Could Sheriff's Deputies patrol Downtown Santa Monica?

CLARA HARTER
SMDP Staff Writer

Private property and business owners who are frustrated with the City's response to homelessness and crime, have floated the idea of hiring the Sheriff's Department to act as supplemental security in the Promenade area.

L.A. County Sheriff Alex Villanueva toured Downtown on July 6 with a group of these owners offering suggestions on actions they could take to address issues around crime, homelessness, and trash.

According to property owner John Alle, one of these suggestions was to hire Sheriff's deputies to patrol select areas of Downtown and augment the security efforts of the Santa Monica Police Department.

Alle, who is suing the City over maintenance of the Promenade, has been complaining for months about the number of unhoused individuals who camp in the elevators, stairways, and cars within Downtown parking lots.

"We've gone about 14 to 20 months of lawlessness in the garages at night, and even during the day, people living in their cars, openly having sex on the top levels of the garage," said Alle. "The front door to the Promenade looks just terrible and that's what people have to enter, and they're not going to enter it. That's why I think, in part, the Promenade is suffering right now."

Alle believes that the state of the garages and recent crime incidents involving unhoused individuals

GENESIS: The luxury brand has a new dealership in Santa Monica operated by Mike Sullivan.

ASHLEY NAPIER
Special to the Daily Press

It's lucky number thirteen for The LA Car Guy or Santa Monica resident Mike Sullivan as he is known to his friends.

Sullivan recently opened a Genesis dealership in Santa Monica, his sixth in the city which gives him a baker's dozen in his overall portfolio and builds on a business model that began in 1976 when he inherited a single Volkswagen dealership from his father.

With more than 45 years of experience in the industry, Sullivan's impact on the local economy has grown with each new dealership. He now employs more than 600 people with 300 in his local dealerships.

"I have second and third generations of employees, and I'm always very proud of that," says Sullivan, who sees his entire operation as family. His three children even work in the corporate level of the LA Car Guy empire, with his son Sean Sullivan as President of LA Car Guy, his son Kelly Sullivan as a real estate developer and his daughter Meghan Simpson as Marketing Director for the company.

The all-new dealership is located on Santa Monica Boulevard and is the first stand-alone Genesis dealership in the LA area, outside of Cerritos.

Genesis is a premier division of vehicles under Hyundai, established for the purpose of providing a luxurious and sophisticated option

SMPD and service providers address uptick in homeless on local beaches

CLARA HARTER
SMDP Staff Writer

Following the intensification of homeless interventions on the Venice Boardwalk, an increasing number of tents have appeared on the adjacent Santa Monica beaches.

Both the Santa Monica Police Department and local service providers are aware of the shift and have doubled down on outreach efforts in the area.

On June 27, LA City Councilman Mike Bonin's "Venice Beach Encampment to Home" program launched with a promise to connect nearly 200 people to housing and restore the Boardwalk to public use. Two weeks prior to this, Sheriff Alex Villanueva began independent homeless interventions in the Boardwalk with a publicly announced goal to clear the area by July 4.

These two dates align with the uptick in homelessness on local beaches as documented by the SMPD's Homelessness Liaison Program officers, who regularly patrol the beach. Upon first contact HLP officers conduct an interview to advise people on the laws against camping on the beach and offer them resources. On the second contact HLP officers may issue misdemeanor citations.

From June 22 to June 27, prior to the start of Bonin's program, HLP officers issued three citations and conducted four interviews on Santa Monica's beaches.

However, from July 5 to July 8, after the Sheriff's deadline and Bonin's program launched, HLP officers issued nine citations and conducted 21 interviews in the same area.

"Starting early last week (week of June 28), we began to see an increase in the number of tents in the south beach areas by the border," said SMPD Lieutenant Rudy Flores. "We have increased the number of officers working on the beach. We will continue to monitor the activity in the area and make the necessary changes when needed."

Flores expressed confidence that the HLP teams were well equipped to deal with the influx of individuals camping mainly on the southern end of the beach. This is due both to the City's ability to enforce ordinances as well as its network of service partners including West Coast Care and The People's Concern.

From the perspective of Zachary Coil, who is the Director of Westside Outreach in the People's Concern Mental Health Department, the onrush of homeless individuals in

TODAY'S BIRTHDAY (JULY 12)

You love having a good story to tell, and the developments of the next six weeks will be a source of delight for years to come. Stash away money to execute a big plan, even before you know exactly what the scheme will be. Your imaginative powers are pumping, and new resources are coming into your realm in 2022. Virgo and Libra adore you. Your lucky numbers are: 6, 4, 44, 12 and 10.

