Background

- The CSRM Study was authorized by Section 1201 of the America's Water Infrastructure Act of 2018, dated January 3, 2018.
- USACE Norfolk District and the City of Virginia Beach signed a Feasibility Cost Share Agreement on July 21, 2022.
- The CSRM Study will develop a plan to increase the City's resilience against sea level rise in the future.
- As part of the CSRM Study, USACE Norfolk District has developed structural protection alignments for Back Bay, Elizabeth River, Little Creek Cove, Lynnhaven Inlet, Rudee Inlet, and West Neck Creek.

Stakeholder Engagement

- Virtual public webinars were held in December 2024.
- Public information meetings were held on February 3, 5, 6, and 8, 2025.
