Bitwise Funds Trust

Consolidated Notes to Financial Statements

December 31, 2025

1. Organization

Bitwise Funds Trust (the “Trust”) is registered under the Investment Company Act of 1940, as amended (the “1940 Act”), as an open-end registered management investment company organized on April 28, 2022 as a Delaware Statutory Trust.

As of December 31, 2025, the Trust consists of twelve investment series of exchange-traded funds (“ETFs”) (each a “Fund” and collectively, the “Funds”) in operation and trading. These financial statements report on the Funds listed below:

Bitwise COIN Option Income Strategy ETF
Bitwise CRCL Option Income Strategy ETF
Bitwise Ethereum Option Income Strategy ETF
Bitwise GME Option Income Strategy ETF
Bitwise MARA Option Income Strategy ETF
Bitwise MSTR Option Income Strategy ETF
Bitwise Trendwise Bitcoin and Treasuries Rotation Strategy ETF
Bitwise Trendwise BTC/ETH and Treasuries Rotation Strategy ETF
Bitwise Trendwise Ethereum and Treasuries Rotation Strategy ETF

Each Fund is a non-diversified series of the Trust.

Bitwise Investment Manager, LLC (the “Adviser”) serves as investment adviser to the Trust and has overall responsibility for the general management and administration of the Funds, subject to the supervision of the Trust’s Board of Trustees (the “Board”).

Each Fund offers Shares that are listed and traded on the NYSE Arca, Inc. (“NYSE Arca”). Unlike conventional mutual funds, each Fund issues and redeems Shares (“Shares” or “Fund Shares”) on a continuous basis, at net asset value (“NAV”), only in large specified lots of 10,000 Shares, except Bitwise Trendwise Bitcoin and Treasuries Rotation Strategy ETF, Bitwise Trendwise BTC/ETH and Treasuries Rotation Strategy ETF and Bitwise Trendwise Ethereum and Treasuries Rotation Strategy ETF whose lot consist of 25,000 Shares, each called a “Creation Unit”, to authorized participants. An authorized participant is either (i) a broker-dealer or other participant in the clearing process through Continuous Net Settlement System of the National Securities Clearing Corporation or (ii) a Depository Trust Company participant and, in each case, must have executed a participant agreement with the Distributor. Shares are not individually redeemable securities of the Funds, and owners of Shares may acquire those Shares from the Funds or tender such Shares for redemption to the Fund, in Creation Units only.

2. Consolidation of Subsidiary

The Consolidated Schedules of Investments, Consolidated Statements of Assets and Liabilities, Consolidated Statements of Operations, Consolidated Statements of Changes in Net Assets, and the Consolidated Financial Highlights of the Funds listed below include the accounts of a wholly owned subsidiary (each, a “Subsidiary”). All inter-company accounts and transactions have been eliminated in consolidation.

Each Subsidiary is a Cayman Islands exempted company with limited liability. For tax purposes, each Fund is required to increase its taxable income by its proportionate share of its respective share of the applicable Subsidiary's income. Net losses incurred by each Subsidiary cannot offset income earned by the respective Fund and cannot be carried back or forward by the Subsidiary to offset income from prior or future years.

3. Significant Accounting Policies

The consolidated financial statements have been prepared in conformity with U.S. generally accepted accounting principles ("U.S. GAAP"), which require management to make certain estimates and assumptions that affect the reported amounts and disclosures in the financial statements. Actual results could differ from those estimates. The Funds qualify as an investment company under Topic 946 of the Accounting Standards Codification of U.S. GAAP. The following is a summary of significant accounting policies followed by the Funds.

Valuation of Investments

The Board has adopted procedures for valuing portfolio securities in circumstances where market quotes are not readily available. In accordance with Rule 2a-5 under the Investment Company Act of 1940, the Board has designated the Adviser as its valuation designee (the "Valuation Designee"). As Valuation Designee, the Adviser, subject to the oversight of the Board, is responsible for making fair value determinations. The Adviser's day-to-day responsibilities as Valuation Designee are performed by a valuation committee established by the Advisor ("the Valuation Committee").

The NAV of the Funds' Shares is calculated each business day as of the close of regular trading on the New York Stock Exchange, generally 4:00 p.m. Eastern Time. NAV per share is calculated by dividing a Fund's net assets by the number of Fund Shares outstanding.

The Funds' investments are valued using procedures approved by the Board and are generally valued using market valuations. A market valuation generally means a valuation (i) obtained from an exchange, a pricing service, or a major market maker (or dealer) or (ii) based on a price quotation or other equivalent indication of value supplied by an exchange, a pricing service, or a major market maker (or dealer). A price obtained from a pricing service based on such pricing service's valuation matrix may be considered a market valuation. Any assets or liabilities denominated in currencies other than the U.S. dollar are converted into U.S. dollars at the current market rates on the date of valuation as quoted by one or more sources.

Exchange traded options are valued at the mid between the current bid and ask prices on the exchange on which such options are traded. These securities are categorized as Level 1 in the fair value hierarchy. FLEXible EXchange® Options ("FLEX Options") listed on an exchange will typically be valued by a model-based price provided by third-party pricing providers at the official close of the trading day. In selecting the model prices, the Investment Adviser may provide a review of the calculation of model prices provided by each vendor, and may note to such vendors of any data errors observed, or where an underlying component value of the model pricing package may be missing or incorrect, prior to publication by the vendor of the model pricing to the Fund Accounting Agent for purposes of that day's NAV. If the pricing vendors are not available to provide a model price for that day, the value of a FLEX Option will be determined by the Valuation Designee in accordance with the Valuation Procedures (as defined above). These securities are categorized as Level 2 in the fair value hierarchy.

Fixed income and debt securities are valued based on prices received from pricing services. The pricing services use multiple valuation techniques to determine the valuation of the fixed income securities. In instances where sufficient market activity exists, the pricing services may utilize a market-based approach through which trades or quotes from market makers are used to determine the valuation. Fixed income and debt securities are generally categorized as Level 2 of the fair value hierarchy.

Futures contracts are generally valued at the settlement prices established each day on the exchange on which they are traded and are categorized as Level 1.

December 31, 2025

Reverse repurchase agreements are valued at cost plus accrued interest. These securities are categorized as Level 2 in the fair value hierarchy.

Investments in open-ended investment companies are valued at their reported NAV each business day and are categorized as Level 1.

If market quotations are not readily available, securities will be valued at their fair market value as determined using the “fair value” procedures approved by the Board. Fair value pricing involves subjective judgments and it is possible that the fair value determined for a security may be materially different than the value that could be realized upon the sale of that security. The fair value prices can differ from market prices when they become available or when a price becomes available. The Board has designated the Adviser, as Valuation Designee, to perform fair valuation determinations pursuant to the fair valuation procedures approved by the Board. In undertaking these determinations, the Adviser’s Valuation Committee may also enlist third party consultants such as an audit firm or financial officer of a security issuer on an as-needed basis to assist in determining a security-specific fair value. These securities are either categorized as Level 2 or 3 of the fair value hierarchy depending on the relevant inputs used. The Board reviews and ratifies the execution of this process and the resultant fair value prices at least quarterly to assure the process produces reliable results.

Each Fund categorizes the inputs to valuation techniques used to value its investments into a disclosure hierarchy consisting of three levels as shown below:

- Level 1 – Quoted prices in active markets for identical assets that the Funds have the ability to access.
- Level 2 – Other significant observable inputs (including quoted prices for similar securities, interest rates, prepayment speeds, credit risk, etc.).
- Level 3 – Significant unobservable inputs (including the Fund’s own assumptions in determining the fair value of investments).

The inputs or methodology used for valuing securities are not necessarily an indication of the risk associated with investing in those securities.

The following is a summary of the valuations as of December 31, 2025 for each Fund based upon the three levels defined above:

Cash

Cash is held at major financial institutions and is subject to credit risk to the extent its balance exceeds applicable Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation (FDIC) or Securities Investor Protection Corporation (SIPC) limitations.

Cash Collateral for Derivative Contracts, Cash Due to, and Due from Broker

Cash due to broker represents cash balances owed to the broker resulting from transaction-related fees, or temporary cash overdrafts. Cash due from broker represents cash balances held at the broker in anticipation of transaction-related fees or temporary cash overdrafts that can occur in the Funds' normal course of business. These amounts are generally short-term in nature and are settled within the standard settlement cycle.

Collateral or margin requirements are set by the broker or exchange clearinghouse for exchange traded derivatives while collateral terms are contract specific for OTC traded derivatives. Cash collateral that has been pledged to cover obligations of the Funds under derivative contracts, if any, will be reported separately in the Statement of Assets and Liabilities as Cash collateral for derivative contracts. Securities pledged as collateral, if any, for the same purpose are noted in the Schedule of Investments.

