O+O Sicilian Kitchen & Bar Brings A Taste of Sicily to Santa Monica, CA

A taste of Sicily arrives in Santa Monica with O+O Sicilian Kitchen & Bar, opening Friday, Nov. 18, 2016 on the corner of Ocean Ave. and Olympic Dr., one block from the Santa Monica Pier. O+O offers modern Sicilian cuisine with a California flair, serving lighter versions of traditional Italian dishes including pizzas, meatballs, salads, meats and fish made with local farmer's market ingredients. The new neighborhood restaurant and bar also features an outdoor patio, handcrafted cocktails, wines on tap and an extensive wine list of Italian and California varieties in a sleek urban setting.

"I've always dreamed of opening a restaurant in Santa Monica because of its ever growing food culture, accessibility to the local markets and seaside location," said Owner and Executive Chef Georgi Yaneff.

Yaneff handpicked his Chef de Cuisine, Gianluca Maita, who hails from Catania, Sicily, to ensure the authenticity of all things at O+O. Together, they bring the traditional dishes and street foods found in Sicily to the menu.

Originally a native of Bulgaria, Yaneff has been behind the stove professionally for nearly 20 years. He worked closely with Chef Jose Andres at SLS Hotel and The Bazaar in Beverly Hills and Washington D.C., as well as Oyamel in D.C., and went on to open DSTRKT in London in 2011.

As the neighborhood's newest spot for delicious Sicilian food, cocktails and after work happy hour, O+O offers a vibe that's casual but flavors that are

An Inspiration in Santa Monica

MARINA ANDALON

A role model and an inspiration for people who strive to better their lives, and surround themselves with positivity. That is what Esvin Rodriguez is doing, and continues to do at Gold Star Medical Center.

Rodriguez was born in 1979 and experienced a near death experience in his late teens. He was shot by gang members near his home in Downtown Los Angeles , the bullet tore through his back and hit his spine and let him quadriplegic. He is unable to move any body part from the neck down.

This holiday season, he expresses how thankful he is to be alive and moving forward.

After the incident happened he was depressed and angry. He stayed in rehabilitation center at All Saints Healthcare in North Hollywood. Gye DiCapua, Director of Rehabilitation Program became his mentor.

"I asked Rodriguez what does he want to do, and I remember him being very grumpy and always saying 'Nothing, I don't want to do anything'," said DiCapua. "Finally one day he came up to me and I knew he was ready to get rehab and find a hobby. That's when I decided to put a paintbrush in his mouth and it stuck."

Rodriguez fell in love with mouth painting.

Now that Rodriguez was able to paint, he expressed his feelings through art. He was able to create images that made people open their eyes, and their jaws dropped. Painting helped his move forward

COOKING ON DEADLINE:

Warm Brussels Sprouts Salad

BY KATIE WORKMAN
Associated Press

I think this is (possibly) the best Brussels sprouts recipe I have ever made. They are roasted and then tossed while still warm with an assertive dressing that makes your mouth jump up and down with joy.

And for those who don't like Brussels sprouts (and in fact my family is divided), well, more for the rest of us. Jack and I were happy to be responsible for the leftovers.

This is a great addition to a holiday spread. You can make the dressing ahead of time, and then just roast the Brussels sprouts before the meal, toss them with the vinaigrette, and serve them warm or even room temperature. I'm not a fan of reheating Brussels sprouts, and would prefer to just serve them at room temperature if they cool down.

Don't over-salt the Brussels sprouts because the anchovies add salt to the dressing. You can always add a pinch of salt to the final tossed salad if you want.

Stephen Lockwood and his ensemble performing the music of Normand Lockwood

The Santa Monica Public Library is proud to present Stephen Lockwood and his ensemble performing the music of Normand Lockwood on Thursday December 1 at 7:30 p.m. in the Main Library's Martin Luther King Jr. Auditorium at 601 Santa Monica Blvd.

