Cancer fighting company misses mark on traffic

BY KATE CAGLE
Daily Press Staff Writer

To the City Council, it's pretty frustrating that a business just a five minute walk away from an Expo stop struggles to meet its mark for car-free commuters.

The walk from the 26th Street/Bergamot Station stop to Agensys, Inc is precisely .3 miles, but that doesn't mean the Expo line is necessary convenient for the medical company's scientists and engineers who commute to work in Santa Monica from all corners of Los Angeles.

Still, nearly 25 percent of the company's 225 employees have agreed to give up their parking space in exchange for a $200 monthly stipend. To the City, it's still not enough: the company has fallen short for three years in a row on their average vehicle ridership (AVR) requirement dictated by a development agreement with the City. In order to meet their escalating AVR mark, 13 more employees need to give up their cars by this summer, according to estimates from the City.

When City staff members recently audited 32 development agreements in Santa Monica, Agensys was the only company falling short of the promises they made in order to build. Last

Vacant buildings subject to new scrutiny and fines

VACANT: Buildings like this one at 3004 Broadway may soon get slapped with fines if the owners don't resume construction.

BY KATE CAGLE
Daily Press Staff Writer

City code enforcement officers are about to get some new tools to go after vacant buildings in Santa Monica. On Tuesday, the City Council approved new measures that would force buildings owners to either get to work or tear down a building or pay a fine.

The ordinance also allows code enforcement to go after deteriorating properties, hazardous trees and overgrown vegetation.

A November report found 29 vacant properties in the 8-square-mile city. Half of them are single family homes, ten are apartment buildings and three are commercial properties. Only ten of those structures have no active project in the works or no Ellis withdrawal in process.

"I want to let you know how much I appreciate this report because I think there was a lot of resistance to doing anything about this because there was a feeling there weren't very many such buildings," Councilmember Sue Himmelrich told code enforcement staff. "So I'm happy that you have been sensitive to people's complaints and the general concern about it."

The Council unanimously passed the ordinance with an eye

Insights Into Cancer public lecture at UCLA

The California End of Life Option Act is a law that went into effect in June of 2016. This new law allows some patients with a terminal diagnosis to receive an aid-in-dying prescription from their physician much like in other states such as Oregon and Washington. This law presents an opportunity for discussion and understanding around best care and options for end of life. In these states, 70-80% of patients who select this option at end of life have cancer. What about cancer makes this option important to consider? What other considerations might be made whether cancer is terminal or not? What conversations and issues are important to address even before a cancer diagnosis? This presentation with a physician and psychologist open up an often neglected topic. The law is presented, what we know about its implementation to date and considerations that every patient and family should be thinking about as they recognize that death is ultimately not optional.

Neil S. Wenger, MD, is a Professor of Medicine in the Division of General Internal Medicine at UCLA and a consulting researcher at RAND. He is director of the UCLA Health Ethics Center and is chair of the Ethics Committee at the UCLA Medical Center. He also is director of the NRSA Primary Care Research Fellowship in the UCLA Division of General Internal Medicine and Health Services Research. Dr. Wenger is an active general internist and carries out research in the empirical study of clinical ethics, care of and decision making for the older patient, and quality of health care. He directed the Assessing Care of the Vulnerable Elders project, which developed a quality-of-care assessment system for vulnerable older persons and interventions to improve care for this group. Other areas of interest include medication adherence, teaching clinical ethics, and measuring the quality of end-of-life care.

Anne Coscarelli, PhD, is an Adjunct Professor of Medicine in the Division of Hematology/Oncology at UCLA and the Founding Director of the Simms/Mann UCLA Center for Integrative Oncology. She has been a researcher in the area of quality of life and cancer at both the Veterans Administration and UCLA. Since receiving her PhD in 1980 she has been dedicated to the impact and care of patients with cancer and those touched by the disease. Dr. Coscarelli is a licensed psychologist in California and provides psychological care to patients and families as they live with the disease from early diagnosis, through survivorship and end of life care. She is dedicated to comprehensive care of the whole person with cancer and uses evidenced based approaches. She has published on many aspects of cancer and its impact on patients and families.

This event will be conveniently live-streamed so that you can view it from any computer. No password is required, please log in at the time of the lecture at the below address:

Social Security Questions and Answers

QUESTION 1: HOW CAN I GET A FORM SSA-1099/1042S, Social Security Benefit Statement?

Response: An SSA-1099 is a tax form we mail each year in January to people who receive Social Security benefits. It shows the total amount of benefits you received from Social Security in the previous year so you know how much Social Security income to report to IRS on your tax return.

If you are a noncitizen who lives outside of the United States and you received or repaid Social Security benefits last year, we will send you form SSA-1042S instead.