Investment Transactions and Related Income

Investment transactions are reported on the trade date. Dividend income is recorded on the ex-dividend date. Interest income is recognized on an accrual basis and includes, where applicable, the amortization of premium or accretion of discount based on effective yield. Gains or losses realized on sales of securities are determined using the identified cost of the security lot sold with the net sales proceeds. Dividend income on the Consolidated Statements of Operations is shown net of any foreign taxes withheld on income from foreign securities, which are provided for in accordance with each Fund's understanding of the applicable tax rules and regulations.

Income Tax Information and Distributions to Shareholders

It is the Funds' policy to comply with all requirements of the Internal Revenue Code of 1986, as amended ("the Code"). Each Fund intends to qualify for and to elect treatment as a separate Regulated Investment Company ("RIC") under Subchapter M of the Code. It is each Fund's policy to pay out dividends from net investment income at least annually. Taxable net realized gains from investment transactions, reduced by capital loss carryforwards, if any, will be declared and distributed to shareholders at least annually. The capital loss carryforward amount, if any, will be available to offset future net capital gains. Each Fund may occasionally be required to make supplemental distributions at some other time during the year. Each Fund reserves the right to declare special distributions if, in its reasonable discretion, such action is necessary or advisable to preserve the status of the Fund as a RIC or to avoid imposition of income or excise taxes on undistributed income. Dividends and distributions to shareholders, if any, will be recorded on the ex-dividend date. The amount of dividends and distributions from net investment income and net realized capital gains will be determined in accordance with federal income tax regulations which may differ from U.S. GAAP. These "book/tax" differences are either considered temporary or permanent in nature. To the extent these differences are permanent in nature, such amounts will be reclassified at the end of the year within the components of net assets based on their federal tax treatment; temporary differences do not require reclassification. Each Fund may utilize equalization accounting for tax purposes and designate earnings and profits, including net realized gains distributed to shareholders on redemption of Shares, as part of the dividends paid deduction for income tax purposes. Dividends and distributions, which exceed earnings and profits for the full year for tax purposes, will be reported as a tax return of capital.

In accordance with U.S. GAAP requirements regarding accounting for uncertainties in income taxes, management has analyzed the Funds' tax positions expected to be taken on foreign, federal and state income tax returns for all open tax years and has concluded that no provision for income tax is required in the Funds' financial statement.

Each Fund will recognize interest and penalties, if any, related to uncertain tax positions as income tax expense on the Consolidated Statement of Operations.

Derivative Financial Instruments

In the normal course of business, a Fund uses derivative contracts in connection with its proprietary trading activities. Derivative contracts are subject to additional risks that can result in a loss of all or part of an investment. A Fund's derivative activities and exposure to derivative contracts are classified by the primary underlying risk: Crypto Assets. In addition to its primary underlying risks, a Fund is also subject to additional counterparty risk due to inability of its counterparties to meet the terms of their contracts.

December 31, 2025

FASB Accounting Standards Codification, Derivatives and Hedging (“ASC 815”) requires enhanced disclosures about a Fund’s use of, and accounting for, derivative instruments and the effect of derivative instruments on a Fund’s financial position and results of operations. Tabular disclosure regarding derivative fair value and gain/loss by contract type (e.g., crypto assets, interest rate contracts, foreign exchange contracts, credit contracts, etc.) is required and derivatives accounted for as hedging instruments under ASC 815 must be disclosed separately from those that do not qualify for hedge accounting. Even though a Fund may use derivatives in an attempt to achieve an economic hedge, a Fund’s derivatives are not accounted for as hedging instruments under ASC 815 because investment companies account for their derivatives at fair value and record any changes in fair value in current period earnings.

Futures Contracts

A futures contract provides for the future sale by one party and purchase by another party of a specified amount of a specific financial instrument (e.g., units of a stock index) for a specified price, date, time and place designated at the time the contract is made. Brokerage fees are paid when a futures contract is bought or sold and margin deposits must be maintained. Unlike when a Fund purchases or sells a security, no price would be paid or received by a Fund upon the purchase or sale of a futures contract. Upon entering into a futures contract, and to maintain a Fund’s open positions in futures contracts, a Fund would be required to deposit with its custodian or futures broker in a segregated account in the name of the futures broker an amount of cash, U.S. government securities, suitable money market instruments, or other liquid securities, known as “initial margin.” The margin required for a particular futures contract is set by the exchange on which the contract is traded, and may be significantly modified from time to time by the exchange during the term of the contract. If the price of an open futures contract changes (by increase in underlying instrument or index in the case of a sale or by decrease in the case of a purchase) so that the loss on the futures contract reaches a point at which the margin on deposit does not satisfy margin requirements, the broker will require an increase in the margin. However, if the value of a position increases because of favorable price changes in the futures contract so that the margin deposit exceeds the required margin, the broker will pay the excess to a Fund.

These subsequent payments, called “variation margin,” to and from the futures broker, are made on a daily basis as the price of the underlying assets fluctuate making the long and short positions in the futures contract more or less valuable, a process known as “marking to the market.” A Fund expects to earn interest income on margin deposits.

The primary risks associated with the use of futures contracts are (a) the imperfect correlation between the change in market value of the instruments held by a Fund and the price of the forward or futures contract; (b) possible lack of a liquid secondary market for a forward or futures contract and the resulting inability to close a forward or futures contract when desired; (c) investments in futures contracts involves leverage, which means a small percentage of assets in futures can have a disproportionately large impact on a Fund and a Fund can lose more than the principal amount invested; (d) losses caused by unanticipated market movements, which are potentially unlimited; (e) the adviser’s inability to predict correctly the direction of securities prices, interest rates, currency exchange rates and other economic factors; (f) the possibility that the counterparty will default in the performance of its obligations; and (g) if a Fund has insufficient cash, it may have to sell securities from its portfolio to meet daily variation margin requirements, and a Fund may have to sell securities at a time when it may be disadvantageous to do so.

Option Contracts

Options trading is a highly specialized activity that entails greater than ordinary investment risk. Options may be more volatile than the underlying instruments, and therefore, on a percentage basis, an investment in options may be subject to greater fluctuation than an investment in the underlying instruments themselves.

A Fund may purchase and write (i.e., sell) put and call options. Such options may relate to particular securities or stock indices, and may or may not be listed on a domestic or foreign securities exchange and may or may not be issued by the Options Clearing Corporation.

An American call option for a particular security gives the purchaser of the option the right to buy, and the writer (seller) the obligation to sell, the underlying security at the stated exercise price at any time prior to the expiration of the option, regardless of the market price of the security. The European equivalent exhibits the same properties, though restricts the buyer by only allowing the exercise of their right to buy when the option expires. The premium paid to the writer is in consideration for undertaking the obligation under the option contract. An American put option for a particular security gives the purchaser the right to sell the security at the stated exercise price at any time prior to the expiration date of the option, regardless of the market price of the security. As the writer of a put option, each Fund has a risk of loss should the underlying reference instrument decline in value. Each Fund will incur a loss to the extent that the current market value of the underlying reference instrument is less than the exercise price of the put option. However, the loss will be offset in part by the premium received from the buyer of the put. If a put option written by the Funds expires unexercised, such Funds will realize a gain in the amount of the premium received.

Stock index options are put options and call options on various stock indices. In most respects, they are identical to listed options on common stocks. The primary difference between stock options and index options occurs when index options are exercised. In the case of stock options, the underlying security, common stock, is delivered. However, upon the exercise of an index option, settlement does not occur by delivery of the securities comprising the index. The option holder who exercises the index option receives an amount of cash if the closing level of the stock index upon which the option is based is greater than, in the case of a call, or less than, in the case of a put, the exercise price of the option. This amount of cash is equal to the difference between the closing price of the stock index and the exercise price of the option expressed in dollars times a specified multiple. A stock index fluctuates with changes in the market value of the stocks included in the index.

Premiums paid on options purchased and premiums received on options written, as well as the daily fluctuation in market value, are included in investments at value and options written at value, respectively, in the Statements of Assets and Liabilities. When an instrument is purchased or sold through the exercise of an option, the premium is offset against the cost or proceeds of the underlying instrument. When an option expires, a realized gain or loss is recorded in the Statements of Operations to the extent of the premiums received or paid. When an option is closed or sold, a gain or loss is recorded in the Statements of Operations to the extent the cost of the closing transaction exceeds the premiums received or paid. When the Funds write a call option, such option is typically "covered," meaning that they hold the underlying instrument, or exposure with the same return profile as the underlying instrument to meet the obligations of the options contract, subject to being called by the option counterparty. When the Funds write a put option, cash is segregated in an amount sufficient to cover the obligation. These amounts, which are considered restricted, are included in cash pledged as collateral for options written in the Statements of Assets and Liabilities.