Normand Lockwood (1906-2002) studied composition with Nadia Boulanger, the teacher of Aaron Copland, Philip Glass, and many others, but worked primarily as a college professor and studio arranger, working on Paul Robeson's version of "Old Man River" and other hits. He continued writing concert music, but much of it was never performed outside of the colleges where he worked.

Steve Lockwood is a Los Angeles-based jazz and classical pianist, who has performed with Meredith Monk, George Lewis, and members of the band from the Conan O'Brien show. Initially curious about Normand because of their shared last name, he eventually discovered they are distant relatives. He has assembled an all-star group to perform a program of Normand Lockwood's music from the 1920s to 1980s, including a vocalist and woodwind quintet, as well as his own piano work.

A CD of compositions by both Lockwoods is available, and this concert will be recorded for a possible follow-up.

This program is free and open to the public. Seating is limited and on a first arrival basis. The auditorium is wheelchair-accessible. For other disabled services, call Administration at (310) 458-8606 one week ahead. The Main Library is directly served by Big Blue Bus lines 1, 7, R7, R10, and 18. Lines 2, 3, R3, and 9, and the Metro Expo line also stop within a short walking distance. Ride your bike. For more information, call (310) 458-8600 or visit smpl.org.

JVS Woman To Woman Conference In Support Of Serving Women In Crisis And Transition

Over 500 women filled the ballroom at the Skirball Cultural Center for the 4th Annual Woman to Woman Conference on Thursday, November 17. The popular networking event featured keynote speakers Margareta Pisarska, MD, an OB/GYN and reproductive endocrinologist leading cutting edge research on fertility at Cedars Sinai, and award-winning documentary filmmaker Nancy Spielberg. Sponsored by the JVS Women's Leadership Network (WLN) the conference supports a number of JVS programs that serve women in career crisis or transition, with a special focus on its signature program, WoMentoring.

The WLN is a donor support group that works to sustain and enhance JVS' programs serving women in crisis or transition, and to make these programs available to a diverse community of women in need – from the long-term unemployed to people with disabilities; women veterans transitioning to the civilian workplace, single parents and women who have come through the foster care system.

Santa Monica Barbara Leanse and Nancy Paul, both members of the WLN Leadership Council, chaired the event. Award-winning actress, singer and dancer Nikki Crawford was event host.

Nancy Spielberg shared how she discovered a passion to make documentary films in her fifties and overcame her self-doubt and fear of failure while making "Above and Beyond," her first film which tells the story of Jewish-American WWII veterans who took unimaginable risks to fly for Israel in the War of Independence.

"I am still learning lessons every single day," she said. "One of the most important is knowing that collaboration, support, and respect are the salt in every successful recipe whether you're running a business or making a movie. There's never really an easy road. Through the decades, there are struggles and they change with the chapters in your life. You have to learn how to roll with it; how to forge ahead. Don't let fear stop you."

In an insightful talk that covered the science and politics of fertility and reproductive medicine, Dr. Pisarska lauded her parents (both concentration camp survivors) and her early mentors who gave her strength and direction in navigating her career.

"We as women need to be active in issues involving reproductive health," she said, citing that research focused on women and babies trails as the most poorly funded.

Attendees began the day with a breakfast networking reception and were treated to accessorizing tips from celebrity fashion critic, author and red carpet guru Steven Cojocaru, also known as Cojo. Diagnosed mid career with a devastating disease that lead to a kidney transplant, Cojocaru is the author of an inspiring memoir, "Glamour, Interrupted."

Educator Spotlight

Send comments to editor@smdp.com

Joshua Grant-Konegni,

OLYMPIC HIGH SCHOOL

Joshua Grant-Konegni hope is that his students "leave me with a clear understanding that they can be the change they wish to see in the world; that each and every person has within them the ability to leave a legacy behind." And that "they feel that they are amply prepared to face the challenges presented in the real world when they leave our school walls."

Grant-Konegni has been at Olympic High School for the past two years, where he currently teaches 12th grade English & Expository Reading & Writing, as well as drama/theatre class for all age levels of high school students. He came to SMMUSD after 7 previous years of teaching. His teaching career includes: drama department director and theatrical practitioner at the Los Angeles High School for the Arts and Morningside High School, a theatre educator for middle school at PUC SCHOOLS (Partnership to Uplift Communities), and as the Director of the Brookfield East High School Drama Department. He worked at Brookfield East for 4 years and directed and produced 8 mainstage/fully realized theatrical productions.

