ADJOURNMENTS:

Actor, manicurist, and young man pass

BY DAVID MARK SIMPSON
Daily Press Staff Writer

Editor's note: This is a semi-regular feature that announces the deaths of people who lived in or impacted Santa Monica. Oftentimes the names and information are gathered from the ends of City Council meetings, when council adjourns in the memory of those who've passed.

CITY HALL City Council honored Richard Dysart, a longtime Santa Monica resident, over the theme music of "L.A. Law" last month.

Dysart, who served in the Air Force during the Korean War, was best remembered for his role as senior partner Leland McKenzie on the NBC legal drama.

The stage and screen actor died in Santa Monica on April 5, at the age of 86, after a long bout with cancer.

"He was an active member of the community and cared deeply about others," Councilmember Sue Himmelrich said.

Dysart attended a slew of public meetings in Santa Monica over the years, expressing his opinions on a variety of issues from the Joslyn Park off-lease dog area to duplex zoning on Copeland Court.

"Mr. Dysart's wife is a prominent artist, Kathryn Jacobi who's a lovely lady," Councilmember Gleam Davis said. "I happen to know her personally and I just wanted to add my sympathies to her and her family in this very difficult time. He will be missed and I know it's been difficult on the family."

He was born near Boston but had lived in Santa Monica for decades. Dysart won an Emmy

Draft Zoning Ordinance finally ready for approval

BY DAVID MARK SIMPSON
Daily Press Staff Writer

CITY HALL Ding! Ding! Welcome to the (potential) last round of the excruciatingly long process of updating the Zoning Ordinance.

City Council will meet at 6:30 p.m. on Tuesday at City Hall to finalize the ordinance, which will dictate land uses throughout the city for years to come.

Council tackled the ordinance just last month, hearing five hours of public testimony and then discussing potential changes for seven hours.

During that meeting, council made no final decisions. Instead, they made recommendations, instructing city planners and attorneys to come back with final language this week.

The Planning Commission discussed the ordinance over the course of 33 meetings, nailing down some of the more obvious items and making (sometimes contentious) recommendations to council on the tougher items.

Last month, council voted unanimously on many issues and voted 5 to 2 on many others, effectively nailing them down for final approval this week.

In other instances, council voted 4 to 3 or presented broad ideas for city planners and attorneys to shape. These will likely be the issues that get the most attention on Tuesday.

Often the most passionate public discourse surrounds height and

JUDY FRANKLIN: After more than three decades, Franklin will retire.

Special ed teacher retiring after 36 years in SMMUSD

CITYWIDE The way Judy Franklin sees it, each child is a puzzle.

Each student she taught during her time in the Santa Monica-Malibu school district had specific needs, and it was her job to figure out how to help each one develop skills and overcome obstacles.

"The joy I felt when I was able to work out how to guide them on their unique learning path — now that is a wonderful feeling," she said.

It's a feeling that Franklin has enjoyed throughout her career, which is drawing to a close after 36 years in the local district. The longtime special education teacher is slated to retire at the end of the school year.

Franklin said she'll leave with a trove of good memories from her time as an SMMUSD employee, thanks mostly to the teachers,

Early Childhood Education Center a grand giveaway

ONE MORE EXAMPLE OF HOW THE SOCIAL engineering agenda of Santa Monica's most powerful leaders will play out before the Planning Commission this coming Wednesday night beginning at 7 p.m.

A public hearing will be held to consider amending the Civic Center Specific Plan and forward recommendations to City Council concerning increasing the maximum allowable floor area of a proposed Santa Monica College Early Childhood Education Center (ECEC) from 16,000 square feet to 20,000 square feet and increasing the height of an administration building fronting on 4th Street from 25 feet to 40 feet. Current plans call for the administration building with classrooms and two smaller infant/toddler and preschool buildings.

The reason for expansion is to increase program capacity for up to 110 children (from 100 children), provide classrooms for the college's early childhood education program and provide meeting space for community-based agencies providing resources and services to parents and children. I'm all for early childhood education and the benefit it provides to emerging minds, but this is a bad deal for taxpayers for a number or reasons.

At some time in the next month or two, City Council will review and vote on a long term (possibly up to 100 years) lease on about 1.6 acres of valuable Civic Center land that requires no rent or payment of any kind to the city by the college. The city is also expected to kick in $5.4-million to SMC to help pay for construction costs of a "world class" ECEC estimated at $12-million before the proposed expansion. It's a bad deal for taxpayers.

SMC will have the exclusive right to hire a private, for profit, operator for the Center. There's no requirement that ECEC clients be Santa Monica residents because it is conceived primarily as a child care perk for the well paid employees of Rand Corporation, City Hall and the College. Families will be charged market rate for the ECEC's services although there may be some financial aid available.

