Dog exercise and picnic area coming to 7th Street

Courtesy image

AGILITY: The area would run along a strip of land adjacent to the BBB depot and across from the Post Office.

CLARA HARTER
SMDP Staff Writer

Dog owners of Santa Monica rejoice - a first of its kind dog agility park and shaded picnic area is coming to an underutilized strip of 7th street in Downtown.

The project will be located along the eastern perimeter walls of the Big Blue Bus depot, creating a long linear area for dogs to go off leash. The space will include four fenced dog exercise areas designated for large dogs, small dogs, and in-training/injured dogs as well as a picnic area with trees, tables and chairs.

Tucked away behind the post office and in front of the Big Blue Bus Depot, most residents have never ventured down this stretch of 7th street. But, the fact that it is rarely frequented is the reason why it is now becoming activated.

The idea to convert the space first arose in 2019, when some Big Blue Bus drivers noted feeling uncomfortable in the quiet area at night. Trash tended to accumulate on the sidewalk and it wasn't the most inviting space for drivers to take their break.

The initial idea was to simply fence in the space and look at adding some cameras. However, neither Big Blue Bus, nor City staff, nor local residents thought this was the best solution, and instead decided to brainstorm new uses for the space.

"We work very closely with other city departments and we're very aware that the city is always interested in livability and in making things an active and better environment for residents," said Timothy McCormick, Big Blue Bus planning and performance manager. "The idea that we would put up a fence, almost invites people to throw trash over it."

Through a series of community meetings, the idea of a dog exercise area rose to the forefront. This meets a need voiced by downtown dog owners and a need often brought up by hotel visitors.

"I've gotten comments from residents who are really excited about the project, because they have dogs and they live in an apartment downtown and there isn't an off leash space north of the freeway," said Project Manager Linda Cogswell. This will be something that will be open to not just the residents, but also hotel visitors and employees in the area.

Currently all Santa Monica dog parks are limited to resident dog owners, with the exception of the Airport Park where non-residents may apply for a permit tag to use the space. Additionally,

De la Torre ruled ineligible for Council discussions on CVRA lawsuit

MATTHEW HALL
Daily Press Editor

A judge has agreed with a majority of Santa Monica councilmembers that current Councilman Oscar de la Torre is conflicted over the City's defense of the California Voting Rights Act lawsuit filed by his wife and the Pico Neighborhood Association.

Council made the decision to exclude de la Torre in January of 2021 by a 4-2-1 vote.

At that time, the majority of the council, including Mayor Sue Himmelrich, Mayor Pro Tem Kristin McCowan, Gleam Davis and retired councilman Kevin McKeown, argued de la Torre has a Common Law conflict of interest that disqualifies him from being involved in any closed session or confidential conversation concerning the City of Santa Monica's defense of the suit.

In addition to questioning potential fiscal conflicts over de la Torre's connection to Plaintiff attorney Kevin Shenkman, the council majority said de la Torre's marriage to CVRA Plaintiff Maria Loya and his active participation in the case as part of the Plaintiff's team disqualified him from being part of the Defense team's discussions.

According to the City, de la Torre is also disqualified from

Council to discuss City Manager contract, noise ordinance, and commission appointments

CLARA HARTER
SMDP Staff Writer

After weeks of debate, scores of meetings, and one press leak culminating in a selected candidate withdrawing his acceptance, council has secured a new City Manager and will be discussing his contract on July 27.

Other important items on the agenda include altering the City's noise ordinance to protect residential neighborhoods from sustained noise during protests and the appointment of almost 50 individuals to various Boards and Commissions.

David White was announced as Council's pick for the City Manager during a special meeting on July 22. White is currently the Deputy City Manager for Berkeley and previously served as the City Manager of Fairfield.

His new position in Santa Monica will come with an annual salary of $340,000. His compensation also includes some moving expenses and the offer of a loan to purchase a home in Santa Monica.

White's start date is marked as Oct. 11 and will be the first time Santa Monica has had a permanent City Manager since April 2020.

City Council will also hear the first reading of an amendment to the City's noise ordinance during Tuesday's meeting. This

TODAY'S BIRTHDAY (JULY 26)

Your life quickly improves to meet the new standards you set this solar return. Relationships will be the first change. New connections bring you more creativity and a greater spirit of cooperation. Drama is a thing of the past as you spend more time doing what feeds the best in you and those around you. Taurus and Libra adore you. Your lucky numbers are: 36, 4, 44 and 28.

