Ready your star spangled banners, the 4th of July Parade is coming back

CLARA HARTER
SMDP Staff Writer

It's time to start dusting off the grill, stocking up on sparklers and tracking down that American flag swimsuit; the 4th of July is on its way, and this year bringing with it the well welcomed return of the Main Street parade.

This annual patriotic event was launched in 2007 and has since become a beloved community tradition and one of the few times a year when the bustling tourism and transit heavy city of Santa Monica closer resembles a quaint and tight knit neighborhood.

After a two year pandemic-induced hiatus, this year's parade will feature all of its usual fanfare: live music from local performers, food from Main Street vendors, and one hundred decked out vehicles/floats participating.

The key change is that this year the route will run in reverse, as the normal staging area in the Civic Center parking lot is inaccessible due to construction. Instead staging will take place at the South Beach Lots at the end of Ashland Ave. The parade will proceed east up Marine St. for one block and then turn left to travel northwards along Main St. until reaching Pico Blvd.

"I want to give back to the people something that everybody's in

Council may remove landmark status from two recently designated buildings

CLARA HARTER
SMDP Staff Writer

In Tuesday's City Council meeting, Councilmembers will discuss two controversial landmark designations and decide whether they should be upheld.

City staff believe they should not. In reports on both buildings, staff concludes that neither structure meets the criteria to be designated as a landmark under the Landmark and Historic District Ordinance of the Santa Monica Municipal Code.

Demolition permits have been filed for both buildings, so City Council's decision may very much mean the difference between preservation and destruction for these structures.

The first building is a 1914 multi-unit residential structure located at 1665 Appian Way on the border of the Downtown and Ocean

LA-area animal shelters at capacity seek foster homes

EMILY SAWICKI
SMDP Staff Writer

By now, we've all heard the mantra: "Adopt, don't shop!" But what about "Foster, don't shop!"?

It may not have the same rhyming ring to it, but animal advocacy agencies across Los Angeles County are hoping residents might still consider opening up their homes to a new fluffy roommate, even if it's just for a matter of weeks or months.

In a press release dated May 27, LA Animal Services announced shelters were at capacity across the County. While Santa Monica has

Cardboard City at Santa Monica Place

Cardboard City, the 5,000 square foot innovative pop-up art installation, by reDiscover Center, is excited to announce its return to Santa Monica this Summer at Santa Monica Place. The free museum-style exhibition of large-scale cardboard sculptures and architectural models follows the success of 2021's programming of inspirational art in public spaces, and will offer expanded hours, hands-on activities, an art boutique, day camps, field trips, and more, to families across Los Angeles.

Cardboard City facilitates youth and adult's creative expression using cardboard, a ubiquitous and environmentally sustainable material, inspiring sustainable practices while supporting creative career pathways for participating artists, youth, interns, and staff. The space will include free family art activities, highlighting fun, family-friendly cardboard sculptures, while activating the urban landscape. This year, Cardboard City by reDiscover Center will present cardboard sculptures by Los Angeles artists and an artist-in-residence program with a new artist each week, while offering volunteer and internship programs, daily classes, and drop-in activities. A full-time staff of Teaching Artists will be on hand, allowing children to meet and work with artists to get inspired while fostering a hands-on educational environment of creativity and joy.

Cardboard City's Grand Opening Ceremony will take place on Saturday, June 25 at 12 p.m., with special guests and giveaways from reDiscover Center.

This year's participating artists include Lorena Robletto of Amazing Piñatas, Connor Lee and Bauer Lee of Cardboard Superheroes, Calder Greenwood, Richard Wildlife, Sherri Madison, Joshua Abarbanel, Ricky Sencion, Karl Jean Petion, Jennifer Racusin, Kristy Pace, and Mandy Palasik. Cardboard City's 2022 sponsors include, City of Santa Monica, LA County Department of Arts and Culture, CA Arts Council, and Herb Alpert Foundation, with in-kind support from Makedo and Feders Appliances.

Cardboard City is produced by reDiscover Center, an established local arts education non-profit that develops children's creativity and sustainability awareness while revitalizing underused public spaces. Cardboard City will be open June 25 through August 14 from 12-6 p.m., six days a week (Closed Tuesdays) at Santa Monica Place on the Third Street Promenade, Unit 146 on the first level.

