FUNDRAGER: Rusty's held a benefit event for Planned Parenthood recently.

BY MARINA ANDALON
Daily Press Staff Writer

A raging good time might not be all that unusual at Rusty's Surf Ranch, but this month, the popular local bar upgraded the traditional night on the town to support a good cause.

Rusty's hosted a new kind of event, a FundRager as a Party to Protect Women's Rights.

Jordon Heskett, Assistant General Manager at Rusty's and Rebecca Grites sparked the idea of a FundRager and were the lead organizers.

"It was around the time Trump, Pence, and Ryan were slamming women's health rights and were proposing ways to de-fund Planned Parenthood for good," said Grites.

She called some of her closet friends and felt it was necessary to make a statement. After attending the Women's March in January she knew hosting a FundRager would be her next great move.

"Aside from the fact that there is a local Planned Parenthood center in Santa Monica, the city is one where tourists and locals love to flock to," said Grites. "It's an ideal location to get a real mix of American culture, so I was very excited and intrigued to see if the majority of patrons head to the Pier and to Rusty's."

The event had around 100 local men and women, and all proceeds from the event went to Planned Parenthood LA Chapter.

The LA Chapter of Planned Parenthood made an appearance and provided tax paperwork for those who wanted to include their donation at tax time. The organization also provided some informational materials.

City #GoSaMo campaign drives forward

BY KATE CAGLE
Daily Press Staff Writer

The City of Santa Monica is pushing ahead to get commuters out of their cars and onto buses, trains and bikes while heading into the second year of the #GoSaMo campaign.

The first year of the campaign has been largely lauded as a success. While 72 percent of trips around the City still involve the a car, staff members say locals are becoming more familiar with their other options, including Big Blue Bus, the Expo light rail line and Breeze Bike Share.

"I think the important thing is that behavior change takes repetition and it takes familiarity and we've built a base where people can begin to be familiar," Planning and Transportation Manager Francie Stefan said at Tuesday's City Council meeting where staff presented a briefing on the first year of the campaign.

After twelve months of public outreach through ad buys, social media campaigns and events, a recent survey found 83 percent of residents and local workers who have heard of Expo say they understand how to use it, up 27 percent from surveys taken before the media blitz. The number of people who own a TAP Card, which provides access to all three modes of transportation, has also reached an

COMMUNITY BRIEFS

Los Angeles

Nearly $500,000 raised to benefit the Independent School Alliance

The Independent School Alliance for Minority Affairs (The Independent School Alliance) honored outstanding members of the Los Angeles community at its annual Impact Awards gala, Thursday, April 20, at the Beverly Wilshire Hotel, Beverly Hills. Nina L. Shaw, Esq., Founding Partner, Del Shaw Moonves Tanaka Finkelstein & Lezcano; Kevin Demoff, Los Angeles Rams Executive Vice President of Football Operations/Chief Operating Officer; and Mary Beth Barry, Director of Admissions, Brentwood Lower School were honored. Joshua Hamilton, Brian Laibow and Mira Lee Co-Chaired. Nick Cannon emceed. Vocalist Judith Hill, featured in the Oscar and Grammy-winning documentary 20 Feet From Stardom and on The Voice, was guest performer.

Bob Riddle, President of the Alliance Board of Directors and Head of Schools at Crossroads, thanked interim Alliance Executive Director Herson Mojica for his efforts in overseeing the work of the organization while pursuing his doctorate in clinical psychology. Mojica was presented a plaque of appreciation.

Cynthia Shackelford, an Alliance parent whose daughter attended Brentwood School, introduced and presented honoree Mary Beth Barry with the first of the evenings three Impact Awards. A life-long educator, Mary Beth Barry notes that her first teaching position landed her "in a windowless cellar classroom in Rhode Island!" She went on to join schools in Massachusetts, Washington DC and eventually California, primarily as a kindergarten teacher. In 1995 she began what she describes as "an amazing journey," as one of the founding faculty of Brentwood School, eventually leading to her appointment as Director of the school's Lower Division in 2000. A passionate supporter of school diversity, Barry became involved with The Independent School Alliance, eventually joining its Board and later served as the organization's Chair for five years. She is the first to extol the work of The Alliance, noting "I am so proud to be part of an organization that helps change a child's trajectory."