Recreation and Parks Commission Chair Phil Brock emailed, "While I'm a firm supporter of early childhood education, the location in the midst of the Civic Center is the wrong location for this center. It does not fit on the civic parking lot and takes away a valuable acre and a half from potential cultural and park resources."

Over the years, there have been many committees and individuals working on a Civic Center Specific Plan. As various interests were catered to, the whole process became muddled, unfocused and sidetracked. The Civic Center is currently home to City Hall, the Public Safety Building, County Courthouse, a multi-story parking garage, 1,100 car surface parking lot next to a 3,000 seat multi-use Civic Auditorium, a luxury hotel, Rand headquarters, a 318-unit low income apartment/market rate condo project and Tongva Park.

A corner of the surface parking lot has been earmarked for the new ECEC Center. This is not the right place for an ECEC facility because it adds another disparate element to the Civic Center that isn't compatible with cultural endeavors or an upgraded Civic Auditorium. The ECEC Center will be another daytime-only operation which does nothing to bring "after dark" activities associated with cultural events such as galleries and other food/drink amenities into the area.

This isn't the first time a SMC project resulted in one of the City's major planning disasters. In 1990, SMC entered into a 66-year lease with the school district on the shuttered Madison Elementary School (bounded by Santa Monica Boulevard, Arizona Avenue, 10th and 11th Streets) to expand its educational offerings. Then SMC President Piedad Robertson enlisted former opera singer Dale Franzen to develop plans for a 500 seat showcase theater and arts complex at the Madison site in the middle of a multi-family residential neighborhood.

It's unfortunate that SMC's Broad Stage isn't next to the Civic Auditorium. The Broad, along with an adjoining $12.5-million art gallery and performing arts space under construction west of 11th Street, would have provided a strong focus for a renewed Civic Center. Imagine a grouping of performing arts spaces surrounded by art galleries, eateries, and other entertainment and arts related venues in one central location. They would have enhanced each other and provided a purpose to visit the Civic Center especially in the evenings and on weekends when the area is dead and mostly unused.

You'd think that somewhere in the process, the SMC Board of Trustees and City Council (both controlled by the Santa Monicans for Renters' Rights political organization) along with City Hall's Cultural and Community Affairs and the Planning Departments would have worked together to make the Civic Center a real cultural heart of Santa Monica Letting SMC control the land is a mistake, as the college is not bound by city planning rules. SMC owns a large, vacant parcel at Pico Boulevard and 14th Street that is a much better location for this ECEC complex. That neighborhood between the Pico neighborhood and Sunset Park is centralized, easily accessible and much more appropriate.

Bringing this essay fully around, It always seems to boil down to a political social engineering agenda that rules community planning and common sense. In the case of the ECEC's apparently locked-in location, it's compounding horrendous planning errors and squanders our city's cultural opportunities.

ZONING UPDATES TO BE FINALIZED

Tomorrow evening, City Council will finalize updates to the city's zoning codes. Considering the shenanigans that have riddled the updating process and the mindset of some council members, it's time to pray for Santa Monica.

Audioshot

HAVING LAUNCHED TWO WEB STARTUPS BY AGE 18, Shaun Newsum is so stranger to entrepreneurship. His most recent startup is Audioshot, a music sharing app. Erik Huberman, CEO of Hawke Media, talks to Shaun about music, entrepreneurship and Audioshot.

Erik Huberman: What made you want to become an entrepreneur?

S: When I was in 8th grade, there was a competition in my school where we teamed up and made stock investments and whoever made the most money won. That sparked my interest in all things finance, capital, investment. All of that was the prequel to my becoming an entrepreneur.

E: Tell me about Audioshot.

S: Audioshot is a new, easy way to share music. We set out to build a way to share music on any device, across any messaging app. The two top activities that people do on their mobile phone are message and listen to music. There was no easy way to merge the two of them, so that's why we created Audioshot. Our goal is to make that as easy as possible and create a new way for people to connect.

E: How are you changing the world?

S: Everyone loves music and we want people to share what they're feeling. Music is such a fleeting thing, that we wanted to make it take only five seconds to share a song. It's all about capturing the moment, in the moment.

E: Why Santa Monica?

S: For me personally, I used to work at Vevo in NYC and they had an LA office. My fiancé came to UCLA for her doctorate so we moved from New York to LA and moved to Santa Monica. There's just so much going on here, and in walking distance. I think when you're starting out it's important to have easy access to a lot of different types of people.

E: Do you have one piece of advice for an entrepreneur starting their own business?