ARIES (March 21-April 19). You're skilled at hiding while fully visible, which can be a fun game you play to entertain yourself, a defense mechanism or a tactical strategy. You do this both consciously and unconsciously.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20). Working in groups isn't always your favorite, but lately it's been your most productive and successful mode. Continuing the trend, today you'll get along with people so easily, trusting, supporting, teaming up to excellent effect.

GEMINI (May 21-June 21). Review your financial strategy. One adjustment can make a considerable difference. Relatedly, a few hours of extra work and/or research will give you a competitive edge.

CANCER (June 22-July 22). You know exactly what's coming up in your life, but you don't feel completely ready for it yet. Whether it's a tool or a plan or a team, you'll make headway, acquiring what you need.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22). Sleepwalkers abound, as do sleep workers, lovers and more, stumbling oblivious through days and years, moving but not going anywhere. It's a waste you hate to see. Do you dare sound the alarm?

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22). You're worried if you relax and let things unfold, they'll go badly, falling short of their potential. So, you get your hands in there, and before you know it, you're back to carrying the whole thing. There's got to be a better way. Find it.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 23). You're usually the peacemaker, so it's a little unusual, this feeling you get today... like you'd really enjoy sitting back and watching how the drama plays out. Popcorn, anyone?

SCORPIO (Oct. 24-Nov. 21). Life has a way of rocking the boat, but this is not your first time to sea. You have ways of calming yourself and regulating your activities to fit the emotional tone you want to stay in. You create your own equilibrium.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22-Dec. 21). You think about what's right instead of what's wrong. You certainly don't mind your opposite type chiming in, though. In fact, someone who's more worried about things will have valuable insights.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19). Touch base with the people who matter to you, including loved ones, customers and anyone contributing to the smoothness of society. Your acknowledgment means more than you know.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 18). You start out having no idea about what might interest you, but you'll know it when you see it. Before long, the thing that never existed in your world becomes the star your world orbits around.

PISCES (Feb. 19-March 20). People don't want to say no to you, but if they are not going to say yes and dive in wholeheartedly, no is the answer you want. The worst answers are the ones leaving you into the limbo of uncertainty.

are inhibiting the economic recovery of Promenade businesses.

"The two elevators in Garage 5 closest to the Promenade and many stairwells are scattered with puddles of human urine and mushy turds, or persons blocking these areas asleep, high or in need of their meds," said Alle in a recent email to City officials.

City officials were not informed of Villanueva's visit in advance and said they were surprised to learn about his tour.

"From what I understand, this was at the request of a realtor who is suing our City for conditions in our downtown, particularly in our parking garages, arising during the pandemic," said Mayor Sue Himmelrich, speaking on behalf of the City and SMPD. "The Sheriff did not tell the City he was coming. He did not invite me, as Mayor of the City, nor our City Manager or any representative of our police department, on his tour, nor did he inform us of its purpose, its observations, or its conclusions."

Alle said that he and his fellow Downtown stakeholders, many of whom are part of the Santa Monica Bayside Owners Association, are interested in having Downtown Santa Monica Inc., replace their unarmed Downtown Ambassadors with contracted Sheriff's deputies.

"We would want to work with the City and get them behind us, but if the City is not going to work with us, we're going to do it on our own," said Alle, adding that his group of stakeholders would be willing to pay for the deputies themselves.

The legalities of private individuals hiring sheriff deputies or of the deputies intervening in Santa Monica in general is unclear.

Villanueva recently asserted the Sheriff's authority to operate inside a municipality when he threatened to have deputies patrol and make arrests in Venice in response to the Boardwalk's homeless crisis.

His Homeless Outreach and Service Team has been operating on the Boardwalk connecting unhoused individuals to services for the past month. However, they have yet to take any enforcement measures or make any arrests of unhoused individuals.

Himmelrich said the City of Santa Monica is aware of the issues with homelessness in the Downtown parking lots. In a recent Council meeting council members announced that addressing homelessness was the City's number one priority.

One of the key parts of the City's longstanding efforts to address homelessness is building more permanent supportive housing. There is a project underway to demolish Downtown Parking Structure 3 and convert it into affordable and supportive housing although that effort is also opposed by some Downtown stakeholders.

Himmelrich said that the City has decades of experience collaborating with surrounding partner agencies to address homelessness.