ARIES (March 21-April 19). You make sure that everyone around you is treated with respect, friendliness and care, and not just by you. You hold all you are affiliated with to the high standard you expect from yourself.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20). Be sure to include people in a decision-making process. Ask them to work, and give something extra to figuring things out. People will commit to the thing they are involved with. A lack of involvement is a lack of commitment.

GEMINI (May 21-June 21). You're on the lookout for a moment you can own, not sure what it's going to be, and versatile on the matter. You're ready to lob a funny quip, show up with the superstar look or swoop in to save the day.

CANCER (June 22-July 22). Someone shares what they want to do and you'll get behind the goal, too, wanting to see it happen almost as badly as they do. It lifts the group when people are devoted to the outcomes of other people's lives.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22). When you started this venture, you didn't have an audience in mind, but the more people you shared your journey with, the more people you wanted to see it. Now you have this slight pressure to perform, which makes things interesting.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22). Don't agree to the status quo; invent it! You won't know what you're capable of until you go through a process of raising the bar little by little until the level makes you feel keenly alive.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 23). You have an idea. You don't need to convince anyone to get on board; you only need to explore, embody and enjoy your idea and the people who are a good fit will naturally involve themselves.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24-Nov. 21). Each person is the center of their own scene, but some seem to own the role more than others. Your story overlaps with that of another in ways most pleasant. It's a co-star situation.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22-Dec. 21). Make your schedule before you start the day because some of what's on your list is hard. In the moment, you are not going to want to do them. The slight pressure of a predetermined schedule will keep you accountable.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19). What are you looking forward to in the next three months? Having a happening to head toward will organize you differently. Your schedule will fill with unexpected delights leading up to the main event.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 18). You can assess the situation without judging the people involved. It's a good time to reiterate... everyone is doing the very best they can. When they know better, they will do better.

PISCES (Feb. 19-March 20). Don't wait for instructions or work through a to-do list written by someone else. You'll get the feeling that your ideas are the ones to follow. This isn't arrogance; it's truth. Act on it.

City of Santa Monica

CITY OF SANTA MONICA
ORDINANCE NUMBER 2675 (CCS)
(CITY COUNCIL SERIES)

AN ORDINANCE OF THE CITY COUNCIL OF THE CITY OF SANTA MONICA AMENDING SANTA MONICA MUNICIPAL CODE SECTION 2.44.050 TO AUTHORIZE THE CITY ATTORNEY AND THE RISK MANAGER TO SETTLE LIABILITY CLAIMS UP TO $95,000, AUTHORIZE THE RISK MANAGER TO SETTLE WORKER'S COMPENSATION CLAIMS UP TO $25,000, AND AUTHORIZE THE CITY MANAGER TO APPROVE WORKER'S COMPENSATION CLAIMS IN EXCESS OF $25,000

The following is a summary of Ordinance Number 2675 (CCS) (the "Ordinance") prepared by the Office of the City Attorney:

The Ordinance amended Santa Monica Municipal Code Section 2.44.050 to: (a) increase the authority of the City Attorney and Risk Manager to settle claims against the City, other than worker's compensation claims, from $15,000 to $95,000; and (b) authorize the Risk Manager to approve the payment of worker's compensation claims up to $25,000; and (c) authorize the City Manager to approve payment of worker's compensation claims above $25,000 with notice to the City Council. The Ordinance also deleted two outdated, inconsistent, and unnecessary provisions relating to settlement authority, Santa Monica Municipal Code Sections 2.44.060 and 2.44.070.

The Ordinance was adopted on July 13, 2021 and will become effective thirty days after adoption.

The full text of the above Ordinance is available upon request from the office of the City Clerk, located at 1685 Main Street, Room 102, Santa Monica. Phone: (310) 458-8211.

voting on any decisions relating to the Pico Neighborhood Association and Maria Loya v. City of Santa Monica lawsuit. In January, de la Torre asserted that he should not be barred from closed session meetings relating to the lawsuit because he has no ability to gain anything financially from the case.

Councilmembers de la Torre and Christine Parra were the only no-votes in January. Councilman Phil Brock abstained after he voiced displeasure with the tone of the conversation.

In response to the Council's decision, de la Torre filed a lawsuit against the city over the action. City Hall filed a motion known as a "demurrer" that asks for the case to be dismissed and the judge issued a ruling Friday endorsing the City's decision.