Each Fund has adopted financial reporting rules and regulations that require enhanced disclosure regarding derivatives and hedging activity intending to improve financial reporting of derivative instruments by enabling investors to understand how an entity uses derivatives, how derivatives are accounted for, and how derivative instruments affect an entity's results of operations and financial position.

4. Reverse Repurchase Agreements

Reverse repurchase agreements involve the sale of securities held by the Bitwise Trendwise BTC/ETH and Treasuries Rotation Strategy ETF, Bitwise Trendwise Bitcoin and Treasuries Rotation Strategy ETF and Bitwise Trendwise Ethereum and Treasuries Rotation Strategy ETF with an agreement to repurchase the securities at an agreed-upon price, date and interest payment. The Funds may borrow for investment purposes indirectly using reverse repurchase agreements. Cash received in exchange for securities delivered plus accrued interest payments to be made by the Funds to counterparties are reflected as a liability on the Consolidated Statement of Assets and

Bitwise Funds Trust

December 31, 2025

Liabilities. Interest payments made by the Funds to counterparties are recorded as a component of interest expense on each Fund's Consolidated Statement of Operations. Borrowing may cause the Funds to liquidate positions under adverse market conditions to satisfy its repayment obligations. The use of reverse repurchase agreements involves risks that are different from those associated with ordinary portfolio securities transactions. The Funds are subject to credit risk (i.e., the risk that a counterparty is or is perceived to be unwilling or unable to meet its contractual obligations) with respect to the security it expects to receive back from a counterparty. If a counterparty becomes bankrupt or fails to perform its obligations, or if any collateral posted by the counterparty for the benefit of the Funds is insufficient or there are delays in the Funds' ability to access such collateral, the value of an investment in the Funds may decline.

At December 31, 2025, the Funds did not hold any reverse repurchase agreements.

5. Investment Advisory Agreement and Other Agreements

The Adviser has overall responsibility for the general management and administration of the Funds, subject to the oversight of the Board. Under an investment advisory agreement between the Trust, on behalf of the Funds, and the Adviser (the "Investment Advisory Agreement"), the Adviser is responsible for arranging sub-advisory, transfer agency, custody, fund administration, and all other non-distribution related services for the Funds to operate.

For its investment advisory services to the Funds below, the Adviser is entitled to receive a management fee from each Fund based on the Fund's average daily net assets, computed and accrued daily and payable monthly, at an annual rate equal to:

Fund	Management Fee
Bitwise COIN Option Income Strategy ETF	0.95%
Bitwise CRCL Option Income Strategy ETF	0.95%
Bitwise Ethereum Option Income Strategy ETF	0.95%
Bitwise GME Option Income Strategy ETF	0.95%
Bitwise MARA Option Income Strategy ETF	0.95%
Bitwise MSTR Option Income Strategy ETF	0.95%
Bitwise Trendwise Bitcoin and Treasuries Rotation Strategy ETF	0.85%
Bitwise Trendwise BTC/ETH and Treasuries Rotation Strategy ETF	0.85%
Bitwise Trendwise Ethereum and Treasuries Rotation Strategy ETF	0.85%

For the Funds below, the Adviser has contractually agreed to waive its advisory fees and/or assume as its own expense certain expenses otherwise payable by the Funds to the extent necessary to ensure that total annual Fund operating expenses do not exceed 0.85% of average daily net assets until May 1, 2027.

For the year ended December 31, 2025, the Adviser reimbursed the Funds for broker expenses and other trading expenses as follows:

Fund	Expenses Reimbursed
Bitwise Trendwise Bitcoin and Treasuries Rotation Strategy ETF	$ 52,705
Bitwise Trendwise BTC/ETH and Treasuries Rotation Strategy ETF	19,771
Bitwise Trendwise Ethereum and Treasuries Rotation Strategy ETF	18,450

For the year ended December 31, 2025 the Funds had a receivable from Adviser. The Adviser reimbursed the Funds on January 15, 2026 as follows:

Fund	Receivable Reimbursed
Bitwise Trendwise Bitcoin and Treasuries Rotation Strategy ETF	$ 4,235
Bitwise Trendwise BTC/ETH and Treasuries Rotation Strategy ETF	1,612
Bitwise Trendwise Ethereum and Treasuries Rotation Strategy ETF	1,688

For Bitwise COIN Option Income Strategy ETF, Bitwise MARA Option Income Strategy ETF and Bitwise MSTR Option Income Strategy ETF, the Adviser has contractually agreed to waive its advisory fees and/or assume as its own expense certain expenses otherwise payable by the Funds to the extent necessary to ensure that total annual fund operating expenses (excluding brokerage commissions and other expenses connected with the execution of portfolio transactions, acquired fund fees and expenses, taxes, interest, and extraordinary expenses) do not exceed 0.95% of average daily net assets until April 2, 2027. Since inception, there have been no waivers or reimbursement from the Adviser.

This unitary management fee is designed to pay each Fund's expenses and to compensate the Adviser for the services it provides to the Funds. Out of the unitary management fee, the Adviser pays substantially all expenses of the Funds, including the cost of transfer agency, custody, fund administration, legal, audit and other service and license fees. However, the Adviser is not responsible for brokerage commissions and other expenses connected with the execution of portfolio transactions, taxes, interest, and extraordinary expenses.

Vident Asset Management (the “Sub-Adviser”) serves as the Sub-Adviser to the Bitwise Trendwise Bitcoin and Treasuries Rotation Strategy ETF. In this capacity, the Sub-Adviser is responsible for trading portfolio securities for the Fund, including selecting broker-dealers to execute purchase and sale transactions or in connection with any rebalancing, subject to the supervision of the Adviser and the Board. For its services, the Sub-Adviser is entitled to a fee by the Adviser. The Fund does not directly compensate the Sub-Adviser.

For the Bitwise Trendwise BTC/ETH and Treasuries Rotation Strategy ETF and the Bitwise Trendwise Ethereum and Treasuries Rotation Strategy ETF, the Adviser is responsible for trading portfolio securities for the Funds, including selecting broker-dealers to execute purchase and sale transactions or in connection with any rebalancing.

The Bank of New York Mellon, a wholly-owned subsidiary of The Bank of New York Mellon Corporation, serves as Administrator, Custodian, Accounting Agent and Transfer Agent for the Funds.

Forside Fund Services, LLC (the “Distributor”) serves as the distributor of Creation Units for the Funds on an agency basis. The Distributor does not maintain a secondary market in Shares of the Funds.

A Trustee and certain Officers of the Funds are also employees of the Adviser and receive no compensation from the Funds.

6. Fund Share Transactions

The Funds issue and redeem Shares at NAV only in blocks of 10,000 Shares, except Bitwise Trendwise Bitcoin and Treasuries Rotation Strategy ETF, Bitwise Trendwise BTC/ETH and Treasuries Rotation Strategy ETF and Bitwise Trendwise Ethereum and Treasuries Rotation Strategy ETF whose lot consist of 25,000 Shares (each block of Shares is called a “Creation Unit”). Creation Units are issued and redeemed primarily in-kind for securities but may include cash. Individual Shares may only be purchased and sold in secondary market transactions through brokers. Except when aggregated in Creation Units in transactions with Authorized Participants, the Shares are not redeemable securities of the Funds.

Fund Shares are listed and traded on the Exchange on each day that the Exchange is open for business (“Business Day”). Each Fund’s Shares may only be purchased and sold on the Exchange through a broker-dealer. Because each Fund’s Shares trade at market prices rather than at their NAV, Shares may trade at a price equal to the NAV, greater than NAV (premium) or less than NAV (discount).

7. Federal Income Taxes

As of December 31, 2025, the components of accumulated earnings (losses) on a tax basis were as follows:

9. Recent Accounting Pronouncement

In December 2023, the FASB issued Accounting Standards Update 2023-09 ("ASU 2023-09"), Income Taxes (Topic 740) Improvements to Income Tax Disclosures, which amends quantitative and qualitative income tax disclosure requirements in order to increase disclosure consistency, bifurcate income tax information by jurisdiction and remove information that is no longer beneficial. ASU 2023-09 is effective for annual periods beginning after December 15, 2024, and early adoption is permitted. Fund Management is currently evaluating the impacts of these changes on the Funds' financial statements.

