Council to consider climate change in new land use rules

BY KATE CAGLE
Daily Press Staff Writer

Development plans near Santa Monica beaches will soon have to take climate change and the long-term impact of sea level rise into account.

For the first time in nearly 25 years, staff members are updating the city's Land Use Plan, or LUP, which creates guidelines for land use and development near the coast. The plan covers the city's Coastal Zone: areas west of Fourth Street, north of Pico Boulevard and west of Lincoln Boulevard, south of Pico Boulevard.

The LUP will anticipate sea level rise in stages, according to Elizabeth Bar-El, a senior planner involved in the ordinance. Proposed policies could prohibit sea walls, encourage natural adaptation strategies like sand dunes, require disclosure of the risk of

ON THE NEXT AGENDA:

Big Blue Bus Youth Discount

The council will consider whether to lower the cost of Big Blue Bus passes for youth riders. A 2016 pilot program that lowered the cost of a monthly pass for teens from $40 to $28 produced record sales and increased ridership among young people. The new Youth Pass Program would lower the cost even more in 2017 and 2018 to just $19 per month. Buy One, Get one Free (BOGO) program funds will pay for the program.

Report on Low and Moderate-Income Housing Asset Fund

This annual report concerns about $4.5 million in funds of the former Santa Monica Redevelopment Agency. The City Council committed 80 percent of the money to fund existing affordable housing loan repayments and to build more units over the next three years. The report will be posted online by the end of the year.

Medical Services for Arrestees

State law requires the Santa Monica Police Department to provide medical services to arrestees. The Council will vote on whether to allow the City Manager to negotiate two separate three-year contracts to provide medical care onsite and at UCLA Santa Monica Hospital. The city's contract with Vital Medical Services should not exceed $500,000 over the multi-year contract. The City Manager will also negotiate an agreement with UCLA Santa Monica Hospital and Palm Drive Medical Group for emergency room services.

Formal eatery switching to fast casual format on the Pier

BY KATE CAGLE
Daily Press Staff Writer

An Italian restaurant with rooftop views on the Santa Monica Pier is asking the city for permission for a make over.

The owners of Ristorante Al Mare want to nix their white tablecloths and current selection of pizza and pasta to rebrand the restaurant as "fast-casual" with salads, sandwiches and burgers. The proposed new name is "Earl's Seaside Tavern."

The proposed new facade will

Clients kick old habits with new shoes

CLARE Foundation teamed up with Hav A Sole to provide quality footwear for clients at the nonprofit treatment facility on Wednesday, Nov. 23.

Rikki Mendias, Founder of Hav A Sole, spent part of his childhood living at the CLARE with his mother. One of his earliest memories was of a former client who bought him two new pairs of shoes after discovering that his were in poor condition and they couldn't afford to replace them. Mendias always remembered her kindness and created Hav A Sole to pay that kindness forward.

"We're so pleased that Rikki and his mother, Wendy, continue to give back to CLARE and set an incredible example to the clients," said CLARE CEO, Dr. Lisa Steele. "Rikki's experience at CLARE, and remembering the kindness from a former client, inspired him to give back to the community. We continue to grow a sense of community within CLARE and motivate our clients to make healthy choices and pay it forward on their recovery journey."

Hav A Sole is an LA-based nonprofit that donates shoes to the homeless and at risk youth population. The organization has donated thousands of pairs of footwear through their partnership with major shoe retailers Nike and Saucony, and continues to work with other nonprofit organizations to reach out to help those in need. For more information, please visit https://havasole.com/.

Since 1970, CLARE Foundation has provided effective and compassionate treatment, recovery and prevention services for alcoholism, substance abuse, and behavioral health treatment to individuals, families and the community. Using a variety of methods including individualized treatment protocols grounded in evidence-based practices and 12-Step principles, CLARE helps those confronting addiction to produce positive and long-lasting health and wellness. Temporary I-10 closure

The westbound I-10 freeway will be temporarily closed for a signage replacement project starting Monday, Dec. 5. Closures will affect the freeway between the Cloverfield Boulevard off-ramp and the Lincoln Boulevard on-ramp, including the 20th Street on-ramp. Cars will be re-routed off and back onto the freeway between the hours of 10 p.m. and 5 a.m. as shown in the detour map below. This detour will be in place for three consecutive weeknights, Dec. 5 – 7, and a few additional weeknights before the Christmas holiday. Additional dates will be shared at www.smgov.net/kbug and on Twitter using #KBUG when they are set.