Multi-award-winning actor, writer, director and producer, Lawrence Fishburne presented the Impact Award to long-time friend and colleague, Nina L. Shaw. Describing her as "one of the most powerful women in Hollywood, she is strong enough to know that true power has nothing to do with brute strength and everything to do with doing what's right." He went on to describe her early roots growing up in Harlem, yet never losing her focus. "To achieve that level of seniority in Hollywood and the legal profession is difficult. For a woman of color – who came up in the era Nina did – it was considered virtually impossible, but she did. And she did it solely on hard work, passion and principles."

Nina L. Shaw, Esq is founding partner in the entertainment law firm of Del Shaw Moonves Tanaka Finkelstein & Lezcano, where her client roster is a veritable "who's who" of award-winning actors, writers, producers and directors as well as entrepreneurs and entertainment executives. Boasting a long-standing commitment to children's education and especially as an advocate for the education of girls and women, she currently serves as Vice President of the Board of Directors of the Independent School Alliance.

Former UCLA Bruin and Green Bay Packers football star, Jonathan Franklin, currently with the LA Rams in community and external affairs, presented the evening's third Impact Award to Kevin Demoff, now in his ninth year as Chief Operating Office & Executive Vice President of Football Operations with the Rams. Franklin credits Demoff with "changing my life." After an injury ended his football career, Demoff stepped in and gave him a job working for the Rams in the inner city, heading up their football initiatives. "He gave my life a new meaning and now I work to give back to those kids with the same energy and passion that Kevin gives back to so many people," said Franklin.

Established in 1985 by a group of Southern California school heads, The Independent School Alliance is an organization of 54 private, independent elementary and secondary schools that endeavor to increase their diversity. It is the mission of The Independent School Alliance to inform members of racial communities presently underrepresented in independent schools of the option of independent school education; to identify applicants from these communities and assist them in the application process; to provide on-going support programs for students and their families; and to act as a resource to member schools assisting them in their individual efforts to address issues of racial diversity and multicultural education. Over the past 14 years, The Independent School Alliance students have received nearly $70 million in financial aid from member schools. Reed Park

Santa Monica Bay Audubon talk

The Santa Monica Bay Audubon Society (SMBAS) presents What A Fish Knows at Christine Emerson Reed Park, 1133 7th Street, on Tuesday, May 2 at 7:30 p.m.

In this dynamic, illustrated presentation, Jonathan Balcombe combines science with storytelling to explore the colorful lives of the least understood and most exploited vertebrates on Earth. Balcombe explores fish perceptions, cognition, emotion, social behavior, and cooperation, and wraps it in the context of our evolving relationship to fishes and their vital aquatic habitats.

Jonathan Balcombe is a biologist, author, and a life-long animal advocate. He has a PhD in ethology from the University of Tennessee, where he studied communication in bats. He has published over 50 journal articles and book chapters ranging from turtle nesting behavior to the ethics of animal dissection. His 2006 book Pleasurable Kingdom is the first in-depth examination of animals' capacity to enjoy life.

His subsequent books Second Nature, and The Exultant Ark also present animals in a new light and presage a revolution in the human-animal relationship. His latest book, the New York Times bestseller What a Fish Knows, explores the private lives of the planet's most misunderstood and exploited vertebrates. Balcombe is Director for Animal Sentience with The Humane Society Institute for Science and Policy, based in Washington, DC. In January, he and his colleagues launched Animal Sentience, the first scholarly journal of animal feeling. A popular commentator, he has appeared on Fresh Air with Terry Gross, the BBC, the National Geographic Channel, and in several documentaries, and has contributed features and opinions to The New York Times, The Washington Post, The Wall Street Journal, Nature, and other publications. He recently moved to Florida, where in his spare time he enjoys biking, baking, birding, Bach, and trying to understand the lizards on his patio.

