Temporary field proposed for Civic Center site

MATTHEW HALL
Daily Press Editor

Council has chosen to move forward with a temporary field at the Civic Center Auditorium with plans to explore additional field space at Memorial Park.

Council had six options on the table Tuesday night including variations on a permanent, temporary or no field at the Civic Center.

A unanimous council ultimately chose to move forward with a temporary field on the Civic Center site (at an estimated cost of $8.6 million with about a 10-year lifespan). The proposal's largest problem, removal of hundreds of parking spots, will be discussed with the various constituents in the coming months as staff undertake more analysis now that they have direction from Council.

The motion included authorization for a mandatory parking study related to the site, issuing an RFP for renovation of the Civic building and analysis of additional field space at Memorial Park. Staff were also directed to take feedback from Thursday's School Board meeting regarding the need for a softball field.

Councilwoman Gleam Davis said the cost for a permanent field, about $95.4 million split with the school district, was simply too high to be practical and while she thought field expansion at Memorial park was an "elegant" solution, the community did not support that plan. Therefore, a temporary field was the best choice.

"I cannot in good conscience justify spending $40-50 million dollars on parking," she said. "I think if we build underground parking, 700 spaces there, we're going to look down the road in 20 years and say 'what were we thinking.'"

Davis said she felt the plans for the Civic Center site had always included a promise of a field and an acknowledgement that parking would be removed. She said not

SMMUSD Board adopts LCAP and Budget plan

MARINA ANDALON
Daily Press Staff Writer

The Santa Monica – Malibu Unified School District Board of Education might have set a record for a public meeting this week with at 20-minute session to take feedback on their budget process.

Public schools are now funded by a streamlined state system known as the Local Control Funding Formula. Part of the LCFF program requires schools to work with parents, educators, employees and the community to establish Local Control Accountability Plans (LCAP) that create goals and actions across several areas.

A public hearing regarding the LCAP and the larger budget plan was held on June 27, however there was not much to be said by the public and the meeting concluded in about 20 minutes.

On Thursday, June 29 the Board will meet again to formally adopt the 2017 – 18 LCAP and the 2017 - 18 General Fund Budget.

"The LCAP sets goals, metrics, and expenditures for efforts to improve the outcomes of our students, particularly English language learners, foster youth, and students who qualify for free and reduced lunches," said Boardmember Ralph Mechur.

The new LCAP includes three main goals: all graduates are ready for college and careers, English learners will become proficient in English, and all students engage in schools that are safe and well maintained.

"The LCAP that was presented to the Board outline the work started by Dr. Rousseau and King and continued by Dr. Drati," said Boardmember Jon Kean. "We have reduced the number of stated goals so that we can address core issues as part of a carefully constructed and scaffold process."

He believes the plan is slow and arduous work, but will get the district where they need to be.

Changes in LCAP consist of deleting secondary math metric, deleting dual enrollment metric, change preschool metric to be EDI based, provide release time for Pre K teachers, SAT for all seniors on school day, provide an extended day for ELS in MS

"Meeting the metrics of the LCAP should result in improvements in student performance,

Science cuts both ways

POET LAWRENCE FERLINGHETTI reputedly once said, "One must have an open mind, but not so open that your brain falls out."

I've been away for a month in Scandinavia and haven't yet had a chance to get out to any live arts or performance events here in town. But I did watch a film, "Food Evolution," which opens this Friday at Laemmle's Monica Film Center.

At first I thought this was just another anti-GMO documentary. For the record, and without seriously examining the science, I have stood on the anti-GMO side of the fence. This is where the part about an open mind comes in.

In fact, it's not anti-GMO. This is the film in which science strikes back. And it's pretty convincing. To drive the point home, one of the most respected and publicly known scientists, Neil deGrasse Tyson, is the narrator. The film is directed by Scott Hamilton Kennedy, who also made the highly sympathetic 2006 documentary, "The Garden," about the controversial destruction of a one-of-a-kind South Central community garden (nominated for an Academy Award).

"Food Evolution" does not address the many injustices committed by Monsanto, the giant biotech company that has been manipulating our major crops and buying up seed companies, ostensibly in the interests of putting fewer pesticides into the environment and securing the welfare of our food against pests and diseases. It is also the company that created Agent Orange.