The forms SSA-1099 and SSA-1042S are not available for people who receive Supplemental Security Income (SSI).

If you currently live in the United States and you need a replacement form SSA-1099 or SSA-1042S, we have a new way for you to get an instant replacement quickly and easily beginning Feb. 1 by:

Using your online my Social Security account. If you don't already have an account, you can create one online. Go to Sign In or Create an Account. Once you are logged in to your account, select the "Replacement Documents" tab;

Calling us at 1-800-772-1213 (TTY 1-800-325-0778), Monday through Friday from 7 a.m. to 7 p.m.; or Contacting your local Social Security office.

QUESTION 2: MUST I PAY TAXES ON SOCIAL SECURITY BENEFITS?

Response: Some people who get Social Security must pay federal income taxes on their benefits. But, no one pays taxes on more than 85 percent of their Social Security benefits.

You must pay taxes on your benefits if you file a federal tax return as an "individual" and your "combined income" exceeds $25,000. If you file a joint return, you must pay taxes if you and your spouse have "combined income" of more than $32,000. If you are married and file a separate return, you probably will have to pay taxes on your benefits.

NOTE: "Combined income" includes your adjusted gross income, tax-exempt interest income and half of your Social Security benefits.

QUESTION 3: HOW CAN I HAVE INCOME TAXES WITHHELD FROM MY SOCIAL SECURITY BENEFITS?

Response: If you get Social Security, you can ask us to withhold funds from your benefit and we will credit them toward your federal taxes.

QUESTION 4: WHAT IS THE CURRENT MAXIMUM AMOUNT OF TAXABLE EARNINGS FOR SOCIAL SECURITY THIS YEAR?

Response: In 2017, the highest amount of earnings on which you must pay Social Security tax is $127,200. We raise this amount yearly to keep pace with increases in average wages. There is no maximum earnings amount for Medicare tax. You must pay Medicare tax on all of your earnings.

QUESTION 5: WHERE CAN I GO TO FIND ANSWERS AND GENERAL INFORMATION QUICKLY ABOUT SOCIAL SECURITY'S PROGRAMS AND PROCEDURES?

Response: You can visit our Frequently Asked Questions webpage located at https://faq.ssa.gov/ics/support/default.asp?deptID=34019&_referrer.

QUESTION 6: HOW DO I EARN SOCIAL SECURITY CREDITS AND HOW MANY DO I NEED TO QUALIFY FOR BENEFITS?

Response: We use your total yearly earnings to figure your Social Security credits. The amount needed for a credit in 2017 is $1,300. You can earn a maximum of four credits for any year. The amount needed to earn one-credit increases automatically each year when average wages increase.

You must earn a certain number of credits to qualify for Social Security benefits. The number of credits you need depends on your age when you apply and the type of benefit application. No one needs more than 40 credits for any Social Security benefit.

QUESTION 7: HOW DO I APPLY FOR SOCIAL SECURITY DISABILITY BENEFITS?

Response: Social Security offers an online disability application. Applying online offers several advantages:

You can start your disability claim immediately. There is no need to wait for an appointment;

You can apply from the convenience of your home, or on any computer; and

You can avoid trips to a Social Security office, saving you time and money.

Other ways to apply:

Call 1-800-772-1213 (TTY 1-800-325-0778), Monday through Friday from7 a.m. to 7 p.m.; or Contact your local Social Security office.

QUESTION 8: HOW DO I APPLY FOR SOCIAL SECURITY RETIREMENT BENEFITS?

Response: You should apply for retirement benefits three months before you want your payments to start. The easiest and most convenient way to apply for retirement benefits is by using our online application.

You can also apply:

By phone - Call us at 1-800-772-1213 (TTY 1-800-325-0778), Monday through Friday from 7 a.m. to 7 p.m. or

In person - Visit your local Social Security office (Call first to make an appointment.)

QUESTION 9: AT WHAT AGE SHOULD I START RECEIVING MY SOCIAL SECURITY RETIREMENT BENEFITS?

Response: Choosing when to start receiving your Social Security retirement benefits is an important decision that affects your monthly benefit amount for the rest of your life. ??Your monthly retirement benefit will be higher if you delay claiming it?You can start receiving your retirement benefit as early as age 62, or as late as age 70. If you claim it early, your monthly amount will be reduced. On the other hand, if you delay claiming your benefit, your monthly amount will be increased for each month of delay. These adjustments are permanent for the rest of your life.