"To Summarize, the Court agrees with Defendant's arguments that: 1) the decision whether to disqualify Plaintiff 'was a determination properly made by the City Council in the first instance, subject to potential court review'; and 2) the decision made by the Council - that Plaintiff had a disqualifying conflict of interest - was correct, and Plaintiff was properly excluded from participating in meetings in which the CVRA litigation was discussed. Therefore, there is no 'actual controversy' remaining for judicial determination, and the demurrer to cause of action 1 must be sustained," said the ruling.

The Friday ruling centered on the Common Law conflict and not on any accusations of fiscal conflict as the FPPC previously said de la Torre was not subject to a financial conflict argument.

The demurrer process allows the Plaintiffs to amend and refile the argument which could allow the case to be rehashed several times before it becomes final. The court gave de la Torre 20 days to amend his complaint.

The night before the ruling, de la Torre had asked the council to voluntarily reconsider its decision. According to Interim City Attorney George Cardona, the rules governing City Council meetings require a councilmember that loses a vote to wait a year before asking to reopen the discussion. Should a request be made, the Mayor could allow an exception to the rules, any individual councilperson can appeal the Mayor's decision and that decision can be overruled by a supermajority of five votes.

On Thursday, Mayor Sue Himmelrich rejected de la Torre's request for the exemption, de la Torre appealed that decision and only Councilmembers Phil Brock and Christine Parra backed the appeal. Gleam Davis, Kristin McCowan and newly appointed Councilwoman Lana Negrete supported the Mayor's ruling.

COUNCIL

proposal was brought about in response to the fall 2020 protests that targeted County Supervisor Sheila Kuehl's residence and disturbed multiple neighbors through the prolonged and often nightly use of amplified sound.

According to the staff report the proposed ordinance, "seeks to balance the First Amendment rights of those who wish to engage in expressive activity through public events and assemblies with the City's significant interest in protecting residential privacy and tranquility."

The amended ordinance limits the use of sound amplifying equipment within 50 feet of a residence and imposes time restrictions on targeted residential protests. These protests may not occur between 8 p.m. and 7 a.m. on weekdays or 8 a.m. on weekends.

Santa Monica has a long history of adjusting its noise ordinance to allow freedom of speech while also protecting quality of life.

In 2004, the City was divided into three zones with different decibel limits. In 2015, this rule was amended to exempt activities on public property from the decibel limits. In 2017, the ordinance was further adjusted to prevent excessive noise at a permanent residence or a hospital or a school between 10 p.m. and 7 a.m.

During the July 27 meeting, Council will also appoint almost 50 individuals to serve on boards and commissions. Some of the higher priority appointments include one spot on Planning Commission, two spots on Housing Commission, and two spots on the Architectural Review Board.

Council will also discuss a pair of bond measures including Library General Obligation Bonds and Water Enterprise Revenue Bonds.

The meeting's closed session will begin at 5:30 p.m. and there are four litigation items that will be discussed in closed session prior to the opening of public session including an audit by the Internal Revenue Service of the City's settlement payments from years 2017 - 2019.

none of them feature the type of dog agility equipment that will be installed in the 7th street space.

"I really like the idea of our drivers feeling safe because there's activity happening and not because there's cameras and sensors," said McCormick. "I feel like life gets richer when we watch out for each other, and who doesn't want to get off on their break to use the restroom and go look at dogs?"

The space will also feature a shared mobility device drop zone, landscaping improvements, and four new street light poles. The Architectural Review Board approved the landscape plans on July 19, and the City is now proceeding with its final design plan, incorporating community input and staff comments.

The goal is to begin construction in early 2022 for an opening in late spring or summer. Space has also been planned for food truck parking and the picnic area has been designed to be movable. This creates a flexible space that could be used to host events such as dog adoption days.

Mar Vista: Neighbor to Neighbor

New Neighborhood Zone Directors Named

By Tesi Treuenfels

We had a good turnout for the vote for our new neighborhood zone directors in Mar Vista in June. There are seven neighborhood zones represented at our neighborhood council meetings.

Here are the unofficial results for the 2021-2013 Board of Directors; (Z1) Tyler Laferriere, (Z2) Martin Rubin, (Z3) Andrew Marton, (Z4) Robert Watkins, (Z5) Drew Ruesch, (Z6) Holly Tilson, and (Z7) Faith Myhra. Our Community Director is Kathryn Wheeler. There are several At-Large Directors; Carolyn K. Honda, Charlene Samiley, Stacey Greenwald, Jordan Paul, Kathy Rodriguez, Bitta Jansma Sharma, and Mary Beth Blakey. A big welcome aboard to all new members of the Mar Vista Board. Please stay informed by visiting marvista.org.