"Food Evolution" does not address how Monsanto sues farmers for patent infringement after its own seeds contaminate farmers' organic fields. I do not condone monopolistic practices nor the commodification of food, which should be an essential human right, not a means by which traders create markets and corporate profits come before the basic needs of people.

But: what this film is about is the science of bioengineering. The safety of the science. The indisputable scientific evidence that GMO foods do not harm humans. Yes, I said that out loud and I will be condemned by friends for it. We may be proved wrong in the future. But we're not there yet.

The film opens in Hawaii, witnessing the county supervisors' meeting at which an anti-GMO ban wins approval, to the cheers of the crowd, which had been active for many months to promote this outcome. However, Hawaii faced the devastation of its papaya crops from a crippling virus. The rainbow papaya, bioengineered by a Hawaiian scientist who added a gene from the virus into the plant's DNA to create resistance, has saved that fruit.

We are taken into labs, into conversations with scientists, and to Uganda where bananas, the main food and economic crop, face a similar fate due to a bacterial disease. Local biotech engineers try to replicate the success of the rainbow papaya using genetic modification. Having created a resistant banana tree, now the people whose lives have been threatened by the extinction of their staple crop must convince the government to approve the GMO banana that could save them.

But thanks to the growing anti-GMO movement across the world and with the support of many governments, there are serious complications and approval may or may not be forthcoming. Meanwhile people will starve. Good intentions, questionable outcomes.

This is where I have to say, I fully believe the scientific evidence about global warming. Oh yeah, and evolution… So, I cannot understand why I have been so resistant to the scientific evidence that it is, indeed, possible to bioengineer a plant to create a food safe for human consumption.

Is it Frankenfood? Or can it save a nation or the world?

One of the most persuasive sections of "Food Evolution" is a public debate featuring two anti-GMO and two pro-GMO experts. The audience votes at the end, persuaded by the pro-GMO forces.

This isn't by any means a fully balanced film; but then neither are the anti-GMO films out there. But too many people, myself included, have succumbed to the emotional arguments, the anti-GMO studies that have not been replicated and have been retracted, the arguable equivalencies of correlations (such as the rise in autism and the rise of GMO use; the same increase in sales of organic products also matches the rise of autism…).

Can we "separate the dancer from the dance" (Yeats)? I vow to be more open minded – but not so open minded that my brain falls out. Go see this movie and decide for yourself whether the argument has been settled or whether we still need more evidence to be convinced that GMOs might truly be beneficial.

A WHOLE NEW IRVING

I don't know where this brand-new YouTube series is going, but now that I've watched the first two episodes, I'm intrigued. Producer/Director Terry Dawson has created a feature series called "A Whole New Irving" about a highly educated African American man struggling to find his place in the world after receiving his college degree.

With six-figure student loan debt, behind in rent to his mother, at odds with his delivery man brother, with a broken-down car he can't afford to fix and forced to (humiliatingly) ride a bicycle around town, he ends up as a salesman in the wellness department of the Venice/Marina adjacent store, Rainbow Acres (yes, the real store).

It's fun so far and new episodes drop on Fridays. I'll be watching. Join me here: https://www.youtube.com/channel/UCBsydMGoLuVUEGL10akstRg?view_as=subscriber

About Lenny Bruce, the man who started it all

BEFORE GEORGE CARLIN. BEFORE Richard Pryor. Before EVERYONE who followed, there was Lenny Bruce.

Ostensibly having died of a drug overdose in 1966, Bruce is apparently still alive and unwell at Theatre 68 in North Hollywood. His essence and his memories are currently residing in the body of consummate actor Ronnie Marmo, who begins his performance by insulting the ethnicities of everyone in the audience. As Bruce, he contends that if the pejorative terms for each group were repeated over and over they would revert to being just words rather than abusive epithets.

The zeal with which he presents this concept is magnified by the fact that he looks so much like the man he is portraying. And, as Bruce, his fervor intensifies as he faces the mounting disapproval of the public.

Marmo's portrayal is mesmerizing as he demonstrates the hysteria and frustration that Bruce endured as he was hounded by the police and judges and suffered the trauma of being perpetually misunderstood.

At the same time, however, Bruce was earning recognition and plaudits from those people who understood his controversial, obscene, and often hilarious rantings on race relations, gender issues, politics, religion, moral philosophy, Jewishness, the law, drugs, and sex. And he defended his words all the way to the Supreme Court as he argued for his constitutional right to freedom of speech.