The meeting will be at Christine Emerson Reed Park, 1133 7th Street. (between 7th St. & Lincoln Blvd., California Ave. & Wilshire Blvd.) Meetings begin at 7:30 p.m. sharp with a little business, and then the main presentation. Light refreshments are served afterward. Please leave your coyote at home, however much they whine to come.

Pacific Palisades

St. Matthew's Music Guild offers free neighborhood concert

Music at St. Matthew's continues its 32st season of concerts in Pacific Palisades with a free Neighborhood Concert on Friday, May 5, at 8 p.m. Thomas Neenan will conduct the Chamber Orchestra at St. Matthew's in a performance of Beethoven's Fifth Symphony and they will be joined by the Paul Revere Middle School Chamber Orchestra under the direction of Lara Jacques in the world premiere of Richard Meyer's Hemispheres, commissioned for the occasion by the Music Guild. Neenan, who teaches music history and theory at Caltech will offer insights into "The Magic of Beethoven's Fifth," complete with musical examples played by the orchestra.

The concert is the latest in a series of music outreach events sponsored by the Music Guild with support from the Los Angeles County Board of Supervisors under the auspices of the LA County Arts Commission. The Music Guild performs at area schools, assisted living facilities and community centers and, for several years, has offered free Neighborhood Concerts at their home in Pacific Palisades. The concert will represent the second time they have been joined by more than 30 young string players from Paul Revere Middle School.

In notes accompanying his new work, Los Angeles composer Richard Meyer writes, "this multi-cultural piece explores world music using a unique and exciting format. Two side-by-side orchestras share one conductor, with one group performing traditional American songs and the other playing folk songs from the Middle East. A total of eight songs are presented as each section from the two orchestras is featured. As the piece unfolds, what emerges is not only a tapestry of beautiful music, but an intense commentary on the power of music to unite diverse cultures."

There is perhaps no more familiar piece of classical music than Beethoven's Fifth Symphony. Tom Neenan, a popular presenter of pre-concert lectures for the Los Angeles Philharmonic and New West Symphony, and a recipient of the Associated Students of Caltech's "Outstanding Teaching Award," is known for his insightful and frequently humorous commentaries on music. He will offer a brief introduction to Beethoven the man, and commentary on his the Fifth Symphony, with live illustrations, played by The Chamber Orchestra at St. Matthew's.

All concerts in the Music Guild's series take place on Fridays at 8pm, in St. Matthew's Church, 1031 Bienveneda Ave., Pacific Palisades. For more information, visit the Music Guild website: MusicGuildOnline.org or call (310) 573-7421.

With four hours of FundRaging, Rusty's was able to raise a little over $1,000. Heskett explained the event wasn't so much about the amount of money they could raise rather about bringing awareness to women's right and starting a conversation.

"Raising awareness of importance is just as valuable as raising money," said Grites.

Rusty's isn't the only one making noise about women's health care. Santa Monica native Claire Krizman is speaking up and taking a stand for women's rights.

Krizman attended Franklin Elementary and Lincoln Middle School and attended Winward School in Mar Vista. She now attends Southern Methodist University in Texas.

"Santa Monica is a wonderful bubble but that was something I wanted to escape for college," said Krizman. "I wanted to go see something totally different and Texas is totally different."

Different is exactly what she saw. In the first week of April, a pro-life student group called Mustangs for Life organized small wooden crosses on the campus lawn.

"Each cross symbolizes a 'dead baby'. The 2500 crosses show the 2500 abortions that are had ever day," said Krizman. "I am all about free speech but at some point it seemed as it was a shaming demonstration."

Krizman saw no one was relaying information to students about abortions and the options women have. She decided to take action and started a GoFundMe page to raise money for Planned Parenthood.

"Originally the goal was to raise $2,500. Making it a dollar for every cross, but the page ended up going viral.1 We received $2,500 in twelve hours," said Krizman.

In one month she was able to raise $14,165, and she has also started a new student group, called Mustangs for Unity.

The goal is simply to work to eliminate the need for abortions by educating and informing women. She believes in showing support rather than shame.