Visit rediscovercenter.org or SantaMonicaPlace.com for more information.

Endowed Chair to Advance Truth Decay Research Established in Honor of RAND President and CEO Michael D. Rich

RAND Corporation supporters have contributed more than $3.9 million to endow a new chair to advance research aimed at countering Truth Decay – the diminishing role of facts and analysis in public life – while paying tribute to RAND President and CEO Michael D. Rich, who is stepping down this year after more than a decade at the institution's helm.

Rich is coauthor of Truth Decay, a 2018 report that launched an ongoing stream of research into how the phenomenon has enfeebled America's response to everything from climate change to domestic terrorism to the COVID-19 pandemic.

"The distortion of facts – the misinformation and disinformation at the center of many of our problems today – is the research area to which Michael Rich has personally devoted the last few years," said RAND trustee Joel Hyatt, chair of the Tomorrow Demands Today fundraising campaign. "To celebrate Michael and to thank him for his lifetime of devotion to RAND, I am honored on behalf of the RAND Board of Trustees to announce the establishment of the Michael D. Rich Chair in Countering Truth Decay."

The new chair will help further develop and expand the impact of RAND's research agenda on the problem, including efforts to deepen understanding of it, raise public awareness of Truth Decay's consequences, and design and test solutions to counter the phenomenon. More than $3.9 million has been raised to establish the chair, for which RAND is currently seeking applicants. Additional fundraising efforts will continue to augment the work of the chairholder and support related research, events, convenings and outreach opportunities.

"For more than 45 years, Michael Rich has helped RAND become a leading source of expertise, analysis and evidence-based ideas," said Michael E. Leiter, chair of the RAND Board of Trustees. "He epitomizes the integrity, the nonpartisanship and the focus on impact that define RAND. On the occasion of Michael's retirement, it is fitting that we pay tribute to him by ensuring that RAND can make significant progress in the fight against Truth Decay for years to come."

Rich became president and CEO of RAND in 2011. He began his RAND career as a summer intern in 1975 and went on to hold a number of senior leadership positions. As president and CEO, he has focused on extending the impact of RAND's work, broadening its legacy of innovation and helping decisionmakers stay ahead of the curve on critical concerns.

Since Rich became president, RAND has seen annual revenues grow from $250 million to more than $350 million, raised more than $214 million in philanthropic gifts as part of the Tomorrow Demands Today campaign, and tackled such policy challenges as health care costs, international security, the COVID-19 pandemic and gun policy in America, in addition to Truth Decay.

Rich was instrumental in the creation of the RAND National Defense Research Institute, a federally funded research and development center that provides research and analysis to the Office of the Secretary of Defense, the Joint Staff, the Combatant Commands, the Navy, the Marine Corps, the defense agencies and the intelligence community. He also helped lead RAND's diversification and expansion into international markets, including Europe, the Middle East and Australia. He co-led the development of RAND's award-winning green headquarters building in Santa Monica, Calif., and recently directed that $3 million be invested in new research on racial equity and to establish the RAND Center to Advance Racial Equity Policy. Rich has been an enthusiastic supporter of Pardee RAND Graduate School, the world's largest public policy Ph.D. program, where he has taught and advised graduate students and chaired numerous committees.

"We are very grateful to the many friends and supporters who have joined with RAND to honor Michael's groundbreaking work on Truth Decay and all he has done for RAND throughout his remarkable career," Leiter said.

Celebrating 20 Years of Santa Monica Reads: Where I Was From by Joan Didion

Santa Monica Public Library invites the community to celebrate 20 years of community reading, June 4 - August 6,2022, with Joan Didion's Where I Was From.

Since 2002 we have been coming together as a community to share a book, discuss it, and hear from experts, often including the author.

This year's choice is Where I Was From, by the great California writer Joan Didion, who passed in December 2021. Published in 2003, Where I Was From uses Didion's family history to bring together material from essays exploring the history and meaning of California. Topics range from the Donner Party and the role of the railroads in the development of the state, to the post-WWII aerospace boom and its role in the growth of suburbia.

Free copies of the book and the Resource Guide are available starting June 4, while supplies last. Copies of the book, ebook and audiobook-on-CD are also available to borrow.