Notice the new murals around town? They are part of the Downtown Mar Vista Beautification Project, a partnership with the community to prioritize and implement improvements along Venice Blvd. between Beethoven and Inglewood. The Mar Vista Music and Art Walk took submissions for the mural and streetlight medallion art component of the overall project. For more information please take the time to visit marvistaartwalk.org.

Tesi is an educator and a longtime Mar Vista resident.

Thoughts From a Second-Time Father

Learning About Life From My Children

By Michael Margolin

Alexa's birthday is this month, which will mean that my wife, Enjoli, and I will be celebrating our eight year anniversary of being parents. Jake just turned five, so for most of those eight years,we have been parents of two kids.

I think about the days they were born relatively often, and I still have a picture of Alexa when she was about 24 hours old as the photo on the lock screen on my phone. The photo still makes me wonder what was going through her little brain at just hours into her new world. Of course, I look at her at almost eight years old and sometimes I still wonder what is going on inside her head. That same process happens with Jake plenty of times, too.

I ask myself what I have learned since becoming a parent or what my children have taught me. In a sense, I am always learning from children. I am also not certain exactly how I am learning, but I know I am because the older they get, we are raising somebody and entering territory as parents that we never have before.

I am learning from that and learning how to be a parent of an eight-year-old girl and a five-year-old boy. I am not ready to be the parent of a teenager, and thankfully we have time to prepare and learn for that.

I asked Enjoli what she learned from being a parent and she said that consistency is key. And, relatively speaking, I would think that our children would say they have heard the same direction and guidance as toddlers as they hear now, and will in the future. I am incredibly fortunate to be half of a loving marriage, and therefore leading by example is how I think we both parent.

Alexa is a forgiving person, and though I am not one to hold grudges, I feel like this trait in her is a good reminder for me. It will benefit me since I am not a perfect parent, though I will strive to do the best I can and the best I know how to for my kids.

Being a parent simply changes how you see the world around you the second that baby arrives. They teach you that it is possible to love somebody so much that it almost frightens you, as you realize love might not even be a strong enough word to express how you feel about these people you have helped create. I have been writing this column for eight years, and plenty of times I have noted how I am simply looking forward to what my kids will do next. I do not anticipate that sentiment changing anytime soon.

Michael Margolin is an avid sports fan who has been writing this column since the birth of his first child.

Getting Rid of an Old Computer or Other Tech Device

By Mark Presky

So you've gotten a new computer, pad, or even a phone, and it's time to pass the old one on to someone who can use it, or simply seek to recycle it.

You may decide to sell it. It'll be important to get the data and information transferred to your new device, but you also need to erase the info from your old device. You definitely don't want that info falling into the wrong hands.

If you're passing it on to a family member or friend, you'll probably want to leave some of the applications on it for their use. If you're selling or donating it, you'll want to delete applications that you paid for, so the next owner isn't using your software licenses. And, if you're recycling it, you'll want to wipe out all your apps, files, and anything else that might be compromising.

All stored information on a computer/tech device resides on the hard drive. You can wipe the hard drive by restoring it to factory presets, also called a "reset," but it is still possible to retrieve data from a reset disk, so you should go further to ensure the device is fully purged of all of your data.

Here are the steps to wipe your information from your old device: 1) Make a backup of your hard drive onto a separate external hard drive,

Take Steps to Reverse Diabetes at the Santa Monica Family YMCA

According to the Center for Disease Control and Prevention (CDC), over 88 million American adults have diabetes – that's one in three adults! Of those 88 million, more than eight in ten of them don't even know they have it. Without taking action, many people with prediabetes could develop type 2 diabetes within five years. Have you checked your A1C blood value?

The Santa Monica Family YMCA Chronic Disease Prevention Director Lidia Magarian is leading the charge on raising awareness in our community about prediabetes and the steps that can be taken to reverse it.

Through the evidence based YMCA's Diabetes Prevention Program, those at risk of developing the condition are taught how simple lifestyle changes can have a profound impact on overall health. The program helps adults at high risk of developing type 2 Diabetes adopt and maintain a healthy lifestyle by eating healthier, increasing physical activity and losing a modest amount of weight in order to reduce their chances of developing the disease.

This program is a 12-month program carried out in a classroom group setting, currently provided by live stream meetings through our popular Zoom meetings.

To begin the next YMCA's Diabetes Prevention Program which is scheduled to start on Thursday, July 22 from 5 p.m. - 6 p.m., Lidia hopes to hear from several participants. However, she can start new program groups at any time.