"We are focusing on abortions but in our demonstration we are focused on the woman behind the abortion. Supporting her, and her story and why she felt the need to have an abortion," said Krizman.

The school has received much media especially in a time where the President is suggesting cutting Planned Parenthood funds.

As of now Krizman is doing her best to make a statement and fight for women's rights and health care.

CRIME WATCH
BY DAILY PRESS STAFF

Crime Watch is culled from reports provided by the Santa Monica Police Department. These are arrests only. All parties are innocent until proven guilty in a court of law.

ON APRIL 18, AT ABOUT 7:19 A.M.

Officers responded to the 100 block of Fraser Avenue regarding a prowling that just occurred. Upon arrival to the area, officers detained the subject for an investigation. Officers determined the subject was loitering about a property and slept on outdoor furniture of a residence. The subject was in possession of keys to a residence. A resident identified the subject as loitering in his backyard prompting the call to the police. Michael Palfrader, 24, homeless, was arrested receiving stolen property and prowling upon private property. Bail was set at $5,000.

"Last year when the long awaited Expo line was ready to begin service, this Council made a commitment to use it as a teachable moment to usher in a new model of mobility," City Manager Rick Cole said, adding the Expo line has now become the most successful metro line in the County. In a citywide survey, nearly 100 percent of respondents said they would recommend the Expo line to someone.

While the train may be a success, Big Blue Bus hit a stumbling block this year: ridership is down roughly 12 percent, according to an annual city mobility report released in March. About 1.6 percent of trips within Santa Monica are taken on BBB.

Councilmember Sue Himmelrich suggested cars might still be the future, but not necessarily needing to own one yourself.

"The studies show that the number one factor of getting people to dump their cars is availability of other modes of transportation," Himmelrich said. "The most important is car share. I know that we have some car share here but it appears to be limited to me."

Santa Monica has a pilot program with ZipCar, which recently experienced a change in leadership at the corporate level. Stefan says the car-sharing service is looking to expand onto private properties to give more residents access to their cars. Right now there are about 30 ZipCars in Santa Monica, according to the company's website. Renting a car costs about $9.50 an hour.

To chief communications officer Debbie Lee, sometimes old fashioned methods work the best to get residents into new modes of transportation, saying she learned "we need to keep it fun, skip the downloads and keep the buttons. The old fashioned pins worked really, really well."

TODAY'S BIRTHDAY (May 1)

It's a year of lifestyle upgrades, as you've aimed to live more in line with your values. There are also some aesthetic changes you've been wanting to make. Friends and family will support you and then celebrate your success. The sweat you pour into an August project brings big money in November. Cancer and Gemini adore you. Your lucky numbers are: 9, 40, 22, 30 and 11.

ARIES (March 21-April 19)
Though necessity is the mother of invention, many inventions are not directly linked to the exploration of a necessity. For example, light bulbs were not the result of a study of candles. Think broadly across many subjects and disciplines.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20)
Shakespeare said the best safety lies in fear, yet that kind of safety leads to cowering and hiding, whereas the safety found in preparation and a good defense will lead to far more adventurous experiences.

GEMINI (May 21-June 21)
To set the rules of the environment will be in no way an inconvenience or affront to others; rather. it will have a most favorable effect. The limits you establish will help all to relax and dwell within the boundary of the place and moment.

CANCER (June 22-July 22)
Though the proceedings are friendly in tone, the interaction today is more about an exchange of practical knowledge than it is about relationship building. It goes best when you stay focused and stick to business.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22)
You've something very sincere and heartfelt to get off your chest. For this, you're better off avoiding the kind of conversational partner who thinks that the opposite of talking is waiting.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22)
There's just no time to be self-conscious, because you're so focused on experiencing all you can. You may even dare to spontaneously and publicly sing and dance.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 23)
You'll be inspired by a very self-made and highly motivated person. You'd like to direct yourself similarly, and in many ways you already do. You're already planning your future involvement with this good influence.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24-Nov. 21)
You may fret over what to wear, what topics of conversation to keep at the ready and what to eat. These are the worries of a classy person who cares about smooth interactions and winning impressions.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22-Dec. 21)
In the same way that it's silly to saddle the horse if you're not going to ride it, it's a waste of energy to make grand resolutions that are too hard to keep. You'll thrive setting small goals; you'll conquer them quickly.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19)
Home is an emotional state. It exists as much in your imagination as it does in physical space. If you are at home but you do not feel at home, don't let the dynamics drag on. They can and should be fixed today.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 18)
The situation you create and re-create is nothing more than a habit. It may feel like more of a knee-jerk reaction than a choice, but that's only because the pattern is so ingrained. You can keep or change any part of it you want.

