SMMUSD breaks down budget revisions

BRENNON DIXSON
SMDP Staff Writer

COVID-19 has decimated the financials of institutions across the Westside, but Santa Monica-Malibu Unified School District officials said this week that they expect to come out of the pandemic in better financial shape than previously projected.

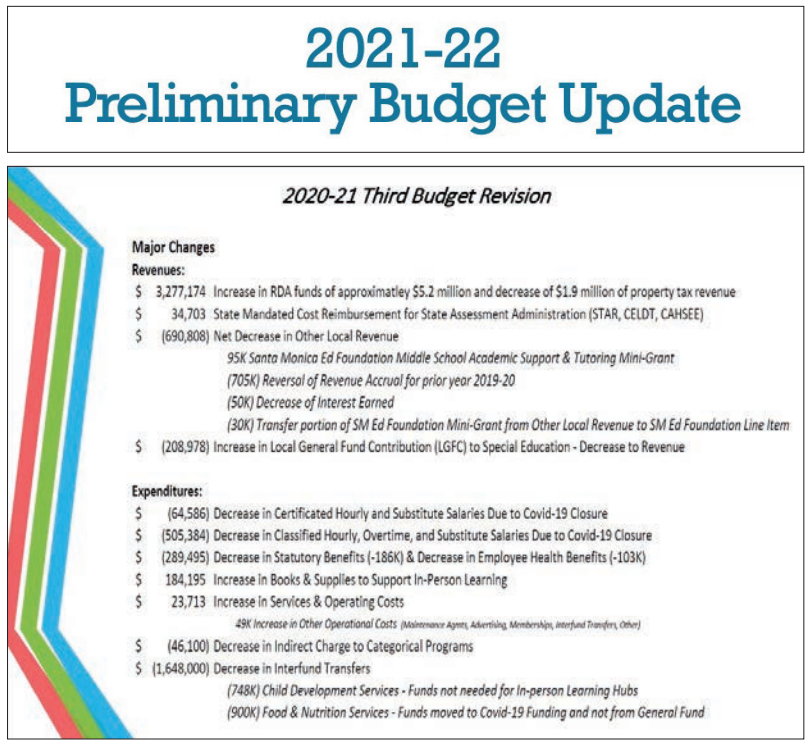

When SMMUSD leaders adopted its 2020-2021 budget in July 2020, it was projected that the district would be forced into deficit spending for the foreseeable future. But, according to Melody Canady, SMMUSD's Assistant Superintendent of Business and Fiscal Services, the district's latest budget revision predicts SMMUSD will see millions of dollars in COVID relief funds that will help bolster reserves in light of a $1.9 million expected decrease in property tax revenues.

Canady highlighted SMMUSD's 2020-21 Third Budget Revision during a presentation Wednesday when she said one of the most significant changes from the second Interim Budget completed on January 31, is a $5.2 million increase in redevelopment agency funds that will pair with $4.4 million in COVID relief funds to provide a much-needed boost to district reserves.

"I'm actually proud to say that we are actually recommending this budget with a positive certification. And it does meet all of the obligations in this year and the next two fiscal years," Canady said shortly after she detailed the $3.9 million increase in the restricted General Fund's balance and a $4.7 million change in the Unrestricted General Fund's balance.

"If you remember, two years

Rent Board announces general adjustment effective September

BRENNON DIXSON
SMDP Staff Writer

Rent increases for rent-controlled apartments in Santa Monica will be limited to a 1.7 percent increase this year following a vote by Santa Monica's Rent Control Board last week.

The proposed adjustment is set to go into effect on Sept. 1, but there will be a public hearing that will allow landlords and tenants an opportunity to share their thoughts on the increase prior to the adjustment taking effect, according to Executive Director Tracy Condon.

"Under the rent control law, the general adjustment for a given year is equal to 75% of the change in the Consumer Price Index for the Los Angeles area for the 12-month period between March

Commissioners talk diversity, or a lack thereof

BRENNON DIXSON
SMDP Staff Writer

In an attempt to increase diversity and representation, Santa Monica Housing Commissioners are exploring the possibility of a lottery system that would help the local commission systematically appoint more diverse members.