Marmo's first venture into the life of Lenny Bruce came in 2010 in a one-man show written by Sam Bobrick and Julie Stein that ran for six months. A few years later, he portrayed Lenny again in a show called "Lenny's Back…and boy is he pissed," which also had a six-month run. The current incarnation, a brand new edition of the story, written by Marmo and Jason M. Burns, is titled "I Am Not A Comedian…I'm Lenny Bruce." Marmo is especially gratified by the fact that Kitty Bruce, Lenny's daughter, approved of the script and his performance.

This production is directed by award-winning film, theater, and television actor Joe Mantegna and produced by The 68 Cent Crew Theatre Company. Marmo is the co-founder and artistic director of the company, which added a second colony in New York in 2011.

For a man in his mid-40s Marmo has a most impressive record of accomplishments. He has starred in more than 50 films and television shows and more than 30 plays. He has directed more than 50 stage productions and produced 100 in Los Angeles and New York. He also recently portrayed Lenny Bruce in an audiobook of Bruce's autobiography titled "How to Talk Dirty and Influence People."

The current show covers Bruce's life from the time when as a young man he aspired to be "the hip Jewish version of James Dean." As he grew older he became a prime womanizer and drug addict, but he seemed on the verge of settling down when he met and fell in love with a stripper named Honey. But after they had produced Kitty, their only child, their six-year marriage fell apart, presumably due to his return to womanizing and "free love." As he reported to a friend, "I got rid of her…she left me."

Lonely and ever more into narcotics, he persisted in trying to explain his views to the judges who continually persecuted him. In one poignant scene he pleads with the judge to "just let me show you my act" and "please don't take away my words" before he ends with, "Your Honor, I so badly want your respect."

He was just 40 when he died, never living to see the iconic figure he became and the powerful influence he had on so many successful comedians of the next generation.

This World Premiere of "I Am Not A Comedian…I'm Lenny Bruce" can be seen Fridays and Saturdays at 8pm and Sundays at 3 through July 29th at Theatre 68, 5112 Lankershim Blvd., North Hollywood. Call (323) 960-5068 or visit www.Theatre68.com for tickets.

But don't tell Lenny you're coming. He thinks that phrase is dirty.

only has parking removal been part of the plan, she said reducing parking was actually in keeping with the city's broader traffic reduction plans.

"We are trying to get people out of cars and the one thing we know is parking, like traffic, is the result of induced demand. If you build parking, then people will drive," she said.

In the five hours of community input, almost every possible opinion was voiced.

John C. Smith, Chair of the Recreation and Parks Commission reiterated the Commission's recommendation for a temporary field saying the huge cost associated with the permanent site would be better used for other projects throughout the city.

"The Recreation and Parks Commission urges you to move ahead with plans and build a simple temporary field on the site and we also think that we should make sure that any parks bond money be saved to buy parks and not that parking garage," he said.

David Bryant, Director of Los Angeles County Probation assigned to oversee the Santa Monica office said his office alone has 7 – 800 users a month come through the doors and that more should be done to understand the needs of those who use the court.

"I have a great deal of concern with regard to the feasibility studies that were performed in that if it it's a credible feasibility study, I feel there should be a balance between both meeting the needs and the desires of the community to service the youth of Santa Monica High School and also the impact to the businesses and agencies that will be affected," he said.

Longtime arts advocate Bruria Finkel also said the field should be moved away from the Civic Center. She said it was incompatible with efforts to rehabilitate the Civic itself.

"The idea of having a running field at the Civic Center is a bad idea, it doesn't work, it doesn't help the community, it destroys the idea of creating a center for the arts," she said.

Sports advocates said the City needs more fields overall and that a field near the school was important to meet the needs of students.

Resident Susan Black said her son is a tuba player and transporting him to Memorial Park for practice would not be practical. She urged council to look at a permanent park.

"(Students) need to march in the band, play soccer and more than ever, our children need to play, play and play," she said. "Since 2005, we've been waiting. We urge you now to build the park, it's time to build the park."

The field discussion will now move to the School Board who will discuss the needs of specific sports, such as softball, and a possible financial partnership with the City.

School Board will meet at 5:30 p.m. at the District Office, 1651, 16th St.

particularly of groups that have historically underperformed," said Mechur.