Lidia Magarian is the Chronic Disease Prevention Director at the Santa Monica Family YMCA.

The goal of the program is to help participants to lose 7% of their body weight and increase physical activity by at least 150 minutes per week within the first half of the program.

If you are interested in signing up for the YMCA's Diabetes Prevention Program, contact Lidia Magarian at 310-393-27321, ext. 129, or email: lidiam@ymcasm.org.

PAL Awards Scholarships to Six Members

For a second year in a row, the Santa Monica Police Activities League (PAL) held its annual Chris Carrey PAL Scholarship Award Celebration virtually to honor six PAL youth with personal recognition and individual scholarship awards totaling $30,000 last month.

The program featured the scholarship recipients, their families, and the Chris Carrey PAL Education Scholarship donors. PAL also arranged to have dinner delivered to each award recipients' home for the winners and their families to celebrate the evening.

Now in its 19th year, over 116 scholarships totaling more than $310,000 have been awarded to PAL youth. This year's Chris Carrey PAL Education Scholarships program recipients all come from Santa Monica High School.

Seniors Melissa Ramirez Hernandez, Karen Morales, Audrialice Evans, and Diana Lopez Meyer each received a scholarship for $5,000.

Juniors Kim Hansen and Kaliyah Harrington each received a scholarship for $5,000. Congratuations to all of the students.

The scholarship program was hosted by Jivanto P. van Hemert, PAL alumnus.

Eula Fritz, Director at the Santa Monica Police Activities League, (PAL) said, "I'm grateful to all involved in creating, hosting, and providing funds for our second virtual Chris Carrey PAL Education Scholarships program. The student recipients have worked hard on their academic achievements and are extremely deserving of the assistance. The PAL community comes together each year to honor the best and the brightest of our youth and helps to guide them on a path of future successes."

Getting Rid of an Old Computer stored away from your computer. (Always have a backup, even if you've transferred the information to your new device. Your new device can break down.) 2) Delete all files that contain personal information, then empty the Trash folder. 3) Delete the browsing history and cache from your browser(s), along with auto-fill form data such as addresses and stored credit card data. 4) Delete any stored passwords from apps and delete the password manager, if you have one. 5) Delete apps if you don't intend to pass on the device with applications intact. (Even if you do, app makers such as Microsoft gather and store data on users, so it may be safer to delete the apps, then reinstall them after the factory reset.) 6) Use a data shredding program such as Eraser to overwrite any data that may be left on the disk. (This can be time-consuming, but it isn't necessary to sit and watch.) 7) Follow the device manufacturer's instructions to reset the device. (This is sometimes called "revert to factory settings.")

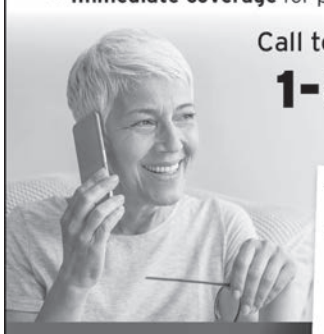

If you have stored any files in "the Cloud," delete them first. If the device is being recycled, encrypt the whole disk. That way, any last shreds of data should be irretrievable.

• Now through August 2, 2021 – Beyond the World We Know: Abstraction in Photography. This exhibit of 16 artists shows how photography can reveal visual metaphors and personal expression. We can see abstraction in these photographs through new equipment, such as enlargers, or darkroom manipulations involving solarization in which the print is exposed to bright light during its development, introducing painterly elements and unusual spatial juxtapositions. Visit Norton Simon.org/exhibitions/2010-2019/abstraction-in-photography/, or call 626-449-6840.

• Ongoing exhibit – Dogs! A Science Tail at the California Science Center – Through captivating exhibits, explore the science behind the bond between humans and dogs. Find out how both humans and dogs are designed for social connection. Discover dogs' amazing senses and learn how they see, smell, hear, and understand their world. Test your dog trivia, learn the science behind dog behaviors, decipher the meaning behind barking and dog body language, and more. Visit Californiasciencecenter.org/exhibits/dogs-a-science-tail, or call 323-724-3623.

• Ongoing exhibit – Tropical Pacific Gallery where guests explore the beauty and diversity of coral reefs and their animal residents at the Aquarium of the Pacific. Explore coral reefs through a new show and an interactive exhibit in the art gallery. The Tropical Reef Habitat is the Aquarium's largest exhibit, containing more than 500 animals including a new green sea turtle, olive ridley sea turtle, zebra shark, bonnethead sharks, and many varieties of tropical fish. Visit Aquariumofpacific.org/exhibits/coralreefs, or call 562-590-3100.