The proposal comes from the Commission's Diversity Subcommittee, which has worked in recent months to finalize a report that was expected to be discussed this week by local officials. But an absence during Thursday's Commission meeting postponed the conversation that was first initiated back in February.

After hearing from local residents who called in to discuss a policy that could allow historically-displaced residents a chance to return to the neighborhoods of their ancestors, Commissioner Todd Flora said he really took the feedback to heart.

"2020 was a flashpoint year for me personally. And like many white Americans, even though I was below the surface always aware of it, 2020 really brought to the surface the incredible privilege I've lived with for my 49 years. And one of the things that I really didn't think about — honestly, until tonight as I was listening to the callers — is we are not a diverse board."

Flora said during the February meeting.

"I would give up my seat tomorrow to an African-American... a Black person or a Latino, or a person that has been affected by this," he added, recognizing that such a bold proposal would require

SMC to Screen Free Performance of The Trojan Women

The Santa Monica College Theatre Arts Department will present a free video of its performance of The Trojan Women, An Adaptation from the Play by Euripides May 25-August 29.

A YouTube link to the recently completed production will be available starting at 12 p.m. (noon) on May 25 at smc.edu/theatreperformances. The video is free to view at any time of day until midnight August 29.

The play is a new adaptation by Perviz Sawoski of the cautionary tale about the aftermath of war, written by the classical Greek tragedian Euripides. This modern interpretation follows the fates of four women subjugated in a barbaric war, and their strength amid adversity. The SMC production is directed by Sawoski.

More information is available at smc.edu/theatre or by calling (310) 434-4319.

Local Venice YouthBuild Graduate Earns National Scholarship

YouthBuild USA has announced that Rodrigo Vazquez, a 2000 graduate of Venice YouthBuild, has been named a recipient of the 2020 Helene D. Stoneman Scholarship and Civic Leadership Program in support of YouthBuild alumni leaders' post-secondary education and training. The scholarship provides awards of $1,000 to outstanding YouthBuild graduates across the U.S. who have been recognized for excellence in civic engagement, community leadership and academic achievement, with special emphasis on the students' academic promise.

Vazquez is currently enrolled at UCLA to obtain his master's degree in social work. The recipients of the 2020 Stoneman Scholarships are pursuing associate's, bachelor's and master's degrees in a variety of fields. Some have recently graduated from their YouthBuild program, while others have been alumni for years and still are engaged with the YouthBuild movement. Winners were chosen from a pool of applicants who submitted a personal essay, a personal recommendation and college transcripts.

"Our Stoneman Scholars have dedicated themselves to lifelong learning, livelihood and leadership," said John Valverde, president and CEO of YouthBuild USA. "We're proud to celebrate this group of deserving honorees and support their pursuit of higher education. We need their passion - and grit - in the years to come."

Since 2005, the Helene D. Stoneman Scholarship and Civic Leadership Program has awarded 314 gifts to 155 YouthBuild graduates attending post-secondary education or training, providing $620,000 to assist YouthBuild graduates with their postsecondary education.

YouthBuild founder Dorothy Stoneman, with her sister Elinor Stoneman Shaffer, established the scholarship in honor of their mother, Helene D. Stoneman. Helene was a child of German immigrants who devoted her energies to the League of Women Voters. She was president both of the Belmont League of Women Voters and the Massachusetts League, and a longtime member of the board of the National League. She was an untiring worker for education, civic engagement, and voters' rights. This scholarship recognizes YouthBuild graduates who share Helene's passion for leadership and education.

In YouthBuild programs, opportunity youth – young adults between the ages of 16 and 24 who are neither in school nor employed – pursue their education, prepare for future careers and grow into community leaders, building brighter futures for themselves and their neighborhoods. With love and respect, YouthBuild partners with opportunity youth to build the skillsets and mindsets that lead to lifelong learning, livelihood and leadership. Responding to the urgent need for knowledge, training and opportunity, YouthBuild primarily serves young people who lack a high school diploma and financial resources. The post-program educational tracks of Stoneman Scholars include trade schools, certificate programs, community colleges, four-year colleges and more.

YouthBuild USA is the nonprofit support center for a global network of 290 local YouthBuild programs in 18 countries, with 233 programs in 46 U.S. states and territories and 57 programs in 17 other countries.

changes to bylaws or even the City's charter. "But if we're going to be serious about this (right to return proposal and racial justice), let's be serious and not just feel good because we think we're helping."