The LCAP includes information regarding a supplemental grant, which is to be used to increase or improve outcomes. The supplemental grant money covers certificated costs, classified cost, materials and supplies, contracts and services, and software.

The LCAP 2017 – 18 allocation totals out to $4,425,900.

This year the total general fund budget expenditures for LCAP is $155,371,152 and is intended for the three LCAP goals.

The BOE will also need to adopt the 2017 – 18 General Fund Budget Plan at its Thursday meeting.

"The budget meets the requirements of have a three year budget and look ahead that ensures the district's finances provide for the funds necessary to operate the district as proposed," said Mechur.

The district's 2017-18 budget begins with a balance of $26,129,362 and projects revenues of $153,228,949 for a total fund balance of $179,358,311. This comes from LCFF, federal revenues, state revenues, parcel taxes, City of Santa Monica, Proposition Y & GSH, Santa Monica – Malibu Education Foundation, and other local organizations.

This year the enrollment for 2017 -18 is expected to be 10,768 with a lottery allocation of $189 per annual average daily attendance. Of that, $144 is for unrestricted general fund expenditures and the remaining $45 is for Proposition 20, which is mandated for instructional materials.

"I believe that we are finally on a path where future budgets will clearly show our priorities and the 'story' of our district while controlling spending at the same time," said Kean. "In the next couple of years our budget will reflect this new reality and we will be able to make progress on our vital programs as we move toward Excellence through Equity."

The district plans to spend $155,371,152 on unrestricted and restricted expenditures, which includes salaries, employee benefits, books and supplies, services, capital outlay, and other outgo. Leaving a projected fund balance of $23,987,159.

Boardmembers said spending more than they take in is not sustainable and cuts will be the subject of ongoing discussions.

"The budget is a deficit-spending budget, utilizing reserves to offset projected expenditures being greater than projected revenues," said Mechur. "The Board has directed the Superintendent to bring potential cuts forward as we start to plan the 2018-19 budget to reduce future projected deficits. This discussion will take most of the coming year."

School Board meets at 5:30 p.m. at the District Office, 1651 16th St.

COMMUNITY BRIEFS

LOS ANGELES

Owners of Los Angeles hospital reach $42 million settlement

Prosecutors say the owners of a Los Angeles hospital have agreed to pay $42 million to settle allegations that they had improper financial relationships that could have induced doctors to refer patients for unnecessary procedures.

The U.S. Department of Justice announced the settlement with PAMC Ltd. and Pacific Alliance Medical Center Inc. on Wednesday.

The medical center said in a statement it did not acknowledge any liability and is confident it has put in place safeguards on its marketing policies and practices.

The hospital's owners were accused of paying above-market rates to rent space in physicians' offices.

Acting U.S. Attorney Sandra Brown in Los Angeles says patients deserve to know their doctors are making health care decisions based on medical need and not for potential financial benefit.

Long Beach police seize large amounts of illegal fireworks

Southern California authorities are warning about the dangers of fireworks as the Fourth of July approaches.

In Long Beach, where even so-called "Safe and Sane" fireworks are illegal, police say investigations into illegal possession and sales of fireworks have resulted in numerous arrests and citations.

In the most recent investigation, officers served a warrant Monday at a home where fireworks were allegedly being sold from a garage.

Police say they confiscated more than 5,000 pounds of fireworks valued at $30,000 as well as cash and PCP. Four children were turned over to the Department of Children and Family Services.

Overall, the Long Beach investigations have seized more than $45,000 in U.S. currency, two loaded handguns, ammunition and significant quantities of what is believed to be marijuana, cocaine, heroin and PCP.

Prosecutors settle Panda Express discrimination claim

Federal prosecutors say they have reached a settlement with Panda Express over allegations the company discriminated against workers who were not U.S. citizens.

Under the settlement announced on Wednesday, Panda Express will pay a $400,000 penalty to the U.S. government and establish a $200,000 fund to compensate workers who lost wages due to the chain's practices.

The U.S. Department of Justice says an investigation found Panda Express unnecessarily required green card holders to re-establish their work authorization when their documents expired, but didn't make the same request of U.S. citizens who worked for the chain.

The investigation also determined the company routinely required other non-U.S. citizens to verify their work authorization when they had already provided the necessary documentation.

Panda Express did not immediately have comment.