The purpose of this project is to replace signage along the State of California Department of Transportation (Caltrans) highway and arterial surface streets within the City of Santa Monica. The improved signage is intended to prevent last minute weaving at ramps, improve lane assignments, and reduce congestion through efficient lane utilization. The closure is needed to hoist large signage over travel lanes. The evening hours were selected to mitigate traffic impacts and daytime access.

Electronic signage and the California Highway Patrol will direct westbound motorists to exit the freeway at Cloverfield Boulevard and detour on Olympic Boulevard to the Lincoln Boulevard on-ramp. Additional traffic control measures will be in place to ensure the safety of motorists and workers.

The City will work to minimize this inconvenience by re-opening the freeway to traffic as soon as possible.

Piano, percussion, jazz, and more at SMC In December

Santa Monica College presents a December filled with music, ranging from a percussion ensemble recital to the sounds of the season and more. All performances are held in The Broad Stage or The Edye at the SMC Performing Arts Center (Santa Monica Boulevard at 11th Street, Santa Monica).

THE CONCERTS ARE:

• Tuesday, December 6 at 11:15 a.m. and Thursday, December 8 at 7:30 p.m. in The Edye: Piano Ensemble Recital. Directed by Dr. Yulia Kozlova, SMC's advanced piano students reveal the uniqueness and diversity of four-hand piano and piano duo repertoire. Guaranteed to be more than twice as fun as solo piano performances. (Complimentary tickets for the December 6 morning performance only are available at the SMC Music Office in Room 211 of the Performing Arts Center. Tickets for the December 8 concert are $10.)

• Tuesday, December 6 at 7:30 p.m. in The Broad Stage: SMC Concert Chorale. Under the baton of Jeffe Huls, the ensemble performs a concert featuring Durante's Magnificat – which was wrongly attributed for several years to his student, Pergolesi – paired with other notable choral works , as well as our traditional and very popular holiday sing-a-long. (Tickets are $10.)

• Thursday, December 8 at 11:30 a.m. in The Edye: SMC Percussion Ensemble Recital. Conductor Megumi Smith leads the ensemble in a creative, unique performance of percussion music, covering a variety of styles. (Free. Complimentary tickets are available at the SMC Music Office in Room 211 of the Performing Arts Center.)

• Friday, December 9 at 7:30 p.m. in The Broad Stage: SMC Jazz Vocal Ensemble. Under the baton of Andreas Preponis and backed by LA-area jazz musicians, SMC's award-winning jazz vocal ensemble blends its voices in a program of jazz repertoire specifically arranged for four-part harmony. The concert features guest ensemble Jazzadena from Pasadena City College. (Tickets are $10.)

• Saturday, December 10 at 4 p.m. in The Edye: SMC Chamber Choir. Director Andreas Preponis leads the SMC Chamber Choir – along with a string quartet, harp, and organ – in a performance of Camille Saint-Saens' "Christmas Oratorio" and other seasonal gems. (Tickets are $10.)

• Sunday, December 11 at 2 p.m. in The Broad Stage: SMC Wind Ensemble. Under the baton of Kevin McKeown, the wind ensemble rejoices with music of the season to bring cheer to all, and features a very special guest conductor – a local middle school student – the winner of the annual SMC Wind Ensemble Essay Contest. All ages are welcome. (Tickets are $10.)

• Wednesday, December 14 at 7:30 p.m. in The Edye: SMC Vocal Department Showcase. Under the direction of Diana Zaslove Kahn, SMC's advanced voice students perform classical, jazz, musical theater, and contemporary commercial songs. (Tickets are $10.)

Unless otherwise noted, please call (310) 434-3005 or (310) 434-4323, or go to www.smc.edu/eventsinfo for tickets and information.