Commissioner Leonora Camner agreed with the sentiment.

"I also would like to explore the possibility of giving up my seat if there is a person of color that would like my seat," Camner said, clarifying she is very honored to be on the commission. "But I'm also uncomfortable with the lack of diversity."

It's been a little more than 3 months since Camner and Flora first broached the topic in public space, but Camner, Flora and Commissioner Carl Hansen have been hard at work crafting a report on the matter.

The report begins by noting how Santa Monica's Housing Office exists to serve people who face housing insecurity, including discrimination and systemic racism. "Nevertheless, no people of color are represented on the commission," the report reads.

To solve this dilemma, the Diversity Subcommittee members have suggested a lottery seen in cities like Toronto.

"This recommendation is based on our review of the options and what we learned from those practicing this system in real-life jurisdictions," according to the report. "In Toronto, for example, diversity of backgrounds and viewpoints was crucial in making informed and inclusive decisions. Lived experience ultimately was more important in advising the city than 'expertise.' Furthermore, removing self-interest through a lottery system improved the quality of recommendations."

Citing a study that determined how retired judges were no better than college sophomores, teachers and other novices in relevant decision-making, the Diversity Subcommittee's members added requiring expertise on the commission harms the city's goals of equity and inclusion, which is why they feel a lottery system is the best system to accomplish equity.

It's not yet known when the Housing Commission will meet again to discuss the matter. But Flora had a message for the residents who were interested enough to stay up late Thursday evening.

"I want to let everybody who's still listening to the meeting in on this: Stay tuned because Commissioner Camner, Commissioner Hansen and I were part of a subcommittee that is literally bringing about a motion to this Commission that is actually proposing to throw ourselves off of this commission," Flora said. "Stay tuned because that presentation is coming, and I'll leave it at that. How's that for suspense?"

of the previous year and March of the current year," Condon said last Thursday. "Using that formula, with the CPI for that period of 2.2 percent, 75 percent of that is 1.65 percent."

And since the city's charter provides that that's rounded to the nearest tenth, the general adjustment will be 1.7% for 2021, Condon added during last week's meeting before noting the board may also choose to set a dollar increase cap determined by a separate formula provided by the charter.

A public hearing is scheduled for June 10 to discuss the general dollar cap ceiling, which would be $39, according to one of the available formulas.

Commissioner Anastasia Foster said the board had received emails in the past about landlords who had slightly higher vacancies than normal, so they hoped for a greater increase in rents than usual.

"And we had notes from tenants over the past year, saying because of COVID and we've lost employment. could we have a smaller or no rent increase. So, I just want to take this brief opportunity since we have such a short agenda to remind everyone that this is in the charter; it's not at our discretion," Foster said. "This is actually based on a five county average of the CPI and is not something that we, as commissioners, decide. It's a mathematical formula that is laid out in our charter, so this amount reflects the average of all of the reasonable operating expenses that most average buildings go through and it has been time tested over decades of data to show that the formula does in fact reflect most changes."

With nobody signed up for public comment, Commissioner Caroline Torosis seconded the motion after she said she hopes the public will weigh in on the matter during the upcoming public hearing.

L.A. County to Align with State June 15 Reopening

The Los Angeles County Department of Public Health (Public Health) has confirmed 15 new deaths and 264 new cases of COVID-19. Of the 15 new deaths reported today, six people that passed away were over the age of 80, one person who died was between the ages of 65 and 79, four people who died were between the ages of 50 and 64, two people who died were between the ages of 30 and 49, and one person who died was between the ages of 18 and 29. One death was reported by the City of Long Beach.

To date, Public Health identified 1,238,367 positive cases of COVID-19 across all areas of L.A. County and a total of 24,154 deaths. There are 355 people with COVID-19 currently hospitalized and 23% of these people are in the ICU. Testing results are available for nearly 6,682,000 individuals with 17% of people testing positive. Today's daily test positivity rate is 0.4%.

Los Angeles County will align with the State's June 15 plans that ease many capacity limits and distancing requirements and adopt CDC's masking guidelines for vaccinated and unvaccinated individuals. People who are fully vaccinated will no longer need to wear masks in most situations. There are specific requirements for large capacity indoor events. The County will also follow the State on lifting current travel restrictions on June 15 to align with CDC travel recommendations.