10. Segment Reporting

An operating segment is defined in FASB Accounting Standards Update 2023-07, Segment Reporting (Topic 280) - Improvements to Reportable Segment Disclosures ("ASU 2023-07") as a component of a public entity that engages in business activities from which it may recognize revenues and incur expenses, has operating results that are regularly reviewed by the public entity's Chief Operating Decision Maker ("CODM") to make decisions about resources to be allocated to the segment and assess its performance, and has discrete financial information available. Selective members of the Executive Management Committee, Officers of the Trust and other senior personnel of the Trust's adviser, act as the Funds' CODM. Each Fund represents a single operating segment, as the CODM monitors the operating results of each individual Fund and each Fund's long-term strategic asset allocation is pre-determined in accordance with the terms of each Fund's prospectus, based on a defined investment strategy for each Fund which is executed by the Funds' portfolio managers. The financial information in the form of the Funds' portfolio composition, total returns, expense ratios and changes in net assets (i.e., changes in net assets resulting from operations, creations and redemptions), which are used by the CODM to assess each Fund's single segment's performance versus each Fund's comparative benchmarks and to make resource allocation decisions for each Funds' single segment, is consistent with that presented within each of the Funds' respective financial statements. Segment assets for each Fund are reflected on the accompanying consolidated statement of assets and liabilities as "total assets" and significant segment expenses are listed on the accompanying consolidated statement of operations for each respective Fund.

11. Risk and Uncertainties

Many factors affect a fund's performance. Developments that disrupt global economies and financial markets, such as pandemics, epidemics, outbreaks of infectious diseases, war, terrorism, and environmental disasters, may significantly affect a fund's investment performance. The effects of these developments to a fund will be impacted by the types of securities in which a fund invests, the financial condition, industry, economic sector, and geographic location of an issuer, and a fund's level of investment in the securities of that issuer. Significant concentrations in security types, issuers, industries, sectors, and geographic locations may magnify the factors that affect a fund's performance.

During the period ended December 31, 2025, the Bitwise COIN Option Income Strategy ETF, the Bitwise CRCL Option Income Strategy ETF, the Bitwise Ethereum Option Income Strategy ETF, the Bitwise GME Option Income Strategy ETF, the Bitwise MARA Option Income Strategy ETF and the Bitwise MSTR Option Income Strategy ETF entered into certain written put options that are accounted for as a market value guarantee of the associated equity securities that are held by a guaranteed party. The Funds are exposed to the risk of loss on these contracts to the extent that the fair value of the underlying securities decline in value, as this would incentivize the holder of the option to exercise the right to sell the security back to the respective Fund at the contractual exercise price which could likely exceed the value of the security. The undiscounted maximum potential amount of future payments guaranteed is limited to the number of contracts written and the associated contractual exercise price which would reflect the net amount owed in the event all underlying securities were to become worthless at the date the contract was exercised. To mitigate the risk associated with these written puts, the Funds have purchased call options on the same underlying securities which effectively limits the Funds' net economic exposure to the difference in strike prices. Additionally, as of December 31, 2025, the Funds have segregated cash as collateral to cover its potential obligations under these contracts, further reducing counterparty credit risk and ensuring liquidity for potential settlement.

Additional information concerning the Funds' written put options accounted for as market value guarantees as of December 31, 2025, including the undiscounted maximum potential amount of future payments guaranteed by the Funds' written put options, is presented below:

12. Change in Independent Registered Public Accounting Firm

On June 4, 2025, the Audit Committee of the Board of Trustees of the Bitwise Funds Trust (the "Trust") appointed, and the Board of Trustees ratified and approved, KPMG LLP as the independent registered public accounting firm of the Bitwise Crypto Industry Innovators ETF for the fiscal year ended December 31, 2025. Prior to the Trust's fiscal year ended December 31, 2025, the Fund's financial statements were audited by Cohen & Company, Ltd.

The reports of Cohen & Company, Ltd. on the financial statements of the Fund as of and for the fiscal years ended March 31, 2025 and 2024 did not contain an adverse opinion or a disclaimer of opinion, and were not qualified or modified as to uncertainties, audit scope or accounting principles. During the fiscal years ended March 31, 2025 and 2024: (i) there were no disagreements between the registrant and Cohen & Company, Ltd. on any matter of accounting principles or practices, financial statement disclosure, or auditing scope or procedure, which disagreements, if not resolved to the satisfaction of Cohen & Company, Ltd., would have caused it to make reference to the subject matter of the disagreements in its report on the financial statements of the Fund for such years; and (ii) there were no "reportable events," as defined in Item 304(a)(1)(v) of Regulation S-K under the Securities Exchange Act of 1934, as amended.

13. Subsequent Events

In preparing these consolidated financial statements, management has evaluated events and transactions for potential recognition or disclosure through the date these financial statements were issued. Management has determined that there were no material events that would require disclosure or recognition in the Funds' consolidated financial statements.

Subsequent to December 31, 2025, the Bitwise Funds Trust (the "Trust") filed a Post-Effective Amendment to its Registration Statement on Form N-1A with the U.S. Securities and Exchange Commission for the purpose of adding a new series to the Trust. On January 22, 2026, the Trust launched the Bitwise Proficio Currency Debasement ETF (Ticker: BPRO). The new series is an actively traded ETF that seeks to provide capital appreciation through investments in instruments that are likely to increase in value as a result of a decline in value or purchasing power of major currencies, including the U.S. dollar, a phenomenon referred to as "currency debasement." The Fund lists and principally trades its shares on NYSE Arca, Inc.

To the Shareholders and Board of Trustees

Bitwise Funds Trust:

Opinion on the Financial Statements

We have audited the accompanying statements of assets and liabilities of Bitwise COIN Option Income Strategy ETF, Bitwise CRCL Option Income Strategy ETF, Bitwise Ethereum Option Income Strategy ETF, Bitwise GME Option Income Strategy ETF, Bitwise MARA Option Income Strategy ETF, Bitwise MSTR Option Income Strategy ETF, Bitwise Trendwise BTC/ETH and Treasuries Rotation Strategy ETF, Bitwise Trendwise Bitcoin and Treasuries Rotation Strategy ETF, and Bitwise Trendwise Ethereum and Treasuries Rotation Strategy ETF (the Funds), each a series of Bitwise Funds Trust (the Trust), including the schedules of investments, as of December 31, 2025, the related statements of operations and changes in net assets for the years or periods listed in the Appendix and the related notes (collectively, the financial statements), and the financial highlights for the years or periods listed in the Appendix. In our opinion, the financial statements and financial highlights present fairly, in all material respects, the financial position of each of the Funds as of December 31, 2025, the results of their operations and changes in their net assets and their financial highlights for the years or periods listed in the Appendix, in conformity with U.S. generally accepted accounting principles.

Basis for Opinion

These financial statements and financial highlights are the responsibility of the Funds' management. Our responsibility is to express an opinion on these financial statements and financial highlights based on our audits. We are a public accounting firm registered with the Public Company Accounting Oversight Board (United States) (PCAOB) and are required to be independent with respect to the Funds in accordance with the U.S. federal securities laws and the applicable rules and regulations of the Securities and Exchange Commission and the PCAOB.

We conducted our audits in accordance with the standards of the PCAOB. Those standards require that we plan and perform the audit to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the financial statements and financial highlights are free of material misstatement, whether due to error or fraud. Our audits included performing procedures to assess the risks of material misstatement of the financial statements and financial highlights, whether due to error or fraud, and performing procedures that respond to those risks. Such procedures included examining, on a test basis, evidence regarding the amounts and disclosures in the financial statements and financial highlights. Such procedures also included confirmation of securities owned as of December 31, 2025, by correspondence with custodians and brokers. Our audits also included evaluating the accounting principles used and significant estimates made by management, as well as evaluating the overall presentation of the financial statements and financial highlights. We believe that our audits provide a reasonable basis for our opinion.

We have served as the auditor of one or more Bitwise Funds Trust investment companies since 2022.

Board Considerations Regarding Approval of the Investment Management Agreements and Sub-Advisory Agreement (Unaudited)

Approval of the Initial Term of the Investment Management Agreement Relating to the Bitwise Ethereum Option Income Strategy ETF

At a regularly scheduled meeting held on June 4, 2025 (the “June Meeting”), the Board of Trustees (the “Board” or the “Trustees”) of Bitwise Funds Trust (the “Trust”), including those trustees who are not “interested persons” of the Trust, as defined in the Investment Company Act of 1940 (the “1940 Act”) (the “Independent Trustees”), considered the approval of an investment management agreement (the “Investment Management Agreement”) between Bitwise Investment Manager, LLC (“BIM” or the “Adviser”) and the Trust, on behalf of the Bitwise Ethereum Option Income Strategy ETF (the “New Fund”).

Pursuant to Section 15 of the 1940 Act, the Investment Management Agreement must be approved with respect to the New Fund by: (i) the vote of the Board or shareholders of the New Fund; and (ii) the vote of a majority of the Independent Trustees, cast at a meeting called for the purpose of voting on such approval. In connection with its consideration of such approval, the Board must request and evaluate, and the Adviser is required to furnish, such information as may be reasonably necessary to evaluate the terms of the Investment Management Agreement.

