: Call 310-456-2489, ext. 485. Email mplanning@malibucity.org.

Public Works Department: Call 310-456-2489, ext. 391 . Email mpublicworks@malibucity.org.

All other City business: 310-456-2489, ext. 392. Email info@malibucity.org.

All Brown Act public meetings including City Council and Commissions will continue virtually as scheduled. The Senior Center is closed, but Senior Center staff are available to assist any seniors in the community that need help and the Dial-A-Ride program will continue to operate. For assistance, call the Senior Center at 310-456-2489, ext. 357.

LADPH continues to recommend that all eligible people in the County get vaccinated and boosted, which are the best ways to protect against the most severe effects of COVID-19. To find a vaccination site near you, or to make an appointment, visit: www.VaccinateLACounty.com (English) or www.VacunateLosAngeles.com (Spanish). People with disabilities or without computer access can call 833-540-0473 for help finding an appointment, help with free transportation to and from a vaccination site, or to schedule a home vaccination visit for people who are homebound.

For updated information about COVID-19 statistics, vaccines, boosters, testing, and other information, visit the LADPH website at http://www.publichealth.lacounty.gov/media/Coronavirus.

SMMUSD Registration for Preschool, Transitional Kindergarten and Kindergarten Now Available

Enrollment for the 2022-23 school year is now open.

PRESCHOOL PROGRAMS

The Child Development Services (CDS) department oversees programs serving preschool-age students throughout the district. The program includes fee-based part and full day programs, as well as state-subsidized programs offering free preschool for qualifying families. Preschool programs occur at John Adams Middle School, Lincoln Child Development Center, McKinley, Muir, and Rogers Elementary schools and Washington West Preschool in Santa Monica and Webster Elementary School in Malibu.

In addition, as part of SMMUSD's Early Learning Pathway, the district has several Seaside neighborhood preschool programs. The programs are district-aligned, Reggio-inspired, STEAM-enhanced and provide families with a robust program to positively launch their child's early education experience. These programs are located at Grant, Franklin, McKinley Elementary schools in Santa Monica, and Webster Elementary School serving Malibu families. Edison Language Academy offers a Seaside program as part of its dual immersion Spanish language program.

The early learning pathway is centered around the idea that neighborhood preschool programs are available to students residing in Santa Monica and Malibu. The district's mission is to foster relationships between families, community and educators creating a seamless transition to elementary school.

TK AND KINDERGARTEN ROUNDUP - VIRTUALLY AT YOUR NEIGHBORHOOD SCHOOL

Transitional Kindergarten and Kindergarten Roundup, as the yearly event is called, is planned for Jan. 27, 2022 for all schools, except SMASH is Feb. 1. Roundup is an opportunity for Santa Monica and Malibu parents of children entering TK or Kindergarten for the upcoming year to virtually meet the principal and teachers of their neighborhood school, learn about before and after school care, and begin the registration process for the school year.

Due to COVID protocols, Roundup will be held virtually this year. Please see this document to find the registration for your neighborhood school. While kindergarten is offered at every school, TK is not. TK is not guaranteed at your neighborhood school, however, the district makes every attempt to place students in the designated school or close by.

SMMUSD offers TK or Bridges TK classrooms at Webster in Malibu, and McKinley, Rogers, Grant, and Roosevelt, in Santa Monica. Edison Language Academy offers TK Bridges through its lottery enrollment system. All TK programs offer an excellent opportunity for students who have birthdays in a certain range to begin a program that prepares them for kindergarten for the following year. Bridges TK is a neighborhood program that is SMMUSD-aligned, STEAM-enhanced and Reggio-inspired.

CALIFORNIA TK EXPANSION PROGRAM

Under the recent state-wide Transitional Kindergarten Expansion Program, SMMUSD will begin to enroll students turning five between September 2 and February 2 for the 2022-23 school year. This initiative rolls up each of the next three years by birthday making TK the entry level into public school for all students throughout the state. Full implementation of the program will be in the 2025-26 school year. In prior years, TK was provided to four-year-old students with birthdays between September 2 and December 2.

For questions about SMMUSD preschool programs, please call the Child Development Services office at (310) 399-5865. For questions about TK or Kindergarten programs, please contact your neighborhood school.

profile of each board and commission, including categories such as race, ethnicity, gender, age and sexual orientation — "whatever categories the Council believes is necessary for us to get a good picture of where we have deficiencies, in terms of our appointments."