Current County reopening protocols will be amended or retired on June 15 to reflect these changes.

"To everyone mourning the loss of a loved one, you remain in our thoughts and our prayers," said Barbara Ferrer, PhD, MPH, MEd, Director of Public Health. "I, like everyone in California, look forward to the changes that will come on June 15. Together, we all worked hard and continue to work hard to keep numbers of cases, hospitalizations and deaths low in L.A. County. I can't emphasize enough how the vaccine has allowed us to get to a place where we can safely do the things that we loved to do before the pandemic. If you have been putting off getting vaccinated, I ask that you not delay any longer and get vaccinated. The COVID-19 infection, hospitalizations and deaths that are still occurring are almost all among people not fully vaccinated. This is preventable."

If you are not yet vaccinated or unable to get vaccinated, it is very important that you continue to wear a mask and maintain 6 feet of distance when around others not in your household and consider getting the COVID-19 vaccine as soon as you can.

This weekend at County-run vaccination sites and L.A. City vaccination sites, everyone 18 years and older getting their first COVID-19 vaccine will have a chance to enter the Los Angeles Lakers 2021-22 Season Ticket Vaccination Sweepstakes to win a pair (2) of season tickets for next season. For additional information and locations, visit: Lakers Vaccination Sweepstakes.

The number of COVID-19 cases among people experiencing homelessness remains substantially lower than the peak of 608 weekly cases reported during late-December. There were 42 new cases among people experiencing homelessness reported this week. The number of new cases reported this week includes 31 cases from previous weeks that were newly identified as cases associated with people experiencing homelessness and are included in the new case totals. To date, 7,099 people experiencing homelessness in Los Angeles County tested positive for COVID-19 and 208 people who were experiencing homelessness passed away from COVID-19. Of the people experiencing homelessness who passed away, 94 were sheltered, 69 were unsheltered, and for 45 people who passed away, their shelter status was unknown.

There are 147 providers administering vaccinations to people experiencing homelessness; together they have administered over 22,630 doses of COVID-19 vaccine to people experiencing homelessness across Los Angeles County. The County continues to work closely with partner organizations to vaccinate and protect people experiencing homelessness from COVID-19 infection.

COVID-19 vaccinations are available at County-run sites and many community sites without an appointment. Anyone 12 and older living or working in L.A. County can get vaccinated. To find a vaccination site near you, to make an appointment at vaccination sites, and much more, visit: www.VaccinateLACounty.com (English) and www.VacunateLosAngeles.com (Spanish). If you don't have internet access, can't use a computer, or you're over 65, you can call 1-833-540-0473 for help finding an appointment or scheduling a home-visit if you are homebound. Vaccinations are always free and open to eligible residents and workers regardless of immigration status.

County Reopening Protocols, COVID-19 Vaccine Dashboard, COVID-19 Surveillance Interactive Dashboard, Roadmap to Recovery, Recovery Dashboard, and additional actions you can take to protect yourself, your family and your community are on the Public Health website, www.publichealth.lacounty.gov.

Letter to the Editor

By Colette O'Connell
Send comments to editor@smdp.com

Dear Santa Monica,

What???? Libraries are not coming back??? I was shocked to read in Ms. Ingha [Chopra's] letter to the editor entitled "Reopen the Library" dated May 20, 2021, that the City's biennial fiscal year 2021-2020 budget will not bring back our libraries. The proposed budget does not provide funds to fully open the libraries for the next 2 years.

What happened to all that federal money Santa Monica just received?Surely that money should support library facilities used by all residents of Santa Monica.

As a Santa Monica resident, who's son typically went to the library after school a minimum of 2 days a week to use the study rooms in the children/teen section of the library, I am shocked and disappointed. Waiting for the library to open has been a huge part of our wishes to get back to a "normal life" routine. It is a place that the young learn to read. It is shortsighted to refuse to provide funding to fully reopen the Santa Monica Libraries. Many SMMUSD students use the library after school. This decision to underfund the libraries does not support the forum for outside learning many students need to do well in our schools. As Ms. Hadi states: "Santa Monica needs the libraries now more than ever..to promote literacy. Researchers predict the pandemic has already had a massive impact on child literacy." I agree with Ms. Hadi and ask the City Council to fund the reopening of all Santa Monica libraries.