Another Evening with Carl Reiner at Santa Monica Public Library

Almost three years to the day since he last visited, legendary comedian Carl Reiner returns to the Santa Monica Public Library to sign and discuss his latest book, Carl Reiner, Now You're 94, on Thursday, December 15, 2016 at 7:00 p.m. in the Main Library's Martin Luther King, Jr. Auditorium, 601 Santa Monica Blvd.

Carl Reiner has been entertaining audiences for decades, on television, in film, and in his many hilarious books offering up humorous stories from his life. Three years ago, Carl appeared at the Main Library to share and discuss his autobiography I Remember Me. Now he returns with his latest book, the illustrated diary Carl Reiner, Now You're 94, which Carl describes as "a day by day, much too complete, moment by moment, detailed account of every aspect of my daily life." A book sale and signing follows the program.

This program is free and open to all ages. It is a ticketed event. Free tickets will be released beginning one hour prior to the program. One ticket per guest only. Guests must be present to receive a ticket. Seating is limited and on a first arrival basis.

The Santa Monica Public Library is wheelchair accessible. For special disabled services, call Library Administration at (310) 458-8606 at least one week prior to event. The Main Library is served by Big Blue Bus routes 1, 7, R7, R10 and 18. Ride your bike. Bicycle parking racks are available at the library.

Santa Monica History Museum Presents Hands on History Workshop for Children

The Santa Monica History Museum is excited to invite children and their families to their free Hands on History workshop on Saturday, Dec. 17 from 11 a.m. to 12 p.m. at the Santa Monica History Museum at 1350 7th Street. From the Long Wharf which served as the first Port of Los Angeles to the recently opened Expo Line, rail has been a part of Santa Monica since the City's early years. December's workshop will cover the history of rail in Santa Monica. There will be a short, age-appropriate lesson in the galleries followed by a related craft activity.

Each session includes a history lesson and a correlated craft or activity. Each workshop is designed to be engaging and educational for elementary age (5 – 11 years) children. Topics for the workshops will rotate throughout the year to feature relevant, seasonal lessons and activities. RSVP is requested, registration is available at the door. Every workshop is offered free of charge.

Assemblymember Bloom to Introduce Legislation to Improve Coexistence with Mountain Lions

Assemblymember Richard Bloom will introduce legislation to give the state more flexibility on how it deals with protected wildlife that may pose a danger to livestock and property. Last Monday, a mountain lion preyed on and killed nearly a dozen livestock in the Santa Monica Mountains. The mountain lion known as P-45 was shown by radio collar data to have been in the area. In response, a livestock owner applied for and received a Depredation Permit, after investigation by a California Department of Wildlife, which grants the owner the right to track and kill the suspected mountain lion within a period of 10 days.

"The recent events concerning the mountain lion P-45 have raised many questions about how to coexist in the urban-wildlife interface," said Assemblymember Bloom (D-Santa Monica). "It is clear that incidents of depredation need to be addressed on a case-by-case basis. I intend to introduce legislation to increase the flexibility and non-lethal tools available to the Department of Fish and Wildlife for dealing with these incidents."

In 1990, California voters approved the Wildlife Protection Act, which prohibits the hunting of mountain lions. However, the act also authorizes owners of livestock that have been attacked by a mountain lion to seek depredation permits. The California Department of Fish and Wildlife is legally required to grant these permits and over the past several decades, thousands of mountain lions have been killed through the issuance of these permits.

"This measure will be an important step to improving how we coexist with protected species in our state," said Assemblymember Bloom. "My office is actively communicating and working with agency partners at the federal, state, and local level on how to best pursue this further."

feature floor-to-ceiling windows on the first floor and preserve the rooftop dining terrace. If approved, the new menu will feature traditional bar food such as artichoke dip and Buffalo wings, as well as salads, hot sandwiches and burgers. The restaurant is located inside the Billiars Building at 250 Santa Monica Pier.

The City Council will vote on the new changes at their meeting Tuesday, Dec. 6.

The proposal comes as the city aims to curb the growth of "fast-casual" restaurants on the nearby Promenade, even going so far as to institute a temporary ban on converting full-service restaurants to "fast-casual" in May.

The City Council instated the ban to give staff members more time to consider whether the more casual dining options should be allowed to proliferate on the Promenade, where fast food has been banned since 1988.