SOCIAL SECURITY

The increases from delaying your benefit can be large. For example, a worker with a $1,000 benefit at her full retirement age of 66 would receive $750 a month if she starts her benefit at age 62, or $1,320 a month if she delays until age 70. Married couples have two lives to plan for. If you are the higher earner, delaying starting your retirement benefit means higher monthly benefits for the rest of your life and higher survivor protection for your spouse, if you die first.??Other factors to consider?Deciding when to start receiving your retirement benefit is a highly personal decision, based on many factors that may be unique to each individual. For example, in addition to the monthly benefit amount, you may want to consider personal and family circumstances, including whether you are working or plan to work, current and future financial resources and obligations, and current and anticipated health and longevity.

QUESTION 10: HOW DO I BECOME A REPRESENTATIVE PAYEE FOR SOMEONE RECEIVING SOCIAL SECURITY OR SUPPLEMENTAL SECURITY INCOME (SSI) BENEFITS?

Response: If you know someone receiving Social Security or Supplemental Security Income (SSI) benefits who needs assistance managing their payments, you should contact your local Social Security office about becoming their representative payee.

QUESTION 11: IF I AM THE REPRESENTATIVE PAYEE FOR SOMEONE WHO RECEIVES SOCIAL SECURITY BENEFITS OR SUPPLEMENTAL SECURITY INCOME (SSI), WHAT CHANGES MUST I REPORT TO SOCIAL SECURITY?

Response: If you are the representative payee for someone, you must report to us any changes that may affect the person's benefit payments. You must tell us if:

The beneficiary moves;

The beneficiary starts or stops working, no matter how little the earnings amount;

A disabled beneficiary's medical condition improves;

The beneficiary starts receiving another government benefit or the benefit amount changes;

The beneficiary travels outside the United States for 30 days or more;

The beneficiary is imprisoned for a crime that carries a sentence of more than one month;

The beneficiary is committed to an institution by court order for a crime committed because of a mental impairment;

Custody of a child beneficiary changes or a child is adopted;

The beneficiary is a stepchild, and the parents' divorce;

The beneficiary gets married;

The beneficiary no longer needs a payee; or

The beneficiary dies.

If the beneficiary gets SSI, you must also tell us if:

The beneficiary moves to or from a hospital, nursing home, correctional facility or other institution;

A married beneficiary separates from his or her spouse, or they begin living together again after a separation;

Someone moves into or out of the beneficiary's household; or

The beneficiary or their spouse has a change in income or resources.

BUILDINGS

toward 3004 Broadway, a particular eyesore that has been in various stages of construction since 1996. Over the years there have been 25 Code Enforcement cases opened for violations like overgrown vegetation, trash and debris. However, since the building is property secured, there has been little the City can do to force the owner to move forward on the property.

Once the ordinance becomes law, any building left vacant for six months will receive a citation and penalty from Code Enforcement. The punishment would start with a $1,000 fine but staff did not elaborate on how penalties would escalate from there if there is still no movement on the project.

"I hope the fines are sufficient. A lot of these people have very deep pockets," said Andrew Hoyer, president of Mid City Neighbors.

Code enforcement would not be able to cite buildings that have a valid building or construction permit, even if there is little work being done. However, if the time frame of the permit expires without finishing the project, the building would then become subject to the new ordinance.

Now that the ordinance has passed on first reading, it will return to the Council one more time for final review and passage.

CRIME WATCH
BY DAILY PRESS STAFF

Crime Watch is culled from reports provided by the Santa Monica Police Department. These are arrests only. All parties are innocent until proven guilty in a court of law.

ON FEBRUARY 28, AT ABOUT 1:30 P.M.

Officers were flagged down by Loss Prevention at Sephora-1244 3rd Street Promenade regarding subjects possibly shoplifting from the store. Officers determined Loss Prevention saw the suspect attempt to conceal merchandise in a bag and exit the store without paying for the items. The Loss Prevention Agent stopped the suspect and recovered approximately $170 worth of items. Sephora was not desirous of prosecution. Officers discovered additional merchandise from Zara-1338 3rd Street Promenade valued at about $300. The suspect admitted to stealing the merchandise from Zara who was desirous of prosecution. The suspect was taken into custody and transported to SMPD Jail for booking. Ashley Renee Honeycutt, 25, from Palm Springs, was arrested for receiving stolen property and appropriation of lost property. Bail was set at $1,000.

CANCER

Tuesday night, Agensys's vice president of technical operations appeared before the City Council to essentially ask forgiveness.

"We are going to continue to be a good neighbor and work as hard as we can to get our AVR target to where the development agreement says," Gary Welch said.

Agensys is a biotech company that develops monoclonal antibodies (mAbs) to treat cancer. mAbs work by either helping a person's own immune response attack cancer cells in their body or by attaching to cancer proteins and prohibiting their growth. Right now Agensys products target cancers of the prostate, kidney, pancreas, ovaries, bladder, lung, colon, breast and skin.

