

CHOICE connect

A publication of the Association of College and Research Libraries

A division of the American Library Association

Editorial Offices: 575 Main Street, Suite 300, Middletown, CT 06457-3445

Phone: (860) 347-6933

Fax: (860) 704-0465

Exact Editions

The following review appeared in the June 2025 issue of CHOICE.

Exact Editions' Ideas Collection has brought together a range of magazines and journals that, as they phrase it, are "designed to make you think." This collection of ten publications promotes thoughtful engagement with issues that affect readers locally, nationally, and internationally. There are over 2,500 individual issues available through this collection that are fully searchable, with unlimited access. The Ideas Collection has the complete archive of eight of the ten available publications, some issues going as far back as 1884 (with New Humanist's complete archive).

[...]

Exact Editions' Ideas Collection provides a solid collection of interesting and challenging titles that may present new ideas and new ways of thinking to students in a consolidated format. Some of these publications may be available through institutional subscriptions, so are not solely available through this platform. Exact Editions' platform allows for easy use on computers, laptops, and mobile devices. This is an interesting and thought-provoking collection of resources.

Recommended if this is a platform your institution already uses, and these are not publications available elsewhere. This collection and platform would be a useful tool to point students towards specific resources and publications around related topics.