As opposed to casual dining establishments that provide table service, at "fast-casual" restaurants, customers order at a counter and often bus their own tables. The more relaxed dining options have been popping up all over downtown: Tender Greens, Flower Child, 800 Degrees and Chipotle are several examples.

"You're clearly seeing an erosion of the full-service restaurant in favor of the fast-casual," said Councilmember Sue Himmelrich at the May 24 meeting that discussed the temporary ban.

Restaurants on the Pier are subject to a separate set of leasing guidelines set up in 1988 to preserve the unique character of the historic landmark. According to the guidelines, "each lease is vital to maintain a vibrant mix of uses and a sustainable Pier business environment." The owner of any restaurant, in this case Romana Pier LLC, must get approval from the city council for any major alterations from the original concept outlined in their lease.

In 2010, Ristorante al Mar introduced upscale dining on the Pier, complete with a website promising customers sunset views and a "meal to remember." The spot had been vacant since 2002 when the Arcadia nightclub closed down. Renovations took nearly four years to complete.

In February, Planet Hollywood Restaurant Group became an investor of Romana Pier LLC, purchasing 50 percent membership interest. In addition to their name-sake, Planet Hollywood owns the Buca di Beppo and Earl of Sandwich chains.

Under the new proposal, "Earl's Seaside Tavern" will offer counter service on the ground floor, with a larger menu and sit-down service on upper floors. The restaurant claims two-thirds of their menu items would be new foods served on the Pier.

City Council meets at 5:30 p.m. at City Hall, 1685 Main St., on Dec. 6.

sea-level rise with property sales, and rolling easements.

"It can get into questions of restrictions on property or on rebuilding or on new building depending on whether that seems justified by the actual sea level rise," Bar-El said at the Nov. 22 City Council meeting where council members weighed-in on the plans.

The city operates under an LUP approved back in 1992, years before the California Coastal Commission began requiring local cities to take climate change into account when planning projects near the beach.

The new LUP will follow state guidelines and recommendations put forth by scientists consulting on the plan.

"It's all very new," Bar-El said. "Everybody is figuring it out together in the climate change world. There are guidelines and we know there will be expectations from the Coastal Commission."

Over the next 80 years, sea level could rise between two and a half feet and nine and a half feet, according to Dr. David Revell, an expert on climate change and a consultant on the LUP. In the most extreme scenario, Revell says Santa Monica's beach could "pretty much disappear" and structures west of Pacific Coast Highway could face flooding during storms.

"There's going to be other things that people need to be conscious of, like the Pier. That's going to face a lot more hours of wave attack. That's going to require more maintenance," Revell said.

"We are looking at the shore line receding," Bar-El said. "We've been gaining sand for the last two years but models are showing that trend will turn around."

"You have to plan for the worst and prepare for that."

While city planners and scientists work on the new LUP, Santa Monica is already taking steps to educate residents and visitors on the impact of global warming and pursue projects to mitigate its effect.

Through the end of the month, beachgoers can see the potential impact of climate change on the beach for themselves by looking though an Owl on the north side of the Pier. The virtual reality installation offers a 360-degree view of sea level rise and the impact of coastal storms on the shoreline. Images depict nearly-flooded lifeguard towers and submerged parking lots during a future major storm if global warming continues along its projected path. The installation is provided by a USC Sea Grant and utilizes models provided by the U.S. Geological Survey.

On Saturday, volunteers began the Stone Canyon Creek Restoration Project, which aims to create a dune on three acres of the beach to protect wildlife and buildings from sea level rise and erosion. The city partnered with The Bay Foundation for the pilot project which will incorporate low-lying fencing and native plants, according to permit applications approved by the Coastal Commission. LUP planners will be looking at that project to see if more dunes could be a solution to protecting structures from rising sea level.

Revell supports the project because sand dunes provide a buffer during storm events. He says starting the project now will pay dividends as the dunes accumulate sand over the years and add elevation between the beach and PCH.

Staff members hope to complete a draft of the LUP in February to present to the City Council. After the City Council approves a plan, it goes to the California Coastal Commission for certification.