In a statement to the Daily Press, Agensys spokeswoman Stefanie Prodouz said the company has a "strong history of stewardship in the Santa Monica community."

"We take our partnership with the City of Santa Monica very seriously and implemented a robust ridership program years ago," Prodouz said.

As part of their development agreement, Agensys maintains a café that's open to the public and a sculpture garden along a walking path near the Expo line as well as a student internship program. Agensys has kept it's promise with all those requirements. In fact, the company is preparing for their third sculpture exhibit which will open sometime next month. The cancer-fighting company also donated more than $90,000 to Bergamot Station transit infrastructure and bike access.

"This may not seem like that big of an aspect of your DA to you, but it is a big aspect to us because of the traffic coming in to town," Councilmember Sue Himmelrich told Welch at the public meeting. "It's not just you that we are pressuring, we pressure everybody all the time to hit their AVR targets."

Agensys has until April 17 to follow up with the City with a new plan to get more employees out of their cars. The city manager Rick Cole acknowledged it's not always easy.

"We too at the City struggle with meeting our average vehicle ridership targets," Cole said.

TODAY'S BIRTHDAY (March 13)

You crave a life that's deeper and more profound. You'll pass up the values offered in sound bites and snack sizes to devote yourself to mastery and expertise levels of your interests. You'll strike "gold" in May. Your personal life gets spicy in August. You'll take home a trophy before the end of 2017. Libra and Capricorn adore you. Your lucky numbers are: 2, 17, 3, 33 and 41.

ARIES (March 21-April 19)
Don't be quick to assume that another person's behavior is about you. Most people are focused on solving problems that have little or nothing to do with you.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20)
People around you will jostle for position, trying to get there faster and first. What if you thought of everyone as you but in a different body? How would you do it differently than they do?

GEMINI (May 21-June 21)
You may not want to share the conclusions you've drawn, as there are many around you, some of them close friends and colleagues, who won't agree. Instead, share the facts that led you to draw the conclusion.

CANCER (June 22-July 22)
You're going to rise to the competition. Do you know who it is? If you don't have any competition or it's way too easy for you, this is the time to go find those with the level of skill and talent that will push you.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22)
You'll be building on today's accomplishments, so it's important that you lay down a solid base. Generally, it will be much better to do something slowly and correctly than fast and wrong.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22)
The key to success will be hidden in something small. Capture it first to allow for the detailed study. Take notes, or record instructions, or take a picture you can zoom in to on a smartphone.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 23)
In a way, it is selfish to point out your own flaws or flubs. It brings the attention to you in a not very educational or entertaining way. Anyway, you're the only one who will notice if you mess up today, so move right along.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24-Nov. 21)
Flowers given at random are much more effective than the ones given on a birthday or as an apology. Good luck seems doubly good when it comes from out of the blue. Use the power of surprise to your own benefit.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22-Dec. 21)
One hobby isn't enough. You need three, really -- one that lets you be creative, one that gets you moving physically and one that will help you meet beneficial social and professional contacts.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19)
Your competitive advantage is that you pick up conversational cues. This includes taking notice of the topics people bring up. Casual references are often significant and not throwaways.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 18)
What seems like a pesky problem is actually an opportunity to execute a task differently than it's been done in the past. With your cleverness, you'll turn this around and shine all the while.

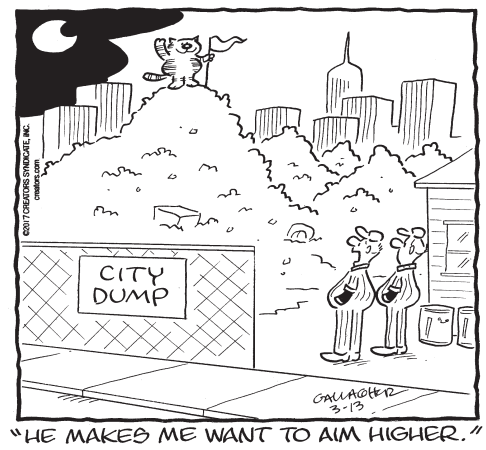

PISCES (Feb. 19-March 20)
There is a difference of many, many hours (perhaps years) between intimate knowledge and basic knowledge. If all that's needed is a basic knowledge, don't waste time learning more. Get up and running.

Mercury Is Reborn

Mercury moves out of wise, soulful Pisces and into the realm of the zodiac's firstborn, Aries. This passage represents a quickening. Youthfulness and innocence are implied. The wires of communication are charged with a childlike zest, along with the arrogance forgivable only in children who don't know any better.
