At 80 years old and in a wheelchair, 'Mimi' Herbert launches her latest restaurant

CLARA HARTER
SMDP Staff Writer

Nothing can get in between Micheline "Mimi" Herbert and her love of serving food — not age, not a wheelchair, and certainly not a pandemic. At 80 years old, Mimi has proudly opened Le Petit Chez Mimi at 2842 Colorado Avenue, serving up her timeless and beloved country French dishes.

Mimi devotees can rejoice that six years following the closure of Herbert's restaurant in the Palisades, they can once again tuck into her soul-soothing bouillabaisse and delectable lemon pie. In a year of frequent frustrations and several setbacks we could all use a comforting country meal cooked with love.

"It took me many years to get back in the business and I never stopped thinking about it and I never stopped hoping to open a restaurant. And yeah people thought she's crazy, she's 80, she's in a wheelchair, how will she open a restaurant?" said Herbert. "I want to inspire everybody to realize that there is no limit, it you want to do something you can and you're never too old to do what is your passion."

A fabulous trendsetter, Herbert opened her first restaurant on Abbot Kinney in 1976 long before it became known as the coolest street in America. In the following four decades Herbert has gone on to run restaurants in Beverly Hills, Santa Monica, and the Palisades. In each

City invites residents to help with Housing Element

BRENNON DIXSON
SMDP Staff Writer

The State of California is requiring Santa Monica to build more than 6,000 affordable housing units in the coming years, and city leaders are calling on local residents to help in the effort.

Santa Monica has been asked to build 9,000 new units between 2021 and 2029, almost double what the city would have been required to accommodate prior to last year's Regional Housing Needs Assessment, which called on the Southern California region to plan for more than 1.3 million housing units.

Under the new requirements, communities across the state are tasked with producing more market-rate and affordable housing than ever before in an effort to make a dent in a housing shortage that has sent the price of rents and mortgages soaring and thrown thousands of people onto the streets. Housing for low- and moderate-income renters will be particularly

City of Santa Monica Launches New Home Page and Virtual Permit Counter Services

The City continues to focus on providing excellent city services by delivering an improved and more convenient digital experience. This week, the City of Santa Monica launched a new home page at santamonica.gov and a new virtual permit counter.

The updated home page at santamonica.gov includes enhanced search functionality, easier access to the latest city news and services, and an improved design. The new home page is just the beginning with ongoing enhancements and additional customer service improvements planned throughout 2021 to make access to information and getting things done even easier. The website was built to be fully ADA compliant and is responsive on desktop, mobile and tablet, improving the experience for our entire community. An easier way to sign up for weekly email updates from the City of Santa Monica is also included in the website footer.

"Providing excellent city services is our top priority, and this is an exciting next step in building out a digital experience that makes finding the information you need even easier," said Interim City Manager Lane Dilg. "Continued enhancements are planned over the next year and will be shared in an ongoing way with the community to make using city services as easy as possible."

Santa Monicans will see the content and functionality of the new website evolve over the next year, fully shifting from smgov.net to santamonica.gov with the goal to create a cohesive, easy-to-use experience, eliminating barriers to finding information, and consolidating the latest information about the city's programs, resources and services. Future website enhancements include improving the utility billing experience, digitizing paper-based processes, and presenting information in a more user-friendly way, making access to information and getting things done even easier.

Joseph Cevetello, the City's Chief Information Officer, says, "With so many innovative people and companies in Santa Monica, it's exciting to work on improving the City of Santa Monica's digital experience. Please visit santamonica.gov to experience the new improvements, and we look forward to implementing additional features throughout 2021."

New virtual Permit Counter services are also available now for low impact projects, decreasing the time it takes to receive building permits to as little as three business days, and issuing building permits more quickly for projects that have successfully completed plan review. Qualifying "same-day" or "over the counter" permits include facade remodels, limited tenant improvements of less than 2,500 square feet and no change of use (except restaurants), fences and walls, window and door change-outs, roofing permits involving removal and replacement of tiles or shingles only, and mechanical, electrical, or plumbing fixture replacements. Building and Safety staff also offer virtual office hours for anyone that has questions at the preliminary stages of their project or want to discuss their ideas prior to formally submitting their plans for review. The City's Permit Counter continues to operate remotely due to L.A. County Department of Public Health COVID-19 health and safety protocols and closures.