S: This is one of the mistakes I made earlier one, trying to do everything yourself. Getting an idea off the ground takes a lot of work, no matter how much funding you have. Always be willing to work with an expert or a consultant. Lean on the people that have expertise to help guide you.

SHAUN NEWSUM

E: Is there anything you'd like to share with the Santa Monica community?

S: I love the fact that there's going to be a Metro fly in Santa Monica know. I'm looking forward to going Downtown for happy hour.

Santa Monica Public Library Wants Your Opinion

Santa Monica Public Library is envisioning the future of the organization through the process of strategic planning. A major focus of this effort is to solicit input from the Santa Monica community in order to ensure that the Library's newly formed plan will meet the needs of the community it serves. As part of these efforts, during the month of May, organizers will be surveying the public, both online and in person, to get their thoughts and vision for the future of the Santa Monica Public Library. With the public's participation, organizers hope to gauge the level of satisfaction with various aspects of library services, find out how the library is being used, get feedback on the services currently provided, and identify new directions for the library. The online version of the Santa Monica Public Library Survey can be found by going to smpl.org/survey.aspx (English version) or to smpl.org/encuesta.aspx (Spanish version). Organizers encourage the public to take a few minutes to fill out this survey and tell city staff how they feel about the Library.

California population grows about 1 percent to 38.7 million

JUDY LIN
Associated Press

SACRAMENTO California grew modestly last year to 38.7 million people, with San Diego and San Jose experiencing the largest gains among major cities, state demographers announced Friday.

California grew by about 1 percent, adding 358,000 residents, in 2014, according to the state Department of Finance. The growth rate mirrors that of recent years, and the population gains were widely distributed throughout the state.

Los Angeles grew 1.1 percent by adding nearly 43,000 people and remains the state's largest city with nearly 4 million people. However, the second- and third-largest cities each grew at a rate of about 1.5 percent.

As of Jan. 1, San Diego had nearly 1.4 million people, and San Jose had 1 million people. San Francisco was the state's fourth-largest city with 845,602 people, and Fresno placed fifth by recording 520,159 people.

San Joaquin County was the fastest-growing county in the state, adding nearly 11,000 people. It was closely followed by Imperial County and three San Francisco Bay Area counties, including San Francisco, Alameda and Contra Costa.

The fastest-growing city in the state was Taft in Kern County. Taft, which reopened a correctional facility, grew 6.3 percent to 9,500 residents.

California continues to add people even as the state endures its fourth year of drought, prompting tough conservation efforts. Earlier this week, Gov. Jerry Brown called for $10,000 fines for residents and businesses that waste the most water during the drought.

Brown previously ordered a mandatory 25 percent reduction in statewide water use in cities and towns after voluntary conservation wasn't enough to meet his goals.

Here are the top 10 California cities by population:

Teaching green

Dear EarthTalk

What resources are out there for helping teachers integrate sustainability topics into their curricula?

Melinda Zullo
Toronto, ON

Teaching our kids about sustainability and green living is one of the most important things we can do to safeguard the future of humanity and the planet we inhabit. The North American Association for Environmental Education (NAAEE) reports that environmental education teaches children how to learn about and investigate their environment and to make intelligent, informed decisions about sustainability. Furthermore, learning about the environment is multi-disciplinary, so it allows teachers a rare opportunity to integrate different parts of the their curriculum while challenging students to think about the big picture. Thankfully, teachers today have a plethora of resources for incorporating sustainability in their lessons and activities.

One great resource is Green Teacher, a quarterly magazine dedicated to helping educators promote environmental awareness among young people aged six through 19. The magazine offers perspectives on the role of education in creating a sustainable future and provides lots of ready-to-use activities. Green Teacher has also released a series of books, including Teaching Green: The Elementary Years, Teaching Green: The Middle School Years and Teaching Green: The High School Years, each which contain over 50 of the best teaching strategies and activities published in the magazine over the past decade. These books contain kid-tested ideas contributed by educators from across North America and cover a wide spectrum of environmental topics, from biodiversity to resource consumption to green technology. Another one of Green Teacher's books, Teaching in the Outdoors, is a practical guide for getting students outside and includes helpful suggestions for maximizing their learning experience when they get there.

Another great resource is the U.S. Energy Information Administration's "Energy Kids" website, which provides teachers with energy related stories, hands-on activities and research articles for their classrooms. Free, easy-to-access lesson plans allow students from K-12 to have fun learning about different forms of energy and why some are better for the environment than others. The website also offers biographies of scientists that discovered the energy sources we use today, energy timelines that show how different energy sources and technologies have evolved, and stats on topics like what renewable fuel the U.S. uses most.