Beside being an educator, Grant-Konegni has worked professionally as an actor, director, producer, educator, and coach. He is a member of the Screen Actors Guild-American Federation of Television & Radio Artists and Actors' Equity Association.

GRANT-KONEGNI SPEAKS

Obviously, I went into teaching for the money, and so I could have access to the company jet. But, seriously, I became a teacher because I was deeply impacted by teachers, both negatively and positively, throughout my adolescence and teenage years. Moreover, I dealt with a great deal of bullying during my formative years. During this time, I desperately wanted to fit in, to be recognized and appreciated, and for my efforts to be validated. One of the wonderful things about being an educator is that I am able to be teacher, counselor, surrogate parent, advocate, cheerleader, and role model to countless young people. I am in a position each day to make a difference in their lives. Furthermore, I strive to teach my students that they must use their talents and skills to "Be the change they wish to see in the world." –GANDHI

What keeps me in my position is that there is never a shortage of young people who need to be empowered, who need someone to metaphorically hold their hand, hold them accountable, provide structure and discipline, and give them hope for the future. I feel so blessed to be able to have the opportunity to affect change on a daily basis as I interact with my students.

I'm most passionate about listening and reflecting upon the multitude of my students' voices and what they have to share with the world; moreover, helping my students find their voices through active learning opportunities and teaching them how to be capable of sound critical thinking is of vital importance to me, be it through one-on-one interaction, Socratic seminars, both small group & whole group discussions, Four Corner Debate, and other researched based best practices. So often we are taught to "color within the lines," but I want my students to be able to scribble all over the darn page. I want my students to be able to tackle curriculum that is scholarly in nature, rigorous, standards based, concrete and tangible; however, I also strive to teach my students how to evaluate source material in search of bias, rhetorical fallacies, counterarguments, and the abstract.

CRIME WATCH
BY DAILY PRESS STAFF

Crime Watch is culled from reports provided by the Santa Monica Police Department. These are arrests only. All parties are innocent until proven guilty in a court of law.

ON NOVEMBER 19, 2016 AT ABOUT 6:34 P.M.

Officers were patrolling in the area of 1900 block of Broadway. Officers observed a bicyclist approach a female who was walking eastbound on the sidewalk. The suspect rode next to the victim and forcibly took the victim's purse. The suspect fled quickly from the victim as the victim gave chase of the suspect. Officers activated their lights and siren as the suspect attempted to flee. The suspect was ultimately apprehended in the 1400 block of 20th Street. The victim recovered her purse as she was chasing the suspect. In custody, Victor Rivera, 18, was booked for robbery. Bail was set at $50,000.

to be a role model for many people who want to turn their lives around.

Rodriguez first painted a tigers face and it sold for $60, and since then he moved onto surreal images, landscapes, and artistic abstracts.

"When I started to paint, I slowly moved away from all the hate and the anger I was carrying as a young man," said Rodriguez. "You can see how it has gone from dark images to lighter as I became lighter inside. Painting is saving my life."

Now at 37 years old, he is part of the Mouth and Foot Painting Artist and often gets asked to talk to children about his story and show them his artistic abilities.

"I am truly thankful to have met him," said DiCapua. "I don't feel like his mentor anymore because we are truly life long friends."

15th annual National Civil Trial Competition

Four student litigants from Stetson University College of Law outmaneuvered 15 other teams to win the 15th annual National Civil Trial Competition, co-sponsored by Loyola Law School, Los Angeles and the Santa Monica law firm Greene Broillet & Wheeler, LLP. The prestigious competition began Friday Nov. 18th at the Santa Monica Courthouse and concluded with the final round yesterday Nov. 20, 2016 at Loyola Law School.