Virtual Permit Counter Process for Qualifying Permits:

Submit the building permit application and supporting documents online and schedule an appointment.

Attend a virtual appointment with city staff from Building and Safety, Planning, and Civil Engineering, as necessary.

Attend a second virtual appointment with Permit Specialist staff for electronic payment and building permit issuance.

Virtual Permit Counter Hours:

Beginning Monday, November 2, applicants submitting building permit applications will be able to book virtual appointments.

"Same-Day" Permit Review: Monday - Thursday, 8 a.m. - 12 p.m.

Building Permit Issuance: Monday - Thursday, 8 a.m. - 12 p.m. and 1 p.m. - 5 p.m.

Building and Safety Counter Office Hours: Monday - Thursday 1 p.m. - 5 p.m.

"COVID-19 introduced new challenges and opportunities," says Ariel Socarras, City of Santa Monica's Building and Safety Manager. "Digitizing our counter services has been a big lift, but I'm excited that the city will be able to issue permits more quickly and make it easier for our community by improving the same day, over the counter permit services."

For more information and to experience the new website, visit santamonica.gov.

SMC Applied Music Program Presents Free Concert Nov. 6

Santa Monica College Applied Music Program (AMP) students and faculty will live-host a virtual concert on Friday, November 6, at 7:30 p.m. The concert will feature live introductions to video performances showcasing some of SMC's most gifted music students in a program that includes solo and group performances in both classical and jazz styles.

The event is free and open to the public, and will be presented online on the Facebook social media platform (Facebook membership is not required to enjoy the concert). A link to the event is available at the listing on the SMC Events calendar at smc.edu/calendar.

"Despite the challenges of technology and remote learning, students are still learning and making music at SMC!" said SMC Music Department chair Brian Driscoll, who co-directs the Applied Music Program with SMC music instructor Jimmy Cheesman. "This concert provides the missing link: the students' opportunity to share the fruits of their labor with an audience. We hope folks will tune in from the comfort of their homes to see and hear how music is being made in the homes of so many students."

The Applied Music Program, a part of SMC's continuing effort to blend top-tier arts education with high-quality performances for the public, is dedicated to fostering the development of outstanding instrumentalists, vocalists, and composers, with the goal of preparing each student for successful transfer as a music major to a four-year university or conservatory.

The academically rigorous program – founded in 2001 by Dr. James Smith – requires students to audition for the program and, if accepted, to take courses in ensemble, music theory, and performance, as well as private lessons.

NOTICE OF PREPARATION/NOTICE OF PUBLIC SCOPING MEETING FOR A DRAFT ENVIRONMENTAL IMPACT REPORT FOR THE 6TH CYCLE 2021-2029 HOUSING ELEMENT

DATE: October 30, 2020

TO: State Clearinghouse, Responsible Agencies, Trustee Agencies, Organizations and Interested Parties

LEAD AGENCY: City of Santa Monica
City Planning Division
1685 Main Street, Mail Stop 28
Santa Monica, California 90401
Contact: Rachel Kwok, Environmental Planner
Email: Rachel.Kwok@smgov.net

The City of Santa Monica (City) intends to prepare an Environmental Impact Report (EIR) for the proposed 6th Cycle 2021-2029 Housing Element of the City's General Plan. In accordance with Section 15082 of the State CEQA Guidelines, the City has prepared this Notice of Preparation (NOP) to provide the public, Responsible Agencies, and other interested parties with information describing the proposed project and its potential environmental effects. The EIR will address the proposed project's potentially significant effects in the following environmental issue areas:

- Air Quality
- Population/Housing
- Cultural Resources
- Public Services
- Energy
- Transportation/Circulation
- Greenhouse Gas Emissions
- Tribal Cultural Services
- Land Use and Planning
- Utilities
- Noise
- Mandatory Findings of Significance

PROJECT APPLICANT: City of Santa Monica

PROJECT LOCATION: The City of Santa Monica is located in Los Angeles County along the coast of the Pacific Ocean. The City is surrounded on three sides by the City of Los Angeles, including the westside communities of Brentwood, Mar Vista, Pacific Palisades, Venice and West Los Angeles. The City comprises approximately 5,280 acres (approximately 8.25 square miles).