Join the community discussion of the 2022 Santa Monica Reads book! Discussions will be in person and online. The discussions kick off on June 30 at 6 p.m. in the Main Library Courtyard. Additional discussions take place July 7 at 6 p.m. at the Pico Branch Library Annex, July 16 at 11 a.m. (Virtual - To register, email library@santamonica.gov) and July 21 at 6 p.m. at the Montana Branch Library Patio.

There will be two author events in the Main Library Courtyard. Cultural critic David Ulin, the author of Sidewalking: Coming to Terms with Los Angeles and the editor of the Library of America editions of Didion's work, will appear on July 6 at 6 p.m., in conversation with novelist Laila Lalami. Several contributors to the anthology Slouching Towards Los Angeles: Living and Writing by Joan Didion's Light, will appear with editor Steffie Nelson on August 6 at 3 p.m.

Santa Monica Reads is sponsored by the Santa Monica Public Library and the Friends of the Santa Monica Library.

For a full list of free Library programs, resources, locations, and hours, please visit our website at smpl.org. We look forward to seeing you at the Library this summer.

Questions? Call us at (310) 458-8600 or email library@santamonica.gov. Friendly Library staff are available during Library open hours. We look forward to connecting with you.

California Assemblymember Richard Bloom to Speak at Online Santa Monica College Commencement Ceremony June 16

California Assemblymember Richard Bloom will be the speaker at the Santa Monica College (SMC) 2022 Commencement Ceremony on June 16. The ceremony will once again be online this year as a virtual event due to lingering concerns about large-scale, in-person events during the COVID-19 pandemic.

The 92nd Commencement Ceremony will start promptly at 5 p.m. on Thursday, June 16. Families and friends from all over the world can go to smc.edu to enjoy the ceremony, congratulatory speeches, and "Move the Tassel Moment" for the graduates. The ceremony also features "Celebrating Student Success" remarks by SMC President Dr. Kathryn E. Jeffery; "Board of Trustees Remarks" by SMC Board of Trustees Chair Dr. Louise Jaffe; "Faculty Challenge" by SMC Academic Affairs President Dr. Jamar London; and "Greetings from Associated Students" by SMC Associated Students President Joshua Elizondo.

SMC will award 7,952 degrees and certificates. About 1,000 of the 5,215 students who have earned degrees and certificates are expected to take part in this year's graduation.

"Santa Monica College's 2022 commencement celebration—including a 'grad walk' for graduates and their families several days prior, and a virtual ceremony where college leadership and the SMC community will celebrate our graduates' accomplishments—is noteworthy: this is the third cohort to emerge victorious during a global pandemic, from the necessity of taking classes via hybrid, flexible modes including both online and in-person instruction," said SMC Superintendent/President Dr. Kathryn E. Jeffery. "The graduating class has demonstrated courage, confidence, tenacity, motivation, and academic excellence in reaching this significant milestone."

Dr. Jeffery further noted that "Santa Monica College is honored to have as commencement speaker Assemblymember Richard Bloom, a leader whose long-standing commitment to sustainability and public service is well-documented and impressive!"

Richard Bloom — first elected to the 50th District of the California State Assembly in 2012 — proudly represents the communities of Agoura Hills, Bel Air, Beverly Hills, Brentwood, Hollywood, Malibu, Pacific Palisades, Santa Monica, Topanga, West Hollywood, and West Los Angeles.

As a steward of the environment, Assemblymember Bloom helped establish the most stringent protections in the country against the dangers of hydraulic fracking and pushed for improved rail safety and oil spill response preparedness in light of the exponential growth of oil imports by rail. Assemblymember Bloom also introduced the strongest protections in the country against the use of rodenticides, which are harming wildlife at alarming levels, and against the use of plastic microbeads in personal care products that are contaminating our rivers, streams, and oceans.

Assemblymember Bloom has also been involved in legislative efforts to combat the prescription drug overdose epidemic, address homelessness and housing, improve services for our veterans, expand and protect the rights of the LGBTQ+ community, foster local redevelopment, address the rise in hate crimes, and create jobs.

Prior to being elected to the California State Assembly, Assemblymember Bloom served on the Santa Monica City Council for 13 years, where he served as Mayor three times and Mayor Pro Tempore twice. He also served as Chair of the Santa Monica Bay Restoration Commission, Chair of the Westside Cities Council of Governments, and as a special California State Senate appointment to the California Coastal Commission.