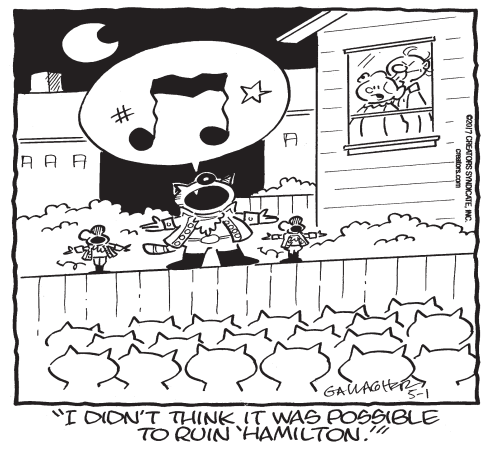

PISCES (Feb. 19-March 20)
There are certain memories, keepsakes and traditions you draw on for sustenance. You'll do well to make the ritual more deliberate, perhaps by adding something to it or just by recognizing its importance.

Maypoles and the Fires of Beltane

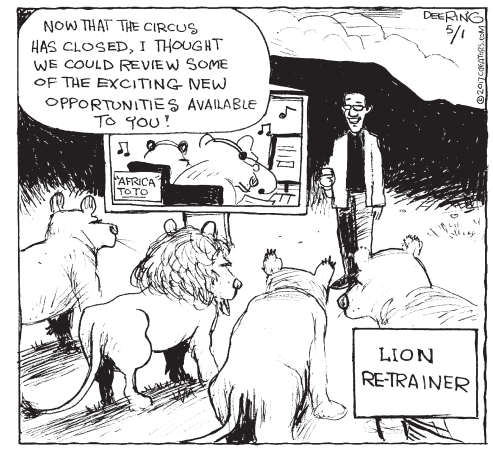

In the pagan tradition, May Day is celebrated with a tall maypole decorated with leaves, ribbons and flowers and erected as a festival centerpiece to dance and revel around. In the Celtic tradition, there's a bonfire instead, from which all light their home hearths. May your heart be made glad with the warmth and bounty of the season.

WELL NEWS BY SCOTT LAFEE

Doc Talk

■ Rainbow draw: When a phlebotomist cannot read a doctor's blood draw order and so fills every color-coded tube with a sample, just in case.

Never Say Diet

■ The Major League Eating record for crinkle cut French fries is 4.46 pounds in 6 minutes, held by Cookie Jarvis. That's small potatoes compared to Bob Shoudt's record for consuming curly fries -- 7.9 pounds -- though to be fair, Shoudt had an extra four minutes. No doubt Jarvis could ketchup with the extra time.

Financing provided by third parties and is subject to credit requirements. Interest accrues during the promotional period but all interest is waived if the purchase amount is paid in full within 12 months. Offer available with our Instant Product Rewards with purchase at time of initial visit.

Why have 29,822 Southern California homeowners chosen us to replace their windows?

No pressure. During your Free Window Diagnosis, we'll give you an exact, down-to-the-penny price that's good for an entire year.

114 years of window expertise. We're the full-service replacement window division of Andersen, the window and door brand that your dad told you to trust.

No middleman to deal with. There's no runaround between the installer and the manufacturer because we handle it all, from custom-building to installing to warranting all our products.

We won't sell you vinyl. We've replaced thousands of poor-quality vinyl windows and patio doors, so we made our window's Fibrex® composite material two times stronger than vinyl.

Make an appointment and get a price that's good for an entire year!
