PLANS APPROVED: A layout of the plans for the expansion to City Hall.

BY MATTHEW HALL
Daily Press Editor

A divided Planning Commission approved plans for an expansion to City Hall at their Nov. 16 meeting.

During their first pass at the building, Commissioners had voiced concern about the placement of equipment/machinery, use of solar panels near the existing City Hall and the size of the proposed building. However, a revision to the placement of the solar panels and the presence of a previously absent Commissioner was enough for the project to secure four votes.

The City wants to build a three-story, 45-foot tall building at the

Staying fit during the holiday season

MARINA ANDALON

During the festive season temptations rise to skip the gym and break the diet, especially with the holiday season in full effect.

With Thanksgiving behind us, comes the endless shopping. Not to mention the holiday office parties and the tasty treats that your neighbors baked just for you that might just break your diet.

"I think many American's today overeat in general, that is one of our biggest problems. Especially with the holidays people are eating cookies, ice cream, candies, and cakes there is just so much going on. This is on top of what people are already eating," said Tom Williams, CEO of Burn Fitness.

According to the National Library of Medicine National Institutes of Health, a study taken in 2015 regarding holiday weight gain said, "The average American rear of the current City Hall. As proposed it is three-stories plus a basement for a total floor area of 50,200 square feet and is being built to one of the highest sustainability levels possible.

"The reason a city services building is necessary is to consolidate administrative staff in multiple locations to provide better customer service," said City Architect Miriam Mulder. "Right now people are sent to multiple locations to do business, additionally, the 45,000 square feet of off site lease space is very expensive and getting more expensive all the time."

The Landmarks' Commission, Architectural Review Board and City Council had already provided feedback on some stages of the project but Planning Commission approval was required to keep the project on track and avoid costly delays associated with new code that will be in place by Jan. 1 of 2017.

The building will be required to generate all necessary power from within the City Hall site and a large solar panel installation is the only way to meet the projected demand. Staff had proposed to cover parking spaces located just north of the current City Hall, but the Commission took issue with the visual impact. The approved plan reduces the amount of solar panels visible from Main Street by placing additional panels on the roof of the existing building.

Commissioners Jennifer Kennedy and Nina Fresco voted against the project. Fresco said she couldn't support the project even with revisions.

"I believe building is still too big, they haven't met the threshold that I would need to recommend this," she said.

Commissioner Richard McKinnon was absent from the first hearing. He criticized the project for lacking enough incentives to reduce traffic, the placement of solar panels and questioned some of the sustainability efforts. However, he said the project was worth supporting in the end.

"On balance, and always on balance, that's what we do here, this is a step forward and it's a beneficial building to the city and under those circumstances I think we should vote to support it this evening…" he said.

Mulder said the building will have an economic benefit to the town. She said the building could repay its cost to the city in 20 - 30 years based on projected rent increases of 3 - 5 percent. However, she said costs could be recouped faster given a recent lease for property occupied by city employees increased by 18 percent.

"When you look at it that way, from being a prisoner of these rising costs and very expensive office market, I think there's a pretty strong argument for not only doing this building but doing it as a leadership building which provides an example to others in terms of what we can do in terms of pushing for net zero energy, net zero water and using appropriate materials and embracing the very things we are trying to have others do," she said.

FIT

gains five pounds or more over the holiday period between Thanksgiving and New Year's Day".

Today so many holiday events revolve around delicious food and sugary cocktails, making it almost impossible to resist. With so many desserts to choose from, and sugary drinks, it is no surprise many of our waistlines grow and the scale goes up a few numbers. Even the most dedicated athletes find it difficult to stay on track.

Thomas Roe, Fitness Trainer said, "Once Turkey day hits, it is all down hill from there. Most members focus on holiday parties, Hanukah, shopping and their day to day fitness routine fall by the wayside."

The holiday season calls for a lot of shopping, events to attend, and holiday parties from family, to office gatherings. Many of these activities cause people skip a workout or drive to the nearest fast food restaurant, resulting in weight gain.

"We definitely see a decline from Thanksgiving to New Years, and it is not because people don't want to go to the gym but they are traveling and going to holiday events", said Williams. "I think something very important is how you eat. Nutrition is 95% of the process while the other 5% is exercise."

Before you hit the panic button, follow these tips and maybe this year you can prevent the weight gain and maybe even lose a few pounds.