• Now through August 28, 2021 – "What's Her Story: Women in the Archives" at the Autry Museum of the American West – In honor of the 100th anniversary of women winning the right to vote, explore captivating stories of women in the Autry's collections. Meet women philanthropists, activists, artists, and a pioneering anthropologist, through diaries, photographs, letters, music, objects, and ephemera. Visit Theautry.org/exhibitions/whats-her-story-women-in-the-archives, or call the Autry at 323-667-2000 for general information.

• Ongoing exhibit – "Orbit Pavilion" at The Huntington – an outdoor installation that provides a creative "soundscape" experience demonstrating the movement of the International Space Station and 19 Earth Science satellites. Inside the large, shell-shaped sculpture, unique sounds are heard as each satellite passes overhead: a human voice, the crashing of a wave, a tree branch moving, a frog croaking. Each sound interprets one of the satellites' missions. Huntington.org/orbit, or call 626-405-2100.

Save Samohi's History Building

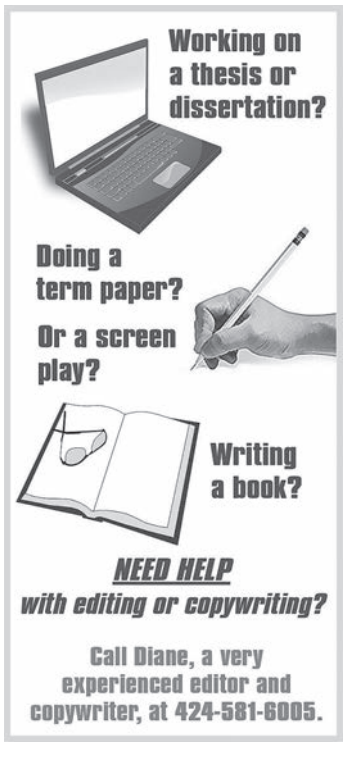

Over 6,200 Santa Monica residents and alumni have signed a petition calling on the Santa Monica-Malibu Unified School District (SMMUSD) to halt its plans to demolish the historic Samohi History Building, which appeared as Dawson High in the classic 1950's film, "Rebel Without A Cause."

The Samohi Alumni Association, the Santa Monica Conservancy, and five of Santa Monica's neighborhood organizations (the official resident groups recognized by the city) have joined thousands of residents and activists to ask that the building, which has received national attention from the National Trust for Historic Preservation, be spared.

The groups are asking the school board to study adaptive reuse of the History Building instead of demolishing it. According to the group, new information shows that SMMUSD has known for a year that declining enrollment will mean the district will not need the new classrooms it proposes to take the History Building's place.

For more information, please visit SaveSamohiHistory at: www.savesamohihistory.com, or call Evelyn Lauchenauer, Chair of The Committee for Samohi History Building Adaptive Reuse, at 310-906-0163.

Please send Calendar Listings in by the 10th of the month before the event.

COVID VACCINES ARE FOR EVERYONE!

Protect yourself and others

WeVax + LA

Get vaccinated now!

Studies show that the vaccines are safe and help to stop the spread of COVID-19. Trust the science.

Vaccines protect us from serious and sometimes deadly diseases including measles, mumps, polio, chicken pox, and they play an important role in keeping everyone healthy and safe. Covid vaccines protect everyone from this serious and potentially fatal disease.

If after getting fully vaccinated you come into contact with someone who has Covid, your immune system will fight off the infection. The vaccines do not contain the Covid virus, so a person cannot get Covid from getting vaccinated. The shots are safe!

Protect your family, friends and community. Everyone 12 years of age and older is eligible to be vaccinated.

You will never be asked about your immigration status when scheduling an appointment or getting vaccinated.

The COVID-19 vaccines are free for everyone.

You don't have to have health insurance. There is never any cost for anyone. Vaccinations are available in your neighborhood at hospitals, including local pharmacies and clinics. Mobile vaccinations are also available.

Stay safe!

It takes two shots of the Moderna or Pfizer vaccine to be safe from getting sick with Covid. The Johnson and Johnson vaccine takes only one shot. It takes two weeks after your last dose to be fully vaccinated.

You may have some temporary side effects.

It is normal for some people to have minor pain in their arm, fever, fatigue, or headache. These side effects normally go away after 1 or 2 days.

Call 833-540-0473 everyday between 8:00am to 8:30pm, for assistance getting vaccinated.