Born in Philadelphia, Assemblymember Bloom grew up in Altadena and West Los Angeles. He attended Fairfax High School, the University of California (Los Angeles and Berkeley), and Loyola School of Law, and holds a B.A. in Communication and Public Policy, as well as a Juris Doctor degree. After law school, he practiced family law for nearly 30 years and worked as the executive director for a nonprofit that assisted low-income and homeless clients. He also served as a volunteer Judge Pro Tem and mediator for the Los Angeles Superior Courts, and on the Executive Committee of the Los Angeles County Bar Association Family Law Section.

Assemblymember Bloom lives in Santa Monica with his wife of 40 years, a healthcare professional and administrator in Los Angeles. The Bloom family includes two adult sons and two chickens.

CRIME WATCH

Crime Watch is culled from reports provided by the Santa Monica Police Department. These are arrests only. All parties are innocent until proven guilty in a court of law.

ON SUNDAY, JUNE 5 AT 2:01 P.M.

Officers responded to Burton on the 1400 block of 4th Street regarding someone shoplifting in the store. Upon arrival, an employee relayed that she witnessed a subject hide a beanie under their shirt. The employee confronted the subject, who then began yelling at the employee and proceeded to walk out of the store. Officers located the suspect, Summer Elizabeth Johnson, and she was arrested for shoplifting.

ON FRIDAY, JUNE 3 AT 4:32 P.M.

Officers were dispatched to Vans on the 400 block of Broadway regarding a theft. The store employee relayed that she saw the subject walk out of the store with several boxes of unpaid merchandise. An officer assigned to the Drone unit, spotted the subject on the 1400 block of Alley 4 and notified patrol officers. Brandon R. Kelly was located and arrested for shoplifting.

LETTER TO THE EDITOR

Send comments to editor@smdp.com

This letter is a eulogy for the Protecting Our Democracy Act that died in the U.S. Senate. June 9th will be six months since the U.S. House of Representatives passed the admirable bill and June 13th will be six months since the Senate received it. The Senate has chosen not to pass it as written nor has it offered any suggested changes; it has, in effect, allowed this important bill to die.

The Protecting Our Democracy Act (PODA) is a much needed package of reforms. Its express purpose is to strengthen America's democratic institutions and create guardrails to prevent abuses of power and corruption at the highest levels of government. Our founding fathers' strong belief in the rule of law created the Constitution to make America a country ruled by laws, not by men. The PODA's reforms, many of which have been supported by both Democrats and Republicans in the past, will restore the federal government's system of checks and balances, strengthen accountability and transparency, and protect America's elections from foreign interference.

I'm not listing all of the dozen reforms, but I will give two examples:

- Self pardons by the President are prohibited to ensure that no president is above the law.
- The statute of limitations for federal offenses committed by a sitting President or Vice-President is suspended.

The Republican Senators who did not approve of the reforms in the Protecting Our Democracy Act know that it was the misdeeds of Donald Trump during his presidency that promoted the need for the reforms. In anticipation of their lack of support of the PODA, the Washington Post's Editorial Board wrote on 1/12/21:

"Republican Senators should be willing to work with Democrats to enact rules that advance no ideology except accountable government. Those who refuse only prove that democracy isn't what they're interested in protecting after all."

I appeal to the Senate to uphold their oath to protect the Constitution and to please revive the Protecting Our Democracy Act and vote for it, as written, without delay.

ANIMAL SHELTERS

its own animal shelter that is not overrun (learn more at santamonica.gov/categories/services/animal-services), local residents are welcome to adopt or foster animals from elsewhere in the County, where the situation is a bit more dire.

Why foster?

Not all animals are great fits for all homes. Best Friends Animal Society recently shared a story of one feline friend who finally found a forever home — but getting there was a journey.

Halana the cat — a longtime resident of Best Friends Animal Society — came to the shelter in May 2021 from Harbor Shelter as a four-year-old stray, according to information provided by the Society.

"She was a little timid but once she trusted people, she was a very affectionate girl," Best Friends' Alina Hauptman wrote in an email. "Halana suffered from allergies as well as a tendency to overgroom when she could see or hear other cats. After a couple of months testing different diets and onsite housing placements, it was decided she would do best in a foster home that could focus on getting her allergies under control.