"I would love to show Sheriff Villanueva how we in Santa Monica have continued to collaborate to do so," said Himmelrich. "If Sheriff Villanueva would like to take a real tour of Santa Monica with me, my fellow council members, our city manager, and our police chief, to see how Santa Monica is emerging with pride and compassion from the pandemic, I welcome him."

for drivers while keeping safety as the primary focus. Sullivan says that opening the Genesis dealership "was just a natural decision for me" once he understood that "you know, we're [Genesis Santa Monica] sort of different, and can kind of cater to that upscale buyer."

In 2020, J.D. Power named Genesis the most dependable automotive brand in North America and continues to win awards for their safety performance. The Insurance Institute for Highway Safety (IIHS) awarded the entire Genesis fleet the Top Safety Pick+, the highest safety-distinction a vehicle could achieve in North America, including; the 2021 G70, the 2021 G80, the 2021 G90 and the 2021 GV80. The all new GV70 is not included in this list because the SUV just launched in June and has yet to be tested by IIHS.

Sullivan is not a stranger to the Hyundai family, opening his first Hyundai dealership in 1985, returning to the South Korean brand in 2021 because of the positive experience he had over 36-years ago.

It was a natural progression for Hyundai to create the Genesis line, Sullivan says, with other car brands releasing luxury fleets such as Toyota releasing Lexus and Honda releasing the Acura. He said the Hyundai model was to exceed the bar set by others.

"If they needed to go up two notches, they did that [and] went up three and a half," he said.

What caught Sullivan's attention most was the brand's commitment to spearheading the Electric Vehicle movement, saying that Genesis has big plans to lead in that direction. Sullivan serves on the board for local nonprofit Heal the Bay and the Environmental Media Association and has appointed a "Green-Team" to promote environmentally friendly practices in the communities which he serves. "My world is very much in that green, environmental world," Sullivan says, "so, for me, that was just a piece of cake."

The auto industry is a staple for the local economy, generating 25 percent of the city's sales tax revenue per quarter, according to the latest available data generated by the City of Santa Monica's Finance Department.

Local businessman Barry Brewer of B. Brewer and Associates was the first to drive a Genesis off the lot. The owner of a brand new G80 3.5 T in Navy blue said that he felt it was the perfect time to get a new car once his current lease was up and he immediately knew he wanted a Genesis. Brewer explains that he fell in love with the overall design and interior of the car, and when he went to the new location last Saturday, everyone at the dealership was "very accommodating," helping him "find a way to structure a lease deal that was in my budget."

Tedros Mengiste, Executive Director of Sales Operations for Genesis Motor America said Santa Monica is the perfect location to expand the young brand's profile.

He said Sullivan is "just a great partner to have in the business and we're really looking forward to growing our relationship with them and growing the business with him in Santa Monica."

HOMELESS

Santa Monica is more of a trickle than a flood.

"We see a few people who seem to be moving across the border, but for the most part, people are staying on the Venice side of the sand," said Coil. "They know better than we all do about what they can do and can't do in each area. Santa Monica has municipal codes that are able to be enforced, so I believe that does reduce the flow of people."

Unlike Venice, which is in the City of LA, Santa Monica has adequate shelter beds to legally enforce ordinances against public camping and having tents on the beach. These municipal codes result in misdemeanor penalties, which will not lead to an arrest without repeated infractions or prior crimes, but can serve as a deterrent to the growth of encampments.

The People's Concern leads outreach efforts on the Santa Monica Beach five days a week through the C3 team, which is one of the City Council's initiatives to address homelessness. Coil said he had expected unhoused individuals to come to Santa Monica's beaches in response to the ongoing initiatives to clean up the Boardwalk.

"With the extensive outreach that's being performed, there are going to be some people who are going to avoid the area and get out of the area, just to avoid the scrutiny or because they're not interested, or they feel like they are not wanted there," said Coil.

Both The People's Concern and SMPD have an eye on the area and will continue to conduct their respective outreach and enforcement efforts.

"It's not as large of a problem as we were expecting, and we're prepared to handle whatever will be coming our way along with our other partners in the city," said Coil. "The energy of both sides of the equation (law enforcement and service providers) is focused in this area and we're going to do our best to not just maintain the status quo, but improve the situation as it is."

Clergy Corner

Benefits of Supporting Local Businesses

By Janet Cromwell

In many religious traditions, there is a strong emphasis on missions. Generally, when people think of missions, the first things that come to mind are donating items to shelters for people without homes, volunteering at Boys & Girls Clubs, or serving food to those who are hungry, all of which are very important.

Yet, there is another way that each of us can be in mission, and that is to shop and dine locally. "What?" you ask. "How are those missions?"