The winning team members include Colby Connell, Kaitlyn Dugas, Anna Pardun and Joe Sise. The team's coaches include Patrick McArdle, Erika McArdle and Charles Rose.

The competition involved 64 law student litigants representing their schools on teams of four.

The subject of this year's civil case involved copyright infringement. The students acted as advocates/witnesses to perform opening statements, conduct direct-and cross-examination of expert and lay witnesses, make closing arguments and argue objections based on the Federal Rules of Evidence. Each team argued their case in front of a panel of judges consisting of prestigious members of the Southern California bar.

"I was blown away by the students' high-level litigation skills and perseverance," said Mark Quigley, a partner at Greene Broillet & Wheeler, LLP and a member of the judges' panel. "We're honored to have played a role in this exciting and dynamic competition."

Greene Broillet & Wheeler, LLP is one of the country's top plaintiffs' injury law firms, specializing in wrongful death, catastrophic injury, legal malpractice and product defect cases.

WARM BRUSSELS SPROUTS SALAD WITH ANCHOVY VINAIGRETTE

Start to finish: 45 minutes
Serves 6 to 8

2 pounds Brussels sprouts, trimmed and halved
Kosher salt
4 tablespoons extra virgin olive oil, divided
1 tablespoon fresh lemon juice
3 anchovies, rinsed
1 clove garlic
2 teaspoons grainy Dijon mustard
2 scallions, white and green parts, timed and cut into pieces
2 tablespoons parsley leaves
Freshly ground black pepper

■ Preheat the oven to 400 F. Toss the Brussels sprouts with 1 tablespoon of the oil and spread them out on a rimmed baking sheet. Sprinkle with salt. Roast for 20 to 25 minutes until the Brussels sprouts are fairly tender and browned in spots. Let cool slightly, on the baking sheet, for about 10 minutes.

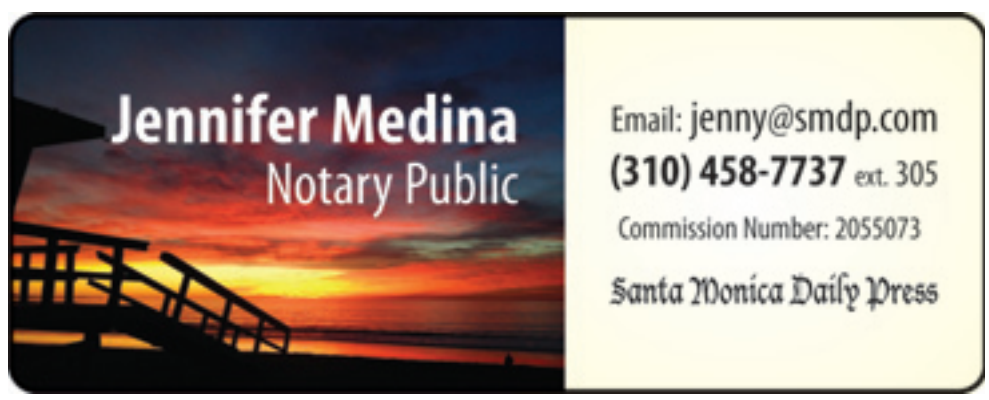

■ While the Brussels sprouts are cooking, make the dressing. In a food processor place the remaining 3 tablespoons olive oil, the lemon juice, anchovies, garlic, mustard, scallions, parsley and pepper, and process until pureed.

■ Drizzle the Brussels sprouts with about half of the dressing and toss to coat. Add more dressing if you like. Transfer the Brussels sprouts to a serving dish and serve warm, with the rest of the dressing on the side.

CREATORS SYNDICATE © 2016 STANLEY NEWMAN STANXWORDS@AOL.COM 11/26/16

TODAY'S BIRTHDAY (Nov. 26)

Your accepting heart will make life better for people around you. The new year casts you as an inspired teacher. You'll be paid well for your expertise. April and July represent times of building. Your domestic life will get a new shine then. Relationships blossom in May. August begins a fresh financial cycle. Cancer and Aquarius adore you. Your lucky numbers are: 2, 40, 1, 46 and 38.