PROJECT LOCATION: The City of Santa Monica is located in Los Angeles County along the coast of the Pacific Ocean. The City is surrounded on three sides by the City of Los Angeles, including the westside communities of Brentwood, Mar Vista, Pacific Palisades, Venice and West Los Angeles. The City comprises approximately 5,280 acres (approximately 8.25 square miles).

PROJECT DESCRIPTION: Since 1969, California has required that all local governments (cities and counties) adequately plan to meet the housing needs of everyone in the community. One of the required elements of a General Plan is the Housing Element. California State law requires that communities prepare and update the Housing Element every eight years. The Housing Element serves as the City's guide for addressing the housing needs of all segments of Santa Monica's population. Housing needs are determined by the California Housing and Community Department (HCD), who decides what the numerical housing targets should be for each regional council of governments. Each council of government across the state then further allocates the regional housing number (known as the Regional Housing Needs Allocation – or RHNA) to every city and county within its jurisdiction. The RHNA is a targeted housing number - Cities and counties do not have to build this number of units, but rather they must plan for them and show that under current land use and development standards, there is capacity to accommodate for this number of housing.

For the proposed 6th Cycle 2021-2029 Housing Element, the Southern California Association of Governments (SCAG) has determined that the City's draft RHNA allocation is 8,874 units, more than 5 times than the last cycle. The significant increase in the City's RHNA housing number is indicative of the severity of the current housing crisis. As part of the proposed 2021-2029 Housing Element, Santa Monica must demonstrate to the State that there is available capacity within its jurisdictional boundaries to meet its targeted RHNA number. Per State requirements, the City's proposed Housing Element would include the following components:

- A detailed analysis of the City's demographic, economic and housing characteristics.
- An analysis of the barriers to producing and preserving housing.
- A review of the City's progress in implementing current housing policies and programs.
- An identification of goals, objectives, and policies, in addition to a full list of programs that will implement the vision of the plan.
- A list of sites (aka the Suitable Sites Inventory) that could accommodate new housing, demonstrating the City's ability to meet the quantified housing number established in the RHNA.

The proposed 6th Cycle Housing Element must be certified by the State Department of Housing and Community Development no later than October 2021.

REVIEW PERIOD: State CEQA Guidelines requires circulation of a NOP for a minimum 30-day review period. In consideration of the current Coronavirus (COVID-19) pandemic, the City will be circulating the NOP for the proposed Housing Element for an extended 60 days. Please go to the City's webpage https://www.santamonica.gov/housing-element-update for the NOP and associated info on the Housing Element Update (including background on the Housing Element, State requirements, anticipated project schedule, notification lists). The City welcomes agency and public input during this period regarding the scope and content of environmental information that must be included in the Draft EIR. Comments may be submitted, in writing, by 5:30 p.m. on December 31, 2020 and addressed to:

Rachel Kwok, Environmental Planner
E-mail: rachel.kwok@smgov.net

PUBLIC SCOPING MEETING: In an effort to reduce the risk of COVID-19, the City will hold a scoping meeting via teleconference on December 10, 2020 at 5:30 PM to describe the proposed project, the environmental review process, and to receive public comments on the scope of the EIR. City staff and the City's EIR consultant will participate via teleconference. Participants may join the teleconference via https://primetime.bluejeans.com/a2m/live-event/bxxeeakf or by dialing in at +1 (415) 466-7000 PIN is: 4050914#

Written information received after 12 p.m. will be read aloud at the meeting for a total of three minutes. The City will consider all comments, written and oral, in determining the final scope of the evaluation to be included in the EIR.