A more "hands-on" approach to getting students involved and concerned about their environment is to start a school garden-planted and tended by the kids themselves. According to KidsGardening.org, school gardens build an understanding of and respect for nature and our environment while motivating kids to eat and love fruits and vegetables. Gardening also teaches children to nurture and care for other living things while developing patience. KidsGardening.org provides a full step-by-step guide to help any teacher get a school garden off to a great start.

Meanwhile, more than 5,000 K-12 schools worldwide have teamed up to network about and integrate environmental best practices into their curricula, administration and facilities through the non-profit Green Schools Alliance (GSA). Membership in GSA is free, but requires a commitment to take action on any or all of three tracks: (1) reducing the member school's climate and ecological impact; (2) educating and engaging the local community; and (3) connecting to nature and place. No doubt, GSA is right when it asserts that schools are "hubs of their communities that build resilience, transform markets and policy, shift behavior, and prepare the next generation of innovators to become environmental stewards."

CRIME WATCH

BY DAILY PRESS STAFF

Crime Watch is culled from reports provided by the Santa Monica Police Department. These are arrests only. All parties are innocent until proven guilty in a court of law.

ON APRIL 25, AT APPROXIMATELY 1:30 P.M.

An officer was dispatched to a call of a fight in progress at Euclid Avenue and Pico Boulevard. Upon the officer arriving on the scene, he observed one male holding a stick in his hand and another male later identified as, Nesta Bowen, 20 year old transient, yelling and cursing at the other male. In order to further investigate the possible assault, the officer took Bowen aside and while being questioned he stated that the victim assaulted him. When asked by the officer what happened, Bowen pointed to his hat which was in the middle of the street and stated that he wanted it. The officer asked Bowen to sit and leave the hat, as he did not want Bowen to get hit by a car. Bowen ignored the command and stepped off the curb and into the number two lane. Before Bowen could reach his hat, the officer tried to stop him from continuing, yet Bowen began to pull away from the officer. When the officer was finally able to detain him, he had Bowen walk back to the sidewalk. Bowen was booked for resisting arrest and leaving a curb or place of safety to walk into the path of a vehicle. Bail was set at $10,000.

Heal the Bay is a nonprofit environmental organization making Southern California coastal waters and watersheds, including Santa Monica Bay, safe, healthy and clean. We use science, education, community action and advocacy to pursue our mission.

Heal the Bay's Beach Report Card™ is based on weekly water quality monitoring data provided by the City of Los Angeles' Environmental Monitoring Division and the Los Angeles County Department of Health Services. Data is analyzed as soon as it is made available to us by the public agencies. Beaches are graded on an A-F scale based on the risk of ocean users becoming ill. Samples are analyzed for bacteria—enterococcus, total and fecal coliforms—that indicate biological pollution. A fact sheet detailing the exact methodology used in determining grades for each location is available from the office or on our web site. The report is not designed to measure the amount of trash or toxins found at local beaches.

The Beach Report Card is an indication of past water quality and is not a warranty of the current safety of those areas surveyed. Our lawyers are happy.

Sudoku

Fill in the blank cells using numbers 1 to 9. Each number can appear only once in each row, column, and 3x3 block. Use logic and process of elimination to solve the puzzle. The difficulty level ranges from (easiest) to (hardest).

GETTING STARTED

There are many strategies to solving Sudoku. One way to begin is to examine each 3x3 grid and figure out which numbers are missing. Then, based on the other numbers in the row and column of each blank cell, find which of the missing numbers will work. Eliminating numbers will eventually lead you to the answer.

TODAY IN HISTORY

1961 – American civil rights movement: The "Freedom Riders" begin a bus trip through the South.

1961 – Malcolm Ross and Victor Prather attain a new altitude record for manned balloon flight ascending in the Strato-Lab V open gondola to 113,740 feet (34.67 km).

1970 – Vietnam War: Kent State shootings: The Ohio National Guard, sent to Kent State University after disturbances in the city of Kent the weekend before, opens fire killing four unarmed students and wounding nine others. The students were protesting the United States' invasion of Cambodia.

1972 – The Don't Make A Wave Committee, a fledgling environmental organization founded in Canada in 1971, officially changes its name to "Greenpeace Foundation".

1974 – An all-female Japanese team reaches the summit of Manaslu, becoming the first women to climb an 8,000-meter peak.

1979 – Margaret Thatcher becomes the first female Prime Minister of the United Kingdom.

1982 – Twenty sailors are killed when the British Type 42 destroyer HMS Sheffield is hit by an Argentinian Exocet missile during the Falklands War.