In addition to the written materials provided to the Board in advance of the June Meeting, representatives from the Adviser provided the Board with an overview, during the June Meeting, of the New Fund’s proposed strategy, the services proposed to be provided to the New Fund by the Adviser, and additional information about the Adviser’s advisory business, including information on investment personnel, financial resources, experience, investment processes, risk management processes and liquidity management, and compliance programs. The representatives from the Adviser discussed the rationale for launching the New Fund, the New Fund’s proposed fees, and the operational aspects of the New Fund. The Board considered the Adviser’s presentation and the materials it received in advance of the Meeting, including a memorandum from legal counsel regarding the responsibilities of the Trustees in considering the approval of the Investment Management Agreement. The Board also noted that the evaluation process with respect to the Adviser is an ongoing one and that in this regard, the Board took into account discussions with management and information provided to the Board at a prior meeting and between meetings with respect to the services to be provided by the Adviser. The Board deliberated on the approval of the Investment Management Agreement in light of this information. Throughout the process, the Trustees were afforded the opportunity to ask questions of, and request additional materials from, the Adviser. The information received and considered by the Board in connection with the Board’s determination to approve the Investment Management Agreement was both written and oral.

At the June Meeting, the Board, including a majority of the Independent Trustees, evaluated a number of factors, including, among other things: (i) the nature, extent, and quality of the services to be provided by the Adviser to the New Fund; (ii) the New Fund’s anticipated expenses and performance; (iii) the cost of the services to be provided and anticipated profits to be realized by the Adviser and its affiliates from their relationship with the Trust and the New Fund; (iv) comparative fee and expense data for the New Fund and other investment companies with similar investment objectives; (v) the extent to which economies of scale would be realized as the New Fund grows and whether the overall advisory fee for the New Fund would enable investors to share in the benefits of economies of scale; (vi) any benefits to be derived by the Adviser from the relationship with the Trust and the New Fund, including any fall-out benefits enjoyed by the Adviser; and (vii) other factors the Board deemed relevant. The factors considered and the determinations made by the Board in connection with the approval of the Agreements are set forth below but are not exhaustive of all matters that were discussed by the Board. The Board also took into account the recommendation of the Adviser and considered other factors (including conditions and trends prevailing generally in the economy and the securities markets). In its deliberations, the Board did not identify any single piece of information that was paramount or controlling and the individual Trustees may have attributed different weights to various factors.

Approval of the Investment Management Agreement with the Adviser

Nature, Extent and Quality of Services. The Trustees considered the scope of services to be provided under the Investment Management Agreement, noting that the Adviser will be providing, among other things, a continuous investment program for the New Fund, determining the assets to be purchased, retained or sold by the New Fund, the provision of related services such as portfolio management compliance services, and the preparation and filing of certain reports on behalf of the Trust. The Trustees reviewed the extensive responsibilities that the Adviser will have as investment adviser to the New Fund, including the oversight of the activities and operations of the service providers, oversight of general fund compliance with federal and state laws, and the implementation of Board directives as they relate to the New Fund. In considering the nature, extent, and quality of the services to be provided by the Adviser, the Board considered the quality of the Adviser’s compliance program, including its compliance and regulatory history and information from the Trust’s Chief Compliance Officer (“CCO”) regarding his review of the Adviser’s compliance program. The Board noted that it had received a copy of the Adviser’s Form ADV, as well as the responses of the Adviser to a detailed series of questions that included, among other things, information about the Adviser’s decision-making process, details about the New Fund, and information about the services to be provided by the Adviser. The Board also considered the Adviser’s operational capabilities and resources and its experience in managing investment portfolios. In considering the nature, extent, and quality of the services provided by the Adviser, the Board also took into account its knowledge, acquired through discussions and reports at a prior meeting and in between meetings, of the Adviser’s management and the quality of the performance of the Adviser’s duties. The Board concluded that, within the context of its full deliberations, it was satisfied with the nature, extent, and quality of the services to be provided to the New Fund by the Adviser.

Performance. The Board noted that because the New Fund had not yet commenced operations, they could not consider the New Fund’s past performance. The Board was presented with information about the New Fund’s investment strategy. The Board noted that although the Adviser had recently begun managing the Bitwise COIN Option Income Strategy ETF, Bitwise GME Option Income Strategy ETF,

Bitwise Funds Trust

Board Considerations Regarding Approval of the Investment Management Agreements and Sub-Advisory Agreement (Unaudited) (Continued)

Bitwise MARA Option Income Strategy ETF and Bitwise MSTR Option Income Strategy ETF – each of which employed strategies similar to that of the New Fund, that it had not been managing them long enough to yet derive conclusions. Nevertheless, the Board did note the Adviser’s good record of prior performance for the other registered funds for which it serves as investment adviser. The Board considered the presentation by the Adviser and the experience of its personnel and determined that the Adviser provided sufficient basis to permit the Board in its business judgment to conclude that the Adviser had the overall capability to perform its duties with respect to the New Fund under the Investment Management Agreement, and that the Adviser was expected to obtain an acceptable level of investment returns for the New Fund’s shareholders. The Board considered the qualifications of the proposed portfolio managers and agreed that the Adviser was well positioned to manage the strategies proposed.

Fees and Expenses. Regarding the costs of the services to be provided by the Adviser, the Board considered, among other expense data, a comparison of the New Fund’s proposed unitary fee compared to the advisory fee and expenses of its most direct competitors as identified by the Adviser (the “Selected Peer Group”). The Board noted that while it found the comparative data provided by the Selected Peer Group generally useful, it recognized its limitations, including potential differences in the investment strategies of the New Fund relative to the strategies of the funds in the Selected Peer Group, as well as the level, quality and nature of the services to be provided by the Adviser with respect to the New Fund. The Board noted that the proposed unitary fee was within the range of advisory fees and expense ratios for the Selected Peer Group. The Board also took into account management’s discussion of the New Fund’s proposed unitary fee and the differences in the New Fund’s strategy from the Selected Peer Group. In considering the level of the advisory fee with respect to the New Fund, the Board also noted that the Adviser did not manage any other accounts with a similar investment strategy. The Board did review a summary of all management fees charged by Bitwise Asset Management, Inc., an affiliate of the Adviser (“BAM”), across its suite of products, noting that the fees charged by BAM that provides services to entities which hold crypto assets that are not securities, are higher than the fees proposed to be charged by the Adviser. Based on its review, the Board concluded that the New Fund’s unitary fee appeared to be competitive and is otherwise reasonable in light of the information provided.

Cost of Services to be Provided and Profitability. The Board considered the cost of the services to be provided by the Adviser, the proposed advisory fee, and the estimated profitability projected by the Adviser, including the methodology underlying such projection. The Board took into consideration that the advisory fee for the New Fund was a “unitary fee,” meaning the New Fund would pay no expenses other than the advisory fee, interest charges on any borrowings, dividends and other expenses on securities sold short, taxes, brokerage commissions and other expenses incurred in placing orders for the purchase and sale of securities and other investment instruments, acquired fund fees and expenses, accrued deferred tax liability, extraordinary expenses, and, to the extent it is implemented, fees pursuant to a Distribution and/or Shareholder Servicing (12b-1) Plan. The Board noted that the Adviser would be responsible for compensating the Trust’s other service providers, and paying the New Fund’s other expenses out of its own revenue and resources. The Board also evaluated the compensation and benefits expected to be received by the Adviser from its relationship with the New Fund, taking into account the Adviser’s anticipated profitability analysis with respect to the New Fund and the financial resources the Adviser had committed and proposed to commit to its business. The Board determined such analyses were not a significant factor given that the New Fund had not yet commenced operations and consequently, the future size of the New Fund and the Adviser’s future profitability were generally unpredictable.

Fall-out Benefits. The Board noted that no other benefits are expected to be derived by the Adviser or its affiliates from the Adviser’s relationship with the New Fund. They noted that the Adviser will not use soft dollars when executing portfolio transactions for the New Fund. They also noted that, to the extent that the New Fund is successful, it may lead to positive public relations for the Adviser.

Economies of Scale. The Board expressed the view that the Adviser might realize economies of scale in managing the New Fund as their assets under management grew in size. The Board noted, however, that any economies would, to some degree, be shared with the New Fund’s shareholders through the New Fund’s unitary fee structure. In the event there were to be significant asset growth in the New Fund, the Board determined to reassess whether the advisory fee appropriately took into account any economies of scale that had been realized as a result of that growth and the possibility of adopting an expense reimbursement/fee waiver agreement or the introduction of fee breakpoints in the future.

Conclusion. No single factor was determinative of the Board’s decision to approve the Investment Management Agreement; rather, the Board based its determination on the total mix of information available to it. Based on a consideration of all the factors in their totality, including those discussed above and other factors, the Board, including separately a majority of the Independent Trustees, determined that the terms of the Investment Management Agreement, including the compensation payable thereunder, were fair and reasonable to the New Fund. The Board, including a majority of the Independent Trustees, therefore determined that the approval of the Investment Management Agreement for an initial term of two years was in the best interests of the New Fund and its shareholders.