USA track and field brings 2020 Olympic Trials to LA area

USA track and field says the Olympic Trials for the 2020 Tokyo Games will be held in the Los Angeles area.

Track's governing body said Wednesday its board of directors voted 11-2 to bring the event to Mt. San Antonio College in Walnut, California. The stadium is going through a $62 million upgrade that's scheduled to be completed in 2019 and will expand seating to more than 21,000.

Mt. SAC beat out Sacramento, California, and Eugene, Oregon, which hosted the last three Olympic Trials at Hayward Field. The 2020 Olympic Trials are scheduled for June 19-28.

USATF has been diversifying its locations for championship meets to foster relationships with cities. Max Siegel, the CEO of USATF, says the "level of interest in the 2020 Olympic Trials is a reflection of that effort."

Analysis: GOP health bill could cost California $114B

California officials say the state's budget could take a $30 billion annual hit if health care legislation proposed by U.S. Senate Republicans is passed.

An analysis released Wednesday by the state Department of Health Care Services concludes the bill would have a $114.6 billion impact on California's budget between 2020 and 2027. It would initially add $3 billion in costs in 2020 and increase to $30 billion by 2027.

The costs would come largely from reductions in federal Medicaid funding. More than 3.8 million California residents are on Medi-Cal, the state's insurance program for the poor, through an expansion of the program included in former president Barack Obama's health care overhaul law.

Department director Jennifer Kent says the legislation "takes a sledgehammer" to improvements in California's health care system.

Medical Myths

■ Every kid dreads these words: "You just ate. You can't go swimming for 30 minutes."

■ The notion, of course, is that a kid loaded up on food is going to suffer a fatal case of cramping and sink to the bottom of the pool. Cramping might happen, but it's likely to be very mild and not debilitating. The body does divert some blood flow from muscles to aid the digestive system after a meal, but the change is minimal and doesn't diminish muscle function. Olympic swimmers often eat before races. They just don't eat so much that they become uncomfortable.

DUI-driver's license checkpoint

The Santa Monica Police Department will be conducting a Driving under the Influence (DUI)-Driver's License Checkpoint. The operation is scheduled for Friday, June 30, between the hours of 7 p.m. and 3 a.m. at an undisclosed location within city limits.

The deterrent effect of DUI checkpoints are a proven factor in reducing the number of persons killed and injured in alcohol and/or drug related collisions. Research shows that accidents involving impaired drivers can be reduced by up to 20 percent when well-publicized enforcement checkpoints and proactive DUI patrols are conducted routinely.

Traffic Officers will be looking for objective signs of alcohol and/or drug impairment and verify that motorists are in possession of a valid driver's license.

In California 2013, drunk driving led to the tragic deaths of 867 persons and over 23,000 serious injuries. Nationally, the latest data shows impaired drivers killed 10,076 people. Recent statistics reveal that 30 percent of drivers in fatal collisions had traces of one or more drugs in their systems. The study showed that more drivers tested positive for drug impairment (14 percent) than did for alcohol (7.3 percent).

According to the National Highway Traffic Safety Administration (NHTSA), checkpoints have provided the most effective documented results of any of the DUI enforcement strategies. Nearly 90% of California drivers approve of DUI checkpoints.

Funding for this checkpoint is provided to the Santa Monica Police Department by a grant from the California Office of Traffic Safety, through the National Highway Traffic Safety Administration. The Santa Monica Police Department would like to remind everyone to call 9-1-1 to report drunk drivers. Your call might help us save a life.

LOS ANGELES

Film academy invites Leslie Jones, Dwayne Johnson, Riz Ahmed

The film academy is inviting 774 new members to join its ranks, including actors Leslie Jones, Dwayne Johnson, Riz Ahmed, Chris Pratt and Anna Faris.

The Academy of Motion Picture Arts and Sciences revealed its latest invitees on Wednesday.

Other actors invited to join the group include Priyanka Chopra, Janelle Monae, Elle Fanning, Donald Glover, Chris Hemsworth, Jon Hamm, Betty White, Terry Crews, John Cho, Zoe Kravitz and "Wonder Woman" herself, Gal Gadot. Several "Saturday Night Live" alumnae also received invites: Amy Poehler, Molly Shannon, Maya Rudolph and current star Kate McKinnon.