Conservancy members since the start of the pandemic, allowed Banks and Jefferson an opportunity to highlight the work surrounding the project that looks to honor a forgotten neighborhood in Santa Monica and brings its important history to new generations.

Work on the project began back in 2019 and there has since been a number of workshops and other community outreach sessions, according to Banks, who said this week she has been hard at work crafting the sculpture of a "Shotgun House," which was a common form of architecture during the time.

"They're really simple houses that were typically about 12 feet wide. Sometimes they were single rooms and sometimes they were multiple members living there," Banks said during the lecture.

There are a few theories to where the name shotgun house originated, "but one theory is because there is no hallway. There is only a straight opening to the back —like a shotgun — it would go straight through," Banks said. Another theory is that it actually comes further back from West Africa, and is based on a type of house used for gatherings. "So we don't really know the origins of that name. But I think it's a good metaphor for how space moves and how we bring things with us. And a symbol of the house, to me, represented the lives and the hopes that people had here… And I just feel like this is a really important way to think about home — and even though the displacement happened, we still have this history that needs to be told."

Banks added she intends to cut patterns and photos into the sides of the sculpture that will exemplify the stories unearthed in Jefferson's recent book "Living the California Dream: African American Leisure Sites During the Jim Crow Era," which is how the Belmar History+Art project originated, Jefferson said.

The local historian said the project designers are also looking to develop a curriculum that can be used by Santa Monica schools to ensure residents are continuing to be educated about the historic neighborhood that once occupied the land across the street from the Samohi.

The project's broad and innovative ways of sharing untold stories will enliven the past in ways that resonate with Santa Monica constituents like never before, Jefferson said.

"We came to an understanding about the power of ongoing education.... So again, I feel super excited that we are including curriculum as a part of this project," and that it will immediately affect the students who are in the vicinity of the project site, Banks said before Conservancy officials shared the project is currently under review by the California Coastal Commission and there is hope that its sign will be installed by the first of the year.

location she stayed true to her Quebecois roots serving provincial French dishes so good her diners won't let her change them.

When Mimi closed her Palisades restaurant due to a bad accident she had, many thought it marked the end of her prolific restauranteering career. Yet, six years of recovery and therapy later, Herbert is back in business and could not be happier.

"After my accident I didn't have a life for six years and really the restaurant is giving me back my life," said Herbert. "In recovery I did a ton of knitting for hospitals making blankets and lots of little hats — I made hundreds of those. It helped fill my time for a little while, but nothing could replace being in the restaurant business. Now, I am excited to go to work every single day."

The first Chez Mimi in Santa Monica was open for 13 years on 26th St. and San Vicente before closing in 2010 to the collective dismay of the community. Herbert went on to open the Palisades' Chez Mimi and, as in the case of all her moves, her clientele obediently followed.

"There are people who have been regular customers in all of my restaurants since Venice. They became basically family; we know them, we know their children, we know their grandchildren, so it's a love affair. I'm really blessed," said Herbert.

Herbert is followed not only by her clientele, but also by her personnel. Le Petit Chez Mimi's head chef began working in Herbert's first Venice restaurant 38 years ago. Herbert's managerial assistant has worked with her for 34 years.

"To go into the restaurant business you have to love the business and you have to have a good team. I'm blessed to have an amazing team that has been with me for so long," said Herbert.

Le Petit Chez Mimi perseveres the classic charm of its previous incarnations with an added boost of quaintness derived from the smaller space that Herbert has modeled after "a little French cottage".

The menu opens with a series of hor d'oeuvres including pâté maison, escargots, and goats cheese and herb pastry, which pair excellently with any of Herbert's rich and fragrant soups. The mains dishes feature excellent cuts of meat sourced by Herbert herself, including veal cutlet, grilled porkchop, and New York steak. There are also plenty of dishes to please fish lovers including bouillabaisse, trout with sauteed almonds, and mussels with white wine, shallots, cream, and French fries.

While dining is currently limited to the ten tables on the patio, Herbert said she cannot wait for the day she will fling the doors open and warmly welcome everyone inside.