"She started in one foster home but moved to a second foster home this past November," Hauptman continued. "Kelly, her foster/now adopted mom helped get Halana's allergies under control and fell in love in the process."

If you're looking to adopt a new kitty into your family, June is a great time to consider it: Best Friends Animal Society's Lifesaving Center in Mission Hills and NKLA Adoption Center in Los Angeles are both offering $5 adoptions for cats ages six months and up all month long.

When it comes to canines, shelter capacity is a concern.

LA Animal Services reported shelters were over capacity as they "continue to take in more dogs than we have been able to find these canine friends their new homes."

But, like with cats, dogs may also be fostered if permanent adoption isn't in the cards.

At the West LA shelter, 88 dogs and 26 cats were waiting to be adopted as of latest available data, ranging from puppies to seniors and everything in between. Some of the pups have been waiting to find a forever home since spring 2021.

"If you are unable to adopt, please consider fostering one of the many wonderful pets from our Centers to give them a temporary break from kennel life," the LA Animal Services email urged. "Dogs and cats adopted from LA Animal Services join their new families already spayed or neutered, vaccinated, licensed, and microchipped. In addition, canine companions adopted from LA Animal Services are also eligible for free dog training classes at the Paws for Life K9 Rescue People & Pet Innovation Center in Mission Hills."

agreement about, and everybody loves the parade," said parade founder and organizer Jeff Jarow. "Especially after COVID, people can't wait for this parade. They are so excited to be out there and experience a nice holiday... and this year our specific message is 'thank you to our essential workers, we couldn't have done it without you.'"

According to Jarow, individuals and groups from all over the city will be participating including hotels, the fire department, the police department, Santa Monica teachers and the Samohi marching band.

"It's for the entire community, we don't exclude anybody... everybody is invited to participate, everybody is invited to spectate," said Jarow. "It's a hometown parade where you can see your friends out there, you can listen to music, you can see funny things, it's just a real participatory parade."

Anyone who wants to bring a vehicle to the parade can sign up at santamonicaparade.com/participants.html. Participants will be asked to arrive between 6:30 a.m. and 8 a.m. so that SMPD can complete vehicle inspections and all vehicles can line up. The parade will then kick off at 9:30 a.m. with spectators welcome to view from any point in the procession.

This year the parade is seeking both sponsors and volunteers to ensure the event runs smoothly and everyone who wants to has the opportunity to participate. Volunteers can sign up for pre-parade set up, if they wish to march in the parade, or they can sign up to help maintain a safe and fun environment during the parade. Set up volunteers arrive at 7:30 a.m. and parade route volunteers arrive at 9 a.m. Coffee, water and snacks will be available for all.

Because the parade was started by a group of residents in Ocean Park it does not have significant funding and sponsors are sought to help pay for parade production, advertising, security and decorations. Major sponsors will have their company logo featured on the official parade poster and on all parade promotional materials. They are also invited to participate in the parade with a float, a band or marchers in their preferred sequence.

More information on sponsorship opportunities can be found at santamonicaparade.com/sponsor-sign-up.html.

Park neighborhoods. In February 2021, the property owner submitted an application for a demolition permit and in March 2021, Santa Monica resident Shawn Hugus submitted an application to designate the property as a landmark or structure of merit.

Two historical resource assessments were completed on the property. A report contracted by the owner with GPA Consultants found that the building did not meet any of the City of Santa Monica criteria to be a landmark or structure of merit. A report contracted by the City with Architectural Resource Group (ARG) found that the property appears eligible for Santa Monica Landmark designation as an example of Santa Monica's economic history as associated with multi-family development and its relative rarity in this neighborhood.

The Landmarks Commission agreed with ARG's conclusion and designated the building as a landmark following a public hearing in November 2021. The owner then appealed that decision and when City staff reviewed the building they sided with the owner.

"Staff believes that the area studied for its rarity may be too narrowly focused within the vicinity of the subject property and may therefore establish a false sense of rarity. Other properties in nearby neighborhoods appear to be more exemplary of multi-family development in this era," states the staff report.

The second recently designated landmark is the former office building of Bay Films located at 631 Colorado Ave. From 1937 to 1955 the building was home to the Aztec Brewing Company.

The current owner of that property is seeking to demolish it and filed for a permit in March 2021. In May 2021, Nina Fresco, on behalf of the Santa Monica Conservancy, submitted a historic resource designation application for the property.