"Moonlight" writer-director Barry Jenkins was invited to join both branches, as was "Get Out" writer-director Jordan Peele. "Hidden Figures" director Theodore Melfi and documentarian Ezra Edelman, who won an Oscar for "O.J.: Made in America," also received invitations.

Lin-Manuel Miranda, Justin Timberlake, Nick Cave, Terry Lewis, Jimmy Jam and "La La Land" composers Benj Pasek, Justin Paul and Justin Hurwitz were invited to the music branch.

The film academy reports the new class of potential members is 39 percent female and 30 percent non-white. The organization has been diversifying its ranks after two years of #OscarsSoWhite and criticism of its overwhelmingly white and male voting body.

TODAY'S BIRTHDAY (June 29)

You're becoming increasingly informed and in touch with your surroundings and yet you're not completely tied to things as they exist. Parameters change. You'll come into a brand new scene and alter it forever for the better. Affection and devotion will be heaped on you in 2018. Travel figures prominently. Sagittarius and Pisces adore you. Your lucky numbers are: 10, 3, 38, 34 and 40.

ARIES (March 21-April 19)

Boredom lacks the fiery passion of other emotions, but it's just as important as many of those super-charged feelings. You won't find your peak creativity, originality or unique genius without tolerating some degree of boredom.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20)

You lived your story; you earned it! That doesn't mean that you want to tell it to everyone. In fact, you'll be effectively choosey in this regard, waiting for the right audience and the moments of maximum impact.

GEMINI (May 21-June 21)

Those who have earned big-time results are the only ones who can afford to talk a big talk -- though, usually, because experience has taught them the precariousness of success and the value of modesty, they choose not to.

CANCER (June 22-July 22)

Love the mess. Frame it as you would the artwork of a beloved young child. In many ways, you are the parent and the child all in one, and you're in need of a little praise and enthusiasm for the early attempts.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22)

You may feel like you're being put on the spot today. If so, consider moving "the spot" off to the side a bit. The sideshow will attract a crowd without having the same pressures and liabilities of the mainstage productions.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22)

The nature of marketing is hype. Since you're being marketed to during your every waking hour, it only follows to pick up and use language of hype in your you-to-you communications. Recognize it for the exaggeration it is.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 23)

True to his methodical, consistent nature, the tortoise wins the race. Plodding ever forward is harder than it looks -- especially for those who are easily distracted (which is everyone) -- but it works. You can do this!

SCORPIO (Oct. 24-Nov. 21)

Instead of ruminating about what went wrong back there, imagine that it didn't. Think of yourself as saying and doing it the way you would have liked it to go. This increases your chances of getting it right the next time.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22-Dec. 21)

If you're only partway into the situation, it will take energy from the rest of your life and give you back nothing in return. For a proper return you'll have to ramp up your commitment or get out completely.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19)

If there's anything you need more of, it's not money or fun, it's meaning. When meaningfully engaged you become more yourself and yet somehow simultaneously more everyone else, too, melding with the universal mind.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 18)

Comfortable ideas about who you are will keep you interacting in a certain way that may or may not benefit you, let alone keep you interested in yourself. Trade comfort for boldness, routine for adventure, worry for curiosity.

PISCES (Feb. 19-March 20)

When you laid down the boundary for your friend, you had a good reason. But the scene has changed and so have the both of you. It's time for some new rules that better fit this current incarnation of the relationship.

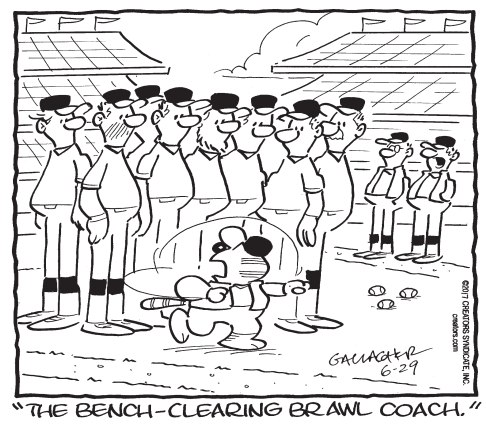

Mercury and Pluto in Opposition

"Smart love" may be a contradiction of terms, but no one, not even love, can be foolish all of the time: Even a stopped clock is right two times a day. Mercury tugs across the sky at Pluto to bring awareness to what's really important. You may find that what your heart wants not only is intelligent in a way but is good for others, too.