Locally-owned businesses employ people who live within our communities. Without the income they receive, our neighbors risk becoming a part of the homeless population. It is always easier to prevent homelessness than gather resources to get people back into housing.

By supporting local businesses, we build relationships with store owners and employees, which, in turn, develops a sense of community, mutuality, and well-being for everyone.

Shopping locally supports innovative and creative entrepreneurs within our neighborhoods. My favorite example is Ten Women Gallery on Montana Avenue where local artists offer their handcrafted artwork for us to purchase and enjoy in our own homes.

Dining in locally-owned restaurants support our local farmers market and our local – often organic – agriculture. In return, we benefit by enjoying regional cuisine prepared by innovative chefs, such as at Kafe K on Main Street.

To me, shopping and dining locally provides a huge service to the men and women who are working hard to build and sustain businesses for our convenience and enjoyment. Plus, independent businesses make our communities unique and interesting.

During the pandemic, large corporations such as Amazon and other mail order companies, were life savers for those who were concerned about going out to shop. They provided a safe alternative during the height of infections.

However, when we purchase from these multinational companies, the money we spend leaves our community. By buying locally, we retain financial resources here, where they can support our neighbors and be reinvested in more unique enterprises.

This change in habit from purchasing online to shopping locally, may be a fresh way to be in mission to our community while we continue to donate and volunteer in other vital organizations.

A Perfect Summer Treat: Key Lime Pie

By Jahrid Longsworth

"What could be more refreshing than a dairy-free key lime pie?" thought our Chef Jahrid as he noticed that the temperatures were going up outside. This is a wonderful dessert that will have your family asking for more than one piece. The blending of the coconut flavor and the tangy lime will really appeal to your taste buds.

This pie is not going to last long, as it is so refreshing.

Dairy Free Key Lime Pie

Ingredients:

1 graham cracker pie crust
2 cans coconut condensed milk
1 can coconut milk (unsweetened, full fat)
3 Tbsps. corn starch
3 limes, squeezed
1 lemon for zest

Instructions:

1. Preheat oven to 350 degrees.
2. Bake pie crust for 8-10 minutes.
3. While pie crust is baking, combine all other ingredients in the saucepan and cook for about 15 minutes, stirring constantly. Mixture should become thick and a little clumpy. Do not overcook.
4. Pour mixture into baked pie crust
5. Allow pie to cool for about one hour.
6. Place pie in refrigerator for 8-10 hours to set completely. Serve and Enjoy!

Santa Monica Playhouse Planning Captivating Theater Events

By Bob Rich

Since 1973, actress Evelyn Rudie and her husband, actor Chris DeCarlo, have been Co-Artistic Directors of the Santa Monica Playhouse. Together, they have created over 600 productions and have appeared on-stage in over 10,000 performances each. Santa Monica Playhouse has received more than 250 awards for bringing quality entertainment to over five million people. Even during the pandemic, Evelyn has hosted acting classes for kids and adults using Zoom, reaching international students, even in Dubai and Tel Aviv. One of the many great achievements of Santa Monica Playhouse has been Love in Bloom, about the heroes and heroines of Shakespeare. This show was the critics' pick of the year.

Early in her career, Evelyn got to work with many legends, appearing in Alfred Hitchcock's TV series, a Fred Astaire film, and the romantic drama film, Gift of Love with Lauren Bacall, who was especially nice to work with. Evelyn earned an Emmy nomination for her performance in the TV drama series Playhouse 90.

A big highlight from Evelyn's youth was receiving an insightful comedy mentorship from iconic entertainer Groucho Marx, who spoke with her about comedy timing, how to set up a joke, and what makes things funny. She was a guest on Groucho's televised comedy quiz show You Bet Your Life.

Evelyn recognizes the vital gift of finding your artistic voice, so she helps young creative people discover their own distinctive style. Next year, Santa Monica Playhouse will host captivating theatre events on topics including the wit and wisdom of a distinguished playwright, a heartwarming look at women in contemporary society, and more.

Chris DeCarlo and Evelyn Rudie have been co-artistic directors of the Santa Monica Playhouse since 1973.

They will put on a special New Year's musical review as well, via live-stream and in-person. The archival productions of Santa Monica Playhouse can be viewed on their YouTube channel now for free.

Contact Santa Monica Playhouse at 310-394-9779, ext. 1, or email theatre@SantaMonicaPlayhouse.com. The theatre is located at 1211 4th St., just below Wilshire Blvd.

Please send Calendar Listings in by the 10th of the month before the event.