First thing is first, have a plan. Sit down, research and coordinate what plan works for you. Start simple and make sure it is a comfortable program that can fit your lifestyle. This is where you can set your goals, and maybe even team up with a friend or family member to hold each other accountable.

When it comes to the food and treats this holiday season eat in moderation. "Of course you can have a cookie, of course you can have a slice of pumpkin pie. Yes you have a piece of the dark turkey, but you shouldn't eat the whole thing. You shouldn't eat a whole tray of cookies or the whole pumpkin pie, it is all about moderation," said Williams.

"For people who are just starting to exercise, ask family and friends for tips. Take it slow; don't head out on a 10k when you have never run before. Also get guidance from your primary care physician, they focus on your personal physical benefits of exercise and can help guide you. Suggesting the best exercise for you," said

Jennifer Beck MD, Assistant Clinical Professor for Orthopedic Surgery at David Geffen School of Medicine at UCLA.

Roe believes it is best to schedule a time to workout each day. "Think of fitness like brushing your teeth or bathing, it is something you do everyday (if not twice a day). Also research gyms that fit your lifestyle and goals and participate in a few of the classes."

Sometimes gym memberships can be a bit pricey, and almost unaffordable during the festive season. Or maybe you can't get to your gym and back in a reasonable time, there is still an opportunity to get a sweat. "You don't need a gym to workout. Anyone can step out their front door and walk around the block for thirty minutes," said Williams. "That is way better than doing nothing, and to be honest the gym is just a bonus."

This holiday season can be the one where physical activity is involved in your daily routine along with healthy nutrition. Roe said, "The only bad workout is the one you miss."

TODAY'S BIRTHDAY (Nov. 28)

You'll listen to intuition and follow your instincts, which, over the next three months, will reward you in both material and immaterial ways. What you pay forward will change someone's life in January. April will give you relief from what's been a long process. June and July bring the romance. Aquarius and Capricorn adore you. Your lucky numbers are: 3, 40, 2, 22 and 18.

ARIES (March 21-April 19)
If you're not into it, don't do it. If you have to do it, then try to change the way you think about it. Make it about the action, not about the outcome the action will bring to you.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20)
Get what you want from a place, and then get out. This is how your gypsy spirit will find satisfaction. Keep it moving along; this is freedom -- or something like it.

GEMINI (May 21-June 21)
You'd like to believe that there are a "wise few," yet the group often gets together and behaves otherwise. Real leadership is needed here. Are you up to it?

CANCER (June 22-July 22)
Many forces of destruction are captivating, seductive and beautiful. This is why you should beware of anything that crosses your path today that falls into the "captivating, seductive and/or beautiful" category.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22)
Mark Twain's advice was to eat what you like and let the food fight it out on the inside. However, today, good digestion will be a secret key to your success. Don't leave it to chance.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22)
It's mighty fine when the game is good enough on its own, but that won't always be the case. When it's not, you have to (SET ITAL) be (END ITAL) the fun. What you bring to the table will make the intolerable thing tolerable.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 23)
Your ability to suspend disbelief helps you enjoy stories that are crafted for your entertainment. But when the story is supposed to be true, no good can come from ignoring the glaring discrepancies. Get to the bottom of it.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24-Nov. 21)
You'll learn from a failed test. It's better to fail early and cheaply. Don't be afraid to mess it up in order to see the boundaries of what you're dealing with. You'll apply that learning to create a winning strategy.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22-Dec. 21)
What is making it hard for you to deliver the result you and the others expect? The answer to this simple question, applied well, could lift your mood by 10 points.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19)
You'll seldom find meaning in a cake, unless it's the pink and green cake that's melting in the rain in MacArthur Park. Meaning is, after all, usually readily found in annoying and unsatisfactory things.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 18)
Life gets bigger when you're braver and constricts with fear. Life on the small scale is no better than an outsize life; it's just a matter of personal preference. Just be sure that you're choosing it and not merely reacting to it.

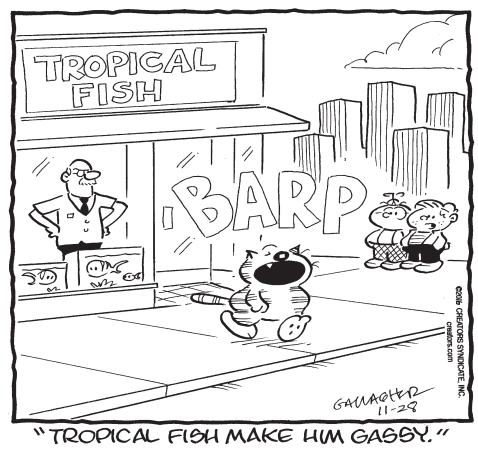

PISCES (Feb. 19-March 20)
Gather more information and put off judgment for as long as possible. Maybe this one is not up to you to figure out, and in that case, you're free to apply yourself in better places.