SMC Community Education Offers New Summer Camps and Classes for Kids and Teens

SMC Community Education is offering an exciting new collection of 'camps' and classes this summer specifically for kids and teens. Topics range from public speaking to creative writing to coding for games and creating special effects.

"We're always looking for ways to broaden our offerings to the younger members of our community," said Dr. Scott Silverman, SMC Dean of Noncredit and External Programs, "so we're always open to trying out new concepts in classes and camps. After a very long year, these new programs for youth in our community will be a great experience for everyone who enrolls. Of course, we have a variety of new summer classes for adults, too, that are worth checking out!"

All classes and camps are offered online this summer. They are designed for students to have fun as they learn, and organized into small groups by age.

"I'm especially excited about the public speaking classes for kids and teens," said SMC Coordinator of Community Education Alice Meyering. "As we return to in-person social interactions and classes, it is more important than ever that key communication skills – such as public speaking – get the proper attention. And summer is a great time to focus on this particular area while having fun doing it!"

The public speaking classes and camps are generally offered one day a week over a three week period. They include "Building Confidence through Public Speaking for Ages 8-11," "Summer Public Speaking Bootcamp for Ages 12-17," and "Public Speaking Contest for Ages 12-17." All are led by Dr. Silverman, who is an accomplished member of Toastmasters.

SMC Community Education has also partnered with Black Rocket – experts in designing classes in the areas of STEM and the Digital Arts – to offer more than a dozen weeklong, half-day camps. "Young Authors" shows youngsters and teens how to use creative thinking to develop and publish their own story. The STEM camps include "Minecraft Modders," "ROBLOX® Makers," "YouTube FX Masters," "eSports Apprentice Streamers and Gamers," and more.

SMC Community Education summer classes for kids and teens also include many longtime favorites, such as "One-On-One Piano." A complete list of Community Education classes is available online at commed.smc.edu.

Summer classes and camps are popular and expected to fill quickly. Early registration is strongly recommended. Registration for summer is available now at commed.smc.edu.

Wolfgang Knabe Appointed as Interim Santa Monica Fire Chief

Wolfgang Knabe will join the City of Santa Monica as the Interim Fire Chief starting June 10, 2021. Chief Knabe, a 40-year veteran of the fire service retired as Fullerton/Brea's Fire Chief in 2018 and in July of 2020, came out of retirement to lead the Manhattan Beach Fire Department as Interim Fire Chief, rounding out nearly a year of service on June 4.

"We are fortunate that Chief Knabe will bring his two decades of leadership experience as a Fire Chief to Santa Monica this Summer," said Interim City Manager Lane Dilg. "Chief Knabe's extensive knowledge and relationships within the Santa Monica Fire Department and across other Southern California agencies together with our strong Santa Monica Fire Department team ensure continued excellence in our fire services during this interim period."

Knabe joined the Los Angeles Fire Department (LAFD) in 1980 following a tour of duty with the US Marine Corps. After 22 years of service with LAFD, he served as San Luis Obispo's fire chief from 2002 to 2005. Chief Knabe retired as Fullerton/Brea's Fire Chief in 2018, serving Fullerton since 2005 and both cities since 2011 when they merged to become one department. Prior to retiring, Chief Knabe also served as a Reserve Police Officer with the LAPD for 16 years, seven assigned to the Department's SWAT Team.

"I hope to be able to continue the great work of Fire Chief Bill Walker while the City searches for a new Fire Chief," said Knabe. "I have seen firsthand the quality of the men and women of the Santa Monica Fire Department and am looking forward to working with them to make sure the department, the community, and the City's needs are met."

As Santa Monica's Interim Fire Chief, Knabe will lead a team of 134 firefighters and staff, and manage a budget of $46,326,372.

A nationwide recruitment led by The Hawkins Company will begin in June.

BUDGET

ago, we were deficit spending about $7- to $8-million, almost $9 million. But you ended up making some decisions throughout the last three years to get us to this point," Superintendent Ben Drati said.