Approval of the Initial Term of the Investment Management Agreement Relating to the Bitwise CRCL Option Income Strategy ETF

At a regularly scheduled meeting held on September 11, 2025 (the “September Meeting”), the Board of the Trust, including the Independent Trustees, considered the approval of an investment management agreement (the “Investment Management Agreement”) between the Adviser and the Trust, on behalf of the Bitwise CRCL Option Income Strategy ETF (the “ICRC Fund”).

Pursuant to Section 15 of the 1940 Act, the Investment Management Agreement must be approved with respect to the ICRC Fund by: (i) the vote of the Board or shareholders of the ICRC Fund; and (ii) the vote of a majority of the Independent Trustees, cast at a meeting called for the purpose of voting on such approval. In connection with its consideration of such approval, the Board must request and evaluate, and the Adviser is required to furnish, such information as may be reasonably necessary to evaluate the terms of the Investment Management Agreement.

In addition to the written materials provided to the Board in advance of the September Meeting, representatives from the Adviser provided the Board with an overview, during the September Meeting, of the ICRC Fund's proposed strategy, the services proposed to be provided to the ICRC Fund by the Adviser, and additional information about the Adviser's advisory business, including information on investment personnel, financial resources, experience, investment processes, risk management processes and liquidity management, and compliance programs. The representatives from the Adviser discussed the rationale for launching the ICRC Fund, proposed fees, and the operational aspects of the ICRC Fund. The Board considered the Adviser's presentation and the materials it received in advance of the Meeting, including a memorandum to the Independent Trustees regarding the responsibilities of the Trustees in considering the approval of the Investment Management Agreement. The Board also noted that the evaluation process with respect to the Adviser is an ongoing one and that in this regard, the Board took into account discussions with management and information provided to the Board at a prior meeting and between meetings with respect to the services to be provided by the Adviser. The Board deliberated on the approval of the Investment Management Agreement in light of this information. In its deliberations, the Board did not identify any single piece of information that was paramount or controlling and the individual Trustees may have attributed different weights to various factors. The Board considered approval of the Investment Management Agreement with respect to the ICRC Fund separately.

Approval of the Investment Management Agreement with the Adviser

Nature, Extent and Quality of Services. The Trustees considered the scope of services to be provided under the Investment Management Agreement, noting that the Adviser will be providing, among other things, a continuous investment program for the ICRC Fund, determining the assets to be purchased, retained or sold by the ICRC Fund, the provision of related services such as portfolio management compliance services, and the preparation and filing of certain reports on behalf of the Trust. The Board noted that it had received a copy of the Adviser's Form ADV, as well as the responses of the Adviser to a detailed series of questions that included, among other things, information about the Adviser's decision-making process, details about the ICRC Fund, and information about the services to be provided by the Adviser. Approval of the Continuation of Investment Management Agreement Relating to the Bitwise Trendwise Bitcoin and Treasuries Rotation Strategy ETF, Bitwise Trendwise Ethereum and Treasuries Rotation Strategy ETF and Bitwise Trendwise BTC/ETH and Treasuries Rotation Strategy ETF and Sub-Advisory Agreement Relating to the Bitwise Trendwise Bitcoin and Rotation Strategy ETF

Furthermore, at the September Meeting, the Board of the Trust, including the Independent Trustees, considered the approval of a one-year continuation of both the investment management agreement (the "Investment Management Agreement") between the Adviser and the Trust, on behalf of the Bitwise Trendwise Bitcoin and Treasuries Rotation Strategy ETF ("BITC"), Bitwise Trendwise Ethereum and Treasuries Rotation Strategy ETF ("AETH") and Bitwise Trendwise BTC/ETH and Treasuries Rotation Strategy ETF ("BTOP," and with BITC and AETH, the "Renewing Funds"), and the sub-advisory agreement (the "Sub-Advisory Agreement" and, together with the Investment Management Agreement, the "Agreements") between the Adviser, the Trust, and Vident Advisory, LLC (the "Sub-Adviser") with respect to BITC.

Pursuant to Section 15 of the 1940 Act, the continuation of the Agreements after their initial two-year term must be approved annually by: (i) the vote of the Board or shareholders of each Renewing Fund; and (ii) the vote of a majority of the Independent Trustees, cast at a meeting called for the purpose of voting on such approval. As discussed in greater detail below, in preparation for the Meeting, the Board requested from, and reviewed responsive information provided by, the Adviser and Sub-Adviser.

Board Considerations Regarding Approval of the Investment Management Agreements and Sub-Advisory Agreement (Unaudited) (Continued)

In addition to the written materials provided to the Board in advance of the Meeting, during the September Meeting representatives from the Adviser and Sub-Adviser provided the Board with an overview of their advisory business, including their investment personnel, financial resources, experience, investment processes, and compliance programs. The representatives discussed the services provided to the Renewing Funds by the Adviser and Sub-Adviser, as well each Renewing Fund's fees and information with respect to each Renewing Fund's strategy and certain operational aspects of the Renewing Funds. The Board considered the materials it received in advance of the Meeting, including a memorandum from legal counsel regarding the responsibilities of the Board in considering the approval of the Agreements, and information conveyed during the Adviser's and Sub-Adviser's oral presentation. The Board also considered the information it received throughout the year about the Renewing Funds, the Adviser and Sub-Adviser. The Board considered the approval of the continuation of the Agreements for an additional one-year term in light of this information. Throughout the process, the Board was afforded the opportunity to ask questions of, and request additional materials from, the Adviser and Sub-Adviser.

At the September Meeting, the Board, including a majority of the Independent Trustees, evaluated a number of factors, including, among other things: (i) the nature, extent, and quality of the services provided by the Adviser and Sub-Adviser to the Renewing Funds; (ii) each Renewing Fund's expenses and performance; (iii) the cost of the services provided and profits to be realized by the Adviser and Sub-Adviser from the relationship with the Renewing Funds; (iv) comparative fee and expense data for the Renewing Funds and other investment companies with similar investment objectives and strategies; (v) the extent to which the advisory fee for each Renewing Fund reflects economies of scale shared with its shareholders; (vi) any fall-out benefits derived by the Adviser and Sub-Adviser from the relationship with the Renewing Funds; and (vii) other factors the Board deemed relevant. In its deliberations, the Board considered the factors and reached the conclusions described below relating to the advisory arrangement and renewal of the Agreements. In its deliberations, the Board did not identify any single piece of information that was paramount or controlling and the individual Trustees may have attributed different weights to various factors. The Board considered approval of the Agreements with respect to each Renewing Fund separately.

Approval of the Continuation of the Investment Management Agreement with the Adviser

Nature, Extent, and Quality of Services Provided. The Board considered the scope of services provided under the Investment Management Agreement, noting that the Adviser expected to continue to provide substantially similar investment management services to each Renewing Fund with respect to implementing its investment program, including monitoring adherence to its investment restrictions, overseeing the activities of the service providers, monitoring compliance with various policies and procedures with applicable securities regulations, and monitoring the extent to which each Renewing Fund achieved its investment objective. In considering the nature, extent, and quality of the services provided by the Adviser, the Board considered the quality of the Adviser's compliance infrastructure and past and current reports from the Trust's Chief Compliance Officer regarding his view of the Adviser's compliance infrastructure, as well as the Board's experience with the Adviser and the investment management services it has provided to other funds. The Board noted that it had received a copy of the Adviser's registration on Form ADV, as well as the response of the Adviser to a detailed series of questions which requested, among other things, information about the background and experience of the firm's key personnel, the firm's cybersecurity policy and the services provided by the Adviser. The Board also considered the Adviser's operational capabilities and resources and its experience in managing investment portfolios, including the Renewing Funds.

Performance. The Board considered performance information for the Renewing Funds. The Board noted the process it has established for monitoring the Renewing Funds' performance on an ongoing basis, which includes quarterly performance reporting from the Adviser and Sub-Adviser. The Board determined that this process continues to be effective for reviewing the Renewing Funds' performance. The Board received and reviewed information comparing the performance of each Renewing Fund to the performance of its performance benchmark, the S&P 500 Index, for one or more periods ended June 30, 2025. For BITC, the Board noted that BITC outperformed the benchmark for the 12-month time period but underperformed for the 3-month time period. For both AETH and BTOP, the Board noted that AETH and BTOP each outperformed the benchmark for the 3-month time period but underperformed for the 12-month time period. The Board did note that performance against the benchmark was not a useful metric for the Renewing Funds, as they are not designed to outperform the S&P 500 Index. Instead, each seeks to outperform bitcoin (in the case of BITC), ether (in the case of AETH) and both bitcoin and ether (in the case of BTOP). However, the Adviser noted that each such strategy had underperformed its reference asset and noted it was considering ways to revise the strategy moving forward.