ARIES (March 21-April 19)
Avoid self-promotion. The smart ones will understand right away what's great about you, so you don't have to tell them. The others wouldn't understand any better if you told them, so that's another reason to stay modest.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20)
You're better off not to assume that money means the same thing to you as it does to the people you deal with. When they show you how they value things, pay attention.

GEMINI (May 21-June 21)
The main problem about human existence is fragility. You make that a little less obvious for someone. You make that person feel protected --maybe even strong.

CANCER (June 22-July 22)
You're simply too tough on yourself! Why dwell on mistakes when there are so many things you've done right? And you'll do even more good today once you shake off that critical mood.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22)
You'll get an opportunity to do business where there is a strong sense of stability and tradition around matters of finance. Soon after you connect with those who share your values, you'll strike a deal.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22)
A masterful communicator, today your word choices increase your charisma. It's the little things. Like, instead of saying "no problem," which brings to mind the negative, you'll say "my pleasure," and create only good feelings.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 23)
Maybe it's noble to be defiant in the face of life's ridiculousness. Or maybe it's just necessary. Either way, you should feel pretty good about your reaction to today's nuttiness.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24-Nov. 21)
You've a comfort level around certain people that allows you to work seamlessly together. It won't matter who did what or where the credit lands. This is a form of love.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22-Dec. 21)
Your presentation of an idea can sell it, whether the idea is a good one or not. Does this activate your sense of personal responsibility? Vet the ideas before you make your pitch.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19)
This thing you're trying to accomplish cannot be accomplished as a linear pursuit. It's a holistic process. So when you feel yourself drawn "off track," maybe you're actually just working things from a different angle.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 18)
A one-sided commitment won't work as well as a reciprocal one. Can you involve another person? There's magic when you join forces with someone just as committed as you are.

PISCES (Feb. 19-March 20)
What you've decided to become is far more interesting than any inherent or inherited aspect of you. Share your story. It will help you gain a certain objectivity and self-appreciation.

Transformation Moon

The conventional wisdom is that dieting doesn't work because once one goes back to the old ways, the weight goes back on. Lifestyle changes are different. They're not programs you sign up for but new ways of being. The Scorpio moon of transformation is rooting for the change you'd like to make. It will come in small victories.

Renewal by Andersen
WINDOW REPLACEMENT
an Andersen Company

These are the final days to get our 2016 window prices.

Call before December 31st to get 2016 prices!

Our list prices will never be as low as they are right now. Call before our 2017 price increase!

With manufacturing, labor and material costs on the rise, we're forced to implement a 2017 price increase…but not before we give you one last chance to pay our 2016 prices.

Why is winter one of the best times to replace your windows?

- You'll avoid the 2017 price increase!
- The colder weather is actually one of the best times to replace your windows. Why? The wood framing surrounding your windows completely contracts and creates the largest window frame openings. Therefore, once installed, your new, custom-built windows and patio doors will have the tightest fit possible through every season. And that tight fit is what helps to keep your home comfortable.
- Our most energy-efficient SmartSun™ glass is going to help make your home more comfortable. In the hot months it helps to block the UV rays that make your home uncomfortably hot, and in the colder months it reflects the heat back into your home. And you don't have to ask for, or pay for, this extra energy efficiency; we make our SmartSun™ glass standard for all of our customers.
- We're the full-service replacement window division of Andersen, which is one of the reasons why 28,684 Southern California homeowners chose our window over a low-end vinyl window.

PLUS

SAVE ~~20~~% 25% on windows and patio doors[1]
Installation is included.

PLUS

NO Money Down | NO Payments for one year[1] | NO Interest

PLUS

Our most energy-efficient SmartSun™ glass comes standard on all our windows. It will help keep your home a consistent temperature and help prevent your furniture and floors from fading!

Offer available with our Instant Product Rewards. Minimum purchase of 3 or more windows and/or patio doors at time of initial visit. Financing provided by third parties and is subject to credit requirements. Interest accrues during the promotional period but all interest is waived if the purchase amount is paid in full within 12 months.