And while Canady noted how a potential recall election, quoted at approximately $750,000 from Elections Office of Registrar-Recorder/County Clerk, and other non-budgeted items like negotiations with differing unions would skew the projections, Drati said a projected Property Tax Increases of 5% and other revenue increases, like the $200,000 increase in contributions to special education, have him optimistic SMMUSD will be okay.

"We're confident about that," he added, sharing his belief that the district has a lot of room to make some great decisions in the future without pressure. "We can address some of the aspirations about the master schedules and be able to offer more courses and different things that we wanted to see from the past. We're primed to be able to have some great conversations in near future… So what I want to say is good job over the last three years getting us here… We're in good shape."

Board Member Craig Foster commended district staff for working to get the district's deficit spending down from $5.5 million to the $741,000 detailed in the April projections. But he was also adamant that his peers remember to not spend money simply because they have the ability to.

"I mean, obviously… we're gonna be blessed with a lot of COVID revenues. And one thing that certainly I've seen in my time on the board is we've got to be very, very, very, very — squared to the third power — careful that we don't confuse one-time revenues with ongoing revenues. That's how we get ourselves into great big hot water," Foster said. "So we're all going to be — and we're going to need help from fiscal services — but we're all going to need to be very, very, very careful to spend one-time money on one-time things so that when the smoke clears after COVID we still have a stable budget."

Prior to the conclusion of Thursday's budget discussion, Canady said staff intends to return with a preliminary budget on Thursday, June 3.

TODAY'S BIRTHDAY (MAY 24)

It's almost impossible for you to be selflessly generous, because you keep getting handsomely repaid for the sacrifices you make. It's like the universe is insistent on doubling your rewards. Fortune will favor you through collaborations. Athletic wins and creative breakthroughs are featured, too. August brings a game-changing deal. Sagittarius and Taurus adore you. Your lucky numbers are: 7, 25, 4, 26 and 1.

ARIES (March 21-April 19). Mixed in with your sunny and constructive thoughts will be a number of unhelpful ones trying to pass themselves off as truth. Shut them down by questioning your thoughts to make them prove their merit.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20). The first step to acing the assignment is understanding that there is one. Find out what is expected of you, and then decide whether it's an expectation you care to fulfill.

GEMINI (May 21-June 21). You'll play around with your mental focus as if it were the zoom lens of a camera, toggling between a very detailed observation and the wide focus that lets more world in and makes problems seem small, if they exist at all.

CANCER (June 22-July 22). You already learned the unhappiness that can come from mistaking the extras for necessities. A grateful heart remedies the distortion; a humble attitude prevents such confusion from happening in the first place.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22). It may seem like you crave a particular circumstance, though it could really be a feeling you're craving -- and that can be conjured in a number of ways. Stay open to the possibilities.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22). You think you sense what the other person wants, and then he states his case and it's not what you thought. But actually, you're more correct than he was about it. People are notoriously bad at knowing their own wants.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 23). Evidenced in magic tricks and parties where people hide in the dark and pop out yelling, the element of surprise is often planned and planted. But not today! The spontaneous novelty shows up naturally from out of the blue.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24-Nov. 21). Nothing is fixed in your life at the moment. You can tinker with the variables and completely different outcomes will unfold. There's the exciting feeling of everything being up in the air without a hint as to how it will all land.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22-Dec. 21). There have been times when you've dared to act on intuitive impulses running counter to reason and the results were so right for you. Now you wonder what would happen if you were to function completely from intuition.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19). You're not afraid of change. You've accepted it as the only thing consistent in existence! Still, you like to have a general sense of where things are going. Today features a fascinating information-gathering session.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 18). This phase of life is like a costume you wear for a time, as you enact a role. Changing things about the costume doesn't change the role, but it makes you feel and move differently inside it.

PISCES (Feb. 19-March 20). You may fumble around a bit in the effort to find your place. You'll be served by every mishap, enriched by the contrast of an eruption of confusion that settles into perfect peace.

DENTAL Insurance

Medicare does not cover dental care[1]. That means if you need dental work done, it can cost you hundreds or even thousands of dollars out of your own pocket.

Get Dental Insurance from Physicians Mutual Insurance Company. It helps cover over 350 procedures – from cleanings and fillings to crowns and dentures.

- See any dentist you want, but save more with one in our network
- No deductible, no annual maximum
- Immediate coverage for preventive care
