1. What Product or Solution does your API support?

The API is developed as part of the CSG Telfow order management platform. Telfow lets an organization perform all aspects of product order management starting with the actual ordering process to the definition of the product and the ordering workflow. Apart from the intuitive UI called Telfow portal, Telfow also supports other digital channels including API and B2B channel.

TMF 679 Product Offering Qualification API's is the newest addition to the list of APIs that make up the API and B2B channel provided by Telfow. This API will enable the B2B and enterprise customer using the API channel to interface with the Telfow Qualification and Catalog systems and gather information about sites and the offerings that are available to be ordered from those sites.

The 679 API will enable B2B customers to perform the important qualification step in the pre-ordering management flow. The 679 API will ensure that only eligible products that are valid for the desired location are made available so that the subsequent quotation and provisioning process proceed seamlessly. 679 along with the other pre-ordering API such as 673 in completing the entire ordering journey via the API channel.

Choosing to make the product offering qualification API to be TMF compliant was only logical as it would allow for frictionless on-boarding of customers who have already adopted the industry leading TMF standard.

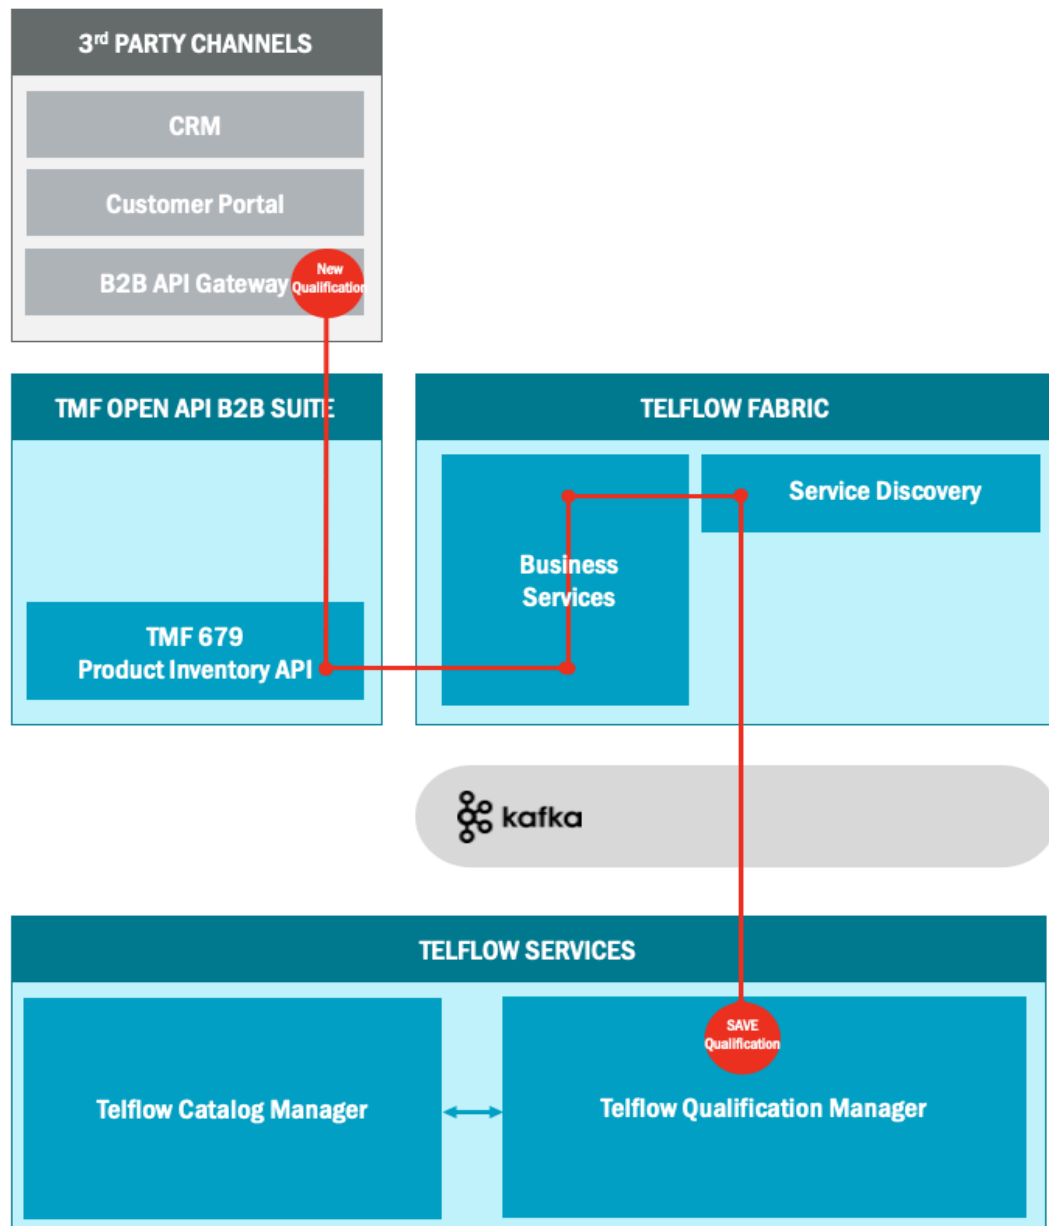

The TMF 679 joins the suite of Telfow northbound API's including ordering, Inventory management and catalog services all of which are TMF open API complaint. This enables a complete product order management experience from any upstream channel.