NEWS OF THE WEIRD BY CHUCK SHEPARD

■ Too Much Information: The most recent fatwa, announced in April by the Directorate of Religious Affairs in Turkey, declared that "toilet paper" is now acceptable for pious Muslims. The directorate had previously decreed that only water could be used for such cleaning (or, if none was available, the left hand). (Toilet etiquette, called "Qadaa al-Haajah," which obviously predates the invention of the actual "toilet," requires entrance by the left foot, exit by the right, a post-ablution prayer and, most challengingly, "no reading.")

■ Adding to the list of stories that once were captivatingly weird, but have since occurred with such frequency that they must be retired from circulation: (1) Desperate thieves steal what's handy, and after a botched attempt on April 8 to steal a truck, the perp grabbed the only item he could take with him as he fled. The owner told the Des Moines, Iowa, police it was a bag of to-be-discarded dog feces. (2) The first joyous "fertility" festival you heard about, where giant penis-float parades and candy souvenir phalluses are treasured by giddy children, was perhaps in Japan. Actually, several Asian nations have had their own, as News of the Weird has tried to keep up with, such as Jeju park in South Korea. Now, Taiwan is capitalizing, with the more subdued, under- construction "Romantic Boulevard" park with gardens featuring statues of copulation (animal and human) and a giant stone phallus that children seem tickled to be photographed riding on.

Slow down tonight, Aquarius

ARIES (March 21-April 19)
★★★★ Your creativity outwits any hassle presented at the moment. You will assume the lead and remain positive, no matter what comes up. You have a vision or an ideal that you are following, which is likely to reveal its strength. Tonight: Evaluate new information.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20)
★★★★ You might be taking others' comments personally, but know that their words are not directed at you. Try not to take others on or be provocative, if possible. Identify with people by listening to where they are coming from. Tonight: The only answer is "yes."

GEMINI (May 21-June 20)
★★★ You might be sitting on a difficult situation only to see yet another problem arise from out of nowhere. You can hold in your frustration for only so long. Your creativity and ability to see past the immediate situation will come forth if you just relax. Tonight: Get some exercise.

CANCER (June 21-July 22)
★★★★ Tap into your creativity when deciding how to approach an emotional situation. As you toy with different ideas, you'll see multiple possibilities. You seem to have more choices than you ever thought possible. Tonight: Let your imagination make the call.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22)
★★★★ Getting back to basics will become more and more important when trying to find a solution. You also can try exploring new options. A boss could be challenging. Unexpected insight and developments will help point to an unforeseen path. Tonight: At home.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22)
★★★★ You could be tired of a negative pattern and will be ready to try a new approach. You might experience some reluctance, but ultimately you have nothing to lose. You are coming from a strong foundation. Tonight: Share your thoughts with a good friend.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 22)
★★★★ You might want to enter a new phase and move toward a more positive change. A partner could have a very strong opinion, and likely will want to convince you that he or she is right. Zero in on what is best for you. Tonight: A conversation with a challenging friend.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23-Nov. 21)
★★★★★ You'll be on top of a problem and will be willing to follow through on certain priorities. You might be changing your opinions as a result of having more discussions. Take a bow when someone gives you praise for your flexibility and insightfulness. Tonight: In control.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22-Dec. 21)
★★★ Your instincts don't always guide you through problems, but you would be well advised to follow them now. A mental alarm could be more important than you realize. Assess what is happening with someone at a distance. Tonight: Some extra time for thought.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19)
★★★★ You easily could make a choice that seems right at first, but then question it later. Slow down some but also follow your feelings. A loved one seems determined to have your attention. Observe what is going on with this person. Tonight: Where it is happening.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 18)
★★★ Tension continues to build. How you see a situation could change radically if you would just relax. However, you might be so determined to have a matter play out the way you want it to that you lose sight of the big picture. Tonight: Slow down.

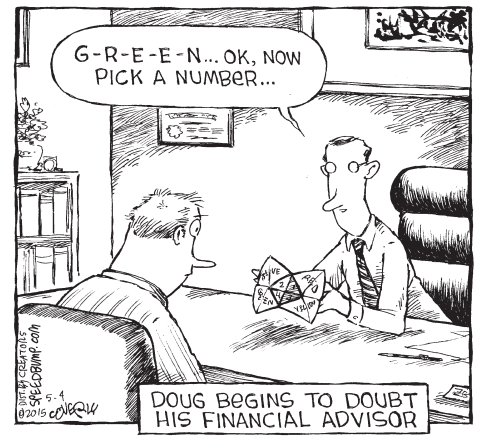

PISCES (Feb. 19-March 20)
★★★★ You could notice a certain amount of division over recent ideas. You might be taken aback by what is happening around you. Kick impulsiveness to the wayside. Take your time when dealing with a personal matter involving your finances. Tonight: Unwind to a good movie.