Mayor Sue Himmelrich expressed concern that some of the data points — particularly sexual orientation — might be uncomfortable or even illegal to request from board members and commissioners.

"Sexual orientation is something that, for instance, could be personal," Himmelrich said.

For the same reason, rather than provide demographics for each of the city's boards and commissions, City Council determined it would be better to request the City Clerk generate an annual report aggregating all of the demographic data among the many representatives.

The final language of the resolution was: "The City Clerk will provide an annual report before the Council on the aggregate demographic profile of our boards and commissions."

The discussion came amid an item updating the City's policies for "city boards, commissions, committees, task forces and regional advisory boards," that included the implementation of council liaisons to each board, term limits to some boards/commissions, and that the limitation of members serving on one or more board or commission would not apply to members of advisory committees.

The rules were to apply to all of Santa Monica's many boards and commissions; the City website lists two dozen such entities, from the Airport Commission to the Metropolitan Water District Board.

agreement with the City.

The twelve part agreement requires significant investment in City priorities around healthcare, child care and mental health care. This includes $10 million in grants to fund City behavioral health initiatives, which would be provided immediately after Council approves the agreement, and $28.5 million in grants to nonprofit community organizations offering homeless services, which would be given in stages from 2023 through 2052.

One community need not included in PSJ's expansion plan is inpatient psychiatric beds. This means that the hospital only has the ability to deal with mental health crises in urgent care or with outpatient services. If patients need to be admitted for psychiatric care they must hope that beds are available at UCLA Resnick Neuropsychiatric Hospital in Westwood or other facilities outside of Santa Monica. If they are also experiencing substance abuse they must travel all the way to Torrance to access a sober psychiatric facility.

"This is a truly unique opportunity in the history of Santa Monica to provide inpatient services that are desperately needed," said Commissioner Ellis Raskin. "There's a tremendous public cost when inpatient care is transported outside our community and dealt with through fire and police resources."

PSJ Chief Executive Michael Ricks said he recognized that there was an inpatient care crisis in the Southern California region and particularly on the Westside. He said that PSJ plans to address the crisis through other mental health services as opposed to adding beds.

"A standalone inpatient psychiatric unit is not a viable solution for a community in improving the mental health of that community if it doesn't have wraparound services associated with it," said Ricks. "It's easier and quicker to start the mental health projects and initiatives that we're talking about and get those in place and begin making an immediate impact on our community and that population while we have conversations with multiple stakeholders around the inpatient psychiatric unit."

According to PSJ estimates, an inpatient facility would cost around $1.4 million per bed to set up and the ongoing operating costs for a 50 bed facility would be around $14 million per year, escalating annually.

When asked by Commissioner Leslie Lambert, Ricks said PSJ would not sign a development agreement if there was a requirement in place to add inpatient psychiatric beds.

"I think we heard quite clearly that PSJ sees its contribution to the inpatient bed shortage as providing the urgent care, wraparound, after care that is going to have to complement somebody else's inpatient beds," said Raskin.

Commissioner Shawn Landres suggested adding recommendations to the community benefits agreement that would ensure that PSJ's behavioral health grants be utilized as effectively as possible. Commissioners voted and approved the recommendations, which were as follows:

1. PSJ shall consult with subject matter experts, community stakeholders, and co-funders in the grantmaking process. Ensure a robust system for funding data-driven innovation that does not unfairly advantage prior grantees over promising new ones.

2. Focus the behavioral health funding on infrastructure and gap funding for mental health outpatient care, with attention to measurable ways that the program can divert from, wrap around, and prevent readmission to inpatient psychiatric care.

3. Limit in-kind funding to clearly measurable capital and operational contributions.

These recommendations, along with commissioners' various other suggestions on the expansion plan, will be passed along to City Council. Councilmembers will have the final say over approving PSJ's redevelopment and community benefits agreement.

DORIS

Sosin was an expert at getting things done. She had an encyclopedic knowledge of how the City functions and was always encouraging her friends to join Boards and Commissions so they could gain the know-how and relationships to be able to shape the future of their community.

"She had a can-do attitude about things and if you came to her and said 'such and such is happening' she would immediately be like 'How can we help? Do you need money? Do you need advocacy? How can we best tackle this?'," said founding member of the Conservancy and friend Lori Nafshun. "She had an immense knowledge about how to get things accomplished and she was incredibly generous."