The main building was built in 1937 as an industrial vernacular warehouse with Streamline Moderne influences, while the auxiliary building is one-story rectangular building with a flat, composition roof.

Although a GPA study commissioned by the City concluded that the building did not qualify as a landmark, the Landmark Commission voted 4-2 to approve it as a landmark in a January 2022 meeting. Their reasoning included the fact that it was the first light industrial commercial building in the south-east portion of Santa Monica's downtown; its Art Deco/Streamline Moderne style; its use of Groutlock bricks; and the fact that a prominent leader in the African American Women's Club movement lived on the site prior to the building's construction.

City staff also recommend that council overturn this designation.

"Staff remains in agreement with GPA that the property does not appear eligible for designation. The property, while one of the first industrial buildings built in this area of Downtown, does not appear to be a significant aspect of the larger trend of industrial development in Downtown or in Santa Monica as a whole," states the staff report.

Late Friday afternoon several additional items were added to the Council agenda.

Although not yet mandated by the state, staff are recommending that Santa Monica limit outdoor watering to two days a week to align with neighboring water agencies' conservation efforts. Drought conditions are currently worsening across California, and at the end of April, several municipalities were required to limit outdoor watering to one day a week as outdoor watering accounts for nearly 70 percent of the water use in Southern California.

Additionally, several council member discussion items were added covering a wide range of topics. These include preparing a tax on potential recreational marijuana sales, preparing a diversity report on city staff, offering free beach parking for residents with street parking permits, hiring independent legal counsel for legal matters involving councilmembers and adding a tax measure to the November ballot.

The regularly scheduled City Council meeting will be held on June 14.

The meeting will begin in closed session at 5:30 p.m. and can be streamed live at youtube.com/user/Citytv16santamonica.

LANDMARK: The building at 6th and Colorado been landmarked despite a report stating it lacks historic merit. The building owner is one of two that have appealed landmark designations to the City Council. Both buildings (631 Colorado and 1665 Appian Way) will have their status discussed at the June 14 City Council meeting.

TODAY'S BIRTHDAY (June 13)

Welcome to the year your optimistic hopes come true! Challenges related to work will inspire your next and most fabulous incarnation. More highlights: a support system to assist a very ambitious goal, air travel and hot tickets, and an achievement that will have your family buzzing. Taurus and Libra adore you. Your lucky numbers are: 9, 40, 22, 1 and 18.

HOROSCOPES

ARIES (March 21-April 19). You made a decision, and that was the starting point leading to places unimagined. Those new places became starting points. Today you ask, "How did I get here?" and retrace the winding road.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20). You know you are growing in spirit because when you look back at the things that made you angry, they no longer do. In fact, don't they seem rather small?

GEMINI (May 21-June 21). What you once saw as a thing you had to do you now see as a game. When you change the rules to a game, it becomes a different and new game. This is the course of your day.

CANCER (June 22-July 22). You know who you want to be. Remind yourself of this in those moments you feel lost. Knowing who you want to be is more than a decision; it's an orientation that creates its own map, its own to-do list, its own next steps.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22). Just because you have wisdom beyond your years doesn't mean you'll act on it. A little foolhardy, youthful exuberance blasts through the stale air of staunch environments. You'll be a hit.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22). Today's success will be a twist on tradition. You'll appreciate and tend to what you have and then venture out to discover something new to throw into the mix.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 23). It's heavy on the work, light on the fun, which every circus performer knows is a recipe for toppling. If you switch up the equation — make work lighter and fun more important — the crowd will love it, and so will you.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24-Nov. 21). People learn compassion through disappointment and injustice. You've moved through bad times and are now so capable of helping others through their suffering.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22-Dec. 21). Sometimes you go with the tried and true and other times you feel adventurous enough to see if there's something out there you could like even more. For today's happiness, credit a balance of both behaviors.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19). When people want what isn't good for them, giving them what they want isn't going to help anything. For best results, apply your own judgment to the actions you take on behalf of others.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 18). Most are not extraordinarily objective when it comes to their own thought process, but you're the exception to the rule now. You'll look into your process and line everything up; alignment is power.

PISCES (Feb. 19-March 20). You learned not to loan money to friends and family; instead, you just give it to them without expectation of return. If you can't do it like that, you don't do it at all. The principle will apply to something other than money today.