Monday, May 4, 2015

This year you have unusually high energy, which could backfire at any moment. If you don't get what you want out of a situation, you might explode in anger. Dealing with opposition often becomes very difficult. Learn to listen and weigh different opinions. You seem to make excellent choices involving your home and real estate. If you are single, your tumultuous nature could push away someone who normally would be an excellent choice for you. You will tend to attract opposites this year. If you are attached, your significant other might be taken aback by your irritability. Try to tame this proclivity. SCORPIO is as stubborn as you are.

On Mondays, 'Celebrate This' lets you make every day count

Renewal Day
Monday, May 4
Burned out?. Spend some time with nature. Take an herbal steam bath. Whatever it takes to get jazzed.

Cinco de Mayo
Tuesday, May 5
Chipotle sorta qualifies as authentic Mexican fare. Celebrate Cinco and Totally Chiptole Day with a sombrero and a burrito bowl. Salud!

National American Grump Out Day
Wednesday, May 6
Seize the day, sourpusses. Turn that frown upside down. No grumping and grousing … at least for 24 hours.

National Day of Reason
Thursday, May 7
Think before jumping to conclusions and acting unreasonably toward others. Or just read some Sartre.

National Coconut Cream Pie Day
Friday, May 8
Individual servings at Simplethings in Westwood are almost too cute to eat. Almost. Grab one on Kinross Avenue.

National Fair Trade Day
Saturday, May 9
Support the fight against poverty and exploitation. Seek out free trade stores in your area. SUJI on Main and Palmetto on Montana are good starts.

Oh Mother, where art thou?

By Katharine Romefelt

It's so easy to take Mom for granted, even though she's the reason you're breathing oxygen. We were all born via a mother. You can look it up. Which is why taking at least one day to thank your mom is a great tradition.

"Even though we live far away, I talk to my mom a lot. She's such a great support system for everything I do," says Heather Castillo from Malibu. "She's a really strong woman."

Daniel Simmons, Castillo's boyfriend, gives his mom props for raising him as a single-parent.

"My dad wasn't around, so my mom had to take on a lot of roles," Simmons says. "I'm super close with her now. She's helped me through a lot".

Castillo and Simmons know where their bread is buttered .

This Sunday, reflect on ways to thank the moms in your world. Bouquets are nice, but put some heart into it. Like Mom would.

and legal papers are served on you to file a written response at this court and have a copy served on the plaintiff. A letter or phone call will not protect you. Your written response must be in proper legal form if you want the court to hear your case. There may be a court form that you can use for your response. You can find these court forms and more information at the California Courts Online Self-Help Center (www.caurtinfo.ca.gov/selfhelp), your county law library, or the courthouse nearest you. If you cannot pay the filing fee, ask the court clerk for a fee waiver form. If you do not file your response on time, you may lose the case by default, and your wages, money, and property may be taken without further warning from the court.

There are other legal requirements. You may want to call an attorney right away. If you do not know an attorney, you may want to call an attorney referral service. If you cannot afford an attorney, you may be eligible for free legal services from a nonprofit legal services program. You can locate these nonprofit groups at the California Legal Services Web site (www.lawhelpcalifomia.org), the California Courts Online Self-Help Center (www.courtinfo.ca.gov/selfhelp), or by contacting your local court or county bar association. NOTE: The court has a statutory lien for waived fees and costs on any settlement or arbitration award of $10,000 or more in a civil case. The court's lien must be paid before the court will dismiss the case.

Notice of Transfer of Proprietary Interest Pursuant to California Corporations Code Section 12446

The records of Co-opportunity Consumers Cooperative, Inc. indicate that the following persons have unclaimed proprietary interests, including uncashed patronage refunds, dividends, memberships, membership certificates and/or membership shares. The cooperative sent notice to these persons, mailed to their last known addresses, but has not had any response or contact from some of them. Co-opportunity is publishing this notice to provide these persons with this notice that it intends to transfer the unclaimed proprietary interests held in their names to its capital account unless they respond prior to July 15, 2015, by contacting the cooperative in person or in writing to establish their ownership of the unclaimed proprietary interest.

density allowances. Last month, Councilmembers Pam O'Connor and Terry O'Day, and occasionally Gleam Davis, supported regulations that would encourage greater density.

Residocracy, a local political group most well known for leading the successful referendum against the Hines development agreement, has called the ordinance, as it was handed to council from the Planning Commission, "too tall, too big, too much."

They've promise to launch a referendum campaign if their demands for lower heights and density are not met. They are circulating an online petition that they say has gathered more than 1,100 e-signatures.