Sosin's accolades and titles are lengthy: the founder of the North of Montana Neighborhood Association, Co-founder of the Santa Monica Conservancy, Urban Forest Task Force Member, Recreation and Parks Commissioner and Textiles Curator at the Skirball Cultural Center. She was recognized as one of the women who shaped Santa Monica by the League of Women Voters, granted a President's Award by the Conservancy, and honored by the Conservancy at its 2019 Spirit of Preservation Gala.

"She was such an inspiring person to be with. She had a very positive outlook and was very embracing of other people and different ways of looking at the world," said Conservancy Board Member and friend Ruthann Lehrer. "She had a radiant smile and a spark about her that was just delightful to be with and she was always seeking new adventures, new experiences and to live her life to the fullest."

Sosin had an adventure-filled childhood, which at times required great bravery and fortitude. The daughter of a Navy admiral, she was constantly on the move while growing up and lived all over the United States.

At the age of ten she was a first person witness to the 1941 attack on Pearl Harbor as this is where her father was stationed at the time. Following the attack, Sosin had one day's notice to flee the island home she had come to adore. She braved a 13 day crossing back to America on an overpacked military vessel that constantly had to shift directions to avoid Japanese submarines, prepare for air raids and submarine attacks and use blackout lights to avoid detection.

Following the war, Sosin's father was reassigned to Hawaii and Sosin lived there again at age sixteen before completing high school and attending Hood College in Maryland. She later relocated to Southern California and went on two earn two master's degrees in art and education from UCLA.

She worked for many years as a devoted elementary school teacher for LAUSD and continued to donate her time and money to arts education programs for many years following her retirement.

Sosin died on Jan. 21 at the age of 90 and is survived by her daughters Leah Fischer and Jessica Davies; Noah, Lauren, Jeremy, Louis and Jackson; and her great grandchildren Maya, Lily, Hannah and Sophie.

TODAY'S BIRTHDAY (JANUARY 31)

You'll rack up achievements big and small but no matter what happens you'll remember your roots, credit your team and appreciate your good fortune. Helping family solve problems lends a strong sense of purpose and many unexpected joys. New hobbies are favored to connect you with fresh sources of inspiration. Taurus and Virgo adore you. Your lucky numbers are: 8, 10, 4, 33 and 9.

ARIES (March 21-April 19). To honor your fire, give yourself permission to be as intense as you want to be about certain things within particular boundaries outlined by you. Direct your own controlled burn.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20). You can't always choose who has access to your energy, time and attention, but you can certainly instate boundaries to keep you focused on what's important to you.

GEMINI (May 21-June 21). You're not the same person you were. Because you've changed, the people you attract will be different, too. There's a learning curve here, so your social life becomes something of an adventure.

CANCER (June 22-July 22). Aristotle said nature does nothing uselessly. Reasons may be mysterious to you but keep observing. Eventually, you'll understand why things are in their current state and how you can evolve them in your chosen direction.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22). It's hard to be a lighter, brighter person while anchored to a sinking ship. Obviously, the first order of business is to free yourself. So, what's it going to take?

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22). You're a quick study today. Others could get jealous of your pace, but don't slow down. They'll get over it just as soon as they see a benefit to themselves in it.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 23). You have a keen eye for communication coming from the subconscious. You detect people's vulnerabilities, their wants and fears, their lies and embellishments.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24-Nov. 21). Not all that glitters is gold, and sometimes stardust looks like plain old dirt. Today you'll use your talent for figuring out the true value of things regardless of their shine.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22-Dec. 21). Your attitude of gratitude compounds your good fortune. The more appreciative you are, the luckier you feel. The luckier you feel, the luckier you get.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19). Not everyone is gifted with your stellar powers of communication. It's easy to get frustrated by those who won't say what they mean or mean what they say. Finding patience is a worthwhile challenge.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 18). It's rare, but it happens. Sometimes you really do feel like the world is one big, welcoming community. Just liking to be around people is a contribution that lifts spirits.

PISCES (Feb. 19-March 20). Things get overwhelming when you take them too seriously. To relax, try letting your thoughts pass through your mind like water, as though there's nothing to grab onto and if you tried, it would only slip through your fingers.