Fees and Expenses. Regarding the costs of the services to be provided by the Adviser, the Board considered, among other expense data, a comparison of each Renewing Fund's unitary management fee compared to the advisory fee and expenses of its most direct competitors as identified by the Adviser (the "Selected Peer Group"). The Board noted that while it found the comparative data provided by the Selected Peer Group generally useful, it recognized its limitations, including potential differences in the investment strategies of the Renewing Funds relative to the strategies of the funds in the Selected Peer Group, as well as the level, quality and nature of the services to be provided by the Adviser with respect to the Renewing Funds. The Board noted that each unitary management fee was within the range of advisory fees and expense ratios for the Selected Peer Group. The Board also took into account management's discussion of each Renewing Fund's unitary management fee and the differences in each Renewing Fund's strategy from the Selected Peer Group. The Board also reviewed a summary of all management fees charged by BAM, across its suite of products, noting that the fees charged by BAM that provides services to entities which hold crypto assets that are not securities, are higher than the fees proposed to be charged by the Adviser. Based on its review, the Board concluded that each Renewing Fund's unitary management fee appeared to be competitive and is otherwise reasonable in light of the information provided.

Board Considerations Regarding Approval of the Investment Management Agreements and Sub-Advisory Agreement (Unaudited) (Continued)

Costs of Services to be Provided and Profitability. The Board considered the cost of the services to be provided by the Adviser, the proposed advisory and sub-advisory fees, and the estimated profitability projected by the Adviser and Sub-Adviser (for BITC), including the methodology underlying such projection. The Board considered that the fees to be paid to the Sub-Adviser would be paid by the Adviser from the fee the Adviser received from BITC and noted that the fee reflected an arm's-length negotiation between the Adviser and the Sub-Adviser. The Board also took into account the amount of the unitary fee to be retained by the Adviser and the services to be provided with respect to each Renewing Fund by the Adviser and further determined that the sub-advisory fee reflected an appropriate allocation of the advisory fee paid to the Adviser given the work to be performed by each firm.

Economies of Scale. The Board noted that economies of scale may be realized as each Renewing Fund's assets under management increased. The Board discussed the possibility that it may wish to consider the use of breakpoints in the Adviser's fee in the event that a Renewing Fund's assets grow substantially in the future.

Conclusion. No single factor was determinative of the Board's decision to approve the continuation of the Investment Management Agreement; rather, the Board based its determination on the total mix of information available to it. The Board, including a majority of the Independent Trustees, determined that the terms of the Investment Management Agreement, including the compensation payable under the Investment Management Agreement, are fair and reasonable with respect to each Renewing Fund. The Board, including a majority of the Independent Trustees, therefore determined that the approval of the continuation of the Investment Management Agreement was in the best interests of each Renewing Fund and its shareholders.

Approval of the Continuation of the Sub-Advisory Agreement with the Sub-Adviser

Nature, Extent, and Quality of Services Provided. The Board considered the scope of services provided under the Sub-Advisory Agreement, noting that the Sub-Adviser expected to continue to provide substantially similar investment management services to BITC, including responsibility for the management of the securities and other assets of BITC, subject to the supervision and oversight of the Adviser, executing placement of orders and selection of brokers or dealers for such orders, general portfolio compliance with relevant law, responsibility for daily monitoring of portfolio exposures and quarterly reporting. The Board acknowledged that the Sub-Adviser's personnel continues to possess a depth of knowledge and experience with ETFs and in the industry in general. The Trustees acknowledged that the Sub-Adviser is an RIA and provides a comprehensive suite of portfolio management, trading, operations and capital markets services to sponsors of index and active investment strategies. The Board noted that as of August 15, 2025, the Sub-Adviser has over $17.9 billion in assets under management across the U.S. and international equity, fixed income, commodity, real estate and other strategies. The Board concluded that the Sub-Adviser continues to have sufficient quality and depth of personnel, resources, and investment methods essential to perform its duties under the Sub-Advisory Agreement and that the nature, overall quality and extent of the management services that it provides to the Trust continues to be satisfactory.

Performance. The Board considered performance information for BITC. The Board noted that the Sub-Adviser was responsible for executing the strategy set forth by the Adviser and that it had been monitoring such performance on a quarterly basis since BITC's inception. The Board noted that the Sub-Adviser's performance in this respect was satisfactory.

Fees and Expenses. The Trustees acknowledged that the Adviser has agreed to pay an annual sub-advisory fee to the Sub-Adviser in an amount based on BITC's average daily net assets. The Board noted that the Adviser is responsible for paying the entirety of the Sub-Adviser's sub-advisory fee (from its unitary advisory fee), and that BITC does not directly pay the Sub-Adviser. The Board also acknowledged that since the sub-advisory fee is paid by the Adviser, there were no fee comparisons to review. However, the Board did request that such comparisons be provided in future approvals. The Board acknowledged that there were no expense limitations or fee waiver arrangements in place. After further discussion, the Board concluded that since the Sub-Adviser was to be paid from the advisory fee, the proposed fees were not unreasonable.

Fall-out Benefits. The Board noted that no other benefits are expected to be derived by the Sub-Adviser or its affiliates from the Sub-Adviser's relationship with BITC. They noted that the Sub-Adviser will not use soft dollars when executing portfolio transactions for BITC.

Economies of Scale. The Board noted that economies of scale may be realized as BITC's assets increase. The Sub-Adviser seeks to share economies of scale it may generate with the Adviser, which it does in the form of breakpoint pricing.

Conclusion. No single factor was determinative of the Board's decision to approve the continuation of the Sub-Advisory Agreement; rather, the Board based its determination on the total mix of information available to it. The Board, including a majority of the Independent Trustees, determined that the terms of the Sub-Advisory Agreement, including the compensation payable under the Sub-Advisory Agreement, are fair and reasonable with respect to BITC. The Board, including a majority of the Independent Trustees, therefore determined that the approval of the continuation of the Sub-Advisory Agreement was in the best interests of BITC and its shareholders.

Consideration of Continuation of Investment Management Agreements and Investment Sub-Advisory Agreements relating to the Cayman Subsidiaries

Lastly, at the September Meeting, the Board of the Trust, including a majority of the Independent Trustees, unanimously approved the continuation of each investment management agreement (the "Cayman Management Agreements") between the Adviser and Bitwise Bitcoin Strategy Optimum Yield Cayman Subsidiary, LLC (the Cayman subsidiary utilized by BITC), the Adviser and Bitwise Ethereum Strategy Cayman Subsidiary, LLC (the Cayman subsidiary utilized by AETH), and the Adviser and Bitwise Bitcoin and Ether Equal Weight Strategy Cayman Subsidiary, LLC (the Cayman subsidiary utilized by the BTOP). The Bitwise Bitcoin Strategy Optimum Yield Cayman Subsidiary, LLC, Bitwise Ethereum Strategy Cayman Subsidiary, LLC and Bitwise Bitcoin and Ether Equal Weight Strategy Cayman Subsidiary, LLC shall each be referred to as a "Cayman Subsidiary." Each Cayman Subsidiary was organized to engage in the business of a controlled foreign corporation that holds and trades certain securities and instruments for the benefit of BITC, AETH and BTOP, as applicable. The Board of the Trust, including a majority of the Independent Trustees, also unanimously approved the continuation of the investment sub-advisory agreement (the "Cayman Sub-Advisory Agreement") between the Adviser, Vident Advisory, LLC ("Vident" or the "Sub-Adviser") and Bitwise Bitcoin Strategy Optimum Yield Cayman Subsidiary, LLC (the Cayman subsidiary utilized by BITC).