Council also has to hear an appeal of a decision regarding another planning document related to the Zoning Ordinance on Tuesday. Additionally, they'll consider passing an ordinance prohibiting housing discrimination based on the tenant's source of income, including Section 8 vouchers.

If the Zoning Ordinance passes, council will consider it in a second reading, before adoption, likely later in the month.

If the ordinance is adopted after the second reading, residents will have 30 days to collect valid signatures from registered Santa Monica voters if they oppose the ordinance.

Perhaps most notable, outside of the density and height limit questions facing the council, will be a decision as to whether or not to allow two medical marijuana dispensaries to operate within the city limits. Currently, dispensaries are not allowed in the city, and the police chief and city planners had recommended keeping it that way, but the Planning Commission supported the allowance of two dispensaries. Last month, the dispensaries seemed well on their way to reality. Council voted 5 to 2 in favor of allowing the pot shops, with O'Day and O'Connor opposing the decision.

Those hoping for a seat or a chance to speak at a reasonable hour at Tuesday's meeting would be smart to arrive early. The Council Chambers will likely fill to max capacity before the meeting starts.

Award for his role on "L.A. Law" in 1992 and was nominated three times. He also won the Drama Desk Award in 1972 and was a founding member of San Francisco's American Conservatory Theater.

DAVID NAYLOR

Mayor Pro Tempore Tony Vazquez adjourned last week's meeting in honor of David Naylor, who's family owned Naylor paints on Lincoln Boulevard. Naylor was in his 20s, Vazquez said, and died as the result of a car accident in mid-April.

PAULINE BAKER

In March, Mayor Kevin McKeown closed a meeting in memory of Pauline Baker who died at the age of 88.