After the LUP is completed, staff members will work on an Implementation Plan, also known as the Coastal Zoning Ordinance. In the long run, the two plans will give Santa Monica authority to issue coastal development permits, instead of the California Coastal Commission. The CCC provided Santa Monica with grant money to fund development of the two plans and pay an Assistant Planner through Sept. 28, 2018.

WELL NEWS BY SCOTT LAFEE

Body of Knowledge

■ The lifespan of a human hair (before it naturally falls out) is three to seven years. Each strand of hair grows from a follicle with an alternating cycle of growth and rest. Each follicle goes through these cycles for 25 to 30 times over a lifetime, although environmental factors and genetics can interrupt or disrupt the process.

Life in Big Macs

■ One hour of trimming trees burns 612 calories (based on a 150-pound person) or the equivalent of 0.9 Big Macs.

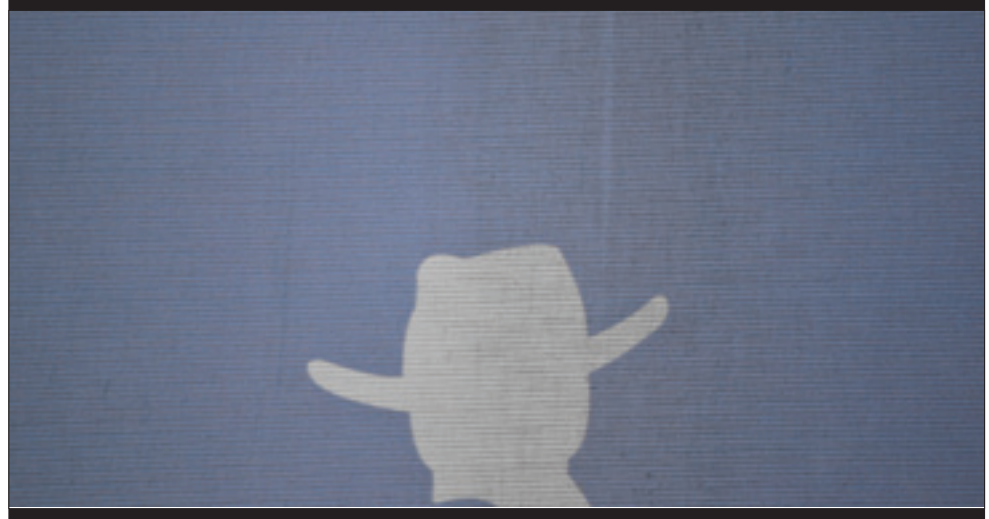

Counts

■ 42: Number of days donor blood can be stored before being used in a transfusion

CREATORS SYNDICATE © 2016 STANLEY NEWMAN STANXWORDS@AOL.COM 12/5/16

TODAY'S BIRTHDAY (Dec. 5)

Your gratitude toward the many who've helped you will be the spiritual practice that opens the way for new mentors and helpers to enter your scene. Love will be the main attraction in February, but be sure to do what's right for you and not just what seems good for your special relationship. June brings a windfall. Pisces and Virgo adore you. Your lucky numbers are: 9, 40, 23, 11 and 45.

ARIES (March 21-April 19)
The wise shaman doesn't boss people around, yet because of this person, the group behaves differently. This is you today -- influential in manner, and how.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20)
Paradoxically, the desire for a better life is an affirmation of a worse one, while the acceptance of a bad condition is in and of itself a move toward good.

GEMINI (May 21-June 21)
There's no clear definition of what your role is supposed to be in the social scenario at hand. Choose a fantasy model to help you navigate this weirdness more comfortably. Who has the charm and grace you'd like to embody?

CANCER (June 22-July 22)
It is when you don't need the relationship/job/deal (yet are still fascinated by the challenge of it) that you are the likeliest to get a good offer. There is something powerfully attractive in self-sufficiency.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22)
You've a lot to offer today and many takers -- so many in fact that there's no time to waste on the unappreciative. The one who starts to give you a problem is better let go early on. You're better off without high-maintenance customers.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22)
The avoidance of worry is a form of worry. It's a struggle to avoid struggle and a pain to avoid pain. In light of this, avoid avoidance altogether. Take life head-on, at face value. Forward march!