HOUSING

tough to produce in the quantities that the state needs, so Santa Monica officials will have to rethink how they produce affordable housing in the next decade.

Every eight years, cities are required to update their Housing Elements, which document where and how a municipality intends to build affordable housing within its borders. And with Santa Monica's previous eight year cycle Housing Element for the years 2013 - 2021 is coming to an end, the City must now plan for the next eight year cycle at a time when Californians are facing a major statewide housing shortage.

City leaders recently invited the community to a Virtual Workshop On the Housing Element Update that it will host on three nights in November. Every webinar will be identical but residents are invited to register for a session at noon or 7:30 p.m. Thursday, Nov. 12, or the one occurring at 10:30 a.m. Saturday, Nov. 14. "Come learn about why the update is necessary, the state of housing in the City, and what the Housing Element update will do. You will have an opportunity to submit your questions and comment on housing issues that interest you," a flyer states.

Santa Monica's sixth cycle Housing Element must be adopted and certified by October 2021 if the city wants to avoid penalties so planning for the 8,874 units is already underway.

Study sessions with the Planning Commission and City Council are expected to occur in Winter 2020, and protecting existing neighborhoods and prioritizing affordable housing are the two prominent themes guiding the planning efforts. City leaders are also looking to determine what barriers are out there preventing the completion of housing units as well as where housing should go and where it should not.

"This can only be done with your help," so be a part of the plan and sign up to receive notices on future events by visiting santamonica.gov/Housing-Element-Update. Residents can also email HousingUpdate@smgov.net with any questions, officials said.

TODAY'S BIRTHDAY (NOVEMBER 02)

You really do have extraordinary powers and you'll use them to elevate your group over these six weeks. In early 2021, you'll be attracted to interesting gambles that require you to engage your talents. Calculate the risk, make your move and enjoy a payout in March. Big promises and deals deliver in June. Pisces and Sagittarius adore you. Your lucky numbers are: 8, 20, 15, 12 and 4.

ARIES (March 21-April 19). TRICK: Your smile is like a secret weapon. You can use it to disarm, invite, persuade, reward and even punish. TREAT: Someone entrusts you with excellent intel.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20). TRICK: People are afraid of taking responsibility because they fear it will limit their freedom. You sign up and find that you get more privileges because of it. TREAT: You'll take advantage of this tonight.

GEMINI (May 21-June 21). TRICK: The obvious route leads somewhere completely unexpected. TREAT: You have a sixth sense about choosing the path that will, in the end, prove the most delightful.

CANCER (June 22-July 22). TRICK: You let people know what they can expect from you, all the while intending to give something different, better and more. TREAT: Delivering beyond expectation nets you a sweet opportunity.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22). TRICK: You care nothing about being the favorite, getting the most attention or cultivating a stellar reputation. You're in it for something else. TREAT: People admire you anyway, despite your indifference to approval.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22). TRICK: You give a compliment like a pro. Your secret is that you really mean it. TREAT: People gravitate to you. More than one will compete for your attention and favoritism.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 23). TRICK: You simply work harder to fulfill the aesthetic ideal you're going for. TREAT: Your attention to detail will pay off; you'll get exactly your desired response.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24-Nov. 21). TRICK: You treat the night like it's a game of chicken and will prove yourself braver and more willing to risk than the others. TREAT: To the victor go the spoils.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22-Dec. 21). TRICK: In your playfulness, you're able to find people's fears and buttons and then tap them, ever so slightly, for a fun adrenaline rush. TREAT: You get the pleasure (and the picture!) of their reaction

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19). TRICK: You act like the leader, and then you become it. TREAT: You'll have the satisfaction of knowing that things would have devolved into chaos if it weren't for your following through with an impulse to take charge.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 18). TRICK: Your attention is so sweet and more addicting than sugar, candy or the adrenaline rush that comes from being spooked. TREAT: Today's attractions will be mutual.

PISCES (Feb. 19-March 20). TRICK: You'll stack your schedule with the activities and people you love so that your chances of ending up somewhere you don't want to be and in bad company are absolutely nil. TREAT: This will be a near-perfect night.