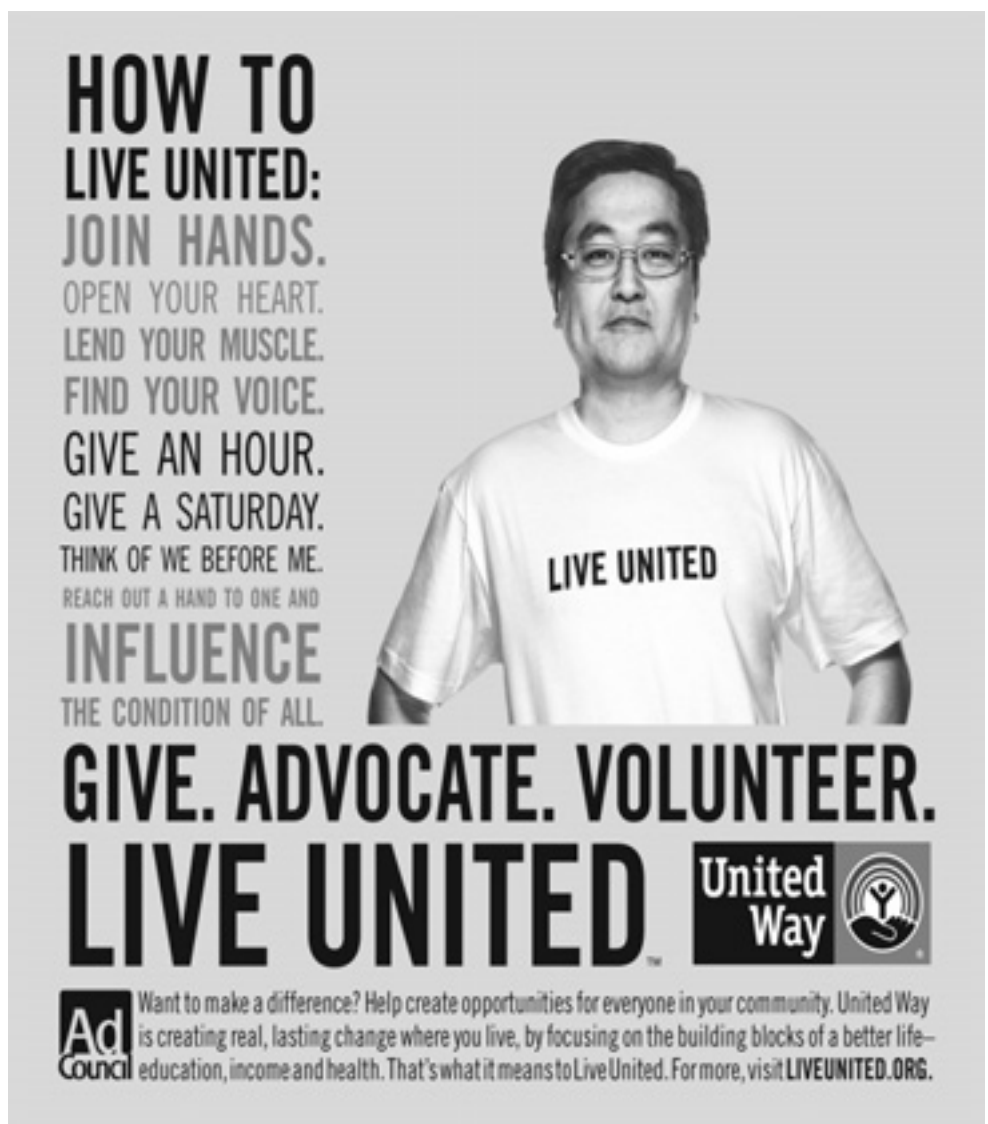

"Pauline was born in Leeds, England," he said. "She came to America in 1956 on the Queen Mary with her husband Mark and her son Rufus Baker, who many of us may know from the Wil-Mont neighborhood."

The family got to Santa Monica in 1959 where she and her husband, who were married for 63 years, lived until her death.

"Pauline Baker was a manicurist to the stars," McKeown said. "Her clients included Frank Sinatra and Danny Thomas. She was also a talented painter and needlepoint artist. Pauline is survived by her son Rufus Baker of Santa Monica and a second son, Bob, who lives in Minnesota. She'll be missed by many and we send our condolences to the family."

assistants, parents and children she met along the way.

"This has been a job where one has meaningful interactions with a high number of people," she said, "and I think an unusually high proportion of those people are simply great individuals."

Franklin fell into a special education career by chance.

After moving to California in the 1970s, she had to wait several months to receive her state teaching credential. While in limbo she contacted SMMUSD about job opportunities and was steered to an opening for a special education instructional assistant.

"To my surprise, I quickly knew that I loved the work," she said. "I found the children fascinating and delightful, and I especially appreciated that the work was individualized to meet each student's specific needs."

From 1978 through 1994 she taught at Grant Elementary School, creating individualized curricula for students with moderate to severe disabilities.

For the last 21 years she has been stationed at McKinley Elementary School, where she has led the collaborative special education preschool program.

Franklin has been involved in a variety of supplemental initiatives throughout her career in the district.

During the 2001-02 school year Franklin and colleagues received a grant from the Santa Monica-Malibu Education Foundation to fund visual resources for at-risk preschoolers to promote early literacy. Programs included daily guided reading, alphabet and word recognition, journaling and interactive activities.

She also participated in the Beginning Teacher Support and Assessment program, mentoring numerous new special education teachers.

Her work involved regular meetings with families and other support personnel.

A Pacific Northwest native, Franklin studied education at Washington State University before moving to Southern California in 1975 with her husband, Los Angeles native Phil Jamtaas, whom she met in college.

Franklin went on to receive specialized credentials from Chapman College and Cal State Los Angeles in 1978 and 1984, respectively. In 2003 she earned certification from the National Board for Professional Teaching Standards as an exceptional-needs specialist.

Retirement will allow Franklin to spend more time with Jamtaas and their 25-year-old daughter, Allison, a graduate student who is working towards a doctorate in psychology.

"I look forward to having time for regular exercise, gardening and basically being free to do what I want when I want — but I also plan to continue to work part-time as a consultant and trainer," she said. "That seems like it will be a perfect balance for me."

Have You Been Injured in an Auto Accident?
If you believe that you or a family member are entitled to compensation for an injury, the best thing you can do is speak to an experienced personal injury attorney. You may be entitled to compensation for your injury including lost wages.
Find out how much your claim is worth right now!
(866)-345-6987
Get immediate consultation 24/7. This a cost free, no obligation call.
Negligence and Auto Accidents
To have a valid car accident claim, you must first determine the negligent party or parties that caused the car crash. You may suspect that another driver, pedestrian, motorcyclist etc. acted carelessly, but cannot identify what traffic laws they violated. A skilled car accident attorney, however, can examine police reports and state traffic laws and speak to witnesses to determine who was at fault for your motor vehicle accident.
Tip: Act Quickly
If you seek legal advice, it's important that you do so as soon as possible after an accident. You're more likely to get the compensation due to you if your attorney is able to act quickly. Our state attorney's are available 24/7 to discuss your claim.

Same-day appointments now available

When you, or a loved one, need to see your doctor, the last thing you want to do is wait around. At UCLA Health, we want to ensure all of our patients receive the best care in the timeliest manner possible. That's why we now offer same-day appointments in 27 specialties.

Call us before noon and we'll schedule you for that day. Call us in the afternoon and we'll schedule you for the next day. At UCLA, it begins with you. And now it begins today.