New Moon Eve

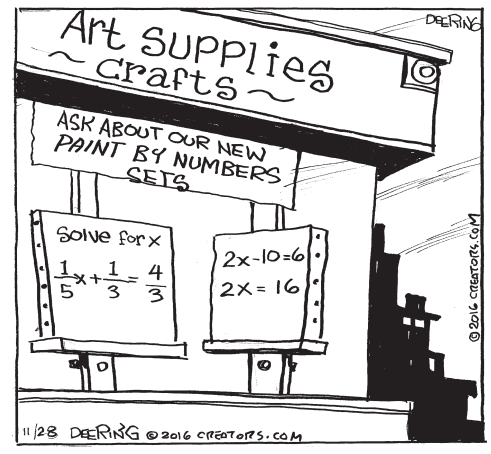

The sliver of moon starts in Scorpio and winds up in Sagittarius, where it will disappear tomorrow. The new moon eve is an excellent opportunity to get grounded and purposeful about the next phase. With a fresh month on the horizon, set your goals. There are 33 days remaining until the end of the year. On your marks; get set...

Temporary Night Closures on the Westbound I-10 Freeway Between Cloverfield Off-Ramp and Lincoln On-Ramp for Sign Replacement
Traffic will be redirected onto Olympic Boulevard

When: Monday, December 5 – Wednesday, December 7 and two other potential weeknights in December.

Where: Westbound Santa Monica Freeway (I-10) between the Cloverfield Boulevard off-ramp and the Lincoln Boulevard on-ramp

SANTA MONICA, CA – The westbound I-10 freeway will be temporarily closed for a signage replacement project starting Monday, December 5. Closures will affect the freeway between the Cloverfield Boulevard off-ramp and the Lincoln Boulevard on-ramp, including the 20th Street on-ramp. Cars will be re-routed off and back onto the freeway between the hours of 10 p.m. and 5 a.m. as shown in the detour map below. This detour will be in place for three consecutive weeknights, December 5 – 7 and two other potential weeknights before the Christmas holiday. All dates will be shared at www.smgov.net/kbug and on Twitter @santamonicacity using #KBUG.

The purpose of this project is to replace signage along the State of California Department of Transportation (Caltrans) highway and arterial surface streets within the City of Santa Monica. The improved signage is intended to prevent last minute weaving at ramps, improve lane assignments, and reduce congestion through efficient lane utilization. The closure is needed to hoist large signage over travel lanes. The evening hours were selected to mitigate traffic impacts and daytime access.

Electronic signage and the California Highway Patrol will direct westbound motorists to exit the freeway at Cloverfield Boulevard and detour on Olympic Boulevard to the Lincoln Boulevard on-ramp. Additional traffic control measures will be in place to ensure the safety of motorists and workers.

The City will work to minimize this inconvenience by re-opening the freeway to traffic as soon as possible. The remaining dates will be posted to www.smgov.net/kbug and shared through the City's social channels. For more information on this project, read the Staff Report.

WINDOW REPLACEMENT

These are the final days to get our 2016 window prices.

Call before December 31st to get 2016 prices!

Our list prices will never be as low as they are right now. Call before our 2017 price increase!

With manufacturing, labor and material costs on the rise, we're forced to implement a 2017 price increase…but not before we give you one last chance to pay our 2016 prices.

Why is winter one of the best times to replace your windows?

- You'll avoid the 2017 price increase!
- The colder weather is actually one of the best times to replace your windows. Why? The wood framing surrounding your windows completely contracts and creates the largest window frame openings. Therefore, once installed, your new, custom-built windows and patio doors will have the tightest fit possible through every season. And that tight fit is what helps to keep your home comfortable.
- Our most energy-efficient SmartSun™ glass is going to help make your home more comfortable. In the hot months it helps to block the UV rays that make your home uncomfortably hot, and in the colder months it reflects the heat back into your home. And you don't have to ask for, or pay for, this extra energy efficiency; we make our SmartSun™ glass standard for all of our customers.
- We're the full-service replacement window division of Andersen, which is one of the reasons why 28,684 Southern California homeowners chose our window over a low-end vinyl window.