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 23)
Not everything that happens (SET ITAL) to (END ITAL) you is (SET ITAL) about (END ITAL) you. And even if it is about you, it's only about the "you" that another person is experiencing, which is not the whole or core "you" at all. Today happiness is... not taking it personally.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24-Nov. 21)
When you're faced with an overwhelming project, the natural, normal thing to do is to do anything but focus on that project. This manifestation of fear is what you're dealing with today. Be brave. Dive in. To the victor go the spoils.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22-Dec. 21)
When you see them all line up and start marching in one direction, there's something inside you that wants to do an about-face and dance yourself in the opposite trajectory. It's not that they are wrong and you are right.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19)
There will be humble domestic chores and errands to contend with. If left undone, they would make your life overly and unnecessarily complicated. That automatically relegates them to the status of "very important."

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 18)
The big aims come with big sacrifices, but don't let that deter you. Everything involves a sacrifice. The trick is to find a sacrifice you're well-matched to so it doesn't seem so bad.

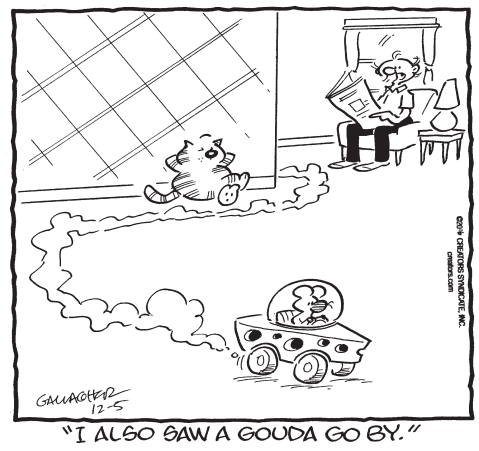

PISCES (Feb. 19-March 20)
When you were younger, you tried to avoid embarrassment at all costs. Now you realize that embarrassment is a rite of passage on the way to becoming proficient at something worthwhile.

Aquarius Moon Humility Challenge

The minute a person starts to believe that he is in control of the universe (or even his little part of it) is the same minute he becomes a fool. The Aquarius moon suggests moving through the hours with the humility of one's own powerlessness. Once accepted, life gets simple. We stop trying to own and rule everything and start having fun inside it.

Renewal by Andersen
WINDOW REPLACEMENT
an Andersen Company

These are the final days to get our 2016 window prices.

Call before December 31st to get 2016 prices!

Our list prices will never be as low as they are right now. Call before our 2017 price increase!

With manufacturing, labor and material costs on the rise, we're forced to implement a 2017 price increase…but not before we give you one last chance to pay our 2016 prices.

Why is winter one of the best times to replace your windows?

- You'll avoid the 2017 price increase!
- The colder weather is actually one of the best times to replace your windows. Why? The wood framing surrounding your windows completely contracts and creates the largest window frame openings. Therefore, once installed, your new, custom-built windows and patio doors will have the tightest fit possible through every season. And that tight fit is what helps to keep your home comfortable.
- Our most energy-efficient SmartSun™ glass is going to help make your home more comfortable. In the hot months it helps to block the UV rays that make your home uncomfortably hot, and in the colder months it reflects the heat back into your home. And you don't have to ask for, or pay for, this extra energy efficiency; we make our SmartSun™ glass standard for all of our customers.
- We're the full-service replacement window division of Andersen, which is one of the reasons why 28,684 Southern California homeowners chose our window over a low-end vinyl window.

PLUS

SAVE ~~20~~% 25% on windows and patio doors[1]
Installation is included.

PLUS

NO Money Down | NO Payments for one year[1] | NO Interest

PLUS

Our most energy-efficient SmartSun™ glass comes standard on all our windows. It will help keep your home a consistent temperature and help prevent your furniture and floors from fading!

Offer available with our Instant Product Rewards. Minimum purchase of 3 or more windows and/or patio doors at time of initial visit. Financing provided by third parties and is subject to credit requirements. Interest accrues during the promotional period but all interest is waived if the purchase amount is paid in full within 12 months.