Steps to Take for Summer Safety

The American Red Cross Los Angeles Region wants everyone to have a safe summer and offers tips and resources for the entire family.

Water Safety

Before going in, on or around the water, every family member should become "water smart." This starts with learning to be safe, making good choices, and learning to swim to at least achieve the skills of water competency.

Everyone should be able to enter the water, get a breath, stay afloat, change position, swim a distance and then get out of the water safely. A variety of water safety courses and resources are available to help. To help keep your family safe, the Red Cross offers these tips:

• Prevent unsupervised access to water. Fence pools and spas with adequate barriers and keep a constant eye for any water dangers such as portable splash pools/slides, buckets, and bathtubs.

• Adults should actively supervise children and stay within arm's reach of young children and new swimmers. Kids should follow the rules. Designate a "water watcher" to keep a close eye and constant attention on children and weaker swimmers in and around the water until the next water watcher takes over.

• Always wear a properly fitted U.S. Coast Guard-approved life jacket when on a boat and if in a situation beyond someone's skill level. Swim as a pair near a lifeguard's chair. Everyone, including experienced swimmers, should swim with a buddy, even in areas supervised by lifeguards. Always maintain constant attention and actively supervise children, even when lifeguards are present.

• Download the Red Cross Swim app for safety tips, kid-friendly videos and activities, and take the free Water Safety for Parents and Caregivers online course.

Grilling Safety

Grilling food is so popular that more than three-quarters of U.S. adults have used a grill – yet, grilling sparks more than 10,000 home fires on average each year. To avoid this, the Red Cross offers these grilling safety tips:

• Always supervise a barbecue grill when in use. Don't add charcoal starter fluid when coals have already been ignited.

• Make sure everyone, including pets, stays away from the grill. Keep the grill out in the open, away from the house, deck, tree branches, or anything that could catch fire.

• Never grill indoors – not in the house, camper, tent or any enclosed area.

• Use the long-handled tools especially made for cooking on the grill to help keep the chef safe.

Accidents and Emergencies Happen

The Red Cross has several resources to help people learn how to treat bee stings, burns and heat emergencies, including online and in-person training courses, a free First Aid app, and a First Aid Skill for Amazon Alexa-enabled devices.

Juneteenth Celebration Drew Hundreds of Community Members to Calvary Baptist Church

The Calvary Baptist Church sent out a letter inviting the community to join the 2021 Juneteenth Heritage Celebration last month. They wrote that "Juneteenth is the oldest nationally celebrated commemoration of the ending of slavery in the U.S. Dating back to 1865, it was on June 19 that the Union soldiers, led by Major General Gordon Granger, landed at Galveston, Texas, with the news that the war had ended and the slaves were free."

Those who attended were treated to musical performances, guest speakers, delicious food, and community vendors who sold a variety of handmade crafts.

Irene Dunne Guild Planning September 1 Think Pink Women's Wellness Event

Members of the Irene Dunne Guild gathered before the last Think Pink luncheon held at the Upper Bel Air Bay Club.

"Think Pink for Women's Wellness," an Irene Dunne Guild annual event, focuses on health education and awareness for women and their families. The Irene Dunne Guild, a support group of Saint John's Health Center Foundation, created Think Pink over 16 years ago as a gathering meant to educate women on important health issues. This year brings together mothers, sisters, daughters, and dear friends in a newly re-imagined and socially distanced setting with safety at the forefront. Guests will safely enjoy a series of lectures focusing on women's health.

This year's event is Wednesday, September 1, from 8:30 a.m.-3 p.m. at the Upper Bel Air Bay Club. This popular event will ensure open areas and distance to move around safely, and masks will be available for those who need them.

Morning break-out sessions with notable physicians and speakers are featured. Over the years, topics have included healthy brain aging, addiction, urology, dermatology, and breast health. The event culminates with a wonderful luncheon held outside on the lawn of the Upper Bel Air Bay Club overlooking the Pacific Ocean. Boutique shopping with open areas to prevent crowding will be available throughout the event with net proceeds benefitting programs, equipment, and services at Providence Saint John's Health Center. Tickets are $150 per person. Think Pink Co-Chairs are Susie DeWeese and Kathy Yawitz. For more information, contact Esther Espinoza at Esther.Espinoza@stjohns.org, or call 310-829-8262.

The Irene Dunne Guild is celebrating its 34th year as a major support group of the Providence Saint John's Health Center Foundation in Santa Monica, California. The guild is comprised of over 100 members committed to putting their hearts forward to find innovative ways to fundraise, comfort patients, educate their community, and nurture the mission of providing compassionate care.