At the September Meeting, the Board, including a majority of the Independent Trustees, evaluated a number of factors, including, among other things: (i) the nature, extent, and quality of the services provided by the Adviser (and Sub-Adviser, as applicable) to each Cayman Subsidiary; (ii) each Cayman Subsidiary's expenses and performance; (iii) the cost of the services to be provided and anticipated profits to be realized by the Adviser (and Sub-Adviser, as applicable) and its affiliates from their relationship with each Cayman Subsidiary; (iv) comparative fee and expense data for each Cayman Subsidiary; (v) the extent to which economies of scale would be realized as a Cayman Subsidiary grew and whether the overall advisory fee for each Cayman Subsidiary would enable investors to share in the benefits of economies of scale; (vi) any benefits to be derived by the Adviser (and Sub-Adviser, as applicable) from the relationship with each Cayman Subsidiary, including any fall-out benefits enjoyed by the Adviser (and Sub-Adviser, as applicable); and (vii) other factors the Board deemed relevant. The factors considered and the deliberations by the Board in connection with the approval of the Cayman Management Agreements and Cayman Sub-Advisory Agreement are set forth below but are not exhaustive of all matters that were discussed by the Board. The Board also took into account the recommendation of the Adviser (and Sub-Adviser, as applicable) and considered other factors (including conditions and trends prevailing generally in the economy and the securities markets). In its deliberations, the Board did not identify any single piece of information that was paramount or controlling and the individual Trustees may have attributed different weights to various factors. The Board also noted that the evaluation process with respect to the Adviser and Sub-Adviser is an ongoing one and that in this regard, the Board took into account discussions with management and information provided to the Board at a prior meeting and between meetings with respect to the services to be provided by the Adviser and Sub-Adviser. The Board deliberated on the approval of the Cayman Management Agreements and Cayman Sub-Advisory Agreement in light of this information. Throughout the process, the Trustees were afforded the opportunity to ask questions of, and request additional materials from, the Adviser and Sub-Adviser. The information received and considered by the Board in connection with the Board's determination to approve the Cayman Management Agreements and Cayman Sub-Advisory Agreement was both written and oral.

Approval of the Continuation of the Cayman Management Agreements with the Adviser

Nature, Extent and Quality of Services. The Trustees considered the scope of services to be provided under the Cayman Management Agreements, noting that the Adviser will be providing, among other things, a continuous investment program for the Cayman Subsidiary that is critical to the investment program it runs in connection with its service as investment adviser to the funds. The Trustees noted the responsibilities that the Adviser will have as investment adviser to each Cayman Subsidiary, including the oversight of the activities and operations of the investment sub-adviser to the Cayman Subsidiary underlying BITC and other service providers, oversight of general fund compliance with federal and state laws, and the implementation of Board directives as they relate to each Cayman Subsidiary. In considering the nature, extent, and quality of the services to be provided by the Adviser, the Board considered the quality of the Adviser's compliance program, including its compliance and regulatory history and information from the Trust's CCO regarding his review of the Adviser's compliance program. The Board also considered the Adviser's operational capabilities and resources and its experience in managing investment portfolios. In considering the nature, extent, and quality of the services provided by the Adviser, the Board also took into account its knowledge, acquired through discussions and reports at prior meetings and in between meetings, of the Adviser's management and the quality of the performance of the Adviser's duties. The Board concluded that, within the context of its full deliberations, it was satisfied with the nature, extent, and quality of the services to be provided to each Cayman Subsidiary by the Adviser.

Performance. The Board noted that it did not evaluate the performance of each Cayman Subsidiary itself, as the performance of each Cayman Subsidiary is not the relevant inquiry as it would be when evaluating the performance of a traditional fund. Instead, the relevant inquiry was whether the Cayman Subsidiary was performing as intended as it related to the operation of the applicable Fund. The Board noted that it had received quarterly reports since each Fund's inception regarding the operation of the Fund's strategy (including the use of each Cayman Subsidiary) and in each such instance was satisfied that the Adviser was providing a high level of service to the Cayman Subsidiary. The Board considered the Adviser's established track record with regard to the management of each Cayman Subsidiary, the experience of its personnel and determined that the Adviser provided sufficient basis to permit the Board in its business judgment to conclude that the Adviser continued to have the overall capability to perform its duties with respect to each Cayman Subsidiary under each Cayman Management Agreement.

Fees and Expenses. Regarding the costs of the services provided by the Adviser, the Board considered that the Adviser has a unitary fee arrangement with each Fund, pursuant to which the Adviser receives a management fee from each Fund and pays all Fund operating expenses, with certain exceptions, and including the sub-advisory fees (for BITC). The Board further considered that the Cayman Subsidiary is not assessed a management fee and will be included in the same fee arrangement as each Fund. The Board noted that the Cayman Subsidiary's expenses will be paid by the Adviser pursuant to the unitary fee arrangement with each Fund.

Cost of Services to be Provided and Profitability. The Board noted that the Adviser does not receive separate compensation for managing the Cayman Subsidiaries, or any direct or indirect benefits from its relationship with the Cayman Subsidiaries.

Board Considerations Regarding Approval of the Investment Management Agreements and Sub-Advisory Agreement (Unaudited) (Continued)

Economies of Scale. The Board noted that the Adviser might realize economies of scale in managing each Fund as assets grow in size. The Board noted, however, that any economies would, to some degree, be shared with each Fund's shareholders through the fund's unitary fee structure. In the event there were to be significant asset growth in each Fund, the Board determined to reassess whether the advisory fee appropriately took into account any economies of scale that had been realized as a result of that growth. The Board noted that there would be no additional fee charged with respect to the Cayman Subsidiaries and that the Adviser would bear the expenses of the Cayman Subsidiaries.

Conclusion. No single factor was determinative of the Board's decision to approve the continuation of each Cayman Management Agreement; rather, the Board based its determination on the total mix of information available to it. Based on a consideration of all the factors in their totality, including those discussed above and other factors, the Board, including separately a majority of the Independent Trustees, determined that the terms of each Cayman Management Agreement were fair and reasonable to each Cayman Subsidiary. The Board, including a majority of the Independent Trustees, therefore determined that the approval of each Cayman Management Agreement for an additional term of one year was in the best interests of each Cayman Subsidiary and each Fund.

Approval of the Continuation of the Cayman Sub-Advisory Agreement with the Sub-Adviser

Nature, Extent and Quality of Services. The Trustees considered the scope of services to be provided under the Cayman Sub-Advisory Agreement, noting that the Sub-Adviser will be implementing, among other things, a continuous investment program for the Bitwise Bitcoin Strategy Optimum Yield Cayman Subsidiary, LLC that is critical to the investment program it runs in connection with its service as investment sub-adviser to the Fund. The Trustees noted the responsibilities that the Sub-Adviser will have as investment sub-adviser to the Cayman Subsidiary, oversight of general fund compliance with federal and state laws, and the implementation of Board directives as they relate to the Cayman Subsidiary. In considering the nature, extent, and quality of the services to be provided by the Sub-Adviser, the Board considered the quality of the Sub-Adviser's compliance program, including its compliance and regulatory history and information from the Trust's CCO regarding his review of the Sub-Adviser's compliance program. The Board also considered the Sub-Adviser's operational capabilities and resources and its experience in managing investment portfolios. In considering the nature, extent, and quality of the services provided by the Sub-Adviser, the Board also took into account its knowledge, acquired through discussions and reports at prior meetings and in between meetings, of the Sub-Adviser's management and the quality of the performance of the Sub-Adviser's duties. The Board concluded that, within the context of its full deliberations, it was satisfied with the nature, extent, and quality of the services to be provided to the Cayman Subsidiary by the Sub-Adviser.

Performance. As discussed during its consideration of the continuation of the Cayman Management Agreements, the Board noted that it did not evaluate the performance of the Cayman Subsidiary itself, as the performance of the Cayman Subsidiary is not the relevant inquiry as it would be when evaluating the performance of a traditional fund. Instead, the relevant inquiry was whether the Cayman Subsidiary was performing as intended as it related to the operation of the applicable. The Board noted that it had received quarterly reports since BITC's inception regarding the operation of the Fund's strategy (including the use of the Cayman Subsidiary) and in each such instance was satisfied that the Sub-Adviser was providing a high level of service to the Cayman Subsidiary. Fees and Expenses. Regarding the costs of the services provided by the Sub-Adviser, the Board considered that the Sub-Adviser does not charge a management fee for its services and all costs are otherwise borne by the Adviser.

Cost of Services to be Provided and Profitability. The Board noted that the Sub-Adviser does not receive separate compensation for managing the Cayman Subsidiary, or any direct or indirect benefits from its relationship with the Cayman Subsidiary.

Economies of Scale. The Board noted that the Sub-Adviser might realize economies of scale in managing BITC as the Fund's assets grow in size. The Board noted, however, that any economies would, to some degree, be shared with the Fund's shareholders through the fund's unitary fee structure. In the event there were to be significant asset growth in the Fund, the Board determined to reassess whether the advisory fee appropriately took into account any economies of scale that had been realized as a result of that growth. The Board noted that there would be no additional fee charged with respect to the Cayman Subsidiary.

Conclusion. No single factor was determinative of the Board's decision to approve the continuation of the Cayman Sub-Advisory Agreement; rather, the Board based its determination on the total mix of information available to it. Based on a consideration of all the factors in their totality, including those discussed above and other factors, the Board, including separately a majority of the Independent Trustees, determined that the terms of the Cayman Sub-Advisory Agreement were fair and reasonable to the Cayman Subsidiary. The Board, including a majority of the Independent Trustees, therefore determined that the approval of the Cayman Sub-Advisory Agreement for an additional term of one year was in the best interests of the Cayman Subsidiary and BITC.
